"Livres nouveaulx, livres vielz et antiques."—ETIENNE DOLET.

Gilles Menage somewhere wrote over two hundred years ago:—"Les livres ont toujours été la passion des honnêtes gens."

And that is the reason, I suppose, why MR. HENRY DE PENE DU BOIS is so popular in New York as a Bibliophile and Grolierite. I presume further, that it is also the reason why he gave to literature his interesting volume on the "Art of Bookbinding,"—is why he has been chosen as the American correspondent of that fascinating Parisian magazine, "Le Livre," whose destinies are superintended by Octave Uzanne, the author of some of the most delightful works in the French language—and is why MR. PENE DU BOIS has been engaged for so long a time on the compilation of his volume on American book-collectors entitled—"New York Bibliophile," and which will be shortly issued from the Paris press.

The Library and Art Collection of MR. PENE DU BOIS has been his sole hobby during many years, and he daily could truly repeat the words penned by old Pynson in the sixteenth century:—

"Styll am I besy bookes assemblynge,
For to have plenty it is a pleasaunt thyng."

His Collection had great newspaper notoriety before he contemplated putting it on the market in consequence of his intention of living altogether in Paris after September of this year. The Collection of this Louisianian Creole—for MR. PENE DU BOIS is a native of New Orleans—has long been, in the words of "Town Topics"—"the envy of brother enthusiasts," and "To-Day" two years ago, spoke of his—"noteworthy assemblage of French classics and fine bindings," adding, "MR. PENE DU BOIS is a nephew of the French author HENRI DE PENE and a collector of decided inherited taste."

Any number of extracts might be reprinted in regard to the value of the Library of MR. PENE DU BOIS, whom the "Art Amateur" styled—"connoisseur in the arts of the bibliophile," but two more and those from the "New York Tribune" will suffice. On the third of June, 1883, that journal said:—

"A good book-collector here is HENRY DE PENE DU BOIS. He is said to be of Huguenot extraction and is the New York contributor to 'Le Livre' of Paris. He has an IMMENSE LIBRARY, in Brooklyn, strong in the French classics, in fine editions, and in old Gothic books....MR. PENE DU BOIS, it is said, can tell a Durer by merely feeling the paper, and he owns a copy of the 'Roman de la Rose,' which cost six hundred dollars."

The "New York Tribune" six months ago, when a rumor of the dispersal of the Collection had been bruited around, stated further:—

"....the Library of HENRY PENE DU BOIS, a well known member of the Grolier Club. MR. PENE DU BOIS has lived in New York for many years, but has decided to return to his own country and, as a preliminary step, is going to dispose of his entire Library. As the author of the well-known 'Essay on the Art of Bookbinding,' his Collection is naturally rich in specimens of that art. On the bindings of some of these volumes are such names as Trautz-Bauzonnet, Dérome, Chambolle-Duru, Rousselle, and well-known American and English binders. These gorgeously-tooled covers guard treasures such as vellum manuscripts, black letters, examples of Aldus, Elzevir, Hardouyn, Galliot du Pre and other master printers. Modern examples include first and limited editions, classics and bibliographical works. Some fine prints and water-colors, as well as some interesting autographs, complete the collection."

"Good wine needs no bush" may be all very well, but the endorsement of the results of years of book-finding and book-hunting by the newspapers quoted above, is almost a necessity in the face of the cynical scepticism which seems to environ everything in association with the sumptuous hoards of the bibliophilistic amateur, who devotes his life to collecting and who believes in the suggestions of the eminent poet and book-connoisseur Frederick Locker-Lampson:—

"It is a good thing to read books, and it need not be a bad thing to write them; but it is a pious thing to preserve those that have been sometime written; the collecting, and mending, and binding, and cataloguing of books are all means to such an end."

The "PENE DU BOIS CATALOGUE," the first auction bibliography issued in America with page illustrations, begins with the Division devoted entirely to "ART, UNIQUELY ILLUSTRATED BOOKS, BINDINGS, etc." This section is arranged alphabetically and numbers 1-352. It comprises the best French, German, American and English authorities on the Fine Arts. It makes in itself a nearly perfect library for general reference purposes on the various subjects incorporated in the department.

Pre-eminent among the gems of the First Division are two of the vellum volumes, issued by the Grolier Club. "A Decree of Star Chamber," one of two copies on vellum, and the only example that can ever be sold, as the other is preserved in the safe of the Grolier Club to be owned forever by that organization. MR. PENE DU BOIS had his copy most superbly bound in Paris by Lortic, with the arms of Jean Grolier in colored leathers on the sides. He is also the owner of one of the two vellum copies of the Grolier Club's reprint of the "Rubaiyat" of Omar Khayyam. Two other Grolier Club books are in the Catalogue—Robert Hoe's work on "Book-binding," a limited edition of two hundred copies, and "Knickerbocker's History of New York," limited to one hundred and seventy-seven copies.

Quite a number of unique books are in this Division:—Sir Walter Scott's "Works and Life"—a magnificent copy illustrated with additions making three thousand engravings in all, and splendidly bound in seventeen volumes by Tout; an extra-illustrated Bryan's "Painters and Engravers," the London edition of 1821 extended from two volumes to fourteen by the insertion of many hundreds of prints, embracing portraits of the artists mentioned or specimens of their work; Robert Hoe's edition of Maberly's "Print Collector," a large paper copy extra-illustrated with eighty extremely rare and original prints by Durer, Beham, Rembrandt, Hollar, Raphael-Morghen, and other masters of the burin; Pepys's "Diary," ten volumes extra-illustrated with portraits and views; the "Cambridge Portfolio," with numerous additional illustrations; Durand's "Souvenirs" of the great French General Hoche, extra-illustrated; Le Roy de St. Croix on the "Marseillaise Hymn," uniquely extended; proofs before letters on India paper of many of the gems of the "London Art Journal," in square large folio; etc.

It is but to be expected that we shall find many grand reliures in the library, of an authority on book-binding. MR. PENE DU BOIS's own book on "Bookbinding" is presented in a form as handsome as it is possible to have it. The author's own copy is a limited edition of one, is printed entirely on Japan paper, is uniquely extra-illustrated with rare engravings, and is superbly bound in doublé by Bradstreets, who printed the book. A volume that cannot fail to attract attention is a copy of De Thou's "History," presented by its author to King Henry the Fourth of France, dedicated to that monarch, printed by Estienne, and bound under the supervision of De Thou, by Clovis Eve, for Henry of Navarre. Another royal binding of importance must have special mention. It is King Louis the Thirteenth's copy of the "True Points of the Catholic Faith," and is a presentation one from the author, Cardinal Richelieu, to his master. Needless to say, the covers are one mass of fleurs-de-lys, which also decorate handsomely bound volumes formerly belonging to King Louis Philippe. Among other historical bindings are tomes that were the property of Napoleon the Third, Madame de Pompadour, Prince Demidoff, the Duke of Marlborough and other eminent personages. Reliures of interest by Dérôme, Du Seuil, etc.; examples of alto-relievo silver bindings; hand-painted eighteenth century specimens; volumes stamped with the royal arms of France and an artistic engraved papier-maché binding, are in this Division of the Catalogue.

In this galaxy of art, literature and illustration are éditions-de-luxe and volumes illustrated with the best etchings. There are:—a set of “Original Etchings by American Artists,” India paper proofs, with duplicates on Japan paper; the etchings of the “New York Etching Club,” signed artists’ proofs on India paper; Koehler’s luxurious work on “Etching,” with proofs on Japan paper; a limited edition of fifty impressions, and one of the choicest sets of “Poets and Etchers,” published at Boston, 1882; “A Score of Etchings,” brilliant proofs before letters; the very scarce Young’s “Leicester Gallery,” a large paper copy with proofs on India paper; a Holland paper example of the “One Hundred Chefs-d’Œuvres in Parisian Collections”; Jutsum’s “Masterpieces of German, French and Dutch Art,” proofs before letters and mostly on Japan paper; and John Kay’s “Caricature Portraits,” a fine copy of the best edition, and published in 1838 in “Edinbro’ town.”

Some really magnificent galleries of engravings are in this section, viz.:—the “Le Brun Gallery,” three volumes, Paris, 1792–96, and with two hundred and one copper-plates; “Art Treasures of America,” limited edition and India proofs; an original subscriber’s copy of the “Gallery of Contemporary Art”; “the French Aquarellists,” limited edition, heavy vellum paper; the “Italian School of Design,” with masterpieces of illustration engraved by Bartolozzi and others; the “Luxembourg Gallery,” Paris 1710, with magnificent plates after Rubens by Edelinck, Audran, etc.; “Masterpieces of French Art,” limited edition, India proofs before letters; and the “New Gallery of British Art,” the édition de luxe, with proofs before letters on India paper.

Quite a number of works on costume, such as Guillaumot and Planché, are in this Division, including a handsome copy of Pyne’s “Costume of Great Britain,” the plates of which are colored by hand.

The somewhat kindred subject of heraldry has a few representatives:—the “Blason des Couleurs,” the limited reprint and uniquely colored; Guillim’s “Display of Heraldry,” 1677–79; and the rare French heraldic and genealogical authorities of De Milleville, Jouffroy des Eschavaunes and the Marquis de Magny.

A large number of volumes are devoted to Biblical illustration, among them being those of Kraus, La Trobe, Martin, Royaumont and Stimmer, also Curmer’s beautiful edition of the “New Testament,” and a large paper copy of Bida’s “Gospels,” proofs before all letters and in a magnificent reliure of David.

Nearly the whole of the First Division warrants particular attention being called to it in entirety, number by number. In addition to those I have already specified, I pick out alphabetically some extremely choice books of beauty and luxury:—“L’Art,” the great French art magazine for the years 1878–83, inclusive; limited subscription edition of “Les Arts Somptuaires," with colored plates by Ciappori; Bartlett and Beattie's "Switzerland," large paper, with open letter proofs; Batty's "Select Views of Europe," an almost unique copy, with the plates in three states; and another work by Batty, his "French Scenery," with the plates in two states; Dante Gabriel Rossetti's copy of Hans Burgkmair, fifty-two folio wood engravings; many works illustrated by Gustave Doré; the privately printed "Monuments of Design," by Baron Vivant Denon; the 1632 Arnheim edition of Albert Durer's "Human Proportion"; a collection of nearly one hundred engravers' proofs—an unique, large paper and India paper assemblage, mostly proofs before letters, with the artists' autograph signatures thereon; Schmidt's beautifully illustrated edition of the "Poems" and "House of Brandenburg," by the warrior monarch Frederick the Great; subscription edition of the "Gazette des Beaux-Arts," in fifty-four volumes, from the commencement in 1859 to 1883 inclusive; largest paper copy of Gell and Gandy's "Pompeiana," with duplicate India proofs before letters; Gonse's "Japanese Art," also the French edition of Audsley and Bowes's work on the same subject; édition-de-luxe of "Great Modern Painters," with proofs on India paper; Hamerton's art works, including large paper copies and original editions of his "Landscape" and "Graphic Arts"; "Labyrinthe Royal," printed at Avignon in 1601, being a very rare, contemporary work on Henry of Navarre and Marie de Medicis, his Queen; Arsène Houssaye's splendid folio volume on Molière, limited edition; large paper copy of Ireland's "Views on the River Thames"; the original edition in forty volumes of Jardine's "Naturalist's Library"; Kueller and Wauters' splendid work on "Ancient Historic Tapestries"; many of Paul Lacroix's charming works of an art character; original subscriber's copy of Lodge's "Portraits" in parts, as issued; Mayer's "Oriental Views," with delightfully colored plates; Michaud's "Crusades," illustrated by Doré, and splendidly bound by Dupré; large paper copy of "Paradise Lost," with John Martin's plates, London, 1827; Perrot and Chipiez's "History of Art," in six volumes; a large paper copy of the Du Bois edition of Plutarch, with duplicate sets on India paper and proofs of the plates in two states; largest paper copy of Pugin and Heath's "Paris," with India proofs before all letters; Rapin's "English History," with Vertue and Houbraken's plates; Renouvier's privately printed work on engraving, a presentation copy from Charles Sumner; Rossetti's "Blessed Damozel," one of a limited edition of thirty-five copies, with India proofs; a splendidly illustrated work by Peter Paul Rubens, published at Antwerp in 1642; original edition of Ruskin's "Seven Lamps of Architecture," as well as a large paper copy of the last edition of the same; limited "Jouaust" edition of "Paul and Virginia," elegantly bound by Smeers; large paper copy of the "Picturesque Tour of the Seine," published by Ackermann in 1821; "Romeo and Juliet," limited edition on Japan paper of Dicksee's charming designs; Sotheby's "Principia Typographica," three volumes, limited edition; the "Antiquarian Itinerary," large paper and profusely illustrated; signed artist's proofs of Barnard's "Sketches" to Thackeray; and "Lives of the Architects and Sculptors," bound by the famous bibliopegistic house of Chamholle-Duru.

These are a few samples of what the Art Division of the "PENE DU BOIS CATALOGUE" is composed. There is hardly a great engraver or master in painting and sculpture, of ancient and modern times, but who is found in some form or another in the department, and there are volumes entirely devoted to narrating and illustrating the lives and art work of the great painters, but more particularly—Cellini, Boucher, Jean Bologne, Raffaello Sanzio, Claude Lorraine, Kaulbach, Millet, Rembrandt, Reynolds, Salvator Rosa and Van Dyck.

The "MANUSCRIPT DIVISION," Numbers 353-388, of the "PENE DU BOIS COLLECTION," has as fine an exhibit of choiceness of vellum examples and loveliness of illumination as were brought together in either the Trivulzio, Rushton M. Dorman or Rush C. Hawkins MSS.—all of which were sold by the LEAVITTS, within the last thirteen months.

The human mind can conceive of nothing of greater beauty in hand-painted missal work than the glorious "Firmin-Didot Hours" in this Collection, and which I have no doubt belonged to King Charles the Sixth of France. Here, among the PENE DU BOIS treasures is this fifteenth century vellum manuscript of former royal ownership, dazzling the eyes with forty-three painted miniatures, three hundred and thirty-eight pages, upon which are ten thousand inches of illuminated border, and with thousands of illuminated capitals and sentence finials in colors heightened with gold. Such a volume can only be seen in the Bibliothèque Nationale, the British Museum or the libraries of the extremely wealthy.

Vying in importance with the last named is the "Golden Legend" of James de Voraigue, a fourteenth century codex with one hundred and two miniatures, and thousands of illuminated initials on the seven hundred and fifty-six large-quarto pages of vellum. This manuscript of Italian workmanship, has been valued at two thousand dollars.

Of a different school and of equal literary value is the magnificent fourteenth century "Testament de Jehan de Meung," which, charming as it is in illuminated work, is equally so in the reliure, which is by the famous Petit of Paris.

Devotional illuminated vellum manuscripts make up a good quota of the Second Division.

The different schools of medieval miniaturists are all in this section. Thus we have—an early fourteenth century Anglo-Norman "Missale Romanum," with thirteen miniatures and hundreds of capitals in gold and colors, on the last page being over twenty lines of ancient English verse written about the time of Chaucer; a splendid Fifteenth century "Horæ" of Flemish execution, with thirty miniature paintings and hundreds of capitals, all in gold and colors so exquisitely finished that it may have been the work of John Van Eyck; a handsome "Getydenboek," or Dutch missal of the fifteenth century with beautifully illuminated miniatures, borders and capitals; and an early fifteenth century "Heures de la Vierge" of French workmanship, on vellum, with ten miniatures, capitals and borders, forming full-page illuminations in colors heightened with gold, and hundreds of other lovelily decorated initial letters that exhibit all the scrupulous care and patient detail, so peculiar to French manuscripts of that date.

Some heraldic drawings and MSS. will interest genealogists; an early seventeenth century diploma of the University of Padua will delight Shakespearean collectors; an erotic volume on vellum in French script will titillate the senses of amateurs who gather facetiæ; and a beautifully written "History of Belle Isle-en-Mer" will charm bibliopegists as well as antiquaries, it being in a reliure by Trautz-Bauzonnet.

Some authorities on illumination, including a manuscript volume that tells the secrets of the almost lost art of the preparation of gold and colors for manuscript work; two framed paintings on vellum some centuries old; and some of the beautiful chromolithographic reproductions of the Arundel Society, are in this department.

Three printed tomes made unique by hand illumination must be called attention to. These are two "Horæ," printed by the Hardouyns, one being in a Grolier binding, was issued from the press in 1499, and has forty-six painted miniatures in colors, heightened with gold; and an—

Unique large paper copy of the "Roman de la Violette," with two sets of plates, one deliciously illuminated in a manner fully equal to that of the best monastic miniaturists of the middle ages. This handsome volume was the property of King Louis Philippe's son, the Duc d'Aumale, who has recently given to the French nation, as a museum, the Palace of Chantilly and its famous library.

"ORIGINAL AUTOGRAPHS" is the title of the Third Division, and it includes nearly one hundred and forty numbers of rare and interesting documents or signatures of historical and eminent personages.

MR. PENE DU BOIS some years ago was left by the will of its owner the "Russell Collection of Autographs" of United States presidents, statesmen, authors, etc. This will be found in the catalogue as an unit, and is number 518. It comprises a collection of over two hundred and twenty letters, wholly in the caligraphy of the various writers, or separate signatures, some of the last mentioned with MSS. above them. This unique, most valuable and interesting gathering contains signatures or handwriting of ten of the United States presidents, commencing with Washington. The "Russell Collection" has also letters or signatures of governors of states, poets, artists, singers, historians, philanthropists, actors, etc. A notable feature of the Collection is an addition by Longfellow to the "Psalms of Life," and a letter in which Edward Everett tells the story of his association with Jenny Lind.

The next number to the last named is the "Comédie Française Tom-bola" of autographs of distinguished members of the French stage, authors, critics, etc. This album, which the "New York Tribune" priced at one thousand dollars, is full of fascinating reading matter in the handwriting of some of the most prominent people associated with French literature and the Paris stage. It includes among other valuable MSS. an original quatrain entitled "Liberty and Love," one of the last productions of the pen of the great novelist Alexander Dumas.

The Autograph Division has some extremely important documents and letters outside of numbers 518 and 519.

Among them are three quarto pages entirely in the handwriting of Voltaire, in which he writes fully to Tauler, respecting his "Siècle de Louis XIV."

Equally desirable from the amateur's standpoint are the following letters:—one from Henry the Fourth of France and Navarre to the Count of Viereville, in which the "white plumed king" requests that nobleman to devote all his attention to the counteracting of plots of assassins; another from Louis the Thirteenth, at the dictation of his master, Cardinal Richelieu, in relation to the Duc de Guise and his fellow conspirators; one from that despicable sensualist King Louis Quinze to the President of the Parliament, at Paris; and another with the signature of Caulaincourt, Duke of Vicenza, to the American Minister at the Court of the Tuilleries and on behalf of the Great Napoleon, who on his return from Elba desired to continue the friendly relations that had existed between France and the United States.

There are also other historical papers of equal consideration written by, or dictated, or with the signatures of:—Anne of Austria; Abd-el-Kader; Admiral de Bourbon, Count of Toulouse; the Duc de Choiseul; General Dumoulin; Fouquet, Duke of Belleisle; Citizen Henriot; Napoleon the First; Necker; Prince Talleyrand; and Cardinal de Bernis, who orders the arrest of an aristocratic brace of elopers, on behalf of the Pope.

MR. PENE DU BOIS purchased some years ago from the "Alfred Bovet Collection" quite a number of letters, some combined with sketches, by eminent artists. These will be found in this Division, and are of:—"Cham," Chardin, Corot, Couture, Daumier, Delacroix, Delaroche, Doré, Gérôme, Baron Gros, Jacque, Meissonier, Raffet, Regnault, etc.

Sardou, Augier, Scribe and Ponsard are among those who represent the dramatists, and Adam, Auber, Berlioz, Carafa, Cherubini, Gounod, Halevy, Massé, Meyerbeer, Offenbach, Poniatowski, Reyer, Rossini, Thomas and Verdi, the musical composers.

As a litterateur of distinction, MR. PENE DU BOIS had a strong penchant for letters written by the authors of France. He has examples of:—About, Juliette Lamber Adam, Béranger, Bérat, Bourgoing, Capefigue, Coppée, Courcelles, Cuvier, Droz, both the elder and younger Dumas, Guizot, Hugo, Humboldt, Janin, Lamartine, Lammenais, Lecureux, Legendre, Littré, Martin, Mérimée, Mignet, Morellet, Peignot, Rémusat, Sainte-Beuve, Sandeau, Sarcey, Simon, Sully-Prudhomme, Thiers, Tocqueville, Topffer, Vernet, Villemain, Werdet and Uzanne.

"DIVISION THE FOURTH—EARLY TYPOGRAPHY" is arranged chronologically. It commences with number 523, ends with 693, and is arranged in three sections:—I. Tomes printed between 1470 and 1600; II. Aldine Imprints; and III. Elzevirian Imprints.

The Incunables range from 1470 to 1500, the first book in the department being printed with the types of Gunther Zainer, at Augsburg, about the first named date. They also comprise examples of the presses of Venice, Strasburg, Cologne, Leipsic, Milan, etc., including likewise, one of the tallest copies in this country, of the first edition of the "Nuremberg Chronicle" printed by Koberger in 1493, and illustrated with over two thousand wood engravings by Pleydenwuff and Michael Wolgemuth, the Master of Albert Durer. In contrast with this "editio princeps" can be compared the second edition of the same grand work, published at Augsburg in 1497.

MR. PENE DU BOIS has made a specialty of collecting the most beautiful and expensive imprints of the Parisian press. His "Meschinot," one of the most desirable volumes published by the famous Galliot du Pre, whose books are rising higher in the estimation of bibliophiles every year, is the 1528 edition. When displayed at the Grolier Club, last year, it was asserted by the press, to be the grandest piece of Trautz-Bauzonnet's reliure in the exhibition. A fac-simile of the doublé of this bibelot, will be found on page 155 of the Catalogue and through the kindness of my friend Ingersoll Lockwood, who chose it for his "Bookmaker" articles on bindings, as the choicest example of the tooling of Trautz-Bauzonnet in America. Galliot du Pre is also shown to excellent advantage by three other volumes—one of which is a "Jehan Le Maire" imprinted in 1531, with numerous woodcuts, also charmingly bound by Bauzonnet; two delightful bibelots, the "Ordonnances" of 1533 and 1534 respectively, both demonstrating the typographical beauty of Galliot du Pre's issues. They are bound by Thibaron-Echaubard.

The Parisian Sixteenth Century Typothetæ are well exemplified in the Library and proved by volume after volume, to have infused that true æsthetic taste into book publishing, which they hold to this day. When we turn over the pages of these lovely bibelots with Renaissance initials and beauteous fleurons, we can immediately recognize the part "Lutetia" played in the art typographic, by changing the rough, crude harshness of the Teutonic influence into what became the cultured apotheosis of the highest recognition, by the printery, of the love of the true and the beautiful.

The earliest example of the press of Paris is the "editio princeps" of "St. Hilary," printed by Jodocus Badius in 1510. Then follow Regnault's 1518 "Breviarium Romanum" illustrated with very beautifully executed wood-engravings and the text rubricated throughout; "Le Jardin de Plaisaunce"—extremely rare, with curious wood-block illustrations and printed by Philip Lenoir in 1527; Jean Marot's "Poems," the original edition of 1532, printed by Geoffroy Tory and bound by Duru in red crushed levant; a fine example of Maioli reliure on a "Greek Testament" by Robert Estienne, 1549, and another specimen of the same genre of binding, the "Chronicle of Philip de Comines," imprinted by Groulleau in 1551; Sorbin's "Allegresse de la France" bound by Thibaron-Echaubard and printed by Chaudiere in 1569; the remarkably rare work of Coppiet de Valley on the "Massacre of St. Bartholomew" printed in the year of that outrage on humanity and bound à la Jansen by Duru; "La Puce de Madame Des Roches"—excessively rare, printed by Angelier in 1573 and bound by Simier; the extremely rare Estienne and 1573 original edition of the "Poems" of Des Portes, bound by Chambole-Duru; the 1573 edition of Joachim du Bellay's poetical works, printed by Morel and bound by Thibaron-Echaubard in the Jansenist style; a very rare bibelot on the offensive King Henry the Third of France, from the press of Chesneau in 1574 and bound by Capé; an extremely rare work by the unfortunate scholar and bibliopole Henry Estienne, printed in 1579; the 1581 edition of Pelletier's "Poems" elegantly bound by Niedrée; the remarkably rare and excessively curious collection of four bibelots on Henry the Third of France, issued in 1589 and bound by Thibaron; and an extremely scarce and charmingly bound volume on the "Peace between France and Spain," Paris, 1598.

Two of the grandest works, however, in this superb collection of sixteenth century imprints are—the 1573, and best edition of the "Chronicles of Monstrelet," published by Pierre l'Huillier, and splendidly bound by Bertrand ; and—

The magnificent and exceedingly rare "Montaigne" of 1595, superbly bound by Belz-Niedrée in lemon levant morocco, doublé with crushed red levant morocco, and edges gilt on marble, an edition that Brunet says "is perfectly and correctly executed, and so continues until the present day for the authenticity of text."

Nothing like the collection of Aldine Imprints in this Catalogue has ever been offered at public auction in America. There are over fifty numbers running from 607 to 658, and which are chronologically arranged from 1501 to 1592, inclusive, to which are added some Aldine bibliography and Manutian literature. Most of these volumes came from the Syston Park Library. They exhibit not only all the changes of imprints, but of types, such as Italic, over which the Aldi had a monopoly, and improvements in the Greek and Roman fonts.

Hardly a volume of these fifty lacks the famous "Anchor and Dolphin" stamp in gold upon the sides by Duru, Lewis, Bozerian, or Roger Payne. One, however, a 1566 "Cæsar," edited by Paulus Manutius, is the finest piece of Grolieresque tooling in the entire Collection.

Where the Aldi leave off, the Elzevirs begin.

There are some forty numbers with the Elzevirian Imprints of Leyden, Amsterdam, and even Utrecht, attesting the prolific work of their presses. The dates of issue run from 1624 to 1689. Nearly every one is bound by Roger Payne, and in red crinkled morocco. They include the first duodecimo recorded by Bérard, the best Elzevir "Terence," and numerous popular volumes on jurisprudence, medicine, classics, etc. There is hardly one, but what has the delightfully engraved titles, which make Elzevirs so desirable. Many editions are not mentioned by Bérard, they are so rare, and all are the "ne plus ultra" of Elzeviriana.

Besides the early typography, with illustrations already named, attention should be called to:—the 1514 "Passion of Christ," with its quaint engravings on wood; the numismatically illustrated "Lives of Emperors," printed at Lyons in 1550; a "Vulgate Testament" of 1560, with curious woodcuts; the 1591 Venice edition of the work on "Human Proportion," of Albert Durer; Luther's "New Testament," printed at Nuremberg, 1594—1606, with curious illustrations; Speckle's "Architecture," Strasburg, 1599; and the "Brabant Chronicle," of 1600, illustrated with admirably executed page portraits.

The German and Swiss Reformations have many numbers in this department. The earliest is a Luther tract printed at Leipsic in 1519; two were illustrated by Hans Holbein in his earlier days at Basle and Zurich; and Lucas Cranach also adorned some brochures of the reformers with woodcuts. The 1522 tractate of Erasmus antedates Panzer as a Zurich imprint.

The following volumes of particular interest are also in the Fourth Division:—the extraordinarily rare and original edition of Dionysius Afer's "Description of the Earth," and printed at Ferrara in 1512; the 1521 "Pliny," printed by Cratander at Basle; the "Flanders Chronicle," most curiously illustrated with wood-block engravings, and printed in 1531, at Antwerp, by Wm. Vosterman; Dante, an edition issued at Venice, in 1536, with numerous wood-block cuts, and bound by Tout, à la Jansen; Sebastian Munster's work on "Navigation," printed in 1537 at Basle, and illustrated with many wood engravings; Boccaccio's "Genealogy of the Gods," Venice, 1581, and the Giunta "Decameron," of 1587; Rocca's "Bibliotheca Vaticana," printed at the Vatican, 1591; and—

President de Thou's copy of the Lyons "Herodian," of 1559, with that grand old bibliophile's autograph signature.

"BIBLIOGRAPHY AND AUTHORITIES ON LITERATURE, BINDINGS, etc.," constitute the Fifth Division. There are over one hundred and seventy numbers, ranging from 694 to 866.

Many limited editions of rare works on these subjects, will be discovered in the bibliographical department.

The Dibdiniana include—a portion of the page proofs of the "Bibliotheca Spenceriana," covered with the good bibliophile's interlineations and corrections—they are so diffuse as to be as bewildering as a maze; a large paper copy of the 1842 and best edition of the "Bibliomania;" and—an unusually tall copy of the "Ædes Althorpianæ." There are also large paper copies of—Brissard-Binet's "Life and Editions of Cazin;" Lang's "Books and Bookmen;" Auguste de Reume's "Variétés Bibliographiques et Littéraires;" Wynne's "Private Libraries of New York;" Johnson's "Typographia;" and Horne's "Bibliography."

Bauchart's "Women Bibliophiles of France" is one of fifty copies on China paper.

I should also notice:—the Peignotiana, twenty numbers, mostly limited editions and unique; Bigmore and Wyman's "Bibliography of Printing;" Leypoldt's "American Catalogue," three large quarto volumes bound by Bradstreets; the facetious "Bibliotheca Scatologica;" Barbier on "Anonymous Works;" the bibliographical volumes of Paul Lacroix, Nisard and Querard; Marius-Michel's "History of Bookbinding," profusely illustrated and in two volumes; Max Rooses's Christopher Plantin and his editions; the "Fontaine Catalogue" 1875-1879, bound by Bertrand; and "Le Bibliophile Français," seven volumes bound by Belz-Niedrée.

Among the library book catalogues of rarity are those of—J. C. Brunet; Firmin-Didot, twelve volumes; Charles Nodier, an unique copy; Guilbert de Pixérécourt, large paper, with notes by Nodier and Paul Lacroix; Baron James de Rothschild; the Rowfant Library, with frontispiece by George Cruikshank; and—the bogus Count de Fortsas Library by Renier Hubert Ghislain Chalon, of Mons, the king of bibliographical hoaxers.

Before leaving this section, it is a duty to advert to the most striking feature in it, and which is—

The "PENE DU BOIS Collection of Book-Plates, Early Typographical Devices and Later Printers' Marks," one of the finest "ex-libris" gatherings in this country, and containing six hundred and fourteen examples dating from the beginning of the sixteenth century. Of these, nearly one hundred and fifty are printers' marks, and the balance, over four hundred and sixty are book-plates, mostly heraldic and of distinguished personages and blue-blood families, such as the Bonapartes and Bourbons.

* * *

The Sixth Division is the "CURIOSA AND FACETIÆ." It embraces 867 to 1321, over four hundred and fifty numbers alphabetized, a larger quantity than has ever been sold before in this country at auction, in one collection.

Nearly the whole of the numbers in the Division are either large paper, limited, suppressed, or choice paper editions, or have some peculiar bibliographical excellence, or desirable feature about them.

Many are unique. For instance, we have a copy of the "Lady of the Camelias" with original unpublished verses in the handwriting of Alexander Dumas fils, and there are five pages of his own good round hand on the ill-fated heroine of his romance, who in real life, was Marie Duplessis — while mentioning this, I should also speak of a limited edition-de-luxe of the same work in large octavo and bound by Rousselle. Cazotte's "Amorous Devil," bound by Trioullier, is also unique. It is a copy of the rare 1845 edition having, in addition to Beaumont's charming woodcuts, another set of illustrations in two states. Huart's facetious military work is colored by hand. The very beautiful edition of Curmer's "Perrault," printed from engraved plates, has added to its own fine illustrations a set of India proofs, mounted on Japan paper, of etchings by Lalauze. An early edition of Voltaire's "Pucelle" extra-illustrated, is bound by Dérome. The Guizot edition of "Abelard and Eloisa" is large paper and is made unique by the addition of nearly thirty plates. And a rare volume "La France Libre" has some inserted original MSS., in the handwriting of its author, the celebrated French Revolutionist, Camille Desmoulins.

The following editions-de-luxe, printed entirely on either China, Whatman or Japan papers, etc., add to the bibliophilistic interest of the extraordinary and erotic books in this section:—

"The Amours of Henri Quatre" is one of twelve copies entirely on Japan paper, with the portraits of himself and mistresses, in two states; the "Chants Historiques et Populaires," bound by Champs, is printed on blue paper and is one of twelve copies; Daudet's amusing volume "Tartarin sur les Alpes" illustrated with aquarelles, is a heavy Japan paper example, and the same author's "Prodigious Adventures of Tarrascon," is large paper; Dondey's satirical work on the French Romantic School, is one of ten copies on Japan; the "Amorous Life" of the libidinous Du Barry, the mistress of that sensualistic Minotaur, Louis the Fifteenth, is bound by Rousselle, and is a China paper copy, with the portraits in two states, both Holland and China; a handsome reliure of Pagnant covers a Japan paper copy of Du Buisson's "Tableau de la Volupté," illustrated with Eisen's erotic plates; Gautier Gargville's salacious poems is one of ten on China paper; Marie Garcia's "Confessions d'Antonine" is one of seven on China; a thick Japan paper copy of the magnificent edition-de-luxe of Juliette Lamber Adam's "Song of the Newly Wed," with splendid portrait and erotic etchings, is one of the handsomest specimens of French typography belonging to MR. PENE DU BOIS; Legouvé's "Mérite des Femmes," a Whatman paper example, is bound by Rousselle, and has Lalauze's frontispiece in three states; Pezay's "Zelis au Bain" is one of ten copies on Japan paper, bound by Pagnant, as is also the "Toilette des Dames," published in the same series; Saint Albin's "Salle d'Armes" is a China paper copy, of a limited issue of twenty; Quantin's "Ovide" with tinted vignettes, bound by Rousselle, is a China paper issue, and the "Anacreon and Sappho," the "Bucolics" of Virgil and the "Lucien," in the same series, are not only superbly bound by Amand, but are on Japan paper; "Son Altesse la Femme," by Octave Uzanne, the friend of MR. PENE DU BOIS, is on Japan paper, and among other erotic works of his, is a magnificent copy on China paper of "Mœurs Secrètes," charmingly illustrated by Avril and luxuriously bound with doublé by Bradstreets.

An unique collection of satirical cartoons, broadsides, etc., principally issued during the Paris Commune, is one of the features of the Curiosa Division. It includes nearly nine hundred pieces, all of great historical interest, and illustrates a most eventful period in the annals of the centre of civilization.

The delightful novel of "Manon Lescaut" is represented by four different editions—the Glady, Jouaust, Lemerre and Bourdin. All are "de-luxe." The first-named is on China paper, and is in a beautiful reliure, copied after a volume belonging to Queen Margaret, and has a superb doublé. The Jouaust copy is unique, extra-illustrated, one of twenty copies on China paper, is bound by Bertrand and formerly belonged to Jules Janin, who edited another edition of the work. Marius Michel's binding on the Lemerre edition is a beautiful example of inlaid work and tooling; the Bourdin is a large paper.

The Collection boasts the possession of Madame de Pompadour's copy of "Rabélais." There are also three other editions—that edited by Paul Lacroix and in a devotional binding; an original issue of Dore's illustrated edition; and the Lemerre, handsomely printed and a limited issue on Holland paper.

There are seven numbers of Restif de la Bretonne, including some originals, and a magnificent volume in folio with his text to Freudenberg and Moreau's erotic plates.

The Curiosa and Facetiæ of the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries in the Division, include some extremely rare and valuable works, such as:—Alkmar's "Reynard the Fox," with Ewerdingen's illustrations, Leipsic, 1752; the suppressed and excessively rare "Amours of Anne of Austria"; Boileau's "Satires," one of the earliest editions and bound by Hardy-Ménil; the "Amorous History of the Gauls," the extremely rare original edition; the Chevalier d' Aceilly's "Poems," the original issue of 1667, bound by Hardy-Ménil; the "Memoires de Montmartre," 1786, bound by Chambolle-Duru; two of the erotic works of the younger Crebillon, one of which is his "Moral Sopha"; the 1616 "New Recreations" of Bonaventure des Periers, very rare and bound by Duru, also the 1711 and 1753 editions of his "Cymbalum Mundi," the last-named in a binding by Capé; the extremely rare and early satirical work on the French Academy, by Antoine Furetière and bound by Bauzonnet; the original edition of the "Leviathan," of Hobbes of Malmesbury; a very rare, suppressed and erotic work on the Jesuits with facetious title-page, printed at Cologne in 1725 and superbly bound in mosaiced morocco by Chatelin; Dr. William King's privately printed and suppressed "Toast," 1736, and of the greatest rarity; the "Liaisons Dangereuses," with erotic plates and the original edition; a magnificent copy of the "Farmers' General," edition of La Fontaine, bound by Chambolle-Duru; also other editions of the "Tales," illustrations by Fragonard and others, and a large paper copy of the 1796 edition of the "Fables" of La Fontaine; seven splendid editions of Le Sage's works, among them the 1747 "Gil Blas," bound by David, and the extremely rare edition of his "Turcaret," bound by Chambole-Duru; the Marshal Duke of Luxembourg's "Amours," Cologne, 1694; the excessively rare and original French edition of "Lazarillo de Tormes," Brussels, 1699, bound by Rousselle; the original edition of Merimée's "La Guzla," in a Marius-Michel reliure; Mirabeau's "Erotika Biblion," the very rare original edition of 1783; the "True Falconer" of the Chevalier de Morais, Paris, 1683; the "New Founding Hospital for Wit," 1698; the magnificently illustrated "Metamorphoses" of Ovid, Paris, 1767, in a handsome reliure; the original edition of the "Confessions" of Jean Jacques Rousseau; the extraordinary "Parthenologia" of Dr. Schurig, Dresden, 1729-32; Voltaire's "Henriade," the 1770 edition and with Eisen's plates, in a Derome binding; and—

Francois Barre'me's "Grand Banquier de France," the original edition, bound by Parisot, and almost unique, the only other copy known being in the "Bibliothèque Nationale."

Limited editions of great rarity, some of which have been already specified, are in the department. To these should be added:—Aretino, in both Italian and Latin; Beaumont's "Women and the Sword," illustrated by Meissonier and bound by Amand; the Jouaust "Variétés Historiques et Littéraires" of Fournier; Blondeau's "Erotic Dictionary," also Delvan's, bound by Rousselle; the Lemonnyer "Baisers," of Dorat, large paper and superbly bound in red levant; Arsène Houssaye's "Sonnets," bound by Rousselle and magnificently illustrated; the Orso series of bibelots, erotic reprints from rare originals; the first edition of the "Nineteenth Century Satirical Parnassus," very erotic; Poggio, both in French and English; Sauval's "Scandalous Chronicle," large paper; Tillier's large paper "Mon Oncle Benjamin"; "Gamiani," the erotic masterpiece of "George Sand" and Alfred de Musset; Jesse's "Beau Brummell"; Pisanus-Fraxi's erotic bibliographies; and the Sieur Theophile's "Parnasse Satyrique," for the writing of which the author was condemned to be burnt alive.

Among other notable books in the Facetious Division are:—the original editions of Balzac's "Physiology of Marriage" and "César Birotteau;" Tony Johannot's "Don Quixote," large paper copy of the "Contes Remois," illustrated by Meissonier; the Didot minimos—Hamilton, Voltaire, etc., bound by Niédree; a large paper "Songe du Poliphile," bound by Rameau; a large paper "Contes et Nouvelles," illustrated by Duplessis-Berteaux; Coran's "Rimes Galantes," large paper; Cunningham's "Nell Gwyn," large paper; Vivant Denon's etchings, limited edition, including the Priapic series; Dinaux's "Sociétés Badines," very scarce, erotic and curious; the "Antiquities of Herculanum and Pompeii," in French, with the "Secret Museum" and eight framed water-colors after the same; large paper copy of Jules Janin's "L'Ane Mort;" the "Ananga Ranga," of Kalyana Malla; the Didot edition of Legouvé's "Merit of Women," large paper; "Faublas," with plates; Marmontel's "Contes Moraux," Paris, 1765; quite a number of Marc de Montifaud's facetious works, with etchings; "Histoire des Papes," ten volumes, and wickedly illustrated; Topffer's humorous albums, very scarce; the Marquis de Sade's "Justine," one of a hundred and fifty, and an exceptionally fine copy of the rare, original edition of his "Crimes of Love," bound by Hardy; and a large paper copy of the "Utopia" of Sir Thomas More, edited by Dibdin, printed by Bulmer, and bound by Bedford.

The books on Emblems and the "Dance of Death" have been placed in this department. Of the first named there are:—the 1652 Cats; the 1630 Cramer; the 1648 and 1659 Saavedra-Faxardo; the 1698 Boria; the 1710–11 Conlin; the 1614 Beza; and the excessively rare, original edition of George Wither's "Emblemes, Ancient and Moderne," printed at London in 1635.

Full as this section is, like the rest of the Collection, of handsome reliures, the following ought not to be forgotten:—Anquetil's "Intrigue du Cabinet," the Hamilton Palace copy bound by Derome; the "Melusine" of Jehan d'Arras, limited edition, and bound in red crushed levant by Hardy; the "Avantvres dv Baron de Fœneſte," in a binding by Capé; Barbey D'Aurevilly's exceedingly rare work on "Beau Brummell;" and the original edition of the "Chansons" of Béranger, in a splendid reliure of Thouvenin.

"POETRY AND DRAMA," the Seventh Division, takes in numbers 1322 to 1565 inclusive.

Dramatic literature has its rarest volume in this section, in an unique copy, luxuriously bound, of the original edition of the "Figaro" of Beaumarchais, of whose works there are other first editions. "Molière, the Shakespeare of France," is done honor to, in ten numbers, among them, being the very rare Elzevir Molière of Amsterdam, 1683–1689; a large paper copy of Van Laun's translation with Lalauze's etchings; the Utrecht edition, in French, of 1713, and the Paris of 1823, 1824–26, and 1843; a China paper copy of Houssaye's "Comédiennes de Molière," with the portraits in three states, and Coquelin on Molière's "Misanthrope," on China paper—both handsomely bound by Bradstreets.

There are:—a beautiful edition of the 1717 Terence, in French, with plates, and bound by Rousselle; the "British Theatrical Gallery," London, 1825; a collection of eighty photographs of French members of the stage; the "Galerie Théâtrale," one hundred and forty-four full-length portraits, and limited to ninety-nine copies; Houssaye's "History of the Comédie Française," 1680–1880; and several volumes from the library, and stamped with the initial, of the great French tragedienne, Rachel.

The English stage is shown in the following editions: Beaumont and Fletcher, the first collected edition of 1647; the Baskerville 1671 edition of Congreve, bound by Belz-Niedrée; Mrs. Centlivre's "Dramatic Works," an exceedingly fine copy of the first edition of 1760–71, bound by Derome; Henry Sotheran's limited edition of the "Dramatists of the Restoration," fourteen volumes; large paper copy of Ford's "Dramatic Works," edited by Gifford and Dyce; Greene's "Plays," edited by Dyce, and a limited edition printed by Whittingham; limited Chiswick Press and best edition of Marlowe; large paper copy of Massinger, printed by Bulmer; a large paper copy of Middleton's "Dramatic Works," bound by Rivière, excessively rare; large paper copy of Pickering's edition of "Peele," bound by Bedford; Sheridan, limited edition, and printed by De Vinne; large paper copy of Webster's "Dramatic Works," published by Pickering; and—

Important Shakespeareana, first and foremost of which is John Payne Collier's privately printed "Shakespeare," limited to fifty-eight sets of eight volumes each, and for subscribers only; also—edition-de-luxe of Shakespeare, with Monzies's etchings; minimo Corrall edition, by Pickering; Ballantyne's "Shakespeare," large paper; Hudson's handy edition of Shakespeare; and Parker Norris's portraits of the "Bard of Avon."

French Poetry has many more numbers than those already mentioned, belonging to the previous Divisions. There are—the “Anciens Poetes de France,” printed by Jouaust and edited by Guessard in ten volumes; the extremely rare “Tragiques,” of D'Aubigny, printed at Geneva in 1616; Boileau, the 1747 edition in five volumes; Gombauld's “Epigrammes,” original edition, Paris, 1657; large paper copy of the Abbé De La Rue's great work on the troubadours; Barbey d'Aurevilly's “Poesies,” large paper, privately printed and bound by Chambolle-Duru; the “Poems” of Clotilde de Surville, bound by Thouvenin, and the plates in five states; nine numbers of Theophile Gautier's works, some originals, one, a limited edition, and another printed on China paper; Delphine Gay's “Last Day of Pompeii,” bound by Belz-Niedrée and a presentation copy to Madame Récamier; Guizot's copy of Merimée's “La Jaquerie”; Alfred de Musset's complete works, an elegant copy in eleven volumes, and bound by Smeers; and—

Victor Hugo's “Works,” some original, limited editions on China and other papers, and some splendidly bound by Amand and Marius-Michel.

English and American poetry have some desirable editions for book-lovers:—Aytoun's “Lays of the Scottish Cavaliers,” handsomely bound; Mrs. Browning's “Poems,” large paper and limited edition on Holland; large paper “Burns” in six volumes; Keats, a Whatman paper copy of the Buxton-Forman edition, only thirty printed, also the limited edition of the same poet, printed by De Vinne; Nicholas Rowe's “Pharsalia” of Lucan, large paper; beautiful copy of the first edition of Henry More's “Platonica,” Cambridge, 1642; Longfellow's “Works,” large paper copy of the Riverside edition, in eleven volumes; the “Amon-tillado” Poe, with India proofs; Pope's Works in French, and illustrated by Marillier; Hoole's “Tasso,” large paper, printed by Bensley, 1803, and two other editions in French, one with Cochin's, and the other with the Gravelot plates; Tom Taylor's “Songs of Brittany,” superbly bound by Alfred Matthews in elegant morocco doublé; original edition of Doré's “Vivien” and “Guinevere,” of Tennyson, engraver's proofs on India paper; edition-de-luxe of Wordsworth in eight volumes; and—the “Percy Society's Publications” in thirty volumes, with the suppressed brochures.

Some unique, large paper and rare gems for the bibliomaniac have to be mentioned:—Ariosto, Paris, 1795, large paper, unique, and with two sets of proofs before letters of the superb engravings; a splendid example of the typography of Bodoni, printed at Parma in 1793; the Lemerre edition of Dante, on China paper, and bound by Cuzin; the charmingly illustrated Didot “Homère,” a large paper copy; a beautiful large paper example of Caro's “Virgil,” with the plates of Lempereur, Tardieu, etc.; and a delightful copy of the “Psalms,” translated into French by Clement Marot and Theodore Beza, a fine specimen of the reliure of the genre Le Gascon.

“DIVISION VIII.—VARIA LITERARIA,” beginning with number 1566, and ending with 1882, concludes the whole of the books and MSS. of the PENE DU BOIS Collection.

Among the rarities of this Division, are:—the editio princeps of Pascal's “Provinciales,” printed at Cologne in 1657, a volume of excessive scarcity, bound by Capé, and a magnificent copy; also one of the equally excessively rare original edition of the "Pensées" of Pascal, Paris, 1670, a superb copy, bound by Lortic; extremely rare Funeral Orations by Bossuet, Bourdaloue and Flechier, original editions, and bound by Trautz-Bauzonnet and Chambolle-Duru; Saint Real's "Conjuration des Espagnols," Paris, 1674, very rare, and bound by Trautz-Bauzonnet; original edition of Thackeray's "Vanity Fair"; the very rare "Oliver Cromwell Memoirs," London, 1740, with plates by Audran, Faber, etc.; Terence, printed by Baskerville, 1772; "Napoleoniana," which belonged to the late Prince Demidoff, also a relic of the Second Empire, stamped with the arms of Napoleon III.; Citizen Gregoire's volume on "Trees of Liberty", unique, and bound by Duru; a most extraordinary collection of two hundred and four original caricatures of Isaac, Robert and George Cruikshank, Rowlandson, Woodward and Gillray, all etched on copper, published 1807-19, and colored by hand; Prince Paul Demidoff's copy of Xavier de Maistre; the 1827 Montesquieu, bound by Purgold and tooled by Bauzonnet; Saintyon's "Grand Tamerlan," Amsterdam, 1678, and bound by Thouvenin; and the "Contes" of Charles Nodier, original edition and unique.

The Americana include—the 1685 chap-book life of Columbus, by his son; Hennepin's "Louisiana," the first edition of Paris, 1683; a copy of the "Massachusetts Indian Psalter" of 1709, extremely rare, but incomplete; excessively rare, and early "Laws of New York," printed in 1762, 1765-82, and 1789; also the "Natural History of New York," eighteen volumes; Schoolcraft's "Indians"; "Presidential Messages of Washington," 1793-97; Noah Webster's "English Language," Boston, 1789, and bound by Rousselle; and that valuable recently published authority, the "America Heraldica" of Count de Valcour-Vermont.

History embraces good editions of the works of Lingard, Milman, Burnet and Prescott, the two last named large paper copies.

Notable books also in this Eighth Division are—a large paper copy of "Jane Eyre" with duplicate signed proofs, on Japan paper; Thomas Carlyle, edition-de-luxe, in twenty volumes; Fenelon's "Télémaque," Paris, 1824, and bound by Simier; Washington Irving's "Sketch Book," edition-de-luxe and large paper; also the same of the works of Nathaniel Hawthorne in thirteen volumes; Littre's "French Dictionary," five thick, large quarto volumes; Mercator's Atlas, Amsterdam, 1628; Saint Pierre's "Paul and Virginia," with India proof illustrations, and a large paper copy in French, with Chodowiecki's beautiful etchings of the "Clarissa Harlowe," of the old London bookseller-novelist, Samuel Richardson, and the limited edition-de-luxe of the same author, in twelve volumes, and published by Henry Sotheran.

To this Division have been joined some volumes from the private library of the late Josiah Sutherland, Judge of the Supreme Court of New York, and from other sources, some duplicate copies of works already catalogued in the preceding seven Divisions. Among these are:—"the French Aquarellists"; Gonsse's "Japanese Art"; "Grands Peintres Françaises"; Hamerton's "Graphic Arts," large paper; limited edition of Keats, Sheridan and Pepys; Van Laun's Moliere, with Lalauze's etchings; Pisanus Fraxi's erotic bibliographies; and Koehler's "Original Etchings by American Artists," proofs in two states, or India and Japan.

"PRINTS AND AQUARELLES" is the title of the Ninth Division, comprising numbers 1883—2457.

The original water-colors, crayons and other sketches are all by eminent masters. About the most important of these art works belonging to MR. PENE DU BOIS is the "Queen Esther and Haman" of the eighteenth century artist Fragonard. There are two Chodowieckis, one of a "Pedagogue," the other of a "Girl and her Brother." An oil painting by Hobema has been executed on ancient copper, the verso of which has a mediæval "Madonna and Child," probably some four hundred years old.

Felix O. C. Darley's painting of "Washington Irving and His Friends at Sunnyside," will be found in this Division. Its purchaser will receive an autograph letter of the artist relating a curious circumstance in connection with this design, for which Darley was paid seven hundred dollars.

Among the other originals are:—"Sunday Morning," by Bellows; "Going to the Colonies," by the inimitable Rowlandson; "A Japanese Study," by Somm; Horace Vernet's "Napoleon the Third at the Battle of Solferino;" Gavarni's "Beautiful Equestrians" and "Mother Pipelot," two characteristic water-colors; the "Martyrdom of St. Ovide," by Jouve-net; "Ye Bibliophile," the original black and white made by Meeker for the frontispiece of the forthcoming volume of MR. PENE DU BOIS; "Tasso" by Slothard; an aquarelle by W. Lloyd; the "Spirit of the Crusades," an oil study painted for MR. PENE DU BOIS by Victor Naegle; an "Italian Beggar," by Ceccia; "Portrait of a Young Girl," by C. J. Bridgman; "A Cavalry Engagement," by Dietrich the Younger; four Bacchanalian subjects by Deschanelli and Dhout; "Dutch Peasant," by Picart; "Marshal Turenne at the Siege of Turin," charcoal study by Lerigue; "the Soldier's Promenade" and "the Devotees," by Caffi; and "Belshazzar's Feast," an ancient painting on parchment attributed to Hemskirk.

There are many engravings by the Old Masters, nearly all of which are fine, original, excellent impressions. Albert Durer's well-known "Virgin with the Monkey," plates from his "Little Passion," and original woodcuts by him are of importance. The masterpiece of Lucas Van Leyden, the "Ecce Homo," as well as his "Crucifixion," are excellent examples. Sebald Beham's "Pacientia," of which a fac-simile will be found at the commencement of the "Print Division," Wolgemuth's "Knight in Armor" and a number of Incunabulic wood engravings should all be carefully inspected by amateurs.

Bega, Berghem, Claude Lorraine, Dietrich, Dujardin, Hollar, Rembrandt, Van Dyck and Waterloo are among the Old Masters represented by original etchings from their burins.

It is safe to say that, with the exception of one notable sale, there has never been congregated together at auction in the United States so remarkable and valuable a collection of engravings as those described in the "PENE DU BOIS CATALOGUE," and by the aid of one of the best experts on prints in America, and whose decision on mooted questions is generally regarded as authoritative.

It is impossible to particularize in this Proem on the merits and beauties of all these brilliant prints. I shall content myself with indicating the more important specimens. These are:—

Raphael Morghen's "Transfiguration" and "Madonna" after Raffaello Sanzio; "Apollo and the Muses" after Mengs, and the "Repose in Egypt" after Poussin; Mandel's "Madonna della Sedia," after Raffaello, a grand open letter proof; Richomme's "Triumph of Galatea" after Raffaello and "Thetis" after Gerard; H. C. Muller's "Psyche" after Prudhon; Laugier's "Sappho" after Gros, a proof before letters on India paper; Massard's "Atala" after Girodet; Nanteuil's "Louis Quatorze" and "Pierre de Coislin," portraits by St. Aubin; Strange's "Venus" after Guido and his "Venus and Adonis"; Anderloni's "Holy Family"; Audran's "Portrait of Colbert"; several worthy of more attention by Bartolozzi, Beauvarlet and De Launay, among which, by the last named, is the erotic "Too Inquisitive Wife" and "I Will Pass;" Bervic's "Education of Achilles" and "Louis Seize," the last an impression before the plate was broken; "St. John" and "St. Sophia," both proofs before letters by Bettelini; Bouillard's "Daphne and Apollo," open letter proof; Calamatta's "Portrait of Dante," proof before letters; "Mlle. Clairon as Medea" by Laurent Cars and Beauvarlet; Drevet's "Louis Quatorze," "Boileau," etc.; Edelinck's masterpiece "Philip de Champagne," also his "Duc de Berry" and "Duc d'Anjou"; Ficquet's "La Fontaine"; Forster's "La Vierge à la Legende" after Raffaello, the engraver's tenth proof, and an open letter proof of his "Three Graces"; Francois's "Birth of Venus," after Cabanel; remarque proof of Hollier's "Portrait of Napoleon" after David; Jacquemart's "Moses," after Michael Angelo, proof on parchment; Le Bas's "Daphnis and Chloe," after Boucher; Longhi's "Bonaparte"; Ryland's "Triumph of Venus," after Angelica Kauffmann and his "Jupiter and Leda"; Schuppen's "Portrait of Louis the Dauphin"; proof of Scriven's Portrait of "Nell Gwynne"; Vidal's "Confidential Soubrette," and "the Toilette Merchant" after Laurens; Aristide Louis's "Portrait of Napoleon" known as the "snuff-box," after Delaroche, a trial proof; Wille's "Little Physician" after Netscher, his "Jean Baptiste Masse" and other portraits; and Lalauze's "Entry of Charles the Fifth into Antwerp" after Hans Makart, a subscriber's proof on Japan paper.

Modern Etching, which has had such great popularity of late years, is most admirably exemplified in original impressions by:—

"Appian; Bastien-Lepage; Bocourt, an artist's proof signed of his "Reply of Mirabeau"; Bracquemond; Brunet-Debaines; Casanova; Champollion; Corot; Courty; Coutil; Daubigny; Delacroix; Denon; Detaille, a remarque proof; Feyen-Perrin; Flameng; Fortuny; Birket Foster; Gaillard; Gaucherel; Gautier; Girodet; Gravier, his "Lady Teazle," "Rosalind" and "Faithful," all remarque proofs; Guerard; Seymour-Haden, his "Cowdray," "Egham Lock," first state, "Old Chelsea," "Brig at Anchor," and "Twickenham"; Hedouin; Charles Jacque; Jacquemart; Angelica Kauffmann; Lalauze; Lansyer; David Law; Le Gros; L'Hullier; Leloir; Louis; Meryon; Marshall; Millet; C. O. Murray; Waltner; Whistler, his "Boats at Mooring," "Chelsea," etc., and last, but not least, Meissonier, of whose own etched work there is his "Rapport," a proof, and "Punchinello."

The American school of etching, acknowledged by European connoisseurs to be one of the best in the world, is proved to be so by examples of Coleman, Ferris, Swain-Gifford, Hamilton, William Hart, Hopkins, and Peter Moran. These are "de luxe," being on either Satin, or India and Japan papers.

In this Collection of Prints but few of the greater ancient and modern painters are unrepresented by engraved or etched work after their master's pieces. The graver has done honor and paid tribute to the brush of—Boucher, Meissonier, Fortuny, Dupré, Fragonard, Gérôme, Millet, Murillo, Guido, Huet, Le Brun, Greuze, Claude, Cabanel, Benjamin Constant, Ary Scheffer, Ostade, Raffaello Sanzio, Turner, Chaplin, Gavarni, Tissot, David, Hals, Makart, Morris, Troyon, Correggio, Eisen, Domenichino, Veronese, Bonnat, Titian, Mengs, Barbarelli, Delaroche, Laurens, Netscher and Du Bois.

The Tenth Division, and last, consists of some forty numbers of "CURIOS AND LIBRARY FURNITURE."

There are a few ceramic specimens, such as a Royal Dresden plaque painted after Wouvermann, for King Augustus the First, of Poland, at the beginning of the eighteenth century—and pieces of Sèvres porcelain, which belonged to the Emperor Napoleon the Third, and came from the palaces of St. Cloud and the Tuileries.

Some objects in bronze and other metals are in the section, viz. :—statuettes of John Gutenberg, Napoleon the First and Frederick the Great; a clock and pendants belonging to the DE PENE family, and which Theophile Gautier described in his "Capitaine Fracasse"; an ancient bronze relievo, the "Blind Beggars"; also another—"Satyrs Tying with a Nymph"; and a medieval guild insignia, a massive iron key two feet high, carried in procession by a "moyen-age" trades-union of locksmiths at Nuremberg, four hundred years ago.

A Hindoo and phallic carved ivory; a seventeenth century Venetian ivory wedding casket; and a cameo portrait of the Great Napoleon, sculptured from a piece of his monolith in the "Invalides," at Paris, by the designer of the sarcophagus of the "Little Corporal," will all be found in this department, as well as two remarkable specimens of ancient, transparent, painted glass, one of early English origin, made of pot-metal glass, and the other attributed to the brush of Albert Durer, and so described in the San Donato Palace Catalogue, and which was purchased at the auction sale of the Art Collection of Prince Demidoff.

The mode of distribution among other collectors was decided by MR. PENE DU BOIS in favor of the only rational method by which a connoisseur, who desires to sell his treasures, can do so in the easiest and most profitable manner. He sent them to auction. He sent them, like a sensible man, to GEORGE A. LEAVITT AND CO., the oldest and best auction house in America; one which was founded over half a century ago, and has gone through various mutations of firm name from the time when it had two separate heads, who united. These were the celebrated book-auctioneer KEESE and the late SENATOR JAMES E. COOLEY, the father-in-law of MR. GEORGE A. LEAVITT, who came from an old family of New York booksellers and publishers.

It is the same old reliable house of business it ever was, and it may not be out of place here to give a list of a few of the names and figures of some of the Art Sales of Paintings, Statuary, etc., which aggregated over $10,000 each, conducted by GEORGE A. LEAVITT AND CO., between January, 1873, and May, 1887:

J. H. Sherwood, $127,069 for two sales in 1873 and 1880; John Wolfe, $117,715; S. P. Avery, $113,508.50 for four sales in 1876, 1878, 1880 and 1881; Thomas Reid, $105,744 for two sales in 1881 and 1885; J. Abner Harper, $105,490; Milton S. Lathom, $101,205; Adolf Kohn, $93,242.50 for four sales in 1874, 1877, 1882 and 1883; H. T. Chapman, Jr., $87,259.50 for two sales in 1873 and 1875; H. L. Dousman, $82,655; Albert Spencer, $82,530; J. Stricker Jenkins, $74,833.04 for two sales in 1876 and 1879; S. A. Coale, Jr., $71,477; J. C. Runkle, $66,195; R. E. Moore, $54,298.70 for five sales in 1874, 1875, 1876, 1877 and 1878; Knoedler & Co., $51,344 for two sales in 1879 and 1880; Levi P. Morton and Robert Hoe, $50,687.50; Beriah Wall, $47,570; John Pondir, $46,208; Benj. Nathan Estate, $39,117; Le Grand Lockwood, $34,261.29; William Henry Hurlburt, $31,955.85; Judge C. H. Truax, $31,750; "A Well-known Philadelphia Connoisseur," $30,942.50; George H. Andrews, $30,601; Cottier & Co., $30,580; J. P. Beaumont, $30,417.50; A. D. Morgan, $29,148.50; William Libbey, $27,550; B. F. Carver, $26,393; W. B. Duncan Estate, $24,347.15; A. D. Huyvetter, $22,668; Stephen Harris, $21,970; Stewart Brown, $20,330; R. H. Witthaus, $19,244.65; Thomas Walsh, $17,430; G. H. Kensett, $17,165.41; R. B. Livermore, $17,060; J. L. Graham, $17,008.34; A. L. Vouras, $16,765.55; Hannah Stiner, $16,752.50; M. G. Murphy, $16,492.83; J. F. Henry, $16,330; P. L. Everard & Co., $15,857.50; Isaac Walker, $15,656; Richard R. Haines, $15,571.47; S. H. Godkin, $14,320.50; Thomas Gilbert, $14,204; Carlton Gates Estate, $13,942.90; Eugene Weeks, $13,833.50; Artists' Fund Society, $13,707.49; Davis Jones Estate, $13,375; W. Mantón, $13,126; T. P. Rossiter Estate, $12,922.39; W. R. Williams, $12,694; Benj. Fitch, $12,097.50; Mary E. Feyh, $11,753.17; T. J. Taylor, $11,471; W. S. Macy, $11,258; W. J. Kerr, $11,237; S. Michelena, $10,902; George Longman, $10,685.55; J. H. Dolph, $10,620.69; Louis J. Jordan, $10,375.49; Susan Paulmier, $10,335.45; W. P. Shaw, $10,331.47; Eugene Boban, $10,325.88; John La Farge, $10,000.

Sales of Paintings, etc., running up into thousands of dollars each have also been conducted by the LEAVITTS. I extract from a schedule of only notable sales, which foots up to over three millions of dollars, such names as:—J. R. Brevoort, Joseph Mozier, James Boylan, J. O. Eaton, P. Viani, William Powell, Jr., L. Prang & Co., Francis Tomes, J. C. Brevoort, Prof. Bossi, R. E. Moore, L. H. Tasker, W. D. Paterson, D. E. Van Valkenberg, C. A. Falk, J. N. Balestier, J. M. Crapo, C. L. Frost, J. Milbank, J. McCormick, J. M. Patterson, S. B. Wright, Louis Durr, Governor Caleb Lyon and B. Homer Dixon.

Millions upon millions of dollars worth of books have been sold on behalf of the publishers of this country at the "LEAVITT BOOK TRADE SALES" and in accordance with the system originated by SENATOR COOLEY about 1825, and continued for over sixty years since by himself and his successors down to the auction house now represented by MR. EUGENE O'CONNOR, who preserves the old trade name of the business inherited by his predecessor, MR. GEORGE A. LEAVITT.

And this firm of GEORGE A. LEAVITT AND Co. have charge of the "PENE DU BOIS COLLECTION."

Of the same character of Library Auction Sales as that to take place next month have been the few following out of over a thousand others, which have been held under the LEAVITT ægis since 1876:—

The Brinley Library, $112,494.27, parts one to four, inclusive, with the fifth part still to be sold; Joseph J. Cooke, $69,904.73; Henry C.

Murphy, $50,278.63; William Menzies, $49,860.68; Rushton M. Dorman, $24,310.00; Charles Tracy, $19,138.01; Charles Fiske Harris, $16,610.65; J. H. V. Arnold, $16,421.38; Eben Tasker, $14,677.56; Alexander Farnum, $14,423.75; General Rush C. Hawkins, $13,163.08; Dr. David King, $12,484.01; Almon W. Griswold, $12,325.13; S. H. Remsen, $9,059.14; Bartholomew Skaats, $8,114.42; W. C. Prescott, $7,991.79; Harrison Library, $7,667.84; Charles O'Connor, $7,481.63; S. F. Olney, $6,950.98; Senator Matt. H. Carpenter, $6,864.69; Governor William Beach Lawrence, $6,772.39; Charles Storrs, $5,942.84; Senator H. B. Anthony, $4,929.17; and James L. Claghorn, $4,763.82.

The above named twenty-four Library Sales make up by themselves a total of $502,620.59!

I would not have entered upon these details in this place, but for the fact that the well-known bibliophile, Mr. E. F. Bonaventure, has lately printed a brief essay on "Books and Book Collecting." No one is more willing than myself to acknowledge that he has done as much, if not more, good than any one of his business rivals, in the spread of the knowledge and recognition of what are good bindings, what authors should be collected, and what editions should be chosen for the shelves of the collector, but, I am not willing to endorse his advice to book amateurs in respect to the where, when and how they should only buy. It may be all very well for him to personally object to book auction sales, but he has no right to try and dissuade connoisseurs from purchasing at them.

How is the library of a living collector, or the estate of a dead one to be realized to its uttermost value unless by the book auction? It might suit Mr. Bonaventure, the bookdealer, and his confrères to buy libraries "en bloc" for the minimum amount possible, but it would be manifestly impossible for him to give as much with a due regard to the modest profits of his business as could be obtained in the open competition of every book collector and bookdealer in the United States, on every lot, by itself, at a library auction sale. There may be occasional bargains, and there may be prices paid far more than what some booksellers might charge, but, after all, the book auction is the crucial test of normal market book values. Since reference has been made to Mr. Bonaventure, I will now finish with him, by quoting from him:—

"The cost of rare books, at sales, is invariably much higher than the same works would command at stores. The demand in all cases where real rarities are involved is always so great as to put an excessive premium on the object of competition."

If American book auction sales depended upon dealers alone, Heaven help literary property. In London and Paris the book auctioneer is the best friend of the bookseller, and he is always regarded as such. It is about the only mart now-a-days where purchases can be made for the shelves of the bookdealer, and it is a well-known fact that at a recent sale in London, one bibliopolist's bill amounted to over a million of dollars, and for which he was given credit.

I am confident with such societies in our midst as the Grolier Club, which is doing good missionary work, and with magazines devoted to the exploitation of old books, that the collecting of private libraries will be more popular than ever, and with the corresponding increase in the number of amateurs will also come greater knowledge of prices, not only among book-dealers, but among bookbuyers. The last named, it has been my experience to discover, know the commercial as well as the literary value of books better than the majority of American booksellers. In fact, most bookdealers have learned more from their customers, than they have from their books of reference. "Experientia docet."

* * *

The "PENE DU BOIS COLLECTION," from which I have wandered very considerably, is, however, the real matter with which we have to do. It can be safely asserted that no such Collection of Fine Bindings, Good Editions, Modern Standard Works of Real Merit, Ancient Book Nuggets, Beautiful Manuscripts and Rare Prints have been sold in New York for many years back. In purchasing from this Collection, connoisseurs and dealers will have the benefit of the ripe experience of a master, who has proved his being a true Bibliognoste in cold type, as well as by his bookshelves. The dispersion of such a Library and such Prints is a positive public benefit. It gives an opportunity for the exhibition of treasures of literature and art. It spreads the knowledge which is requisite for both the bibliophile and the bibliopole who, in purchasing from the "PENE DU BOIS COLLECTION," will do so in the interests of wisdom and culture.

The truest friends a man can have are his books. They are not only useful but ornamental, not only exhilarating but thoughtful and restful. Quaint old Thomas Fuller pointed out their real value when he wrote in the old long ago:

"To divert at any time a troublesome fancy, run to thy books; they presently fix thee to them and drive the other out of thy thoughts, they always receive thee with the same kindness."

CHARLES SOTHERAN.

The Catalogue OF THE Pene Du Bois Collection.

The sizes of books in this catalogue are defined relatively to signatures and according to the following page, height and inch measurements :

LARGE FOLIO, over 18 inches ; FOLIO, below 18 and over 13 ; SMALL FOLIO, below 13 and over 11.

LARGE QUARTO, below 15 and over 11 ; QUARTO, below 11 and over 8 ; SMALL QUARTO, below 8 and over 6.

LARGE OCTAVO, below 11 and over 9 ; OCTAVO, below 9 and over 8 ; SMALL OCTAVO and TWELVEMO, below 8 and over 6. MINIMO, below 6 inches.

These eleven designations preserve the important part of the nomenclature formerly used, and do away with the old technical paper prefixes, such as "Royal," "Foolscap," "Crown," etc., as well as the confusing smaller sizes of the past. These represented in all, both big and little, some two hundred possible book sizes, ranging from an "Antiquarian Folio," to a "Pot 128mo."

As the old specific definitions are now gradually becoming almost obsolete, this new schedule was formulated. It was wisely recognized that the present time is inopportune for the measurement of books by the metric system.

N. Y., 1883

EDITION-DE-LUXE, LIMITED TO 203 IMPRESSIONS, each numbered and signed by the editor S. R. Koehler, of which this is No. 166. This is a series of twenty original etchings, of greater merit and artistic excellence than has ever before been offered in book form. The work is a purely original one in conception and execution. It is truly representative not only of American art, but of the individual excellence of each of the twenty artists who have contributed to its pages. The following is a list of subjects and etchers:—

Winter Evening,	HENRY FARRER.
His Own Doctor,	T. W. WOOD, V.P.N.A.
The Inner Harbor, Gloucester,	STEPHEN PARRISH.
A Tower of Cortes,	THOMAS MORAN, A.N.A.
The Ponte Vecchio,	JOSEPH PENNELL.
The Lion in Love,	F. S. CHURCH, A.N.A.
An Old New England Orchard,	GEORGE H. SMILLIE, N.A.
"'Tween the Gloamin' and the Mirk, When the Kye Come Hame,"	MRS. M. NIMMO MORAN.
The Three Cows,	J. FOXCROFT COLE.
Canal Boats on the Thames,	CHAS. A. PLATT.
"And Drive Dull Care Away,"	I. M. GAUGENGIGL.
The Deserted Mill,	KRUSEMAN VAN ELTEN, N.A.
Harvest at San Juan, New Mexico,	PETER MORAN.
A Cloudy Day in Venice,	SAMUEL COLMAN, N.A.
The Mora Players,	FREDERICK DIELMAN, N.A.
The Mouth of the Apponigansett,	R. SWAIN GIFFORD, N.A.
Fishing Boats on the Beach at Scheveningen,	M. F. H. DE HAAS, N.A.
At Marblehead Neck,	JAS. D. SMILLIE, N.A.
The Smugglers' Landing-Place,	J. C. NICOLL, A.N.A.
Twilight,	J. A. S. MONKS.

"The great variety of these subjects by twenty representative American etchers will be noticeable at a glance. Europe and America have both furnished themes, and the time-honored glories of Florence and Venice are found side by side with the almost tropical splendor of Mexico and the simpler, but not less poetical, scenery of the coast of New England, while the Indian and the negro stand upon the same basis, as regards their artistic usefulness, with the cavalier of the seventeenth century. Nor is the ideal note wanting, although the prevailing key is decidedly realistic."—Introduction.

OUT OF PRINT AND SCARCE. NO. 7 OF LIMITED EDITION, ON VERY HEAVY FRENCH VELLUM PAPER.

This volume, representing the best art work of the "Société des Aquarellistes," or French Society of Water Colorists, is printed on magnificent vellum paper from the mills of Marais. The work of each artist in the volume or étude is composed of five subjects in color both in text and separate plate. There are twenty-four in all of these études or studies. They each form a delightful series of illustrations, and include a frontispiece, vignettes and plates independent of the text. A number of pen-designs, studies and crayon sketches profusely illustrate the text, which is thus collaborated by the artist whose water-colors are given.

The artists represented and described in this magnificent work are—Louis Leloir, Edouard Detaille, Gustave Doré, Ernest Duez, F. Louis Français, Maurice Leloir, Ferdinand Heilbuth, Mme. Madelaine Lemaire, A. de Neuville, Georges Vibert, Eugène Lami, Roger Jourdain, L. Eugène Lambert, Jules Worms, Julien Le Blant, Jules Jacquemart, Charles Delort, James Tissot, Henri Harpignies, Edouard de Beaumont, Baronne Nathaniel de Rothschild, Henri Baron, Eugene Isabey and Gustave Jacquet.

- 11 ART AGE (The), a Monthly Illustrated Newspaper, from the Commencement, April, 1883, to March, 1886, inclusive (Part 15, October, 1884, lacking); also—Art Journal, L'Art Moderne and Art Amateur. Together 40 parts. Square folio, in cloth portfolio. N. Y., etc., 1877–87

GRAND WORK ON ANCIENT ART, WITH ETCHINGS.

- 12 ART ANCIEN à l'Exposition de 1878 par MM. ED. DE BEAUMONT, TH. BIAIS, EDMOND BONNAFFÉ, FREDERIC DARCEL, HENRI DARCEL, DURANTY, H. EPHRUSSI, BENJAMIN FILLON, P. GASNAULT, HENRI LAVOIX, PAUL MANTZ, EUG. PIOT, A. R. DE LIESVILLE, O. RAYET, ARTHUR RHONE, et MME. GERMAINE DE POLIGNY, sous la Direction de M. LOUIS GONSE, Redacteur en chef de la "Gazette des Beaux-Arts." Profusely illustrated with etchings and other illustrations—some on INDIA PAPER. Thick large 4to, sewed, uncut. Paris, A. Quantin, 1879

Among the etchers whose work will be found in the above are—Jacquemart, Gaillard, Le Rat, Gaujean, Gaucherel, Dujardin, Champollion, Gilbert, etc.

"L'ART"—THE SPLENDIDLY PRINTED AND ILLUSTRATED FRENCH MAGAZINE.

- 13 ART.—L'ART, REVUE HEBDOMADAIRE ILLUSTRÉE, for the years 1879-80 inclusive [each year in 4 vols.]. Together 8 vols. With numerous full-page etchings, wood engravings, etc., after or by the best modern masters. Folio, half red morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut.

Paris, 1879-80

THICK PAPER EDITION. This magnificent art work has no rival in its peculiar excellencies. The best etchers and artists of Europe have been united to make this splendid magazine, with its charming typography, the superior of either the "Portfolio" or the "Art Journal."

"There has, up to the present time, been no such spirited venture as the art journal established in Paris at the beginning of the present year (1875), under the laconic name of 'L'Art.' It has defects, but it has the great merit of being full of life and energy. The wonder is how a journal on such an important scale can find the degree of public support which must be necessary to its existence. The proprietors of 'L'Art' do not rest satisfied with an appeal to their own fellow-citizens or even fellow-countrymen; they have agents all the world over, even at such places as Bucharest and Constantinople. The proprietors of 'L'Art' evidently intend to give it as cosmopolitan a character as they possibly can. The list of writers includes men of three or four different nations, and the subjects treated comprise everything of artistic interest in the world. It is evident that the proprietors of 'L'Art' are doing their best to improve it. . . . The publication is always lively and interesting, though not governed by much severity of taste. It is full of what the French call actualité. The proprietors seem determined to spare no effort, and we cordially wish them success."—PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON.

- 14 ART.—L'ART, REVUE HEBDOMADAIRE ILLUSTRÉE, for the years 1881-83 inclusive [each year in 4 vols.]. Together 12 vols. Folio, red cloth, top edges gilt.

Paris, 1881-83

MAGNIFICENT WORK ON ALL THE ARTS.

CIAPPORI—Introduction Générale et Texte Explicatif par CH. LOUANDRE. Illustrated with several hundred beautiful plates in RICH COLORS designed by CIAPPORI. 3 vols. 4to, half red morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut.

Paris, chez l'auteur, 1852-58

VERY SCARCE. ISSUED BY SUBSCRIPTION at 400 francs unbound. This is a superb work and the handsomely executed chromolithographic plates in gold and colors embrace a multitude of subjects—armor, missal work, costume, stained glass, heraldry, painting, sculpture, jewelry, etc.—exhibiting the manners, customs, beliefs, superstitions of the peoples of Europe from the Fifth to the Seventeenth Century inclusive.

"ART TREASURES OF AMERICA"—INDIA PROOFS.

- 16 ART TREASURES OF AMERICA. Illustrated with about 160 photogravures, PROOFS ON INDIA PAPER, and several hundred engravings on wood. 10 sections folio (complete) and each in a silk-covered portfolio. Phila., 1883

LIMITED EDITION, of which this is No. 127, and is an original subscriber's copy complete. This work gives a description and a list of the contents of the principal picture galleries of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn, Chicago, Providence, St. Louis, Cincinnati, San Francisco, Louisville, Washington, Montreal, Fall River, Cleveland, Taunton, New Haven, Rochester, Pittsburgh, etc., etc.

FOUR EARLY VOLUMES OF "L'ARTISTE."

- 17 ARTISTE (L'), Nouvelle Série. Vols. 1 to 4 inclusive. Profusely illustrated with engravings, lithographs and etchings after the great old and modern masters. Large 4to, half red morocco, cloth sides (binding rubbed and a cover loose). Paris, 1857-58

The admirable art magazine, "L'Artiste," contains most excellent prints by Veyrassat, Masson, Gavarni, Metzmacher, Bracquemond, C. Nanteuil, etc. Some are on India paper and the descriptive text is by the best art critics of France.

THE FRENCH EDITION OF THE KERAMIC ART OF JAPAN.

- 18 AUDSLEY (G. A.) ET BOWES (J. L.). La Céramique Japonaise. Containing 32 full-page plates (17 of which are in gold and colors) and descriptive text, with numerous wood engravings printed in colors; produced from original Japanese works of the greatest beauty, representing the entire range of Japanese Ceramic Art, ancient and modern. Large 8vo, illuminated cloth, beveled sides, gilt top edge, others uncut. Paris, Firmin Didot, 1881

This is the French edition of the splendid work on "Japanese Ceramics" of Audsley and Bowes. The plates are exactly the same as those published in the London edition of Henry Sotheman. The translation was made by Louisy, and the work was printed under the direction of Racinet.

"The glory of this book is the chromolithography; for which, indeed, some new name ought to be invented, so unlike is it to anything which has been called chromolithography before. No one who has not seen them, or others resembling them, can form any conception of the powers of Japanese artists."

- 19  AKER (W. S.). MEDALLIC PORTRAITS OF WASHINGTON. Portrait. 4to, half morocco, cloth sides, totally uncut. Phila., 1884

Beautifully printed on heavy paper. Containing all the known Washington pieces, to the extent of six hundred and fifty-one numbers, accurately described and arranged into appropriate groups, each group being preceded by historical and critical notices; the whole supplemented by a copious index, carefully prepared with a view to its use as a means of reference.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF BARTLETT AND BEATTIE'S SWITZERLAND—WITH OPEN LETTER PROOFS.

- 20 BARTLETT (W. H.). 109 illustrations to WILLIAM BEATTIE'S "SWITZERLAND."—OPEN LETTER PROOFS ON INDIA PAPER. Folio, half red morocco, cloth sides (rubbed).

London, 1836

LARGE PAPER, and brilliant impressions of these beautiful plates, with the inserted book-plate of James L. Claghorn. A few of the mounts are foxed slightly.

William Henry Bartlett was the most eminent of the pupils educated by John Britton, the architectural antiquary. He traveled extensively through America, Europe, Asia and Africa.

- 21 BARBER (Mrs. Mary). Some Drawings of Ancient Embroidery. 30 specimens on 30 large plates, executed in the first style of chromolithography. Large 4to, cloth gilt extra, gilt edges.

London and Manchester, Henry Sotheran & Co., 1880

"This most beautiful series of illustrations of fine old embroidery was the work, we believe, of many years' careful study on the part of the lady author, who prepared it as her contribution to the work of Church restoration, at the suggestion of one of our greatest and universally respected architects, Mr. Butterfield. Mrs. Barber having died before her laborious work was published, Mr. Butterfield undertook, at her request, to superintend its issue; and a superb book it is, and most instructive to all who are interested in the wide subject of Church embroidery, and the worthy production of Church vestments."—Literary Churchman.

TUER'S BEAUTIFUL WORK ON BARTOLOZZI.

- 22 BARTOLOZZI AND HIS WORKS ILLUSTRATED. Biographical, Anecdotal and Descriptive. By ANDREW W. TUER. Being an Account of the Life and Career of FRANCESCO BARTOLOZZI, R. - 36 BIDA.—LES SAINTS EVANGILES. Traduction de BOSSUET, tirée des Œuvres de BOSSUET, par M. H. WALLON, Membre de l'Institut. Magnificent plates, wood engravings, etc. 2 vols. square large folio, superbly bound by DAVID and in fresh red crushed levant morocco, extra gilt, rounded corners, inside gold borders, edges gilt on marble, and in drop leather lined cases. Paris, 1873

LARGE PAPER PROOFS BEFORE ALL LETTERS. No. 69 of limited edition.

These splendid volumes can be counted among the grandest works ever issued by the French press. The plates were designed by Bida, and engraved under the direction of Ed. Hédouin by Henriette Browne, Bida, Bodmer, Bracquemond, Chaplin, Deblois, Flameng, Gaucherel, Gilbert, Girardet, Haussoulier, Hédouin, Massard, Mouilleron, Nanteuil and Veyrassat. The ornaments in the text—titles, chapter heads, initial letters, head and tail pieces—were designed by Ch. Rossignaux and engraved on steel by Gaucherel. The "caractères typographiques" were specially engraved by F. Viel-Castel after the designs of Ch. Rossignaux. The etchings were printed by Salmon and the text with red borders and occasional rubrications by Claye. The paper was specially manufactured for the work by C. and J. Honig-Breet at Zaandyle, Holland.

Alexander Bida, the celebrated French artist, according to Clement and Hut-ton's "Artists of the Nineteenth Century," was—"born at Toulouse, 1813. Officer of the Legion of Honor and the Order of Leopold. Pupil of Delacroix. Water-color artist and designer. Has visited the East. The following pencil-drawings are at the Luxembourg: 'Refectory of Greek Monks' (1857); 'Evening Call in the Crimea' (1857); 'The Field of Boaz, Bethlehem' (1861); 'Massacre of Mamelukes' (1861); and 'Prayer in a Mosque.' Bida has sometimes painted portraits. His exquisite designs for the Gospels are well known by their exhibition in 1867 and at other times since then. This artist has made many designs for 'Le Tour du Monde.' At the Walters Gallery, Baltimore, are three pictures by Bida,—'The Prayer upon the House-Top,' 'Moses on a Mountain, resting on a Rock,' and a representation of the custom in some Eastern country where annually the people prostrate themselves for a horse and rider to pass over their bodies. This artist represents with wonderful power the life and scenery of Oriental countries, and his scriptural scenes are not surpassed in force and directness by any other painters of like motives."

P. G. Hamerton, writing in "Etching and Etchers" of utility in etching as a mode of illustrating fine books, says:—"The most noteworthy instance of this is its employment by M. Hachette for his unprecedented edition of the 'Four Gospels,' illustrated by Bida with one hundred and twenty-eight pictorial compositions, which were etched by Bida himself, and fifteen other etchers. The enormous sum of money lavished on the production of this work would never have been risked twenty years ago on an enterprise which depended upon etching for its success. At that time a publisher determined to invest fifty thousand pounds in a monumental enterprise would have selected line engraving as a matter of course, and the intensity of the general prejudice against etching, both in the trade and out of it, would have prevented him from even taking it into consideration as an admissible kind of art. Times are changed, however. The fame and splendor of this great publication, of which a hundred and forty proof copies on Dutch paper were sold at £85 apiece, whilst £25 was the price of an ordinary one, ought not entirely to eclipse many minor publications, which have been illustrated with a few plates."

- 37 BIDA.—L'HISTOIRE DE JOSEPH traduite de la Sainte Bible par LEMAISTRE DE SACY. With beautifully executed plates after the magnificent designs of BIDA, also other illustrations in the text and every page surrounded by red-line borders. Square large folio (loose). Paris, Hachette, 1878 Splendid edition, on vellum paper.

- 38 BIGOT (Charles). RAPHAEL and the Villa Farnesina. Translated from the French by MARY HEALEY. With 15 engravings of RAPHAEL'S masterpieces by TIBURCE DE MARE. 4to, fresh paper, uncut. London, 1884

This edition was limited to 150 copies, all numbered and signed, of which the above is No. 4.

| Parisiis, | apud Viduam Mamerti Patissonii
typographi Regij. | In officina Roberti
Stephani. | M.DCIII. | [1604]

MAGNIFICENTLY BOUND COPY OF PRESIDENT DE THOU'S "History of his Own Time," and belonging to KING HENRY THE FOURTH of France and Navarre, to whom it is dedicated.

The reliure is doubtless that of Clovis Eve. It is of vellum and each of the four corners of both sides has the royal crown and the letter "H," below which is "IIII." The back has no bands and is alternately tooled with a royal crown above the letter "H," and a regal crown above a "fleur-de-lys." On each side is stamped in gold an heraldic achievement, five and a half inches tall—at the top of which is a large royal crown from which proceed in circular shape a collar of "SS," and the collar of the "Saint Esprit," and depending therefrom the Cross with dove in the centre, or badge of the order. The middle is taken up with three distant cognizances, each surmounted with a regal crown—a shield charged with the royal lilies of France to the dexter—a shield bearing the arms of Navarre "de geules, à une chaîne d'or (na vara), posée selon toutes les partitions c'est-à-dire en double arle, en Sautoir, et en écartele," to the sinister—and below two sprays of laurel, in the centre of which is the letter "H."

The relationship of Henry the Fourth, the owner of this volume; De Thou, the author of it, by whom it was presented to the King; and Clovis Eve, the reliureur who probably bound it, is told in the following extracts from Cundall's "Book-bindings Ancient and Modern," pp. 67-68 and 72-73:—

"The most celebrated amateur and patron of bookbinding, at the end of the sixteenth century, was Jacques Auguste De Thou (better known to bibliographers by his Latinized name, Thuanus). He was President of the Parliament of Paris under Henry IV. and distinguished as a great historian. He was also an intimate friend of Grolier. It was his son who, was executed by Richelieu with Cinq Mars at Lyons in 1642. Père Jacob in his 'Traité des plus belles Bibliothèques,' speaks of the large number of books possessed by the President, all of which are bound in morocco or gilded calf skin, which is another extravagance in this Parnassus of the Muses.

"In a letter to M. Pauline, Paris, M. Jerome Pichon gives precise details as to the bindings of these books. From him we learn how many kinds of bindings Auguste de Thou had adopted; red, green and lemon morocco—the last more especially for books relating to the exact sciences—fawn-colored calf with gold lines—a solid and rich style of binding afterwards adopted by the President de Longueil, and also by Du Fay—and lastly WHITE VELLUM. In this last class of bindings De Thou imitated the style of the Elzevirs, with the difference that he had his arms stamped upon them, and had them embellished with gold lines in spite of the difficulty of work upon vellum. The edges of these books were gilt. . . . .

"In 1593, in the reign of Henry IV., De Thou was appointed keeper of the Royal Library in place of D'Amyot. He then employed Clovis Eve, whose shop was at Mont St. Hilaire, close to the Royal Library, to bind the King's books, and in all probability availed himself of his services for his own library. This Clovis Eve was both a bookseller and a bookbinder, which, as we have already seen, was a necessary combination. 'Some even,' as we read in the Guide des Corps Marchands, in the chapter upon bookbinders and gilders, 'some even possessed a printing-office.' These were the privileged few, who in Paris possessed the same right of uniting all the industries of a book as Aldus did in Venice. Those who confined themselves solely to the industry of bookbinding were usually in the employ of some rich amateur, and formed part of his household, like those employed, by Grolier. We know that Malherbe, by the recommendation of his bookbinder, Provence, sent a youth to Pieresc, who was a great lover of well-bound books. Clovis Eve is little known as a bookseller, probably because the exigencies of his duty as the King's bookbinder occupied him completely. In 1605 he was still in office, but five years later his son Nicholas had succeeded him. He, in his turn was succeeded by his son Clovis, who was King's bookbinder up to 1631. We also hear of Louis Le Duc as binder to Henry IV. in 1598.

"The Eves were almost the only binders who succeeded in making two sides of a book and its back the three parts of one congruous whole. The backs are WITHOUT BANDS and the square lettering is in pleasing contrast to the flowing beauty of the ornament. To Clovis Eve are probably due the beautiful volumes in green morocco, with the fleur-de-luce bearing the royal arms of Louis XIII. Many of them, following the fashion of using Greek letters, have a lambda 'Λ' at each corner; on those bound for Henry IV. occurs sometimes the letter

H, with or without the number IIII. following it. A few had the inscription 'Henrici IIII., patris patriæ virtutum restitutoris.'"

This volume is noticeable outside of its binding and historical associations as a magnificent example of typography. It is in splendid condition, with margins between three and four inches in width, and is a grand specimen of one of the best Parisian presses, it having been printed by a member of the Stephanus or Estienne family. From Bigmore and Wyman's "Bibliography of Printing" we learn that Henry Estienne, the first printer of that name, was a man of noble birth, but little is known of his early history. He alienated himself from his family and abandoned his title, preferring to win distinction in promoting the then comparatively new Art of Printing, and thus throwing open the sources of learning to students generally. He had three sons—Francis, Robert and Charles—all printers of distinction. The youngest son, a printer of Paris, was even a finer scholar than his brothers. During his youth he traveled much throughout Europe, increasing the vast stores of his learning upon scientific and artistic subjects. On his return to Paris he became a physician. About the time (1550) his brother Robert fled to Geneva, Charles, impelled by his inherited tastes, abandoned the profession he was adorning, and established himself as a printer. He produced a very large number of books, which appeared with extraordinary rapidity. His great merit won him the title of "King's Printer," which was never granted to Henry. He remained "Rex typographus" from 1551 to 1561. He also wrote a number of works upon scientific subjects, and others on grammar and criticism. He died in affluent circumstances. For nearly two hundred years some member of his family was carrying on the art typographic in France and Switzerland with the greatest distinction. The above was executed by Robert Estienne, one of the most celebrated of the Parisian typographers.

The dedication reads—"Christianissimo Franc. et Navar. Regi Henrico IIII." and the above, as stated, was the presentation copy of its famous bibliophilic author to the Monarch who Macaulay has made the hero of his "Battle of Ivry"—

"Oh! was there ever such a knight, in friendship or in war,

As our sovereign lord, King Henry, the soldier of Navarre."

After various mutations it came into the possession of John, Baron Carteret of Hawnes—whose heraldic book-plate adorns one of its end papers—and thence to New York, where it now shines as one of the brightest gems of the Pene du Bois Collection.

KING LOUIS THE THIRTEENTH'S COPY OF THE "PRINCIPAL POINTS OF THE FAITH," AND PRESENTATION COPY OF THE AUTHOR, CARDINAL RICHELIEU.

- 42 Binding.—RICHELIEU. LES PRINCIPAVX POINCTS DE LA FOY CATHOLIQUE DEFENDVS CONTRE LESCRIT ADRESSÉ AV ROY PAR LES MINISTRES DE CHARENTON PAR MONSIEGNEVR L'EMINENTISSIME CARDINAL DVC DE RICHELIEV. Fine engraved title by MELLAN, fine heraldic head-pieces, engraved initials, etc. Large 4to, handsomely bound in red morocco, extra gilt, broad gold borders, coat-of-arms on the sides, gold dentelle borders, gilt edges. Paris, de l'Imprimerie Royale du Louvre, 1642

VERY RARE and a GRAND COPY of RICHELIEU's defence of the Catholic Faith, with broad margins, and dedicated to King Louis the Thirteenth, whose copy it was, and to whom it was presented by the great Cardinal. It afterwards came into the "Bibliotheca Lamoniana" and still later into that of "John Townley, Esq." It has both the book-plates of those collections. On page three, it is stamped with the royal library mark, and on the back and title is the shelf number, "D 49."

The volume is a regal example of binding. The tooling on the back is "a crown above a fleur de lys," repeated several times. In the centre of the cover are the arms of Louis the Thirteenth, surrounded by the grand collars and crosses of the Orders of Saint Esprit and of Saint Louis—these are surmounted by a crown—and the whole is encircled by a wreath. The broad wide gold borders are composed principally of fleurs-de-lys.

KING LOUIS PHILIPPE'S COPY OF BAILLY.

- 43 Binding.—BAILLY (M. A.). Exposé de l'Administration Générale et Locale des Finances du Royaume Uni de la Grande Bretagne et d'Irlande. 2 vols. 8vo, red crinkled morocco extra, inside tooled borders, leather joints, gilt edges. Paris, Firmin Didot, 1837

VERY SCARCE. King Louis Philippe's copy and stamped on both the back and sides of both volumes with crown and monogram "L. P. O." The false titles are stamped with ducal coronet, monogram and—"Bibliothèque de S. A. R. Mgr. Le Duc D'Orléans."

KING LOUIS PHILIPPE—A VOLUME WITH HIS ARMS.

- 44 Binding.—BONNELLIER (Hippolyte). Guy Eder—Tome Troisième. Red morocco extra. Paris, 1830

Formerly the property of King Louis Philippe and stamped on the sides with his coat of-arms ("the lilies of France with Orleans label"), crown, the grand collars and insignias of various orders, standards, etc. Stamped on the title—"Bibliothèque du Roi, Palais Royal."

THE EMPEROR NAPOLEON THE THIRD'S COPY OF AN OPERA OF BELLINI.

- 45 Binding.—BELLINI et ROMANI. Les Capulets et Les Montaigus, Tragédie Lyrique, Paroles de FELIX ROMANI, Musique de VINCENT BELLINI. Small 8vo, green watered silk, gilt inside dentelle borders, edges gilt. Paris, 1849

This volume, the libretto of Bellini's opera based upon "Romeo and Juliet," came from the Library of the Emperor Napoleon the Third. It is bound in green watered silk, and is profusely gilt. The borders are principally composed of pansies. On the front cover is an imperial crown above the letter "N," and the back is decorated with the Napoleonic crown and eagle.

MADAME DE POMPADOUR'S COPY OF THE "HISTORY OF CHARLES THE FIFTH," WITH HER COAT ARMOR STAMPED ON THE SIDES.

- 46 Binding.—VERA et FIGUEROA (Don Jean Antoine de, Comte de la Rocca, etc.). Histoire de l'EMPEREUR CHARLES V., traduite d'Espagnol en François par le SIEUR DU PERRON LE HAYER, etc. 1 vol. in 2. Minimo, mottled calf gilt, red edges. Brussels, Francois Foppens, 1663

RARE, evidently from the press of the Elzevirs, as their well-known cut of the buffalo's head appears over the dedication. For the purpose of making this minimo into two volumes a second title was carefully added in MS. to what is changed into Vol. 2, and the last two lines of page 159 have been also written in at the end of Vol. 1.

The coat armor of Madame de Pompadour is stamped in gold on both sides of both volumes. The bearings are "three towers, two and one," the shield is surmounted by a coronet and rests upon a mantle lined with ermine, the exterior of which is decorated with "towers." The stamp on these volumes is a variation of that reproduced in Baughart's "Les Femmes Bibliophiles," who says that the Marquise gathered a library together at great cost. After her death a catalogue was made of her books by the Parisian bookseller Jean Th. Herissant, from the cards furnished by her librarian, the Abbé de la Garde. Most of her books, like the above, were bound by Dérome le Jeune.

PRINCE DEMIDOFF'S COPY OF AN EXCESSIVELY RARE PIECE OF NAPOLEONIANA—WITH THE ARMS OF THE KING OF ROME.

- 47 Binding.—BUTTURA (Antonio). NASCENDO IL PRIMO FIGLIO A NAPOLEONE IL GRANDE ode, recata in un' Ode Francese da GIANBATTISTA CHAUSSARD. Small 8vo, red crinkled morocco gilt, stamped on the sides in gold with large heraldic achievement, gold dentelle borders, blue watered silk ends, gilt edges. [Paris], 1811

MOST RARE and limited edition, printed without place of publication or printer's name. It is the original text of Buttura, and French translation by Chaussard on opposite pages of the ode of the former on the birth of the King of Rome, son of the great Napoleon and Maria Louisa.

It is stamped on the sides with the arms of Napoleon's heir and exhibits the heraldry of Rome, France, Milan, Lombardy, Venice and Savoy. On an end paper is the stamp—"Bibliothèque de San Donato," showing it came from the Library of Prince Demidoff, a relative of the Bonapartes.

THE DUKE OF MARLBOROUGH'S COPY OF A SEVEN-TEENTH CENTURY NEW TESTAMENT.

- 48 Binding.—LE NOUVEAU TESTAMENT de Nostre Seigneur JESUS CHRIST, Traduit en François, selon l'Edition Vulgate, avec les Differences du Grec. Engraved title by VAN SCHUPPEN after DE CHAMPAGNE. Small 8vo, crushed sage morocco gilt, edges gilt on marble.

Mons, Gaspard Migeot, 1667

RARE, and every page is carefully ruled with red ink. On the sides are stamped in gold a coronet, coat-of-arms and supporters. The style of the tooling on back is that of Dérome—a bunch of flowers springing from a vase being the most frequent tool used. On an end paper is a label bearing the arms of the Duke of Marlborough and below the inscription—"from the Sunderland Library, Blenheim Palace. Purchased, March, 1883, by Bernard Quaritch, 15 Piccadilly, London."

GERMAN BINDING, WITH SILVER ALTO-RELIEVO ORNAMENTS.

- 49 Binding.—ANDACHTSBUCH FÜR GEBILDETE KATHOLIKEN. Engraved front., vignette title and plates. Small 8vo, red mor., extra gilt, edges gilt, silver clasps. Bamberg, 1798

RARE. Very fine example of German binding of the last century, with large silver clasp on which are depicted fruits in alto-relievo, also large attachments to the clasp, measuring four inches by three and three-eighths and representing on one side "The Fall of Manna in the Wilderness," and on the other—"The Spies returning from the Promised Land with Grapes." Above these two subjects are the heads of cherubs.

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY GERMAN BINDING, WITH SILVER CHAIN, ETC.

- 50 Binding.—CHRISTELYK ONDERWYS en Gebeden Getrokken. Front. Small 8vo, bound in shagreen, with silver corners, two clasps, etc., gilt edges tooled. Venlo, [1775]

RARE. This curious specimen of eighteenth century binding has two clasps, which with the attachments are floriated and with birds thereon. The eight corners are similarly ornamented, also the two attachments, to which is joined a long link chain, to enable the owner to allow it to swing from the arm.

- 51 Binding.—NAKATENI (Wilhelm, R. P. S. J.). Himmlisch Palm-Gartlein. Drey und zwanzigster druck. Plates and front. Minimo, black morocco gilt, clasps, edges gilt.

Cologne, 1778

RARE. Curious eighteenth century binding with metal rims, clasps and twelve bosses on each side.

HAND-PAINTED GERMAN BINDINGS OF THE LAST CENTURY.

- 52 Binding.—REGENSBURGISCHE LIEDER. Manual mit Alten und Neuen Evangelischen Psalmen und Lobgesungen vermehret nibst einer bequemen Lieder Concordanz. Minimo, painted vellum gilt, edges gilt and paneled.
n. p., H. G. Zunkel, 1742

UNIQUE EXAMPLE of eighteenth century hand-painted binding. The body of this reliure is white vellum. On the back, painted by hand, are groups of flowers. On the foreside is represented, also painted by hand, Mary Magdalene at the foot of the cross upon which is the dying Saviour, and on the back of the cover is King David seated with the harp on his knees. The borders of both sides are stamped in gold. The edges are gilt, upon which are roses painted by hand.

- 53 Binding.—LUTKENRAM (J.). Der Vorschmack Gottlicher Gute durch Ottes Knade. Portrait of author and plate. 12mo, painted vellum, gilt edges.

Braunschweig, 1712

UNIQUE SPECIMEN of ornamental vellum binding painted by hand. The back and sides are original paintings of tulips. The borders are also painted in various colors by hand and finished by gold tooling, giving a most admirable result in illuminational effect.

ARTISTIC PAPIER MACHE AND ENGRAVED BINDING.

- 54 Binding.—SALM (Madame la Comtesse de). Poésies. Small 8vo, half morocco gilt, papier maché sides, gilt edges.
Paris, F. Didot, 1811

RARE. This very curious binding was executed by F. Levevre. The back is half red morocco gilt, with tooling of Cupid, roses, etc. The ends are green watered silk. The sides are papier maché lacquered. Before the lacquer work was put on the borders were tooled and emblematic designs were engraved thereon and gilded. That on the front side represents two Cupids—one is happily flying; the other is dejectedly seated, on a rock, beside a bush, his quiver and arrows on the ground. The artist who thus employed the burin has signed the design and in the left corner—"Callier, née Foxon." The engraving on the back-side is of a grape vine, on three of the leaves of which has been engraved the words—"J'aime jusqu'à l'ivresse," which may be translated—"I love almost to madness."

RARE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY BINDING STAMPED WITH THE ROYAL ARMS OF FRANCE.

- 55 Binding.—LOUIS XVI.—SACRE ET COURONNEMENT DE LOUIS XVI. Roi de France et de Navarre a Rheims le II. Paris, 1775

VERY RARE and with handsome binding, on the back and corners of which are fleurs-de-lys and stamped on the sides with the royal arms of France, crown, collar of the "Saint Esprit," etc.

- 56 Binding.—ALMANACH ROYALE Année Bissexile, MDCCCLXXXVIII. Thick small 8vo, fine old red crushed morocco gilt, inside gold borders, edges gilt. Paris, 1788

RARE. A good example of late eighteenth century French binding. It is tooled in the style of Dusseuil. On the sides are stamped in gold the monogram "H. D.," between the fleurons, immediately above the tower being a serpent. A sans culotte has been at work on the label at the back. He has erased the word "Royal" thereon, also on the title with ink the words—"Royal," "a sa Majeste," "Monseigneur le Duc d'Orleans" and "Roi," also the royal arms and crown on the title vignette.

- 57 Binding.—ALMANACH ROYAL Année Commune MDCCXCI. présenté a SA MAJESTÉ pour la premiere fois en 1699, par LAURENT D'HOURY, editeur. Thick small 8vo, fine old stamped red morocco extra gilt, fan-farre pattern, blue raw silk ends, gilt edges.

Paris, la veuve d'Houry, 1791

Fine eighteenth century example of stamped binding.

- 58 Binding.—ALMANACH IMPÉRIAL pour l'an M.DCCC.VI. Thick small 8vo, red crinkled morocco gilt, inside gold borders, edges gilt. Paris, Testu, 1806 SCARCE. Handsomely bound, with the Imperial eagle and grand cross of the Legion of Honor on the back, and the letter "D" between a chaplet and two branches.

- 59 Binding.—ALMANACH ROYAL pour l'an MDCCC-XVIII. Thick small 8vo, green crinkled morocco gilt, inside gold tooled borders, edges gilt. Paris, Testu, 1818

VERY SCARCE. The back is tooled with fleurs-de-lys, and on the sides are stamped the royal arms and crown of France, etc.

- 60 Binding.—NOTICE DES TABLEAUX Exposés dans la Galerie du Musée Royal. Small 8vo, red crinkled morocco gilt, inside gold borders, edges gilt. Paris, 1816

Stamped on the sides in gold, with the crown and royal arms of France, with the grand collar and cross of the Order of Saint Esprit. The tooling on the back and the dentelle borders are composed almost entirely of fleurs-de-lys.

- 61 Binding.—LECTIONES THEOLOGICÆ de Sacramento Ordinis et de SS. Trinitate. 2 vols. small 8vo, fine old red morocco gilt, edges gilt. Rouen, 1781-82

These charming examples of Dérome's reliure are dedicated to Cardinal La Rochefoucauld and have his coat armor above the dedications.

- 62 Binding.—LA CONSTITUTION FRANCAISE, décrétée par l'Assemblée Nationale Constituante, aux Années 1789, 1790 et 1791. Colored maps. Minimo, morocco gilt, edges gilt on red. Paris, 1791

A good example of the typography of "Didot jeune," in an eighteenth century red morocco reliure.

- 74 BRYAN (Michael). A BIOGRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL DICTIONARY OF PAINTERS AND ENGRAVERS, from the Revival of the Art under CIMABUE, and the alleged Discovery of Engraving by FINIGUERRA to the Present Time; with the Ciphers, Monograms and Marks used by each Engraver; and an ample list of their works. Together with two Indexes, Alphabetical and Chronological: to which is prefixed an Introduction containing a brief account of the Painters of Antiquity. Finé original impression of the portrait of BRYAN. 2 vols. extended to 14 by the insertion of nearly 800 prints—portraits of the Artists and specimens of their Works, many of which are rare and valuable, with a set of 14 extra title-pages, especially printed for this copy. Thick 4to, half russia extra, uncut.

UNIQUE AND SPLENDIDLY EXTRA-ILLUSTRATED WORK. This copy of Bryan's great book contains a collection of prints that, at this day, it would be difficult to duplicate. It comprises portraits of nearly all the most distinguished artists of the past, with engravings and etchings after their works, also original etchings by the artists themselves.

This is the only edition of Bryan that can be illustrated with any degree of perfection, it being of quarto size and the type large and clear. Well illustrated as this copy is, it can be further embellished by the addition of other engravings without rebinding, as it is interleaved with old-fashioned hand-made paper for that purpose. The following is an analysis of the portraits and subjects in the different volumes :

Vol. 1.—Portraits of Van Achen, Aikman, Albani, Albertinelli, Aldegrevier (2, one very fine and rare), Correggio (2), Allori (2), Altdorfer, M. Angelo (2), Colonna, Cerquozzi, Sofonisba Angosciola, Artois (2), Asselyn, Backer, Baglioni, Bagnacavallo, Baillu, Baker, Baldovinetti, Van Balen, etc. Specimens or subjects engraved or painted by Abati, Correggio; Appleman (a Landscape proof before letter) Cecchi, Freeman, Kilian, Rossi, Battaglia, Zentner, de Iode, Maysens, Van Asch, Bailey, Backhuysen, Hollar, Bannerman, etc.

Vol. 2.—Portraits of Barry, Bauer, Mrs. Beale and her son Charles, Beccafumi, Beham, Della Bella (2, one engraved by Hollar), Bellini, Berghem, De Bie (2), Bloemaert (2), Le Blon, Boccaccino, Bonvicino, Vander Borch, Bordoni, Boscoli, Bosschaert, Both (2), Botticelli, etc. Specimens or subjects engraved by Romney, Chambers, Mary Beale, Bega, Della Bella (2 original etchings), Beich, Van Bemmell, Rembrandt, Schiavonetti, Berghem, Vostermans, Blankhof, Bloemaert, Evedi, Betti, Richeton, Bonvicino, W. - 75 BRYAN (Michael). Dictionary of Painters and Engravers, Biographical and Critical. New Edition Revised and Enlarged, edited by ROBERT EDMUND GRAVES, B.A.; of the British Museum. Vol. I (A—K—all published). Thick large 8vo, fresh cloth, totally uncut. London, 1886

“Since the appearance of the last edition of Bryan’s ‘Dictionary of Painters and Engravers,’ which was issued in 1849, the publication of many valuable works on art and monographs on artists, some of them embodying the results of careful researches among city records, guild books and church registers, particularly in Italy and in the Netherlands, has furnished many new sources from which material has been derived for the correction and enlargement of this work. Most especially is the editor indebted to the invaluable works of Messrs. Crowe & Cavalcaselle, Burckhardt, Milanesi and Morelli on the Italian painters, of Messrs. Crowe & Cavalcaselle, Weale and Kramm on Flemish and Dutch art, and of the late Sir William Stirling-Maxwell on the artists of Spain.

“Besides the addition of a large number of names which were not included in the former edition or its supplement, new authority has been given to every one of the old entries by a careful revision, and in most instances by important changes. In several cases the notices have been supplied by contributors specially qualified for the task, such as Mr. W. B. Scott, Dr. J. P. Richter, the late Mrs. Heaton and others. These will be distinguished by the writer’s initials. It is anticipated that the new matter introduced will enlarge the work to double its former size.”—From the Preface.

DANTE GABRIEL ROSSETTI’S COPY OF HANS BURGM-MAIR.

- 76 BURGMMAIR (Hans). A collection of 52 large woodcuts by this Master; representing Scenes in the Life of the EMPEROR MAXIMILIAN. Folio, morocco extra, uncut.

Circa 1520

VERY RARE and CURIOUS. Brilliant original impressions in fine condition, from the collection of Dante Gabriel Rossetti, the poet-painter, and with his autograph on a fly-leaf. They are very curious, showing, with a fidelity obtained from but few other sources, the domestic and military habits and customs, architecture, and costumes of the middle ages, by a remarkable and eminent artist of that period. The binding of the above is rubbed somewhat.

“Hans Burgkmair was born at Augsburg in 1472, and died 1559. It has been supposed that he studied under Durer, but there is only a difference of one year in their ages, and Burgkmair's style differs materially from that of Durer; he was rather a founder of a school of his own. Several of his pictures are preserved at Augsburg, and possess considerable merit."—SPOONER.

"The work as a whole bears the stamp of Burgkmair's genius. The subjects from the youth and the education of the hero are clearly and vividly treated, and the political and domestic scenes, by which they are followed, afford us an insight into the court life of those days. Stately and dignified personages are paraded before us with all their brilliant surroundings, and there is especially one charmingly artless picture of the young king with his consort, Mary of Burgundy, seated together and engaged in sweet converse in the garden, 'each the other's speech acquiring,' as runs the pretty legend beneath. The battle scenes also, with the combats of the pikemen, display great excellence and a direct study of nature."—WOLTMANN.

- 80 CATLIN (George). Manners, Customs and Condition of the North American Indians. Vol. 2. Map and numerous plates from CATLIN's own drawings. Large 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, 1845

- 81 CATTERMOLLE.—Evenings at Haddon Hall, edited by the BARONESS DE CALABRELLA. With 24 steel plates after GEORGE CATTERMOLLE, engraved by STOCKS, GOODYEAR, C. and H. ROLLS, BENTLEY, BRANDARD, COUSEN, GRIF-

FITHS, FISHER, RADCLIFFE, ENGLEHART, HIGHAM and ALLEN (some foxed slightly). Thick large 8vo, old cloth, gilt edges. London, Henry Colburn, 1846

"There are signs in George Cattermole's works of very peculiar gifts, and perhaps also of peculiar genius. . . . The antiquarian feeling of Cattermole is pure, earnest and natural; and I think his imagination originally vigorous; certainly his fancy, his grasp of momentary passion, considerable; his sense of action in the human body, vivid and ready."—RUSKIN.

THE LIFE OF CELLINI, BOUND IN JANSEN STYLE.

82 CELLINI (Benvenuto). Vie, Ecrite par lui-même. Traduction de LEOPOLD LECLANCHE. Notes et Index de M. FRANCO. *Illustrated with 9 etchings by F. #### HOLLAND PAPER COPY OF THE "ONE HUNDRED CHEFS D'ŒUVRE."

83 CENT CHEFS-D'ŒUVRE COLLECTIONS PARISIENNES. Text by ALBERT WOLFF. 100 superb etchings, executed by the best living French etchers expressly for this work, the subjects embracing 100 of the greatest modern paintings—Text and plates all printed throughout upon FINE HOLLAND PAPER. Complete in 12 parts. Folio, satin portfolio, with silk ties. Paris, 1885

NO 142 OF EDITION LIMITED TO 675 NUMBERED COPIES. Undoubtedly the most beautiful book of modern etchings extant, any description of which must fall short of doing it justice. Every etching is by an eminent French etcher, and is done expressly for this work. It is very different from the general "book of etchings" made up of old plates.

The painters represented are Boucher, Greuze, Hals, Hobbema, Leys, Metz, Francesco Raibolini, Rembrandt, Teniers, Terburg, Vande Velde, Corot, Daubigny, Decampes, Delacroix, Diaz, Dupré, Fortuny, Fromentin, Gericault, Isabey, Marilhat, Meissonier, Millet, Rousseau, Scheffer and Troyon; the engravers by Toussaint, Gély-Bichard, Lefort, Lalauze, Boulard fils, Courty, Champollion, Greux, R. de Los Rios, Rajon, Bracquemond, Kratké, Mordant, Châuvet, and others.

84 CHAMPFLEURY (Jules Fleury Husson, dit Champfleury). Le Violon de Faïence—Nouvelle édition, avant Propos de l'Auteur. With 34 etchings by JULES ADELIN, and rubricated title. Small 4to, sewed. Paris, L. Conquet, 1885

NO. 78 OF A LIMITED EDITION OF 150 COPIES ON IMPERIAL JAPAN PAPER—and the whole work limited to 500 copies in all, of which 350 were on "papier velin du Marais."

This is a very beautiful volume, and the etchings (of which the plates were destroyed) are most delightful and brilliant. Like the text, which was printed by Lahure, they were struck off on heavy Japan paper, and by Chardon Aîné.

- 85 CHARLES V., ROI DE FRANCE. ELOGE HISTORIQUE de, par M. DE VILLETTE. Fine engraved portrait of KING CHARLES THE FIFTH by LE VASSEUR, vignette title with head and tail pieces by EISEN and SIMONET. 4to, half calf, top edge gilt, others uncut, by PETIT-SIMIER. Paris, 1767

RARE, with dedicatory letter to Voltaire from the author. The head-piece over the second part contains a fine portrait by Eisen of Bertrand du Guesclin.

The Marquis de Villette, author of the above, married—"une jeune personne charmante" who had been brought up by Voltaire and Madame Denis. He bought the Chateau of Ferney after the death of Voltaire and conserved the philosopher's heart.

- 86 CHATTO (W. A.). Treatise on Wood Engraving. With upwards of 400 wood engravings by JOHN JACKSON. Thick 4to, fresh half red morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut. N. Y. [London], n. d.

MARK PATTISON, auteur de "The Renaissance in France," suivi d'un Catalogue des Œuvres de CLAUDE LORRAIN, conservées dans les Musées et dans les Collections Particulières de l'Europe. Profusely illustrated. Large 4to, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1884

"The landscapes of other great artists, as Gaspar Poussin and Salvator Rosa, engage little of our time and contemplation to run over the scanty confines of their scenery compared with the august and boundless expanse of Claude."—SPOONER.

- 89 COHEN (Henry). Guide de l'Amateur de Livres a Vignettes du XVIII<sup>e</sup> Siècle. 8vo, fresh half morocco, top edge citron, others uncut. Paris, 1870

LIMITED EDITION of 550 copies printed by Jouaust on China, Whatman and Holland papers, of which the above is No. 386. This work contains the description of more than 450 works illustrated by Boucher, Cochin, Gravelot, Eisen, Moreau, Marillier, Monnet, Le Barbier, etc., with plates, vignettes, head and tail pieces, and the names of the artists who have cooperated as designers or engravers.

- 90 COLLECTION DE VIGNETTES. Scrap Book, containing a large number of Vignette Illustrations by MOREAU LE JEUNE and CAMPIGLIA, many of Nudes, etc. Oblong 4to, half green morocco, gilt, cloth sides.

- 92 COSTUMES MILITAIRES, with Text by A. GUILLAUMOT fils. A series of 50 plates in colors of military costumes from 1789 to 1815 designed by CHARLET. Large 4to, loose in portfolio. Paris, 1886

No. 40 of limited edition.

- 93 CROWE (J. A.) and CAVALCASELLE (G. B.). The Life of TITIAN, with some Account of His Family. With portrait and illustrations. 2 vols. 8vo, fresh half calf gilt, marbled edges. London, 1881

'SECOND EDITION. "No such gap has existed in the history of art as that which is filled by the present volumes. Everything on the subject is now superseded. Here will be found in a digested and orderly form all the materials gathered by Jacobi, Cadorin, Bermudez, Sandrart, Hume, Gachard, Pungileoni, Morelli, Lorenzi, Campori, and others, and additional information of great value derived from the letters found at Simancas, letters from Titian, Charles the Fifth, Philip the Second, and others."—London Athenæum.

- 94 CRUIKSHANK (Robert).—Chronicles of the Bastille—First Series—The Bertaudière, an Historical Romance. With the admirably executed plates of ROBERT CRUIKSHANK. 8vo, fresh half morocco, gilt edges.

London, T. C. Newby, 1845

VERY SCARCE. A fine copy, with good impressions of the plates. It has been believed that Miss Emma Robinson was the author of "Whitefriars," the above and "other historical novels of the Harrison Ainsworth breed."

- 95 CRUIKSHANK (George).—The Horseshoe, the True Legend of ST. DUNSTAN and the Devil, by EDWARD G. FLIGHT. With illustrations drawn by GEORGE CRUIKSHANK and engraved by JOHN THOMPSON. 4to, half calf gilt, edges gilt. London, D. Bogue, n. d.

This copy has the text and plates mounted on drawing paper and ruled with lines in red ink.

- 96  ANTE ALIGHIERI. The Vision of Hell, Purgatory and Paradise, translated by CARY. Illustrated with the marvellous designs of GUSTAVE DORÉ. 2 vols. in 1. Very thick large 4to, fresh half morocco gilt, beveled cloth sides, gilt edges.

London, n. d.

SCARCE and out of print. Full of the loftiest imaginative insight—the tenderest gaze of fancy. "The most Dantesque work on Dante that was ever produced."—London Times.

- 97 DAVILLIER (C., Baron). Spain, translated by J. THOMSON. Profusely illustrated by GUSTAVE DORÉ. Thick large 4to, fresh half morocco gilt, beveled sides, gilt edges. N. Y. (London), 1876

"With us Doré is better known as a designer on wood, an illustrator with an imagination grotesque and prolific beyond all precedent—a mind Teutonic rather than French in its character, looking not so much on the surface of things as at what is hidden underneath, studying the moral of life; a French Albert Durer, to whom existence is less a comedy than a tragedy."—S. G. W. BENJAMIN.

- 98 DELABORDE (Henri, Viscount). La Gravure en Italie. Avant MARC-ANTOINE (1452-1505). Profusely illustrated. Large 4to, fresh illuminated cloth, beveled sides, top gilt edge, others uncut. Paris, n. d.

The author of this most important volume on primitive engraving commences with a description of the Florentine Niellos. The work is exhaustive and is full of fac-similes of the most noteworthy early Italian prints.

- 99 DELFF (Willem Jacobszoon). L'Œuvre de, Décrit par D. FRANKEN. Fine portrait by J. TAANMAN and fac-simile painter's marks. 4to, fresh cloth. Amsterdam, 1872

DENON'S ARTS OF DESIGN—PRIVATELY PRINTED.

- 100 DENON (Vivant, Baron). MONUMENTS DES ARTS DU DESSIN CHEZ LES PEUPLES TANT ANCIENS QUE MODERNES, recueillis par le BARON DENON, Ancien Directeur-Général des Musées de France, pour Servir a l'Histoire des Arts; lithographies par ses soins et sous ses yeux. Decrits et expliqués par ARMAURY DUVAL. 310 plates. 4 vols. large folio, half green morocco, gilt, top edges gilt (some pp. slightly foxed). Paris, Firmin Didot, 1829

PRIVATELY PRINTED. A monumental work. Vol. 1 contains "Origine, progres et decadence des Arts du dessin leur Renaissance en Europe"; Vol. 2, "Ecoles de peinture, depuis la Renaissance des Arts, Ecoles Italiques"; Vol. 3, the same; Vol. 4, Ecoles Françaises. The whole comprising Denon's Catalogue of his own extraordinary collection of Antiquities, Curiosities, Paintings, Drawings and Works of Art. It was printed at his private expense for presentation only. Copies have been sold abroad for large sums, and but few have reached this country. Brunet, in speaking of this fine work, says—"Recueil intéressant, tiré à 250 exemplaires seulement. Le premier volume est spécialement consacré à l'histoire des Arts du Dessin chez les différens peuples du monde; les trois autres se rapportent à l'histoire de la Peinture en Europe, depuis l'époque de la renaissance des Arts."

- 101 DESCRIPTIONS PITTORESQUES de Jardins du Gout le Plus Moderne. With some 30 plates. 4to, half mottled sheep gilt, citron edges (foxed slightly).

Poem, with Prologue and Epilogue, by PIERRE DUPONT; Bibliographical Notice by PAUL LACROIX (BIBLIOPHILE JACOB); with The Complaint and BERANGER's Ballad set to Music by ERNEST DORÉ. Translated with Critical Remarks by GEORGE W. THORNBURY. Illustrated with 12 large draw- ings on wood by GUSTAVE DORÉ, engraved by GAUCHARD, ROUGET and JAHYER. Large square folio, half roan, gilt edges. London, Addey & Co., 1857

FIRST AND BEST EDITION, with brilliant impressions of the celebrated plates. "M. Doré, the well-known illustrator of the sublime pantomime of Rabelais, that clown Luther of Satirists, has presented to the art-world the Legend of the Wandering Jew, in a series of grotesque yet epical pictures, truthful as Holbein, exact as Durer, broadly humorous as Hogarth. Of Doré's genius, it seems almost a work of supererogation to say much. Every one who turns over these pages will at once acknowledge the profundity and versatility of his imagination, the brilliancy of his fancy, the power of his pathos, the richness of his poetry. His figures are as individualized as Sterne's wise buffooneries. His landscape is luminous with picturesque beauty, and radiant with local truth."—GEORGE W. THORNBURY.

- 104 DULAURE (J. A.). Histoire Physique, Civile et Morale de Paris depuis les Premiers Temps Historiques jusqu'à nos Jours. Illustrated with numerous steel engravings of views, etc., of Paris. 8 vols. 8vo, half russia, uncut, by KOEHLER. Paris, Ledentu, 1834

A most valuable history of Paris, with a description of all its monuments and buildings, its manners, customs, etc., etc.

"Cet ouvrage est le fruit de longues recherches; mais malheureusement en le composant l'auteur a été trop préoccupé de sa haine contre les prêtres, les rois et les nobles, pour conserver toute l'impartialité qu'on est en droit d'attendre d'un historien. Ce défaut, qui nuira sans doutes beaucoup au succès futur de l'Histoire de Paris, a été cependant, la cause principale de la vogue momentanée qu'elle a obtenue."—BRUNET.

- 105 DUNLAP (William). History of the Rise and Progress of the Arts of Design in the United States. 2 vols. large 8vo, boards (foxed slightly). RARE. N. Y., 1834

- 106 DUMAS (F. G.). Paris Salon Catalogues, 1879 to 1882 inclusive. Illustrated with hundreds of original designs by the artists themselves. 4 vols. 8vo, fresh half morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut. Paris, 1881-82

DURER'S CELEBRATED WORK ON HUMAN PROPORTION —THE ARNHEIM EDITION OF 1622 IN DUTCH.

- 106* DURER.—Beschryvinghe van ALBRECHT DVRER, van de Menschelijcke Proportion, etc. In't Latijn ende Hooghduytsch tot Nurenbergh ghedruct tot koste van syne naeghelaten Wednve, In't Iaer ons Heeren, 1527. Profusely illustrated with plates, many folding, diagrams, tables, etc. Small folio, vellum foxed and title mended). Arnhem, Ian Iansz Boeckverhooper, 1622

RARE. This work of Durer on proportion is said to have resulted from his studies of his picture of Adam and Eve. His works were written in German, and after his death translated into Latin. The above has been retranslated into Dutch. The figures illustrating it were executed by Durer in a most admirable manner.

"He [Durer] was the first artist in Germany who practised and taught the rules of perspective, and of the proportions of the human figure according to mathematical principles."—SPOONER.

- 107 DURER (Albrecht). In seiner Bedeutung für die Moderne Befestigungskunst, dargestellt von G. V. IMHOF. Numerous folding plates. Large 8vo, sewed, uncut.

UNIQUE AND FINE COLLECTION OF ENGRAVERS' PROOFS.

- 111 ENGRAVINGS. A COLLECTION OF NEARLY 150 ENGRAVINGS ON STEEL, EXECUTED, MOSTLY IN LINE, IN THE HIGHEST STYLE OF THE ART, FOR THE "BOOK OF BEAUTY," "KEEPSAKE," "BOOK OF GEMS," "LANDSCAPE ANNUAL," "LYRICS OF THE HEART," TURNER'S "TOURS," AND OTHER ANNUALS—by the following distinguished engravers: LUMB STOCKS, R. WALLIS, J. T. WILMORE, J. B. ALLEN, JOHN PYE, R. BRANDARD, W. MILLER, E. J. ROBERTS, J. GOODYEAR, C. HEATH, and J. COUSIN; after paintings or drawings by M. A. SHEE, J. WEST, J. M. W. TURNER, D. ROBERTS, J. D. HARDING, C. STANFIELD, R. SMIRKE, G. R. LEWIS, T. UWINS, S. PROUT, T. STOTHARD, W. HARVEY, G. CATTERMOLLE, R. P. BONNINGTON, E. LANDSEER, D. MACLISE, SIR W. BEECHEY, J. M. WRIGHT, etc. 2 vols. folio, old half morocco extra, gilt edges (not uniform in color).

London, v. d.

UNIQUE. The whole of the exquisite engravings in these volumes are choice large paper proofs, on India paper, mostly before letters, and a large proportion are presentation impressions with the autographs of the artists. They embrace a great variety of subjects, and if any Grangerite wishes to break up such a collection matter will be found suitable for insertion in Shakespeare, Scott, Byron, Cowper, Don Quixote, Walton's Angler, Edgeworth's Tales, etc., etc. Among the gems will be found the rare portrait of Shakespeare after Boaden; the beautiful portraits of Cowper and Lingard, both engraved by Lumb Stocks; "Byron's Dream," after Harding; "The Falls of the Rhine" and "Virginia Water," after Turner; "Windsor Castle," after Harding; "The Escurial," after Roberts; "Venice," after Prout; "Interior at Abbotsford," after Roberts; "Pike Pool," after Inskipp, and a "Bull Fight at Seville," after Roberts. All of these are the choicest selected proofs on India paper, before letters, and most of them are signed by the engravers. Many others equally deserve mention, but space forbids.

112 EUDEL (Paul). Le Truquage—les Contrefaçons Dévoilées. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1884

- 128 FORREST (C. R., Lieut.-Col.). Picturesque Tour along the Rivers Ganges and Jumna in India. With map, 24 highly finished views and 2 vignettes in aquatint. Large 4to, old cloth, gilt edges (map stained).

London, R. Ackermann, 1824

RARE and beautifully colored plates.

"This beautiful work presents the most picturesque scenes of the valleys of these most celebrated rivers. With the description much history is interspersed."
—ALLIBONE.

- 129 FOSTER (BIRKET). GEMS OF ART. Chromo-Lithographed by THOMAS KELL. 12 exquisite fac-similes of the original water-color drawings, mounted in passe-partouts. Large square folio in portfolio. London, McQueen, 1874

VERY SCARCE, on account of the sets having been broken up for framing. Birket Foster was elected an associate of the Society of Painters in Water-Colors in 1859 and a full member three years after. His pleasant rural scenes, devoted almost exclusively to the portrayal of child-life, have always been most popular. This series comprises:—"The Blackbird"; "The Ride on the Donkey"; "The Pet Calf"; "Blowing Bubbles"; "Returning from Market"; "Feeding Pigeons"; "Children Catching Butterflies"; "Going to the Spring"; "Shrimping"; "Filling the Pitcher"; "Come Baby!" and "Birdnesting."

S. C. HALL wrote in the London Art Journal:—"Birket Foster's pictures recall to our memory the dear remembrance of our own childhood, it has done us more good to gaze upon them than to have placed before our eyes the grandest piece of historical painting, or the finest example of mural decoration ever conceived by the subtlest artist."

FREDERIC THE GREAT'S HISTORY OF THE HOUSE OF BRANDENBURG AND POEMS, ILLUSTRATED BY SCHMIDT.

- 129* [FREDERIC THE GREAT.]—Mémoires pour Servir a l'Histoire de la Maison de Brandebourg. Illustrated with engraved title, 12 portraits of Prussian rulers and some 35 vignettes, all engraved by the celebrated master G. F. SCHMIDT. 4 vols. in 2. 4to, old mottled sheep gilt, marbled sides and edges. Berlin, Chretien Frederic Voss, 1767

VERY RARE. The third volume of the above is bound up with Frederic the Great's "Poesies Diverses," imprinted at Berlin by Chretien Frederic Voss in 1760, which is also illustrated with vignettes and engraved initials.

George Frederic Schmidt, who illustrated the above, was a Prussian engraver who studied in Paris under Nicholas Larmessin. Spooner says:—"He acquired a skill in handling the graver, with a neatness and firmness seldom surpassed. In 1742 he was received into the Academy at Paris, and engraved for his reception-piece his fine portrait of P. Mignard. In 1744 he returned to Berlin, and was soon after appointed engraver to the King. In 1757 he went to St. Petersburg at the invitation of the Empress Elizabeth, and executed several portraits and other plates with great success. In 1762 he returned to Berlin, where he discovered a new talent in etching and engraved several plates in the manner of Rembrandt, which were greatly admired; he also engraved in the manner of Della Bella and Benedetto Castiglione with equal success."

GONSE'S MAGNIFICENT WORK ON JAPANESE ART— LIMITED EDITION.

- 144 GONSE (LOUIS, Directeur de la Gazette des Beaux Arts). L'ART JAPONOIS. Illustrated by 64 full-page engravings, 30 of which are colored; there are in addition 13 etchings, 21 plates in heliogravure by the DUJARDIN process, and over 700 other engravings, exclusive of fac-similes of seals, autographs, etc. 2 vols. large 4to, fresh illuminated satin, edges uncut. Paris, A. Quantin, 1883

No. 74 of limited edition on Japan paper. The imported price of the above is 120 dollars. This magnificent work, of which but a limited edition was published, met with a ready sale among all interested in Japanese art. The work was the first published giving a general history of art in Japan. The author, M. Gonse, himself a well-known collector, had unusually fine facilities for the faithful performance of his work. The period reaches from the ninth to the nineteenth century.

- 145 GOYA (Francisco). Etude Biographique et Critique suivie de l'Essai d'un Catalogue Raisonné de son Œuvre Gravé et Lithographie. Portrait. Large 8vo, half cloth. Paris, Renouard, 1877

THE GREAT MODERN PAINTERS.

- 146 GRANDS PEINTRES FRANÇAIS et Etrangers, Ouvrage d'Art, Publié avec le Concours Artistique des Maitres—Texte par les Principaux Critiques d'Art. Profusely illustrated with 450 photogravures and woodcuts.—PROOFS ON INDIA PAPER. 2 vols. in 8 parts, folio, in portfolios (complete as published). Paris, Goupil and Co., 1884

This exquisite book is one of the most magnificent specimens of book-making of ancient or modern times. The text (pp. 384) and plates throughout are printed on heavy paper. The reproductions on steel and wood consist of the best examples of twenty-four of the leading artists of the present day, viz.:—BOUGUEREAU, ALMA-TADEMA, MUNKACSY, BONHEUR, HENNER, BAUDRY, LEFEBVRE, BRIDGMAN, KNAUS, BRETON, BONNAT, MILLAIS, ISRAELS, JACQUE, LAURENS, VAN MARCKE, DE NITTIS, HERKOMER, MEISSONIER, BOULANGER, CHAVANNES, MADRAZO, MESDAG and GEROME.

Of the 450 illustrations, 24 are on India paper. But one of the most important features of this grand exhibit is the reproduction in the text of the sketches or studies of those masters of all that is greatest in art. Such an insight is seldom vouchsafed to the uninitiated, and the originals are unattainable, even by the wealthiest.

THE GROLIER CLUB'S "DECREE OF STAR CHAMBER," ON VELLUM—ALMOST UNIQUE, AND MAGNIFICENTLY BOUND BY LORTIC, OF PARIS.

- 147 GROLIER CLUB.—A DECREE OF STAR CHAMBER Concerning Printing—Made July 11, 1637, Reprinted by the GROLIER CLUB, from the First Edition by ROBERT BARKER, 1637, with Preface and Appendix. Fac-simile coat-of-arms, head-pieces, etc.—also ILLUMINATED coat-of-arms of GROLIER CLUB on title—and covers (which are bound in the volume) printed in gold. 8vo, magnificently bound by LORTIC FRERES, of Paris, in crushed brown levant morocco gilt, and blind tooled, paneled, in the centre of which is let in the heraldic bearings of the GROLIER CLUB in colored and mosaiced leathers, the proper heraldic tinictures, doublé with red crushed levant morocco, gilt tooled borders, leather joints, and watered crimson silk ends, gilt edges, in leather-lined cloth case.

[N. Y., 1884]

ALMOST UNIQUE, being ONE OF TWO PRIVATELY PRINTED VELLUM COPIES only, of which the other is conserved in the safe of the Grolier Club, and of a limited edition in all of—"one hundred and fifty copies printed from type, in the month of December, 1884," and by Theo. L. De Vinne & Co. The circumstances of the acquisition of this copy by Mr. Pene du Bois is thus told in "Town Topics":—"The first book published by the Club, entitled 'A Decree of Starre Chamber Concerning Printing,' consisted of 150 copies, two being printed on vellum. These vellum copies were sold at auction by Mr. William L. Andrews on Monday evening, after Mr. Hoe had finished his address, and brought $81. The first choice went for $45 to Mr. Henri P. du Bois, who is the New York correspondent of 'Le Livre,' and the second for $36, to Mr. George A. Armour, of Chicago, who generously presented the copy to the Club."

After Mr. du Bois purchased the copy in gilt vellum covers, as stated above, he sent it to Paris to be bound, the reliure costing him over $60, making a total, with duty, of nearly $125.

THE GROLIER CLUB'S RUBAIYAT OF OMAR KHAYYAM—
ONE OF A LIMITED ISSUE OF TWO COPIES ON VELLUM.

148 GROLIER CLUB.—RUBAIYAT OF OMAR KHAYYAM, the Astronomer Poet of Persia, Rendered into English Verse by EDWARD FITZGERALD [Reprinted from the edition of BERNARD QUARITCH, London, 1879]. ILLUMINATED device of the GROLIER CLUB in colors on the title—and illuminated head-bands from examples in OWEN JONES'S "Grammar of Ornament." 8vo, vellum cover illuminated after an example in AUDSLEY'S "Outlines of Ornament," totally uncut. N. Y., The Grolier Club, 1885

ALMOST UNIQUE, being one of TWO PRIVATELY PRINTED COPIES ONLY on VELLUM. The volume was one, as the end paper before the title states, of—"One hundred and fifty copies on Japan paper, and two copies on vellum, printed from type, for the Grolier Club of New York, in the month of May, 1885." This was executed at the press of Theo. L. De Vinne & Co.

The sale of the two vellum copies of the "Rubaiyat" is narrated in the "Book Mart" of December, 1885, as follows:—"The feature of the evening was an amateur auction in which General Rush C. Hawkins displayed an adaptability and versatility of description that would put to shame the average book auctioneer who, as a rule, thumps and hammers, and bangs away without any regard to consequences. A limited edition of only two vellum copies of Fitzgerald's translation of 'Khayyam' were disposed of. The first was purchased after very lively competition for the sum of eighty dollars by Henri Péné du Bois, the American correspondent of Le Livre, who thus put to shame the millionaires present, and proved that the leavening of the Club by a French bibliophile was just what was necessary. The other copy was bought by the father of Seth Low, Mayor of Brooklyn."

THE GROLIER CLUB'S EDITION OF WASHINGTON
IRVING'S KNICKERBOCKER—LIMITED EDITION OF 177 COPIES IN ALL.

- 149 GROLIER CLUB.—IRVING (Washington). A History of New York from the Beginning of the World to the End of the Dutch Dynasty; containing among Many Surprising and Curious Matters the Unutterable Ponderings of William the Doubter, and the Chivalric Achievements of Peter the Headstrong—the Three Dutch Governors of New Amsterdam; being the only Authentic History of the Times that Ever Hath Been or Ever Will be. Published by "DIEDRICH KNICKERBOCKER." A New Edition, containing unpublished corrections of the Author, with illustrations by GEO. H. BOUGHTON, WILL. H. DRAKE and HOWARD PYLE, and etchings by HENRY C. ENO and F. RAUBICHECK. 2 vols. 8vo, boards, rough edges.

N. Y., printed for the Grolier Club, 1886

PRIVATELY PRINTED for the members of the Grolier Club with the following statement on the end paper preceding the title:—"The Publication Committee of the Grolier Club certify that this copy is one of an edition of 175 copies on Holland paper and 2 copies on vellum, all of which were printed in the month of May, 1886. The printed list of subscribers and the summary of contents will be found at the end of the second volume."

Boughton's etchings to the above are in three states, two of which are on Japan before letters and one on hand-made paper. The vignettes, head and tail pieces, are in various shades of bistre and sepia. The printing is by De Vinne.

- 150 GROLIER CLUB. Transactions of the GROLIER CLUB, from its Foundation, January, 1884, to July, 1885. Part 1. 4to, boards, uncut. N. Y., Grolier Club, 1885

With the above is a separate Catalogue of the Grolier Exhibition of "Modern Book-bindings." The transactions commence with an account of Jean Grolier—an account of Exhibitions of MSS., Etchings, Book Illustrations, etc. It also contains addresses of Robert Hoe, Theodore L. De Vinne, William Matthews, etc.

- 151 GROLIER.—Recherches sur JEAN GROLIER, sur sa Vie et sa Bibliothèque, suivies d'un Catalogue des Livres qui lui ont Appartenu par M. LE ROUX DE LINCY. Thick large 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, L. Potier, 1866

This splendid work by the Secretary of the "Société des Bibliophiles Français" was printed by Jouaust on thick hand-made paper. It should more properly go under Bibliography in this catalogue on account of its admirable subject-matter and careful catalogue of the library of the great bibliophile, but as the publications of the Grolier Club are justly put in the "Art Division" this keeps them company.

GROSE'S MILITARY ANTIQUITIES.

- 152 GROSE (Francis, F.S.A.). Military Antiquities, Respecting a History of the English Army from the Conquest to the Present Time, including a Treatise on Ancient Arms and Armour. Numerous fine copper-plates of arms, armor, weapons, horse accoutrements, etc. 2 vols. thick 4to, calf, gilt (titles cut slightly and joints broken). London, 1812

VERY SCARCE. This work is particularly valuable to collectors of ancient arms and armor, as it contains much information that cannot be obtained in any other authority, as the writer was for many years a member of the Heralds' College, from which he resigned. He was Adjutant and Paymaster of the Surrey Militia, but devoted much of his time to traveling through England, Scotland and Wales sketching for the valuable works which he subsequently gave to the world. Grose's habits, especially in early life, were of too convivial a character for either his purse or his reputation, and many a jolly circle of "good fellows" could answer in the affirmative the query of Burns—

"Ken ye aught of Captain Grose?"

Noble's sketch of his figure and character is truly graphic.

- 153 GUICHARD (E.). De l'Ameublement et de la Décoration Intérieure de nos Appartements. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, Edouard Rouveyre, 1880

LIMITED EDITION of sixty copies, of which the above is one on Seychall Mill paper.

IMPRESSIONS ON INDIA printed on thick paper.

- 156 GUILLAUMOT. Another copy of the preceding but ordinary edition on thick paper.

- 157  AMERTON (Philip Gilbert). Thoughts about Art. Small 8vo, cloth. Boston, 1882

HAMERTON'S "GRAPHIC ARTS"—ORIGINAL EDITION.

- 158 HAMERTON. THE GRAPHIC ARTS. A Treatise on the Varieties of Drawing, Painting and Engraving, in comparison with each other and with Nature. With 54 illustrations after ancient and modern masters—RAPHAEL, MAC-LISE, TURNER, LEIGH, MULREADY, HARDING, HOLBEIN,

DURER, BEWICK, TITIAN, HOLLAR, REMBRANDT, HOLT, HURST, DELANNE, VISSCHER, STRANGE, etc., reproduced in fac-simile. Thick folio, fresh vellum, gilt, uncut, by FAWN. London, Seeley, Jackson & Halliday, 1882

LARGE PAPER COPY and LIMITED EDITION of 350 copies, with proofs of the plates on India paper.

Mr. Hamerton has enjoyed exceptional opportunities for gathering the experience and information necessary to a work like the above. Aided by the confidence of the most distinguished artists of his time, Mr. Hamerton does not write from the limited experience of one man, but expresses what may be fairly considered to be the state of existing knowledge. Besides this, his peculiar work as Editor of The Portfolio has brought him into the closest contact with black and white art in all its reproducible forms, and made him minutely acquainted with various processes of reproduction, and their respective merits. Such a work as "THE GRAPHIC ARTS" necessarily required illustration. The publishers spared neither trouble nor expense in illustrating it as completely as the present very advanced state of the printed arts would permit. All kinds of engraving, and most kinds of drawing, are represented, either by the best living masters or by the most able of their younger brethren; and with regard to the dead, their best works are reproduced in very close fac-simile.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF HAMERTON ON LANDSCAPE.

159 HAMERTON. Landscape. With original etchings and many illustrations and drawings. Thick folio, fresh half morocco, totally uncut. London, 1885

LARGE PAPER. LIMITED EDITION of 525 copies on superfine laid paper. The above is the first edition and has brilliant impressions of the etchings, etc., by or after Palmer, Paris, Massé, Moore, Claude, Brandard, Yon, Courbet, Dameron, Graham, Turner, Corot, Thomas, Girtin, Reynolds, Brunet-Debaines, Dawson, Titian, Linnell, Hunt, Landseer, Murray, M'Culloch, Cox, Parrish, Lalanne, Daubigny, Harpignies, Greux, Slocombe, Hobbema, Huysmans, Guillaumet, Durer, Hardy, Reid, Van Eyck, Pennell, etc. Many of these are original etchings.

160 HAMERTON. ETCHING AND ETCHERS. 35 etchings by HADEN, PALMER, JACQUEMART, CHAUVEL, JONGKIND, etc. Large 8vo, illuminated cloth, top edge gilt. London, 1876

The original edition of the above work is now rare and expensive. Copies frequently sell for $75 to $100. With the heraldic book-plate of William Miller.

161 HAMERTON. Examples of Modern Etching, with Notes by PHILIP GILBERT HAMERTON. With 20 etchings by BALFOURIER, BODMER, BRACQUEMOND, CHATTOCK, FLAMENG, FEYEN-PERRIN, SEYMOUR-HADEN, HAMERTON, HESELTINE, LAGUILLERMIE, LALANNE, LEGROS, LUCAS, PALMER, RAJON and VEYRASSAT. Large 4to, cloth, gilt edges. London, 1876

Hamerton's purpose in getting these plates together was to show the various directions which the art of etching is taking in the practice of skillful contemporaries, who have little in common beyond the employment of the same technical methods.

162 HAMERTON. The Intellectual Life. Portrait of DA VINCI etched by FLAMENG. 12mo, cloth. Boston, 1883

- 163 HAMERTON. Chapters on Animals. Small 8vo, cloth.

- 183 HULME (F. Edward). Suggestions in Floral Design. 52 fine plates in gold and colors. Large 4to, fresh illuminated cloth, beveled sides. London, n. d.

These Floral Designs have all been kept bold in form, simple in color, and of a size that should present no difficulties in reproduction. The volume is full of suggestive ornamental decoration that cannot fail to be of the greatest value to both manufacturer and designer.

- 184  ILLUSTRATION NOUVELLE par une Société de Peintres-Graveurs à l'Eau-Forte 1868-75. 7 vols in 2. A collection of over 300 etchings by the best modern French artists. Thick large folio, half crushed levant morocco gilt, top edges gilt. Paris, A Cadart, 1868-75

The earlier volumes of these charming series of etchings are very scarce in a complete form, almost all the sets having been broken up and the separate prints peddled out at so much a-piece.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF IRELAND'S THAMES VIEWS.

- 185 IRELAND (Samuel). Picturesque Views on the River Thames, from its Source in Gloucestershire to the Nore, with Observations on Public Buildings and Other Works of Art in its Vicinity. 56 fine copper-plates printed in sepia and woodcuts in text. 2 vols. 4to, mottled calf gilt, yellow edges (stained slightly and 1 vol. rebacked). London, 1792

LARGE PAPER, and with very fine impressions of the plates. A similar copy to the above sold at the Beckford sale for £4 5s.

BARTOLOZZI AND OTHER ENGRAVERS' PLATES, AFTER THE OLD ITALIAN MASTERS.

- 186 ITALIAN SCHOOL OF DESIGN. A Series of Select Studies, from the Original Drawings of the most Eminent Masters. A series of 91 beautifully executed plates, engraved by F. BARTOLOZZI and others. 4to, half morocco, gilt edges. London, 1842

VERY SCARCE. Includes choice examples by Guercino, Michael Angelo, Domenichino, Annibale, Ludovico and Agostino Carracci, P. da Cortona, Carlo Maratti, Elisabetta Sirani, Pellegrino, Tibaldi, Franceschino, etc., etc. Published at £10 10s.

- 187 ITALIAN MASTERS, Drawings by, with Critical Notes by J. COMYNS CARR. With mounted fac-similes reproduced by the autotype process from the originals in the collection at the British Museum. Square large folio, half morocco, cloth and beveled sides. London, 1877

The masters illustrated in these beautiful reproductions are—Andrea Mantegna, Pietro Perugino, Francesco Francia, Raphael, Leonardo da Vinci, Lorenzo di Credi, Michael Angelo Buonarrotti, Titian, Paul Veronese, Andrea del Sarto, Giulio Pippi, called Romano, Benvenuto Tissio da Garofalo and Jacopo Liozzi.

- 188  AMESON (Anna). HISTORY of our LORD, as exemplified in Works of Art with that of His Types; ST. JOHN BAPTIST and other Persons of the Old and New Testament. Continued and Completed by LADY EASTLAKE. With 31 etchings and 281 wood engravings from paintings, mosaics and ancient ivory carvings. 2 vols. fresh tree-marbled calf gilt extra, inside gold borders, edges gilt. London, 1864-72

BEST EDITION. "One of the most eloquent of our female writers; full of feeling and fancy; a true enthusiast, with a glowing soul."—CHRISTOPHER NORTH.

Eastlake, in his preface to "Kugler's Hand-book of Italian Painting," truly remarks:—"Some acquaintance with the legends and superstitions of the Middle Ages is necessary to the intelligence of many of the Italian and German works of art as the knowledge of heathen mythology is to explain the subjects of Greek vases and marbles. By a fortunate combination of artistic talent and appreciation with precision of thought, and a power of setting forth the older legends in poetical language, Mrs. Jameson was singularly qualified for the task she had undertaken. She at once succeeded in arousing an interest, and in supplying information in a condensed and agreeable form."

"Mrs. Jameson's work would deserve a high place regarded only as a book of antiquarian inquiry. With admirable taste and judgment, both of pen and pencil, she has opened a curious branch of learning well-nigh forgotten among us—the vestiges of which, nevertheless, surround us on every side."—Edinburgh Review.

- 189 JANIN (Jules). Voyage en Italie. With engraved title and views by, or after J. D. HARDING, W. R. SMITH, E. CHALLIS, W. RADCLYFFE; J. B. ALLEN, JAMES REDAWAY, E. GOODHALL, SAMUEL PROUT, CHARLES HEATH, J. T. WILLMORE, W. WALLIS, THOMAS HIGHAM, W. H. BARTLETT, F. W. TOPHAM, and fine portrait of RAFFAELLO SANZIO, engraved by W. HOLL. Large 8vo, half smooth red morocco, gilt (a few pages slightly spotted and one margin torn). Paris, 1839

The margins are equal to large paper.

ORIGINAL EDITION OF JARDINE'S NATURALIST'S LIBRARY.

- 190 JARDINE (Sir William, Bart.). THE NATURALIST'S LIBRARY. 1,200 fine plates, MOSTLY COLORED BY HAND. 40 vols. uniform, fresh half green calf, gilt top, edges gilt. Edinburgh, 1833-44

VERY SCARCE and the original Edinburgh edition with the impressions of the plates much brighter and more carefully colored by hand than in the 1844-55 reissue of H. G. Bohn. The volumes were published at six shillings each in boards. The new and handsome binding of this copy is worth at least one dollar and a quarter a volume.

In the preparation of this valuable series Sir Wm. Jardine was assisted by Swainson, Waterhouse, MacGillivray, Bushman, Selby, Scomburgh, Hamilton, Smith, Hamilton and James Duncan. Each volume contains a memoir of a celebrated Naturalist. "Blackwood's Magazine" styles its editor "an excellent practical observer," and the "London Athenæum" says that—"This book is perhaps the most interesting, the most beautiful and the cheapest series ever offered to the public."

It is divided into four series—"Mammalia," "Ornithology," "Entomology" and "Ichthyology." There are 13 volumes of "Mammalia" containing an introduction in one volume, and the following separate volumes—Lions and Tigers; British Quadrupeds; Horses; Elephants, etc.; Marsupialia; Seals, etc.; Whales, etc.; Monkeys. "Dogs" are in two volumes, as are the ruminating animals—Deer, Antelopes, Goats, Sheep, Oxen, etc. The "Entomology" is in 14 vols.—British Birds, 4 vols.; Sun Birds; Humming Birds, 2 vols.; Game Birds; Pigeons; Parrots; Birds of Western Africa, 2 vols.; Fly Catchers; Pheasants, Peacocks, etc. There are seven volumes of "Entomology"—Introduction; British Butterflies; British Moths, etc.; Foreign Butterflies; Foreign Moths; Beetles; Bees. The "Ichthyology" is in six volumes—Introduction and Foreign Fishes; British Fishes, 2 vols.; Percé, etc.; Fishes of Guiana, etc., 2 vols.

EDITION-DE-LUXE OF THE MASTERPIECES OF GERMAN, FLEMISH AND DUTCH ART.

- 191 JUTSUM (Carl T.). MEISTERWERKE OF GERMAN ART. Part 1, Early German, Flemish and Dutch Painters. Part 2, Contemporary German Art. Illustrated with 113 etchings, line engravings and "lichtdrucks," PROOFS BEFORE LETTER, MOSTLY ON JAPAN PAPER, and with over 200 engravings on wood and fac-similes of artists' sketches. 2 vols. in 10 sections as published. Folio, contained in two satin covered portfolios with ties. N. Y., 1883

LIMITED EDITION, of which this is number 314. The text throughout is beautifully printed on fine HOLLAND PAPER, and is a masterly and comprehensive illustrated review of German, Flemish and Dutch art, from Albert Durer to Hans Makart; including Cranach, Cornelius, Claude, Chodowicki, Cuypp, Burgmair, Breughel, Both, Berghem, Becker, Balen, Dow, Dietz, Van Eyck, Goltzius, Hals, Hobbema, Holbein, Jansen, Kauffman, Kaulbach, Knaus, Leutze, Lucas Van Leyden, Matsys, Max, Metger, Mieris, Muller, Ostade, Perugino, Piloty, Rembrandt, Rubens, Ruysdael, Schongauer, Steen, Steinla, Teniers, Tęrbęrg, Unger, Vandyck, Wohlgenuth, Wouwerman, and many others too numerous to mention here.

The illustrations are worthy of the text; the etchings are all by celebrities of the modern school—many being original painters' etchings; the line engravings are the most superb efforts that the masters of the burin are capable of producing —both etchings and engravings are proofs before letters on Japan paper. The "lichtdrucks" are beautiful fac-simile reproductions in color of chalk and water-color drawings. The engravings on wood interspersed throughout the text are most interesting, in many cases being fac-similes of sketches and studies by the principal artists which have never before been engraved.

- 192  ALIDASA. SAKOONTALA, or the Lost Ring, an Indian Drama, translated into English Prose and Verse from the Sanskrit of KALIDASA, by MONIER WILLIAMS. Beautifully illuminated borders and head-pieces by OWEN JONES. 4to, illuminated cover, uncut. N. Y., 1885

No. 103 of Limited Large Paper edition of about 120 copies on Japan paper, with head-pieces and borders in color by De Vinne.

Several editions of this great Indian drama have appeared abroad, but this is, we think, the first attempt to bring it to the notice of American readers. The best evidence of its appreciation by scholars is perhaps shown in Goethe's lines:

"Would'st thou the young year's blossoms and the fruits of its decline,

And all by which the soul is charmed, enraptured, feasted, fed?

Would'st thou the earth and heaven itself in one sole name combine?

I name thee, O Sakoontala! and all at once is said."

The pictorial borders to the illustrations, as well as the other illuminations, are taken from MSS. in the British Museum. The Sakoontala was first made known to the world, by the translation of Sir William Jones, in 1789, and until this event Sanskrit dramatic literature was unknown. Of all the Indian poets the most celebrated was Kalidasa, who flourished in the middle of the century preceding the Christian era. The translation by Monier Williams has long been a favorite with Oriental scholars. Says Humboldt: "The Poems of Kalidasa contain charming descriptions of nature, and his tenderness of feeling and richness of creative fancy entitle him to a high place in the ranks of the Poets of Nations."

- 193 KAULBACH (Wilhelm von). KAULBACH ALBUM, text von DR. JULIUS GROSSE. Illustrated with many plates of a humorous character after KAULBACH, and engraved by J. G. FLEGEL. Oblong 4to, old cloth (foxed somewhat). Stuttgart, n. d.

SCARCE and with good impressions of the plates on India paper.

KAY'S PORTRAITS—FINE COPY OF THE BEST EDITION.

- 194 KAY (John). A SERIES OF ORIGINAL PORTRAITS AND CARICATURE ETCHINGS, by the late JOHN KAY, MINIA-TURE PAINTER, EDINBURGH; with Biographical Sketches and Illustrative Anecdotes. [Edited by H. PATON.] 357 portraits and etchings. 2 vols. thick 4to, half morocco.

Edinburgh, 1837-38

VERY RARE. An unusually fine and perfect copy of the first and best edition of this rare collection. John Kay, the author of these prints, was born in 1742, near Dalkeith, Scotland, and very early gave strong proofs of natural artistic ability. He was, however, when in his thirteenth year, apprenticed by his relatives to a barber in Edinburgh, which "profession" he carried on for many years. In 1785, when in his forty-third year, he conceived the idea of attempting to etch on copper. Some prints which he published met with such unexpected success, that he resolved to shave no more, and to devote himself entirely to art. He started a small print shop in Parliament Square, Edinburgh, where he sold his productions, and the windows of which being always filled with his most recent works, used to be a great attraction to the loungers of the time; and to almost the year of his death (1826) at the age of 84 he continued to delight and amuse his patrons with the productions of his needle. For a period of half a century few persons of any notoriety who figured in the Scottish capital escaped his notice, and he occasionally indulged in caricaturing such local incidents as might amuse the public. In this way he formed a collection altogether unique. Indeed, Chambers in his "Lives of Illustrious Scotchmen," says: "that no city in the empire can boast of so curious a chronicle." It may be added that his etchings were universally admitted to possess one merit, which of itself at this day stamps them as of great value, namely, that of being exact and faithful likenesses of the persons intended to be represented.

EDITION-DE-LUXE OF KOEHLER'S GREAT WORK ON ETCHING—WITH PROOFS ON JAPAN PAPER.

- 195 KOEHLER (S. R.). ETCHING, an Outline of its Technical Processes and its History, with some remarks on Collections and Collecting. The text illustrated by numerous reproductions and accompanied by 30 fine plates by old and modern etchers, proofs on JAPAN PAPER MOUNTED ON CARD-BOARD, with heavy mats, loose in portfolio. Together 2 vols. Large 4to and square large folio, uniform fresh half russia gilt, cloth sides. N. Y., 1885

EDITION-DE-LUXE, limited to sixty copies, with the plates all numbered and signed by the author, of which this is No. 12, and published at $100 to subscribers only.

Vanderhoof; "Charles V. and his Brother Ferdinand," by C. B. Hofer; "The Sudarium," after Dürer; "Hunter and Dogs," after Pieter de Laer; "Mother with the Black Veil," after Rembrandt; "The Man Riding a Donkey," after Nicholas Berghem; "The Mountebank," by Dietricy; "Peasant Woman driving Pigs into a Stable," by Jacque; "La Rue des Toiles, Bourges," after Méryon; "View in Amsterdam," by Lalanne; "Tripod," after Gouthière, by Jacquemart; "The Falls of Tivoli," by G. L. Brown; "Sweet is the Hour of Rest," by Henry Farrer; "Annesquam," by S. Parrish; "A Fallow Field," by J. D. Smillie, N. A.; "Rue du Mont Cenis, Montmartre," by C. A. Platt; "The Home of the Muskrat," by Mrs. M. N. Moran; "Church of San Miguel and Pueblo House, at Santa Fé, N. M.," by Peter Moran; "A Street in London," by J. M'N. Whistler; "View in Venice," by Otto H. Bacher; "Scene in Venice," by C. Corwin; "Portrait of a Man (Le Doreur)," by Flameng, after Rembrandt; "Soldier and Laughing Girl," by Jacquemart, after Van der Meer van Delft; "Hen Defending her Brood," by Unger, after Snyders; "Landscape and Sheep," by J. D. Smillie, after Jacque; Trial plate to illustrate technical points; "Portrait of an Old Lady," by Rajon, after Rembrandt, in two states.

SPLENDID WORK ON ANCIENT HISTORIC TAPESTRIES.

- 196 KUELLER and WAUTERS. HISTORIC TAPESTRIES at the National Exposition of Belgium, 1880, with French text by ALPHONSE WAUTERS. Illustrated with 125 reproductions, some COLORED IN FAC-SIMILE of the most ancient tapestries of Flanders, Gobelin and other sources, mostly executed after the drawings of H. F. KUELLER, "Artiste Peintre," and from the originals themselves. One volume (complete and in 11 parts), in fresh half morocco portfolio, with cloth sides, flaps and ties. Brussels, 1881-82

LIMITED EDITION. This is one of the grandest works ever published on ancient European Tapestry. There is a good general index and separate indices to the various parts, the examples were loaned by many of the European monarchs and from the collections of the best museums, nobility, churches and other sources wherever available. The subjects of the tapestries are historical, classical, legendary, erotic and scriptural, many being taken from the works of the great mediæval masters. Such an united collection can probably never be gathered together again, and the form in which it is now presented is of incalculable service to painters, designers, art decorators, and all those who are now aiding the nineteenth century Renaissance, whether as workers, patrons or connoisseurs.

The work is dedicated to the King of the Belgians.

- 197 KRAUS (John Ulric). HISTORISCHE BILDER BIBEL. 188 admirably executed plates, four to the page. Folio, old half sheep. Augsburg, 1702

VERY SCARCE. This eminent engraver, Spooner says, was—"born at Augsburg in 1645 and died there in 1719. He imitated in engraving the manner of J. Le Clerc. He also copied several of the prints of Albert Durer and Lucas Van Leyden. He engraved some landscapes and perspective views, and many biblical subjects from his own designs for the booksellers."

- 198 KRAUS. SIGNORUM VETERUM ICONES. A collection of 50 plates of ancient statuary—mostly of nudes. Small folio, cloth. RARE. Augsburg, n. d.

Paris, Georges Hurstel, 1882

This splendid work was illustrated by—Lalauze, etcher; Garcia, Thierry, Piret and Tissot, aquarellists; Goutzwiller, Thadée, Garcia, Kreutzberger, Hurstel, etc., designers; Nordmann, Chataignon, Danne, Lévié, Garcia-Mincia, Cotelot and Benard, chromolithographers; etc.

- 200 LACROIX. XVIIe Siècle: Lettres, Sciences et Arts—France, 1590-1700. Illustrated with 17 fine colored plates and 300 woodcuts. Thick large 8vo, fresh half red morocco gilt, edges gilt. Paris, Firmin-Didot, 1882

Beautiful and instructive, Lacroix's books have no equal in the annals of art and literature.

The illustrations are after Watteau, Vanloo, Rigaud, Boucher, Lancret, J. Vernet, Chardin, Jeanrat, Bouchardon, Saint Aubin, Eisen, Gravelot, Moreau, Cochin, Wille, Debucour, etc.

- 202 LACROIX. Sciences et Lettres au Moyen Age et à l'époque de la Renaissance. With 13 fine colored plates executed by COMPÈRE, DAUMONT, PRALOU and WERNER, and 400 woodcuts. Thick large 8vo, fresh half red morocco gilt, edges gilt. Paris, 1877

The plates in this volume are taken from the best manuscripts, miniatures and books in the principal public and private libraries of Europe; the Louvre, Musée de Du Sommerard, Bibliothèque Mazarin, etc.; from the great collections of Belgium, Germany, England, Italy, etc.; the private collections of M. Rothschild, the Brothers Boisseree, Duc de Luynes, etc. No pains have been spared to make the work an universal gallery of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. The letter-press also is extremely valuable, as it reunites in a compendious form the information comprised in many expensive works; and places at the disposal of the ordinary reader information which hitherto has been the sole property of the rich and the learned.

- 203 LACROIX. The XVIIIth Century, its Institutions, Customs and Costumes—France, 1700–89. Illustrated with 21 chromolithographs and 350 wood engravings after WATTEAU, VANLOO, RIGAUD, BOUCHER, LANCRET, J. AN ORIGINAL SUBSCRIBER'S COPY, and cost £30 unbound, i.e., $150.

"It is impossible to conceive a work which ought to be more interesting to the present age than that which exhibits before our eyes our 'fathers as they lived,' accompanied with such memorials of their lives and characters as enable us to compare their persons and countenances with their sentiments and actions."—SIR WALTER SCOTT.

"These volumes contain not fewer than 240 portraits by the most celebrated artists, from original paintings in the possession of the nobility and gentry of this country. The plan was admirable, and the execution of it throughout is entitled to equal praise. . . . Such a union of various talents, such a gallery of illustrious dead, was scarcely ever before presented to the public, its colors almost as vivid and sparkling as if the originals occupied the canvas whence their copies were taken."—DIBDIN.

221 LUBKE (Wilhelm). ECCLESIASTICAL ART IN GERMANY during the Middle Ages, translated with Appendix by L. A. WHEATLEY. Illustrated with 184 engravings. Large 8vo, cloth. Edinburgh, 1877

"To all interested in the study of ecclesiastical art, the appearance of this volume will be welcome, both on account of the vast research which it exhibits, and the number and evident utility of the illustrations."

- 222  MABERLY (J.). The Print Collector. An Introduction to the Knowledge of Ancient Prints, with Suggestions as to the Mode of Collecting. Edited with an Introduction and Notes by ROBERT HOE, JR. With illustrations. Thick large 8vo, fresh half crushed levant morocco, top edges gilt. N. Y., 1880

"The book commends itself alone without comment to all collectors and lovers of prints, and it is so wholly without rivals in its comprehensiveness and accuracy that its publication makes it at once a necessary part of every collector's library, while as a history of engraving and kindred arts it is invaluable to all classes of intelligent readers."—N. Y. Evening Post.

EXTRA ILLUSTRATED AND LARGE PAPER COPY OF ROBERT HOE'S EDITION OF MABERLY'S PRINT COLLECTOR.

- 223 MABERLY. THE PRINT COLLECTOR—An Introduction to the Knowledge necessary for forming a Collection of Ancient Prints, with an Appendix containing FIELDING'S Treatise on the Practice of Engraving. Edited with Notes, an Account of Contemporary Etching and Etchers, and a Bibliography of Engraving by ROBERT HOE, JR. Thick 4to. Elegantly bound by R. W. SMITH in full green crushed levant morocco, extra tooled, gilt back, paneled sides in gilt, doublé with red crushed levant morocco, lace-work pointille and dentelle tooled gilt borders, leather joints, top edge gilt, others uncut, and in drop cloth case. N. Y., 1880

UNIQUE AND LARGE PAPER, limited to 50 copies, printed on Whatman's hand-made paper and one copy printed on vellum, of which this is No. 45.

This copy has been enriched by the insertion of upwards of 80 extra illustrations, including fine specimens of almost every style of engraving described in the volume, with some portraits and examples of the work of most of the famous engravers and etchers mentioned.

Among the rare originals will be found the famous "Great Horse" of Albert Durer; "St. Bartholomew," "St. Thomas," "St. Matthew" and "St. Philip," all engraved by Hans Sebald Beham; Allegorical Subject, by Henry Aldegrever; "St. Peter," by Henry Goltzius; "Jesus and the Samaritan Woman," by Rembrandt; Landscape, by John Both; "Dogs," by W. Hollar; "Lady Boyd," by J. McArdell; "Portrait of Raphael Morghen," engraved by himself; "Female Head," etched by Bartolozzi; "The Laughing Audience," by W. Hogarth; also original etchings by Seymour Haden, J. A. M. Whistler, C. Meryon, L. Flameng, C. Jacque, J. Jacquemart, A. Appian, Henry Farrer and a complete proof set of Daubigny's "Voyage de Bateaux."

Where it has been difficult to obtain fine, original impressions of the early Masters, such as Martin Schoen, Albert Durer, Marc Antonio, Lucas Van Leyden, Paul Potter, Claude, Rembrandt, Berghem, Callot, etc., the want has been supplied by the famous reproductions of Armand Durand. These prints, copied from the finest impressions in existence, are of such wonderful fidelity that it is sometimes difficult for even experts to detect a difference between the copy and the original. Among them will be found the world-famed "Knight and Death," "St. George," and "Crest with a Skull," of Albert Durer; "Adam and Eve," "Venus" and "Poetry," of Marc Antonio; "St. Veronica's Veil" and the "Nativity," of Martin Schoen; "Christ and Mary Magdalen," of Lucas Van Leyden; "Burgomaster Six," "Jewish Bride," "The Mill" and the "Beggars," of Rembrandt, etc., etc. The whole forms a valuable, curious and instructive collection which commends itself to all those interested in the beautiful art of engraving.

- 224 MAQUET (Auguste). Paris sous LOUIS XIV.—Monuments et Vues. Numerous illustrations, portraits, views, etc. Large 4to, sewed, uncut.

- 225 MARIE (Adrien). Une Journée d'Enfant Compositions Inédites par ADRIEN MARIE [with English Text]. 20 plates in colored heliogravure of DUJARDIN. Large 4to. Illuminated cloth. N. Y., 1884

Adrien Marie is one of those inordinately successful illustrators whom publishers try to keep at the work of book-decoration, but who are pushed by an invincible impulse towards oil-painting and canvas. The above consists of numerous charming drawings printed in various shades of ink. It has been pronounced by all the press as one of the most delightful records of child-life ever published.

" 'Une Journée d'Enfant' here you see,
In twenty drawings by Marie—
Supremely Skilful.

The clever Artist here unfurls,
The hopes and fears of little girls
Short-frocked and Frillful !

In bed, in bath, at dinner, tea,
At lessons, music, romping, We,
A Baby Beauty clearly see,
Divinely Wilful !"

- 232 MÉNARD (René). L'Art en Alsace-Lorraine. Illustrated with numerous fine etchings on Holland paper, woodcuts and fac-similes. Thick large 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, 1876

The hundreds of illustrations in this handsomely printed and superb work were executed under the direction of Léon Gaucherel.

- 233 MERIAN (Matthew). Florilegium Renovatum et Avctum Variorum Maximeque Rariorum Germinum, Florum ac Plantarum. Engraved front., vignette title and nearly 180 botanical and horticultural plates—with M.S. index at the end. Small folio, boards, uncut.

Frankfort, apud Matthaeum Merianum, 1641

RARE. There were two Matthew Merians, one, the eminent Swiss designer and engraver, married the daughter of Theodore De Bry, and was the instructor of the celebrated Hollar. He died at Frankfort in 1651. Matthew Merian, the younger, is said to have studied painting successively under Sandrart, Rubens and Van Dyck. He was famous for his equestrian portraits and etched a few plates.

- 234 MERIMÉE (Prosper)—ses Portraits, ses Dessins, sa Bibliothèque. Etude par MAURICE TOURNEUX. Portraits on INDIA PAPER, cuts and vignettes. Small 4to, fresh half crushed levant morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut, and with the covers bound in by BRADSTREETS.

Paris, Charavay freres, 1879

LIMITED EDITION, printed on heavy laid paper.

- 235 MEYE (Heinrich). The Stone Sculptures of Copán and Quiriguá. With Historical and Descriptive Text by DR. JULIUS SCHMIDT. Translated from the German by A. D. SAVAGE, late of the New York Metropolitan Museum. With 20 plates drawn by MEYE. Square large folio, fresh half morocco, cloth sides, top edge gilt. N. Y., 1883

Published at twenty dollars. The sculptured monoliths of Copán and Quiriguá, reproduced in the plates, rank indisputably with the most interesting and noteworthy monuments of tropical America. They clearly betray the end for which they were produced—to display, embodied in stone, to the population settled in these regions, and to hand down to after-generations, the religious ideas and traditions which reigned in the spiritual life of these people. The number of places in Central America which at the present day attract attention by the presence of these monolith statues is by no means large—that is, if we look for an assemblage of many such statues on one spot. In most of the better-known collections of ruins, the statues occur singly, or else, as in the case of Santa Lucia Cosumalhualpa, the sculptured figures are represented exclusively by reliefs.

- 236 MEYER (Julius). Geschichte der Modernen Franzosichen Melerei seit, 1789. Profusely illustrated with page wood-engravings. 2 vols. large 8vo, paper, uncut

Leipzig, 1866-67

Jean Mielot, the author of this work, was one of the secretaries of Philip the Good, Duke of Burgundy.

THE LIFE AND ART WORK OF THE FRENCH PAINTER, MILLET.

- 239 MILLET (J. F.). La Vie et l'Œuvre de, par ALFRED SENSIER—Manuscrit publié par PAUL MANTZ, avec de Nombreuses Illustrations. Profusely illustrated with portraits of MILLET, heliogravures and other page illustrations after his works, and numerous others in the text. Large 4to, fresh half crushed red levant morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. Paris, Quantin, 1881

This is a complete biography and thorough account of the art work of the great French painter, Jean François Millet. It is admirably illustrated.

"The late M. Millet, besides being a landscape-painter, was a great figure-painter. In the opinion of many, and those not the admirers of the newest phase of French art, the Courbet-Manet-Corot school, he was the first French painter of his time. Certainly, the French school has never produced an artist with such thorough devotion to nature, or who has so truthfully rendered scenes and emotions of natural life, his works having nothing theatrical or cynical about them."—THEOPHILE GAUTIER.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF MARTIN'S MILTON.

- 240 MILTON. PARADISE LOST. SPLENDID EDITION. Handsomely printed in large type and illustrated with the celebrated series of engravings by JOHN MARTIN. 2 vols. 4to, half morocco gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut (foxed slightly). London, Septimus Prowett, 1827

LARGE PAPER copy, original edition and brilliant impressions of the plates. The finest edition both in illustration and typography of Paradise Lost.

"It may be doubted whether the Creator ever created one altogether so great as Milton, taking into one view at once his manly virtues, his superhuman genius, his zeal for truth, for true piety, for freedom, his eloquence in displaying it, his contempt of personal power, his glory and exultation in his country." —W. S. LANDOR.

- 241 MITCHELL (L. M.) A History of Ancient Sculpture. Numerous fine woodcuts and six plates in phototype. Thick large 8vo, fresh cloth, top edge gilt, others uncut. N. Y., 1883

TOGETHER 6 VOLS. 4to, fresh half red levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut. London, 1883-85

"M. Perrot's name as a classical scholar and archæologist, and M. Chipiez's as a penetrating critic of architecture, stand so high that any work from their pens is sure of a warm welcome from all students of the material remains of antiquity. These volumes are the first instalment of an undertaking which has for its aim the history and critical analysis of that great organic growth which, beginning with the Pharaohs and ending with the Roman Emperors, forms what is called Antique Art."—Preface.

- 265 PERSIUS.—AVLI PERSII FLACCI Satyras Sex ad Fidem Optimarvm Editionvm, etc., edidit G. F. SEBALDVS. Every page of the text and numerous charming illustrations engraved by J. M. SCHMIDT. 8vo, mottled calf gilt, marbled edges. RARE. Nuremberg, 1765
- 266 PICTURESQUE AMERICA, or the Land We Live In, edited by WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT. Numerous engravings on steel and wood by American artists. Parts 1 to 19 inclusive. Large 4to, sewed. N. Y., n. d.
- 267 PICTURESQUE SKETCHES, comprising Architectural Sculpture, Statues, Monuments, Tombs, Fountains, Capitals, Cathedrals, Iron-Work, Details of Ornament, etc. 26 plates. Oblong 4to. Boston, 1885

THE DU BOIS EDITION OF PLUTARCH—LARGE PAPER—WITH DUPLICATE SETS OF INDIA PROOFS OF THE PLATES AND IN TWO STATES.

- 269 PLUTARCH.—VIES DES HOMMES ILLUSTRES DE PLUTARQUE traduites du Grec par D. RICARD. Illustrated with plates and portraits from statues, bas-reliefs, etc.—the plates in TWO STATES ON INDIA PAPER—ONE BEFORE LETTERS—also maps, some colored. 15 vols. in 27 (all with separate titles). Large 8vo, fresh half red morocco (slightly foxed in some vols., etc.) Paris, chez F. Aug. du Bois, éditeur-propriétaire, 1837-41

LARGE PAPER, WITH DOUBLE SET OF INDIA PROOFS as stated above.

Dominic Ricard devoted almost his entire life to his translation and edition of Plutarch. He interpreted this grand old author from the most correct texts, and with an exactitude of historic truth that entirely put into the shade the labors of his predecessors Amyot, Tallemant and Dacier. His version is clear, and reads easily and agreeably.

The beautiful plates and carefully executed maps were taken from the most authentic sources.

- 269* POE. Le Corbeau [The Raven], Poëme, par EDGAR POE. Traduction Française de STÉPHANE MALLARMÉ. Avec illustrations par EDOUARD MANET. Folio, paper. Paris, 1875

No. 102 of an edition limited to 240 copies, each signed, like the above, by the translator and the artist, the celebrated Manet, the leader of the realistic school of painting in France.

- 270 POETISCHER BILDERSCHATZ der Vornhemsten Biblischen Geschichte des Alten und Neuen Testamentes. Illustrated with 300 half-page engravings. 2 vols. in 1. 8vo, marbled calf extra gilt, edges gilt and tooled.

Leipzig, 1758

RARE. Fine old eighteenth century binding, with admirably executed prints and two vignettes on titles.

LIMITED EDITION OF POETS AND ETCHERS—SIGNED PROOFS.

- 271 POETS AND ETCHERS.—Poems by T. B. ALDRICH, W. C. BRYANT, R. W. EMERSON, J. R. LOWELL, H. W. LONGFELLOW and J. G. WHITTIER.—Etchings by A. F. BELLows, SAMUEL COLMAN, HENRY FARRER, R. SWAIN-GIFFORD and J. D. SMILLIE. Square large folio, loose in cloth portfolio, with inside leather joints. Boston, 1882

LIMITED EDITION of fifty impressions, the above being No. 2.

These charming etchings, illustrating the works of our greatest American poets, are all, to the number of twenty, signed by the etchers themselves. They are in cut cardboard mounts and are China paper proofs before letters. The text is illustrated further by a number of vignettes by Smillie, Bellows, Colman, Farrer and Swain-Gifford.

- 272 PORTFOLIO (The). An Artistic Periodical, edited by P. G. HAMERTON. Profusely illustrated with fine large etchings and photogravures. Folio, half morocco, gilt top edge. London, 1876

Probably no fine art periodical has enjoyed so well-deserved a reputation as Hamerton's Portfolio; and as it is now universally conceded that by etchings alone can the colors of painting be presented to the imagination, the earlier portions of this famous periodical will increase in value daily.

LARGEST PAPER COPY OF PUGIN AND HEATH'S PARIS—WITH INDIA PROOFS BEFORE ALL LETTERS.

- 273 PUGIN and HEATH. Paris and its Environs Displayed, with Topographical and Historical Descriptions by L. T. - 274 PUSCHNER (J. G.). Blumen Buch. Nearly 50 plates of flowers. Large 4to, sewed, uncut. n. p., n. d.

RARE. Puschner flourished at Nuremburg from about 1670 to 1720. He is best known as an engraver of portraits.

PYNE'S COSTUME—WITH PLATES COLORED BY HAND.

- 275 PYNE (W. H.). THE COSTUME OF GREAT BRITAIN.
60 fine plates beautifully colored by hand in fac-simile of the original drawings. Folio, half roan, uncut (binding rubbed). London, William Miller, 1808.

An UNUSUALLY FINE copy of this rare and valuable book, of which a very limited number were issued. It was never reprinted on account of the great expense attending its publication. The text was printed at the celebrated Press of W. BULMER, and each print engraved in aquatint on copper, and exquisitely colored by hand in fac-simile of Pyne's very clever and artistic drawings. This artist is well and favorably known as the author of "The Microcosm," a work to which many artists (Turner included), are indebted for the spirited figures in many of their foregrounds. He is also the author of that magnificent publication, "The History of Royal Residences in Great Britain," and many other works issued by the celebrated publisher, Ackermann.

- 276  AFFAELLO (Sanzio). The Book of RAPHAEL'S Cartoons, by R. CATTERMOLE. Portrait, vignette title and fine steel plates engraved by A. W. WARREN. 8vo, cloth gilt, uncut. London, 1845

"The engravings by Warren are gems of themselves."—Monthly Review.

- 277 RAMBOSSON (J.). Les Harmonies du Son et l'Histoire des Instruments de Musique. Illustrated with 200 wood engravings and 5 chromolithographic plates. Thick large 8vo, fresh half morocco gilt, cloth sides, gilt edges.

Paris, Firmin-Didot, 1878

One of the most important works on music published in this century.

RAPIN'S ENGLAND, WITH VERTUE AND HOUBRAKEN'S PLATES.

- 278 RAPIN DE THOYRAS. History of England, translated by TINDAL. Maps and the series of heads and monuments by VERTUE and HOUBRAKEN; also numismatic plates. 5 vols. thick folio, old calf, gilt. London, 1743-47

FINE CLEAN copy, with good impressions of the plates.

"Rapin and Hume are our two great historians. Rapin is important, and always unaffected and laborious—a work which may readily and ought always to be compared with Hume. It is full, valuable, and a sort of substitute in the absence of all other writers. Tindal is not unworthy to be the successor of Rapin; equally diligent and copious, with the same attachment of the best interests of Englishmen, and, like his predecessor, a sort of general substitute in the absence of other writers."—PROFESSOR SMYTH.

- 279 REMBRANDT (Paul). L'Œuvre Complet de REMBRANDT, decrit et commenté par M. CHARLES BLANC. 2 vols. 8vo, fresh half red crushed levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut, by AD. BERTRAND. Paris, n. d.

The best authority on Rembrandt, with a "catalogue raisonné" of all the etchings of the master and of his paintings. There are no illustrations to this issue, the text being left blank in places for the insertion of cuts or etchings.

"Rembrandt van Rhyn holds a distinguished place among the most popular engravers of his country. This extraordinary artist, who owed everything to nature, has established an epoch in engraving more than any other master. He was the inventor of a process, for which he was entirely indebted to his genius, and which has thrown a charm over his prints that is indescribable. His plates are partly etched, frequently much assisted with the dry point, and occasionally, though rarely, finished with the graver. They evince the most extraordinary facility of hand, and display the most consummate intelligence of the effect of light and shadow. His point, playful and free, sports, if the expression may be allowed, in picturesque disorder, and, by an enchanting negligence, produces, as if by accident, the most surprising effects, which are, however, always regulated by his perfect acquaintance with the principles of chiar-oscuro."—BRYAN.

THE PRINCIPIA TYPOGRAPHICA OF S. LEIGH SOTHEYBY.

- 316 SOTHEYBY (S. Leigh). PRINCIPIA TYPOGRAPHICA: the BLOCK-BOOKS, or Xylographic Delineations of Scripture History issued in Holland, Flanders and Germany during THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, exemplified in connection with the Origin of Printing, with Notices on the Paper-Marks of the Period. Illustrated with 120 large engravings, some in colors, in exact similitude of the very rare Original Block-Books. 3 vols. large 4to, half morocco, uncut. London, printed for the Author, 1858

Only 215 copies of this work out of the 250 printed were sold. The remainder were presented to public libraries and otherwise specially reserved, but not for sale.

The above copy has the inserted heraldic book-plate of Major Grylls, and was "collated and bound by Charles Tuckett, Jr., British Museum, 1858." It is but slightly foxed.

One of the most important works ever produced upon the history of early printing, on which it throws great additional light. It contains an extended examination of the various editions of the block-books (or books printed from wooden blocks), the earliest productions of the art, issued in Holland, Flanders, and Germany, such as the Apocalypsis S. Johannis, Biblia Pauperum, Ars Moriendi, Cantica Canticorum, Liber Regum, Temptationes Dæmonum, Ars Memorandi, Endkrizt, Quindecim Signa, De Generatione Christi, Miribilia Romæ, etc.

It is not, however, confined to a history of block-books, for it gives minute accounts, accompanied by exact fac-similes, of some of the most interesting and rare works printed with movable type in the infancy of the art, such as the Donatusis, Doctrinale, Catonis Disticha, Horarium, Facetiæ Morales, Speculum Humanæ Salvationis, Bartolomæus van de Proprietaten der Dinghen, Exhortatio contra Turcos, Literæ Indulgentiarum, etc. An essay upon early paper marks, illustrated by numerous cuts, concludes the work, which contains upwards of 120 plates, many of them colored, and more than 200 engravings on wood.

SPLENDID SPORTING WORK, PUBLISHED BY "THE CENTURY"—WITH JAPAN PROOFS.

- 317 SPORT WITH GUN AND ROD in American Woods and Waters, edited by ALFRED M. MAYER, Professor in the Stevens Institute of Technology. Profusely illustrated with Japan proofs, full-page illustrations and numerous cuts in the text. Thick 4to, cloth, beveled sides, top edge gilt, others uncut. N. Y., The Century Co., 1883

A beautifully printed volume on plate paper from the press of Theo. L. De Vinne.

There are ten charming Japan proofs from the drawings of Mills, Cary, Beard and Trumbull, and engraved by Kingsley, Muller, Whitney, Davidson, etc.

There are nearly 30 page plates after Foote, Gifford, Ward, Beard, Rix, Parrish, etc., and engraved by some of the best modern American engravers, as are the hundreds of other illustrations in the text.

The letter-press is from the pens of Alfred M. Mayer, Charles C. Ward, James Gordon, Rowland E. Robinson, Lew Wallace, George Bird Gunnell, Lord Dunraven, W. M. Laffan, J. Harrison Mills, John Muir, Frederick Schwatka, Barnet Phillips, Edward Seymour, James A. Henshall, Maurice Thompson, A. G. Wilkinson, Francis Endicott, Thaddeus Norris, A. R. Macdonough, Charles Dudley Warner, etc.

- 321 STURT (J.). The Orthodox Communicant. With engraved borders and vignettes to the text, the whole of which is also printed from engraved text. Small 8vo, old calf.

London, 1721

RARE and fine example of an entirely engraved work. With the imprint—"London, engraven and sold by J. Sturt in Golden Lion Court in Aldersgate Street, MDCCXXI." John Sturt is noticed in Spooner as an engraver, whose chief excellence consisted in engraving ornamental letters and scriptural vignettes.

- 322  HACKERAY (William Makepeace). The Mahogany Tree. With 24 illustrations by FRANK T. MERRILL, some on JAPAN PAPER, and mounted on cardboard. Square folio, fresh half morocco, in imitation of mahogany, cloth sides, top edge gilt.

LIMITED JAPANESE PAPER EDITION of 100 copies, of which the above is No. 31.

"The literary history of 'The Mahogany Tree,' like that of happy nations, is exceedingly meagre. It was published anonymously in 'Punch.' The author omitted the second stanza when reprinting it among the first collections of his poems, more wisely restoring it in a later edition."—J. J. ROCHE.

SIGNED ARTIST'S PROOFS OF BARNARD'S "CHARACTER SKETCHES" TO THACKERAY.

- 323 THACKERAY.—Character Sketches from, in six illustrations by FREDERICK BARNARD, ARTIST'S SIGNED PROOFS ON JAPAN PAPER, mounted on cardboard, with heavy plate mats in portfolio, with ties. Square large folio.

EARLY FOURTEENTH CENTURY ANGLO-NORMAN MISSAL ON VELLUM, WITH THIRTEEN MINIATURES AND HUNDREDS OF CAPITALS IN GOLD AND COLORS.

353 MS.—“MISSALE ROMANUM.” A FOURTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT OF EARLY ANGLO-NORMAN EXECUTION AND WRITTEN IN LATIN AND IN BLACK AND RED GOTHIC SCRIPT, ON 90 LEAVES OR 180 PAGES OF VELLUM. With ELEVEN MINIATURES IN CAPITALS and with fine borders illuminated in colors and heightened with gold—and hundreds of small capitals in red, blue and gold—also hundreds of yet smaller capitals in blue, finished with red scroll-work. 4to (eight and three-quarter inches by five and seven-eighths), old calf, paneled gilt, with gold Grolieresque designs in the centre, on wooden boards, gilt edges. SÆC. XIV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT of the early fourteenth century in Latin and on vellum.

This ancient missal is of early English workmanship and is an example of a very rare class of manuscripts. It is in admirable condition, considering its age, over 550 years old.

The painted miniatures are very curious in their details and treatment—the illuminated borders are of chaste conventional Gothic floriation and are heightened with gold—and the hundreds of small capitals scattered throughout the volume are carefully painted and from many of them proceed green foliage. The margins are very broad, measuring nearly three inches at the bottom, one and five-eighths at the fore, and one and a half at the top. On the last page are over twenty lines of ancient English verse, being an address to the Holy Virgin Mother and written about the time of Chaucer.

The first painting is on the first page and is of—"The Annunciation." Like nearly all the other miniatures, the faces and hands of the figures are of a ghastly appearance and the drawing is very crude. Then follow—II., "The Agony in the Garden"—Christ kneels before a chalice with a host therein and three of the disciples are huddled together sleeping; III., "Arrest of Jesus"—the Saviour with hands extended—disciple with sword has just struck off the ear of the high priest's servant; IV., "Christ before Pilate"; V., "Christ bearing the Cross to Calvary"; VI., "The Crucifixion," with the Virgin and St. John at the foot of the Cross; VII., "The Descent from the Cross"; VIII., "Christ being laid in the Tomb"; IX., "The Saviour"—Jesus in blue robe, seated on a rainbow—holds out His hands on which are the stigmata, as on the feet and side—two naked swords point at His head; X., "Burial Scene," three tonsured ecclesiastics in colored copes surround a bier covered with a black pall on which white cross and tears; XI., "All Souls"—this is depicted by two angels lifting up in a white cloth a kneeling corpse entirely nude.

- 354 MS.—PASSIO S. KATHARINÆ VIRGINIS and SERMONES AUGUSTINI DE PASSIONE DOMINI. A FOURTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT IN LATIN ON 43 LEAVES OR 86 PAGES OF VELLUM. With curious page miniature of "the Crucifixion." Minimo (five and three-eighths inches by three and three-quarters), original vellum binding on thick beveled wooden boards, with strap, clasp and brass-hinged catch and pin. SÆC. XIV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT on vellum and of the fourteenth century.

This is a very curious example of German workmanship, and is in its original binding. The ends are from a much earlier MS. The script is Gothic and in black, with occasional rubrications and floriated initials in red. Some pages are wormed. The miniature is in the middle of the volume. It represents "the Crucified Saviour, with an Angel holding a Chalice, into which pours blood from the wounded side of Jesus—on the upper portion of the Cross is INRI, and on each side are the Sun and Moon."

FIFTEENTH CENTURY DEVOTIONAL MSS.

- 355 MS.—LATIN PRAYER BOOK, TO WHICH IS ADDED—"ALTARIS CUM ORATIONIBUS POST MISSAM DICENDIS." Two MANUSCRIPTS IN ONE VOLUME—THE FIRST BEING ON 54 LEAVES OR 108 PAGES OF VELLUM AND GOTHIC SCRIPT—THE OTHER ON 45 LEAVES OR 90 PAGES OF PAPER. With floriated capitals, some in gold and color. Minimo (four and a half inches by three and three-quarters), original pigskin on wooden boards, red edges, with brass clasps. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPTS of the fifteenth century, in Latin and of German origin.

At the end of the vellum MS. is the date 1449, and above is a legend showing that it came from the monastery of St. Afra, probably from the same conventual house of Benedictines that number 372 did. It is in its original binding, which is stamped on the sides with floriated ornamentation, antique heads, etc.

ILLUMINATED MINIATURE OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY, ON VELLUM.

356 MS.—"THE JUDGMENT OF SOLOMON." AN ILLUMINATED MINIATURE ON VELLUM OF THE EARLY PART OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY (measuring five and a half inches by four and an eighth). In passe-partout.

SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MINIATURE on vellum, illuminated in gold and colors and of Flemish origin.

The subject of the painting is "The Judgment of King Solomon." This is surrounded by a floriated border. The "wise king" is seated on his throne. Behind him is a gold and colored hanging, above which is a purple canopy. Solomon is represented with gray hair, moustache and beard. Upon his head is a cup of maintenance with a feather—all blue. His robe is blue, with ermine tippet—his surtout is gold and purple—his legs are in grey trunk hose, and his pointed shoes are of purple. Before him kneeling is an unhappy mother imploring the life of her infant, who, bleeding from the breast, is held in the air by a soldier, about to hew it in two with his upraised sword. There is another soldier in attendance. Both are accoutred and helmeted in medieval armor. In the perspective is dimly seen a landscape and the blue sky.

UNIQUE PAINTING ON VELLUM, WITH NUMEROUS MINIATURES THEREIN.

357 MS.—ORIGINAL SEVENTEENTH CENTURY RELIGIOUS PAINTING ON VELLUM, measuring fifteen and one-eighth inches by ten and five-eighths. Neatly framed.

SÆC. XVII.

UNIQUE AND ORIGINAL PAINTING on vellum of the seventeenth century and of German origin.

This appears to be an art offering from the nuns of a German convent dedicated to St. Walburga to their father confessor, Augustine Troster. The centre figure is allegorical, probably "Religion," holding a medallion portrait of a nun, who is perhaps the Mother Abbess. Above is the "eye of God in a triangle and glory." The medallion is held on the other side by a cherub and below is a shield of arms. Around the archway to the left-hand side are the portraits in medallions of twenty-six nuns, each with a name on the border. Below this arch some buildings are depicted, and probably represent the convent, of which an account is given from A.D. 870 to 1664. At the right hand corner, near the allegorical figure referred to, are three cherubs—one points to the principal medallion, another holds a crosier and a ring, and the third has a painter's palette. At the top of this colored illumination is another medallion of a nun, below which is a coat-of-arms. Three cherubs surround this medallion—one with a crosier, another with a crown, and another with a lily. There are many scriptural mottoes scattered throughout the painting, which is signed—"L. Bodotouf." At the bottom is a two-line presentation inscription:—

"Zur Beständig Thauranden Angevenden offerirt Disz, P. Augustinus Troster Beicht-Vatter ad S. Walburgam."

UNIQUE ILLUMINATED VELLUM AND ORIGINAL MANU-SCRIPT OF THE FOURTEENTH CENTURY OF THE ITALIAN SCHOOL OF PALEOGRAPHY, AND IN SPLENDID CONDITION.

This GRAND VOLUME is the complete and perfect codex of the "Golden Legend" of Jacobus de Voragino. It is most carefully written in double columns of black Gothic script, with a considerable portion of the text, the head lines, subject titles, marginalia, and many initial letters in red. Throughout the manuscript are thousands of capitals in colors, surrounded with delicate pen scroll-work. A large number of these have floriated work springing from them and running into the margins.

There are six large initial letters in gold and colors. These are lovely examples of Gothic decoration. They are interlaced with floriation, not only in the centre and sides of the capitals themselves, but in the entire outer margins of the pages, and in the middle between the double-columned text.

At the commencement of the book are ten prefatory pages. These begin with the names of the saints alphabetically arranged. Then follow short treatises, or directions as to "perfect penance (de perfectione penitentiae)," "the duty of confession," "the ten precepts," "the evil effects of luxury, intemperance, falsehood, voluptuousness," etc. At the end of these ten pages is a sentence beginning "iste liber est," but the remainder has been erased. This doubtless gave the date of execution, the name of the illuminator or that of the owner.

The "Lives of the Saints" then follow and are paginated "I"—"CCCLXXIII." As already stated, they are decorated with one hundred and two miniatures. These are most chaste specimens of mediæval art-work and so beautifully and minutely painted that they will bear favorable inspection under the strongest lenses. Two are slightly rubbed, but hardly worth calling attention to.

On the second page of the text is a fine miniature depicting "the Advent of Christ." On either side of the Saviour are the Virgin and St. John. The Redeemer is in a sitting position, habited in a violet robe, showing on His hands and side the stigmata. Two swords are pointed at His temples. Before Him are two naked figures coming out of the earth. The background is covered with golden decoration.

The rest of the miniatures are equally ornate and each is on a golden ground and measures on an average nearly three square inches—some are still larger. The subjects of these paintings are:—

"St. Andrew with Cross"; "St. Barbara, Palm in Hand, beside a Castle"; "St. Nicholas Mitred, with Crosier"; "St. Ambrose Writing at Desk"; "St. Lucia"; "St. Thomas Pointing at the Wounded Side of the Saviour"; "The Nativity of Jesus"; "St. Stephen"; "St. John Compiling his Gospel"; "Massacre of the Innocents"; "Martyrdom of St. Thomas à Becket"; "Pope Sylvester"; "The Circumcision of Christ," very curious; "Visit of the Magi," six figures; "St. Paul"; "St. Anthony, with Crosier and Pig"; "St. Sebastian"; "St. Agnes"; "St. Vincent, the Martyr"; "Conversion of St. Paul," the saint with heels kicking in the air and on his horse's back; "Martyrdom of St. Julian"; "The Purification of the B. V. M.," five figures; "St. Blaise"; "St. Agatha"; "St. Peter the Apostle," crowned with papal tiara; "St. Matthew"; "Pope Gregory"; "St. Benedict"; "The Annunciation"; "The Crucifixion," five figures; "The Resurrection," four figures; "St. Secundus"; "St. George and the Dragon"; "St. Mary of Egypt"; "St. Peter Martyr" and in the Dominican habit; "St. Philip"; "St. James the Less"; "St. Helena Holding the Cross"; "St. John the Apostle"; "Four Tonsured Ecclesiastics Attended by Cross Bearers, and Chanting the Litanies"; "St. Barnabas"; "St. John the Baptist"; "Martyrdom of St. Peter"; "Martyrdom of St. Paul"; "St. Margaret and Dragon"; "St. Alexis"; "St. Mary Magdalene"; "St. Christina"; "St. James the Great"; "St. Christopher with Infant Christ"; "The Seven Sleepers"; "St. Martha and Dragon"; "St. Peter 'ad vincula'"; "St. Dominick and Dragon"; "St. Laurence with Gridiron"; "the Assumption," large miniature, nearly five inches in height, with fourteen figures therein; "St. Bernard and the Devil"; "St. Bartholomew and Devil"; "St. Augustine with Books and Writing"; "Decollation of St. John the Baptist"; "St. Egidius"; "Nativity of the Virgin," very curious—St. Anne holds the B. V. M. on her knees as a babe, who is nursing a yet smaller Infant Jesus; "St. Adrian"; "St. Matthew Writing his Gospel with Angel in Attendance"; "St. Maurice"; "St. Justina"; "Saints Cosmas and Damian"; "St. Michael the Archangel"; "St. Francis"; "St. Denis Holding his Decapitated Head"; "St. Leonard"; "St. Luke Writing his Gospel"; "St. Ursula and the Eleven Thousand Virgins"; "Saints Simon and Jude"; "St. Eustache"; "Commemoration of the Dead," two surpliced monks and hooded figure standing before a bier; "St. Martin"; "St. Cecilia"; "St. Clement"; "St. Katherine"; "St. Eligis"; "St. Nicasius"; "Martyrdom of St. Jacob"; "St. Louis"; "Balaam and Jehosaphat"; "St. Elisabeth of Hungary"; "St. Clara"; "St. Isidore"; "St. Lazare"; "St. Thomas Aquinas"; "St. Alban"; "St. Boniface"; "Faith, Hope and Charity with the B. V. M."; "St. Walburga"; "St. Bavo"; "St. Nicholas of Toledo"; "St. Lieven"; "St. Donatus"; "St. Victor"; "St. Anthony"; and "St. Antoninus." The last is heraldic, the habit of the saint, the banner in his hand and the caparison of his horse being—"gules, charged with a billet argent."

This wonderful mediæval encyclopedia of hagiology was compiled by the Italian author Giacomo da Varaggio, whose name has been Latinized into "Jacobus de Voragine" and Anglicized into "James of Voraigne." He took this surname from his native town in Northern Italy of Varaggio or Varazzo, a seaport on the Gulf of Genoa, a few miles from Savona, the birthplace of Popes Sextus IV. and Julius II. He was born about A.D. 1230 and died at Genoa on July 14, 1298. He took the Dominican habit and became at an early age the Provincial of his order in Lombardy. This was about 1267. In 1292 he was elected Archbishop of Genoa—"and by his ability, his moderation, and his exemplary life, he played a most influential part in the public affairs of his time, being called more than once into the Councils of the Popes themselves and in affairs of difficulty."

No work was ever more popular than the Archbishop's marvellous production, of which the above is one of the grandest copies in existence. Its original title was—"Historia Lombardica, seu Legenda Sanctorum." The admiration of his contemporaries did not allow it to remain with so comparatively humble a designation and they called it the "Legenda Aurea," Anglice "The Golden Legend," which it has ever since been styled. Timperley writes:—"The 'Lives of the Saints' were denominated 'Legends' from being steadily read in the churches, and this compilation received the epithet GOLDEN, from its extraordinary popularity, or the supposed value of its contents. The library of no monastery was without it. Every private person who was able purchased it; and for a long time after the invention of printing, no work was more frequently issued from the press. It was written by Jacobus de Voragine, a Dominican friar and Archbishop of Genoa, who died in the year 1298."

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow in the notes to his "Golden Legend," wherein are stated his reasons for taking that name as the title of one of his most delightful poems, said:—"He (the Archbishop) called his book simply 'Legends of the Saints,' the epithet of Golden was given it by his admirers; for as Wynkyn de Worde says—'Like as passeth gold in value all other books, so this Legend exceedeth all other books.' But Edward Leigh, in much distress of mind, calls it—'a book written by a man of leaden heart for the baseness of the errors, that are without wit or reason, and of a brazen forehead, for his impudent boldness in reporting things so fabulous and incredible.'"

"This work, the great text book of the legendary lore of the Middle Ages, was translated into French in the fourteenth century by Jean de Vignay, and in the fifteenth into English by William Caxton."

The text of the "Golden Legend" consists, as we learn from another authority, of a hundred and seventy-seven sections, each of which is devoted to a particular saint or festival, selected according to the order of the calendar in its execution. The work, as may well be supposed from its age, is far from critical, but it is deserving of study as a literary monument of the period, and as illustrating the religious habits and views of the Christians of that time. It presents a very different phase of the mediæval mind from that which is exhibited in the acute and severely philosophical lucubrations of the schools; but both must be read together in order to make up the intellectual ideal of the time.

Some of the most important hagiologies have been based upon that of Archbishop de Voragine, such as "The Lives of the Saints" of Nadal, Ribadeneira, Bollandus and Alban Butler.

In the works of Quetif and Echard, Isaac Disraeli, Timperley and Brunet will be found much information concerning the "Golden Legend." Over a hundred printed editions have been issued since the invention of typography. The first was a Black Letter in Latin printed according to Panzer about 1470—others followed in rapid succession from the types of Gering, Zainer, de Hoemborch, Sensenschmidt, Arnold, Paffræt, etc.—the last published being the Paris edition of 1843 in two volumes, translated by Gustave Brunet. The first French translation was printed at Lyons in 1476 by John Batallier; the first Italian at Venice in 1476 by Nicholas Jenson; the first Dutch at Delft in 1472; the first Bohemian at Pilsen circa 1475–1479; and the first English at Westminster in 1483—"by me Wyllyam Caxton."

The copy of the "Golden Legend" described above can hardly be equalled in the elegance of the miniatures, the freshness of the vellum, and the legibility of script by any other manuscript codex of Archbishop de Voraigue's work in existence. Although examples in manuscript of the "Legenda Aurea" may not be quite as rare as "hen's teeth," but few are known, among these being one bequeathed in 1449 by Walter, Lord Hungerford, to Lady Margaret, wife of Sir Robert Hungerford, his son—"my best 'Legend of the Lives of the Saints' in French, and covered with red cloth"—and yet another—a magnificent original manuscript of the "Golden Legend" sold to the Duke of Norfolk in 1803 and claimed to have been—"near five hundred years old," to have been executed for the Queen of Philip de Valois and was described as being—"an immense folio volume, perhaps the most curious of the kind in the world, every leaf of the finest vellum, all the capital letters illuminated in gold and rich colors, with upwards of two hundred miniatures of the different saints, etc."

A description that tallies somewhat with the codex now under consideration, which if not illuminated for a Queen of France must have been executed—on account of ITS GORGEOUS ART-WORK and BEAUTIFUL MINIATURES—for a member of one of the great reigning houses of Europe in the Moyen-Age—possibly for a Visconti or for a De Medici.

UNIQUE, SPLENDID and ORIGINAL EARLY FRENCH TROUVÈRE MANUSCRIPT of the fourteenth century on vellum and illuminated in gold and colors.

This relic of the beginnings of the poetry of France, which culminated in a Voltaire and a Hugo, should be of deep and absorbing interest to students of literature. It is one of the few works left to posterity of the writings of the celebrated Jehan de Meung (Meun or Mehun), otherwise known as "Clopinel" or "le Boiteux," one of the authors of the "Romaunt of the Rose," commenced by Guillaume de Lorris, and which later became an early English classic through the genius of Geoffrey Chaucer.

It is in beautiful condition. The vellum is almost as white as driven snow. The script, over five centuries old, is so clear that it can, although in old French, be read with ease by a lower-class public school boy. The colored initials, to the number of over a hundred, are as brilliant and bright with gold as if painted twenty-four hours ago.

And the reliure is one of the handsomest modern French bibliopegists can offer as a chef-d'œuvre.

The author of this ancient manuscript was Jehan de Meung, the French trouvère, who was born at Meung-sur-Loire in the thirteenth century, and died in Paris about 1318. This scion of a rich and distinguished family received as profound an education as his time afforded. In the words of a chronicler anent De Meung we learn that he was:—"Solemnel, maistre et docteur en sainte théologie, philosophie trèsparfont, sachant tout ce qui a entendement humain et scible." He was the friend of Dante, whom he met in Paris. But his principal title to fame rests upon the fact of his having completed that grand mediæval work, the "Roman de la Rose," begun by De Lorris, and in the thousands of verses which he added thereto Jehan De Meung not only kept to the spirit of the original, but added to that delicate allegory, keen satire of the most subtle character.

Several other works of his were printed in the early portion of the sixteenth century—for details of which the reader is referred to the third volume of Brunet. Among these are the "Miroir d'Alchymie," "le Dodechedron de Fortune," "les Loys de Trepassez avecques le pelerinage maistre Jean de Meung," "la Forest de Tristesse," "le Codicille et Testament de maistre Jeha. de Meun" and "les Sept Articles de la Foy et les Proverbes dorez selon Maistre Jean de Meung."

The "Codicil and Testament" were printed at the end of the "Roman de la Rose" in the three editions of 1735, of "l'an VII." and of 1810. The "Seven Articles of the Faith and the Golden Proverbs according to Maistre Jehan de Meung" were also reprinted under the designation of "Tresor" in the edition of the "Roman de la Rose" of "Meun," and in the editions of 1735 and "l'an VII." under the title of the "Testament de Jehan de Meung."

The engraving illustrative of the beautiful reliure on the above manuscript has been presented in this catalogue owing to the kindness of Howard Lockwood and Co., publishers of "The American Book Maker," who have loaned the electrotype. A most valuable series of articles on "Bookbinding as an Art and Industry," from the pen of Ingersoll Lockwood, Esq., author, lawyer and Titan, have been appearing for some time past in that very live magazine. The numbers for February, March and April, 1887, each contained illustrations of specimens of book-binding in the Pene du Bois library. Writing up the "Jehan de Meung," as an example of Petit's binding, Ingersoll Lockwood says in the April "American Book Maker":—

"The peculiar excellence of modern French tooling must be sought for in its brilliancy, accuracy and evenness, both as to balance and depth. No matter how mathematically accurate and how brilliant a pattern may be in its general execution, if, upon a close and critical examination of the work, the eye can detect unevenness in the depth of the work, the binding sinks into the category of mediocrity. So, too, a piece of fine tooling loses much of its charm when worked upon poorly made and ill-jointed covers which are either too stiff to open with any ease, or when opened betray a lack of alignment and solidity, without which no book may be said to be well bound. That some of the French binders in their striving for rich and elegant exteriors fell short of necessary mechanical excellence is undeniable. Capé, now deceased, was one of these. His rich and graceful toolings often decorate books which are woefully lacking in strength and solidity. And the same criticism may with justice be made of other famous names.

"But in one respect modern French binders stand upon a vantage-ground which is literally unassailable. They do not attempt to spread upon book-covers any of the exaggerated, ridiculous or fantastic shapes and figures which the 'popular tastes' of the day are so pleased to see stamped upon book exteriors. They turn with ever-increasing reverence and admiration to the works of the old masters, Maioli, Grolier, the Eves, Le Gascon, Derôme, etc., for styles, designs and leading motives.

"To these illustrious predecessors, Capé, Marius-Michel, Petit, Trautz, Lortic, Niedrée, Pagnant, Riviere, Smeers, Thibaron-Joly, Chambolle-Duru, etc., turned, or still turn, for their patterns and designs, just as the truly great littérateurs of modern times have followed the safe lead of great masters in the classic ages. In our times, however—and so, too, it happened in the days of the Maioli and Grolier—the real artist, whose trained eye and skillful hand works out the beautiful design which glows upon the cover, is utterly unknown to the general public. The famous firm-style or name of the business house swallows up every individuality and personality under its guidance. This is probably unavoidable; at any rate, the collector and amateur rarely take thought of any one save the name of the house of which the covers bear the imprint.

"The cut [i. e., of Mr. Pene du Bois's "Jehan de Meung"] on this page represents a Petit gold tooling upon blue levant of very delicate workmanship. The student will perceive that in this piece of work, Petit, instead of attempting to invent something new and startling, preferred to follow the footsteps of one of the older masters in book decoration, namely, Derôme. This pattern may be called a Derôme dentelle border. Naturally, the camera gives only a faint rendering of the effect of this beautiful piece of tooling. The double is of red levant, likewise richly tooled."

THE GLORIOUS "FIRMIN-DIDOT HOURS," OR PERHAPS, MORE CORRECTLY, KING CHARLES THE SIXTH'S—DECORATED WITH FORTY-THREE MINIATURES AND NEARLY THREE HUNDRED AND FORTY ILLUMINATED BORDERS, ALL HEIGHTENED WITH GOLD—ALSO THOUSANDS OF ILLUMINATED SENTENCE FINIALS AND CAPITALS.

361 MS.—"HEURES DE LA SAINTE VIERGE." A MAGNIFICENT MANUSCRIPT IN LATIN, WITH CALENDAR IN OLD FRENCH ON 169 LEAVES OR 338 PAGES OF SPLENDID VELLUM IN BLACK GOTHIC SCRIPT, WITH OCCASIONAL PASSAGES IN RED. With 19 PAGE MINIATURES, EXQUISITELY PAINTED with brilliant COLORATION HEIGHTENED WITH GOLD, each with charming capitals and four-sided borders similarly illuminated—24 SMALLER MINIATURES, illustrating the calendar, and of DELIGHTFUL EXECUTION, with borders in gold and colors—304 illuminated pages, other than the above named, EACH WITH BORDER ON THREE SIDES OF THE TEXT—three blank pages—and THOUSANDS OF ILLUMINATED CAPITALS and sentence finials, all highly decorated and heightened with burnished gold. Thick small 4to (eight inches tall by five and a half wide), olive velvet, with gilt edges. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE and regal manuscript of the most splendid character, executed on vellum by a French scribe, and illuminated by miniaturists in the first quarter of the Fifteenth Century, and most probably for King Charles the Sixth of France.

This loveliest of Hours of the "B. V. M." was one of the medieval art features of the famous Firmin-Didot collection at Paris. It was the property of one of the greatest of modern bibliophiles, and his red and gold library stamp will be found on one of the ends, of which "A la Bible d'or, 1698-1850, Bibliothèque Ambrosii Firmin-Didot" is the legend thereon, between the Greek and Latin mottoes on the pages of an open book, between six other tomes. It was protected at the Firmin-Didot sale and bought in by the Veuve Didot, but who afterwards privately disposed of it.

First, as to the borders. To form an idea of the enormous labor expended upon the decoration of the text of this missal, it can be easily shown that the volume contains nearly 10,000 INCHES or some 900 FEET OF ILLUMINATED BORDER, HEIGHTENED WITH GOLD! Every page of the 335, with script thereon, has a border averaging an inch and a half in width. These 335 borders on the pages, with simple text only, are on three sides thereof—those with miniatures have them on all four sides. This precious volume must have taken years and years to complete—for outside of the miniature paintings there are many thousands of capital letters and sentence finials, all of which, when held against the light, blaze with an iridescent glow from the highly burnished gold, standing up solidly on every page from the mass of beauteous colored decoration.

The rich ornamentation of the borders are very striking. As in almost all the French manuscripts of the beginning of the Fifteenth Century, the decorative principle in MSS. of the Fourteenth Century, consisting of gilded conventional Gothic foliage, are here found with new designs added thereto, introducing actual flora and fauna, with birds like the peacock, the parrot, and others of varied hues. The text, on most of the pages, is separated from the outside border by a listel or fillet, of a golden ground, with small colored ornaments. In the pages with miniatures these listels are developed into a second border which encloses text and painting on three sides.

The nineteen large miniatures are square in shape on the three lower sides—and semi-arched above. Their breadth is uniform, but the height varies. Some of these paintings are by a different hand. Others are particularly noticeable, as showing incontestably the influence of Flemish upon early French art. The 24 smaller miniatures are in the calendar, which is written in old French. It takes up the first twelve leaves. The script thereof is gold, azure and carmine—the numerals are of pure gold. The small miniatures which decorate the calendar are placed in pairs on the recto of each leaf, those at the bottom are of a circular form, and represent the signs of the Zodiac. Those laterally are of a rectangular shape and have for their subjects scenes depicting rural occupations proper to each month, or the recreations of a country life.

It must not be forgotten, in examining this manuscript, that it is over 450 years old, and that the almost miraculous condition and brilliancy of the miniatures and borders are due to the fact that its scribe and painters worked for all time and for the glory of their religion, and not for mere pelf. Their materials and application of them are now nearly a lost art. Hence every page is the best that genius and faithful toil could produce—and but two of the borders, which are slightly rubbed, show aught of either age or use. The volume itself was rebound a century or two ago. When this was done, some of the leaves with miniatures were partially remounted and carefully grafted on to new vellum at the inner margins in order to give greater durability and safety while binding.

A noteworthy feature of the miniatures is the landscapes and occasional architectural details which fill up the backgrounds of even the smaller ones as well as the larger.

The Zodiacal miniatures are not quite the orthodox or conventional ones. January's water-carrier is nude, and while running, upsets the contents of his pitcher. The fishes of February are so large that they each take up a bay. March has a ram which is very lamb-like. April's bull is pawing the ground.

The gemini of May are represented by a blue habited virgin, whose head is decorated with a tall pointed head-dress, and whose arms are tightly lashed around the neck of a callow medieval youth, who seems to rather like it, although astonished. June's boiled lobster is gilded. The lion of July has been starved and looks hungry. The virgin of August holds a palm branch, and has golden hair. September's scales are held unevenly balanced by a handsome woman, whose eyes are not blindfolded. October shows that the medieval artist knew little about scorpions—he has depicted an amphibian more like a crocodile. The "sagittarius" of November is half lion and half medieval archer, and is habited in blue, with a red and brown peaked cap. December's big goat has a fleece as white as snow.

The miniatures on the right-hand side of the different months in the calendar give us an insight into the occupations and costumes of the farmer and peasant of the Middle Ages. They are similar to those depicted in the works of Paul Lacroix on this period, and which were taken from missals. These painted miniatures are as follows:—January, a husbandman seated at table, and his wife or daughter, with tall pointed head-dress, bringing in a dish; February, a stout rustic, seated and blowing up the fire in an open grate with a pair of bellows, while his wife toys with his hair; March, a gardener and female planting; April, the chase, a hunter blowing a horn and accompanied by youthful attendant, habited in red with black cap; May, a male and female riding pillion; June, a laborer mowing, and woman to the left with a pitcher on her head, a basket in one hand and a jug in the other; July, a husbandman reaping and a seated female tying up the sheaves; August, thrashing the grain; September, one farmer sowing—another ploughing; October, treading the vintage; November, husbandman and wife gathering fruit; December, farmer killing a pig with an axe, his wife looking on and holding dish.

The larger miniatures will be now described:—I., "Salvator Mundi"—this is a wonderful piece of portrait painting, three-quarter figure—the eyes blue and features most expressive—the hair dark—the beard and moustache lighter—tunic blue, over which is a red cope with gold border—one hand gives benediction—other holds a crystal orb surmounted by a gold cross—the border to this miniature is very fine, with peacock, two birds with variegated plumes, strawberries and other fruit, foliage and flowers; II., "St. John at Patmos"—the saint, with golden hair, in blue and red habit, holds an open book—beside him an eagle on a barrel holding bunch of palms—the two figures take up nearly the whole of Patmos—to the fore on the mainland is the devil dancing in impotent rage—in the sky an angel—other islands in the distance—two, with cities surrounded by fortified walls; III., "St. Luke"—he is painting the Virgin's portrait, which is on an easel—features of saint very fine—to the fore a winged bull holding label "S. Lucas"; IV., "St. Matthew"—the Evangelist is seated under a canopy attached to what is apparently a monastic house—on his knees an open book, and is in the act of dipping his pen into an inkstand held by a white-robed, blue-winged angel in attendance—architectural details and lineaments of figures most excellent; V., "St. Mark"—like the preceding, St. Mark is engaged in the compilation of his gospel—he is seated within doors beneath a crimson and gold canopy, although side of house entirely open, there is a ruddy fire in the grate—in the foreground the symbolical winged lion; VI., "Madonna and Child"—B. V. M., clad in blue robe and golden-haired, seated reading under a crimson and green tent, the front of which is held up by two angels—in the foreground the Infant Saviour led in a walking machine by an angel—another angel engaged in preparing food for the Holy Child, in a saucepan over a fire on the ground; VII., "the Visitation"—St. Elizabeth with white coif, hands clasped, genuflects before the Virgin, who has a large nimbus around her golden hair and is clad in blue and gold—behind them two female figures, one with box on head, the other a basket, both hold domestic objects on staff upon their shoulders—landscape of medieval castle and town; VIII., "the Crucifixion"—Christ with stigmata on the cross, two thieves on each side, but with their arms tied over the cross-pieces —soldier in act of piercing the Saviour's side—to the left group of holy women, to the right soldiers in medieval costume; IX., "Descent of the Holy Ghost"—B. V. M. seated in midst of Apostles—the faces gems of miniature painting and most lifelike; X., "the Annunciation"—Virgin kneeling reading, habited in blue and gold with ermine lining—angel with red cope, blue and gold border and blue and gold wings, holds legend "Ave Gracia Plena Dns. tecum," both figures within quadrangle of chateau, displaying on turrets numerous small shields of the royal arms of France, three golden fleurs-de-lys on a blue ground—sun dial on tower—God the Father surrounded by angels in the heavens—capital "D" with peacock in glory and border with strawberries, pheasant, green parrot, peacock, etc., very fine; XI., "Coronation of the Virgin"—Christ with white peaked hat on throne, holding crystal orb—Virgin kneeling before Him attended by angel who holds her blue and gold mantle—three angels with legends and crown above the figures—four angels entirely red in the foreground, all the figures in separate blue firmaments with stars; XII., "Flight into Egypt"—Virgin and child on mule—St. Joseph leading—female attendant with basket on head and staff on shoulder following—handsome architectural background; XIII., "David"—the Psalmist seated within castle court—shield with royal arms of France over gateway; XIV., "the Nativity"—Infant Saviour on the ground connected with golden rays emanating from God the Father in the heavens—Virgin and St. Joseph kneeling—mule with curious expression; XV., "Angel appearing to Shepherds"—one shepherd with hands clasped kneeling, another drinking water from well—in the foreground golden-haired Virgin holding lamb; XVI., "the Presentation in the Temple"—Virgin kneeling and five figures, including high priest, surrounding the altar, on which is the Infant Christ—the background chancel of the Cathedral of Notre Dame of Paris, across which is a blue and gold hanging, on which are the golden lilies of France—male figure to the foreground, evidently a likeness of King Charles the Sixth of France, and his foot rests upon a brass, showing inscription, coats-of-arms and effigy on tessellated floor; XVII., "Visit of the Wise Men"—Virgin seated on richly decorated bed with canopy, one of the magi kneeling, the other two, both crowned, standing, the one to the left in blue doublet pink hose and cod-piece, and pointed black shoes; XVIII., "a Funeral Scene"—four pall-bearers carrying bier with blue pall—four black-robed figures carrying candles on which are shields "argent a bend gules charged with five billets"—other figures, including priests, also architectural details, very fine; XIX., "Pontifical High Mass"—the Pope kneeling offering the chalice—has nimbus around his tonsured head, and gold chasuble with black designs—two tonsured cardinals in attendance, both are kneeling, one holding tiara and the other a pontifical cross—the Saviour, with stigmata and surrounded by the emblems of the Passion, appears in a vision over the altar—in the middle centre are four spirit heads in blue and gold nebulous glory.

The lengthy description of these miniatures is not unwarranted. They are as carefully and minutely executed as in any medieval missal extant. They can only be seen under a magnifying glass to be appreciated, words almost failing to express their beauty and microscopical workmanship.

This entrancingly lovely "Horæ" has been called at the head of this description, the "Firmin-Didot Hours." It should be more properly styled the "Hours of King Charles the Sixth of France, surnamed the "Well-Beloved." Not only is this clearly possible on account of the period of its execution, but by two separate facts—First, that monarch's portrait given in the sixteenth miniature above described, and—Secondly, that many of the miniatures have blended in their composition, shields charged with the royal arms of France. King Charles the Sixth, whose wife was Isabella of Bavaria, reigned on the French throne from 1380 to 1422, and this missal was illuminated before the last named date.

It is, nevertheless, a regal manuscript, whether executed for a King of France or not, it having for its motif the rendering of the highest artistic genius and loftiest religious reverence to the "Regina Cœlorum." It is the "Hours of the Queen of Heaven."

SPLENDID FIFTEENTH CENTURY "HOURS" OF FLEMISH EXECUTION, WITH THIRTY MINIATURES, AND HUNDREDS OF CAPITALS—ALL IN GOLD AND COLORS.

362 M.S.—"HORÆ BEATÆ MARIÆ VIRGINIS, CUM CALENDARIO." A FIFTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM "HOURS" IN LATIN, WITH THE CALENDAR IN OLD FRENCH AND OF FLEMISH WORKMANSHIP ON 160 LEAVES OR 320 PAGES OF GOTHIC SCRIPT IN BLACK. Highly ornamented with 15 large miniatures with capitals and borders in colors heightened with gold—15 smaller and similar—and hundreds of smaller capitals and sentence finials in gold and colors. Small 4to (six and seven-eighths inches by four and five-eighths), dark blue morocco gilt tooled—the ends doublé with morocco of the same color and somewhat similarly tooled, the edges gilt and lettered on the back—"Heures—M. S. Sup. Perg. Sæc. XV." SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FIFTEENTH CENTURY "HEURES" ON VELLUM, and the text executed by a Flemish scribe in Latin and French.

This is a beautiful missal. The colors are most delicately painted upon the vellum, which is thin and of superior quality. The gold is highly burnished and the margins measure an inch and a half to two and one-eighth inches in width. The Calendar is peculiarly rich in color and the gold stands out in shining relief from every number or day of the month and from many of the saints' names, which are altogether in metal. Two of the miniatures are very slightly rubbed and the last page a little holed. The borders are particularly delightful. They represent fruit, flowers and conventional Gothic foliage. Some are worked up into geometrical ornamentations, squares, triangles, etc., into which are blended the brilliantly painted floriations.

The miniatures, as stated, are thirty in number. Nearly all have charming landscapes for their backgrounds. The gold on the habits of the personages shown is very lightly and chastely put on. The subjects are of:—I., "St. John Writing with Eagle in Attendance"; II., "St. Luke Compiling his Gospel"; III., "St. Matthew, with Angel"; IV., "St. Mark Reading his Gospel, with Lion"; V., "Madonna and Child, with Angels"; VI., "Virgin and Dead Christ"; VII., "The Annunciation," angel with fleurs-de-lys wand and dalmatic of crimson and gold—the Holy Ghost fluttering above; VIII., "The Visitation"; IX., "The Nativity"; X., "Angel appearing to the Shepherds"; XI., "The Adoration of the Wise Men"; XII., "The Presentation in the Temple"; XIII., "The Flight into Egypt"; XIV., "The Coronation of the Virgin"; XV., "King David before an Altar"; XVI., "The Crucifixion"; XVII., "The Descent of the Holy Ghost"; XVIII., "Job and his Friends"; XIX., "The Madonna and Child"—Virgin crowned seated on dais—the Infant Christ on her knee listening to the music of two angels, one of whom has a harp, the other a mandolin; XX., "The Trinity"—God the Father, with triple tiara and orb in one hand, and other resting on open book, which Jesus also aids in holding—the Dove between them; XXI., "St. Michael slaying the Dragon"; XXII., "St. John the Baptist"; XXIII., "St. James Reading"; XXIV., "St. Christopher and Infant Christ"; XXV., "Martyrdom of St. Sebastian"; XXVI., "St. Nicholas"; XXVII., "St. Katherine"; XXVIII., "St. Barbara"; XXIX., "St. Margaret and Dragon"; XXX., "St. Genevieve."

It is impossible to find a missal more exquisitely finished in the delineation of the faces depicted in its miniatures than the above. All the subjects are minutely, almost microscopically finished, and the work is of such a high order, particularly in the landscapes, visages and shading, that they can only have been executed by one of the great Flemish masters, perchance by the inventor of painting in oil-colors—JOHN VAN EYCK!

HANDSOME MISSAL IN DUTCH AND OF THE FIFTEENTH CENTURY—WITH BEAUTIFULLY ILLUMINATED MINIATURES, BORDERS AND CAPITALS ON VELLUM.

- 363 MS.—"GETYDENBOEK, MET KALENDER." A FIFTEENTH CENTURY MISSAL IN THE DUTCH LANGUAGE, AND CONSISTING OF 191 LEAVES OR 382 PAGES OF VELLUM IN BLACK GOTHIC SCRIPT, with occasional rubrications, and with FIVE LARGE PAINTED MINIATURES and borders, illuminated in colors and heightened with gold—and 37 capitals in gold and colors with floriated borders. Small 4to, (six and one-eighth inches by four and three-eighths). In original calf binding, blind tooled, rounded corners, on wooden boards and rebacked with morocco, two brass clasps. SEC. XV.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MISSAL, or "Hours," in Dutch, on vellum.

This is an admirable example of medieval illumination executed in the Low Countries at the beginning of the Fifteenth Century. The vellum is of good quality, and the script is plain and bold, although not large. The margins measure an inch and a half to two inches in width.

All the miniatures have backgrounds of burnished and heavy gold. The first, immediately following the Calendar, which is perfect, represents "the Annunciation." The B. V. M., golden haired and with nimbus, is clad in a red habit, over which is thrown a blue cloak. She is kneeling before a pre-dieu, on which is a book of devotions. An angel in blue and pink habit, with red and blue wings and with golden hair, holds a scroll with the legend—"Ave gratia plena dominus tecum." The ground is gold, to the right is a red curtain and the floor is tessellated. Around the miniature is blue and green foliage, heightened with gold.

"Christ holding an Orb in One Hand and with the Other giving a Benediction," is the subject of the second miniature. The Saviour is depicted with golden hair, and is habited in a pink robe. Two of His fingers are upraised. The background is of heavy gold and the foreground is green. It has similarly floriated borders to the preceding described painting.

"The Descent of the Holy Ghost" is the third miniature. The Virgin is habited in blue, and upon the nimbussed heads of the Apostles are tongues of fire. The background is gold, the foreground is tessellated and the borders are floriated.

The fourth miniature represents "the Psalmist." His hair and beard are white—he is habited in pink, with a blue cloak, the lining of which is of ermine. His harp is before him. To the right of the golden background God the Father appears in a cloud—the foreground is green, the borders are of gold and colors.

The last miniature shows—"God the Father Holding in a Cloth Three Nude Figures." He is habited in red and blue. The chair upon which He is seated, and the general appearance of His white hair and beard, give the Creator a wonderful likeness to the figure of the Roman Jupiter.

The thirty-seven large capitals are very beautifully executed in colors and gold—the borders are very chaste and of a simple character of decorative treatment. The text is complete, and it is not certain but there may have been another miniature before the page commencing—"Hier beghint die lange cruys."

As an example of early Dutch illumination it is hardly possible to desire a more excellent specimen, and it is in astonishingly good condition. The religious wars after the Reformation make ensamples of Holland workmanship of great rarity.

EARLY FIFTEENTH CENTURY HOURS OF FRENCH
WORKMANSHIP ON VELLUM, WITH TEN MINIA-TURES.

364 MS.—"HEURES DE LA SAINTE VIERGE." A FIFTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT ON 125 LEAVES OR 250 PAGES OF VELLUM AND IN GOTHIC SCRIPT. With 10 miniatures, capitals and borders, forming full-page illuminations in colors heightened with gold and hundreds of capitals in gold and colors. Small 4to (six and three-eighths inches by four and seven-eighths), handsomely bound by R. W. SMITH in crushed red turkey morocco elegant, handsomely tooled back and corners, broad inside leather borders, tooled with gold, leather joints, edges gilt. SÆC. XV.

UNIQUE Original Fifteenth Century Missal on vellum, with Latin text and calendar, complete and in old French.

This very handsome manuscript is written in a bold Gothic type. The very large number of small capitals and sentence finials, to the number of over a thousand are superbly executed in blue and pink, finished with burnished gold. A few pages are rubbed or have erased later script in some margins, one page is holed and two leaves are lacking, otherwise the MS. is a perfect gem of medieval workmanship. The margins to the text measure two inches to an inch and a half in width.

The miniatures are delightfully painted—the features of the various personages depicted being very minutely and carefully executed. The missal exhibits all the scrupulous care and patient detail so peculiar to the French MSS. of the period of its production. The borders are charmingly finished with fruits and flowers. These are very choice, and are conjoined to a conventional Gothic foliage.

The miniatures represent:—"The Annunciation," the Virgin is in her bedroom seated with an open book on her knees—the angel, golden-haired, red and blue winged, kneels and holds in one hand a staff, at the top of which is a fleur-de-lys; "The Visitation"—St. Elizabeth kneels before the Virgin—each is crowned with a nimbus—on one side is a dwelling-house—on the other a mountain—in the distance is a landscape ending with a castle terminating the perspective; "The Nativity"—St. Joseph and the Virgin kneeling beside the newly born Saviour—two animals in the rear of the stable, which is open at the sides, in the distance being a landscape; "The Angel appearing to the Shepherds"—two shepherds kneeling, one points to an angel in the sky, who holds a label with the motto: "Et in terra"—behind them is a green-clad mount—and in the distance two mountains, both with buildings at their summits; "The Flight into Egypt"; "God the Father crowning the Virgin," both seated on a dais—the decoration behind is of fleurs-de-lys on a purple ground; "The Crucifixion," the Christ with the blood pouring from His side—Centurion cap-à-pie pointing with one finger at the Saviour—one hand holds a curious shield, formed of a human face; "Descent of the Holy Ghost"; "The Psalmist," kneeling, habited in blue, with ermine tippet, and crown on head—a landscape in the distance; "Job"—three of his neighbors are commiserating the lot of the holy prophet, who has his arms crossed over his naked body, the sores on which are being tormented by worms, and below the middle, he is buried in a dung-hill.

THE CELEBRATION OF THE MASS—AN EARLY SIXTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM SPECIMEN.

- 365 MS.—“PRÆPARATIO AD CELEBRATIONEM MISSÆ,” ETC. A LATIN MANUSCRIPT IN ROMAN SCRIPT ON 38 LEAVES OR 76 PAGES OF VELLUM. With rubrications. Oblong minimo (three and a quarter inches by four and five-eighths), stamped leather, rebacked. SÆC. XVI.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL EARLY SIXTEENTH Century manuscript on vellum. This minimo MS., which is well used, is in its original binding of stamped leather. On the front cover are the letters “E. V.,” and on the back the date “1618.”

UNIQUE AND MAGNIFICENT COPY OF THE “HOURS OF THE B. V. M.” OF GILLET AND GERMAIN HARDOUYN ON VELLUM AND ILLUMINATED BY HAND.

- 366 Illuminated Black Letter.—“HEURES A LUSAIGE DE ROME TOUT AU LONG SAS. RIENS REQUERIR AUEC LES FIGURES DE LAPOCALIPSE.” A SUPERB “HOURS” PRINTED IN BLACK LETTER ON 116 LEAVES OR 232 PAGES OF VELLUM. With 18 page miniatures, colored by hand and heightened with gold—28 smaller miniatures—one half page—woodcut borders around every page—and hundreds of small capitals and finials to text in gold and colors. Octavo (eight and one-eighth inches by five and one-eighth). Old black calf gilt, with Grolieresque designs of interlaced ornamentation in gold. PARIS, SÆC. XV. [1499] UNIQUE MAGNIFICENT PERFECT EXAMPLE OF VERY EARLY BLACK LETTER and printed “Hours of the Blessed Virgin” on vellum illuminated by hand.

The colophon reads that this splendid “Horæ” was:—“Imprimees a Paris par GUILLAUME ANABAT Imprimeur demourant en la Rue Saint Jeha. de beauluais a leseigne des Louis pres les grandes escolles de decret pour GILLET HARDOUYN Libraire demourat. au bout du pont au change a lenseigne de la Rose et pour GERMAN HARDOUYN Libraire demourant deuat le Palais entre les deux portes a lymaige sainte Marguerite. Tout pour le mieulx.”

The text is almost entirely in Latin, with the exception of a portion of the Calendar, some prayers and litany at the end, etc., in old French. The calendar commences 1500 and ends 1520—the date of imprint can be therefore assigned to 1499.

The strangest feature in this “Hours” is the woodcut on the first page, of which the title, consisting of three lines, occupies but a small space at the bottom of the page. This illustration, which is illuminated in gold and colors, any one not acquainted with the details of ancient bibliography would take for the frontispiece. It is, however, only the Hardouyn device, exhibiting the mythological scene of "Hercules rescuing Dejanira from the Centaur Nessus." Speaking of the Hardouyns, Gillet and Germain, Dibdin says:—"They were both unquestionably very beautiful printers, and maintained a prodigious traffic in the sale of devotional volumes; their productions being upon the whole fully equal to those of Kerver, Pigouchet or Vostre."

On the verso of the first leaf is a skeleton or anatomical figure, beneath whose legs is a Zany. At the four corners of the page four persons are depicted—one with a monkey, one with a lion, one with a pig, and another with a lamb.

The other page miniatures, all of which are painted by hand, are of:—"St. John the Evangelist"—he holds a chalice, from which issues a serpent, in allusion to his driving the poison in that form from a cup which had been presented to him to drink—at his feet are two corpses—in the background are the would-be poisoner, the Emperor Domitian and attendants—as in all the other miniatures the physiognomies are beautifully painted and will bear the closest scrutiny; "The Kiss of Judas"—the Roman soldiers seizing Christ—Jerusalem in the distance, etc.; "The Church and Justice—Pity and Wisdom"—allegorical—an angel stands behind the four figures—the Trinity in the Heavens, etc.; "the Annunciation;" "The Crucifixion"—Christ and the two thieves on crosses—the Centurion on white horse—Virgin at foot of cross—other figures, etc.; "Descent of Holy Ghost," with the Virgin seated among the Apostles; "the Nativity"—Virgin kneeling before Infant Christ—St. Joseph—male figures, around stable—cattle, etc.; "Angels Appearing to the Shepherds;" "The Visit of the Magi;" "The Circumcision"—Virgin kneeling with white cloth in hand—St. Joseph with basket of doves—High Priest in Archbishop's mitre and cope holding Infant Jesus; "Flight into Egypt"—St. Joseph leading mule on which St. Mary and Christ—two angels following—attendant with casket on head; "Death of the Virgin"—soul of B. V. M. ascending to heaven in glory—apostles, etc.; "King David sending Uriah forth to Battle"—Uriah in medieval armor; "The Raising of Lazarus;" and "The Flagellation of Christ."

The most curious of these miniatures is that under which is the inscription:—"Comet. le pereur. Octovien p. sa monutio. de sa sibile vit la glorieuse vierge marie q. tenoit so. petit-enfant." This is explained on pages 277-78 of Clement's "Legendary and Mythological Art" as follows:—"When the Roman Senate decreed divine honors to Augustus [Octavius], he consulted the Liburtine Sibyl whether he ought to receive them. She replied that it was more becoming for him, whose power was declining, to go away from her silently, for a Hebrew child should be born who should reign over the gods themselves. Or that a king should come from Heaven whose kingdom would never end. Another version relates that the heavens were opened and a vision of the Virgin with the Infant Saviour in her arms, standing on an altar, was shown him, and a voice was heard saying, 'Hæc ara filii Dei' (this is the Son of God). The Emperor adored the vision and reported it to the Senate. And in remembrance of it he erected upon the Capitol an altar inscribed, 'Ara primogeniti Dei.' On this spot stands the Church of S. Maria in Capitolio or the 'Ara coeli.'"

The smaller miniatures are of:—"Saints Luke, Matthew and Mark" (3); Christ with Orb; "The Saviour Rising from the Tomb"; "Holy Ghost"; "St. Veronica with Veil"; "St. Michael and Dragon"; "Christ with Agnus Dei"; "St. John"; "Saints Peter and Paul"; "St. James"; "St. Stephen"; "St. Lawrence with Gridiron"; "St. Christopher and Christ"; "St. Sebastian"; "St. Nicholas"; "St. Claude"; "St. Anthony"; "St. Anne"; "St. Mary Magdalen"; "St. Katherine"; "St. Margaret"; "St. Barbara"; "St. Appollonia"; "God the Father"; and "The Annunciation"—one large.

This handsome missal is as fine a printed "Hours" as it is possible to obtain. Not only are the painted large and small miniatures, the capitals and initials to sentences as choice as can be, but the unpainted woodcut borders around every page are beautiful examples of Renaissance ornamentation and the best of their kind—humorous, religious, secular and floriated representation being most artistically treated and blended.

UNIQUE VELLUM HOURS PRINTED BY GERMAIN
HARDOUYN, AND ILLUMINATED BY HAND.

- 367 ILLUMINATED Black Letter.—"HORE BEATE MARIE VIRGINIS SECUNDUM USUM ROMANUM TOTALITER AD LONGU. SINE REQUIRE. CUM MULTIS SUFFRAGIIS ET ORATIONIBUS DE NOUO ADDITIS." Numerous miniatures, capital letters and borders ILLUMINATED BY HAND IN GOLD AND COLORS. Minimo (five and five-eighths inches by three and three-eighths), crimson plush. SÆC. XVI.

UNIQUE AND VERY RARE example of the press of the Hardouins, printed on vellum. The colophon reads that it was—"nouuelement imprimées a Paris par Germain Hardouyn Marchant Imprimeur et Libraire demourat. aud. lieu entre ses deux portes du Palays a senseigne Sainte Marguerite." The calendar commences 1529. This is an admirable specimen, and, with the exception of a few stains hardly worth considering, is in the best condition.

CURIOUS CONVENTUAL AND HERALDIC MANUSCRIPTS.

- 368 MS.—SEVENTEENTH CENTURY HERALDIC AND MONASTIC MSS. TWO LATIN MANUSCRIPTS OF 128 LEAVES OR 256 PAGES, with 37 COATS-OF-ARMS emblazoned in their proper tinctures. 2 vols. small 4to (six and seven-eighths inches by four and a half), vellum.

SÆC. XVII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL SEVENTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPTS in Latin and of German origin.

These two curious little volumes—bound in vellum taken from a folio choir book—were evidently compiled in the seventeenth century by some monk in the Abbey of Neresheim, which is in Wurtemberg, on an affluent of the Danube, and thirty miles from Ulm. They were apparently his "common-place books," although elsewhere styled "The Journal of the Monastery of Neresheim." The good monk to whom they belonged filled their pages with extracts from the Fathers, from Greek and Latin authors, and, above all, amid many interesting facts relating to his conventual house, with a list of the Abbots of Neresheim, the dates of their elections, their deaths, etc. He gives drawings of the coat-of-arms emblazoned in gold and colors of thirty six successive abbots—from the first, Ornestus, who died A.D. 1096, to the thirty-sixth Memiradus Denich, elected Abbot August the 13th, 1647.

VELLUM DIPLOMA FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF PADUA, DATED 1626.

- 369 MS.—SEVENTEENTH CENTURY DIPLOMA FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF PADUA. A MANUSCRIPT IN LATIN ON 6 LEAVES OR 12 PAGES OF VELLUM, IN ROMAN AND ITALIC SCRIPT. With full-page gilt floriated border and coat-of-arms, and numerous capitals and portions of the text in gold. 4to (eight and five-eighths inches by seven and five-eighths), old red morocco extra gilt, with silk ties. SÆC. XVII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL EARLY SEVENTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT ON VELLUM.

This most interesting document, dated June the 25th, 1626, is the diploma granted to Peter Weissensee, upon his acquiring the degree of Doctor of Philosophy and Medicine. There are seven original signatures attached of the officials of the University of Padua, viz.: Augustine Belligotti, Cæsar Cremoninus, John Colle, John Prevotius, John Thuilus, Claus Jacobæus Danus and Petrus Merius. There are also named in the document—Christopher Burchard, Caspar Saur and John Valentinus.

The decoration on the first page is floriated in red and gold. Above is a coat-of-arms charged with a passion flower and the crest of a swan on a helmet. Portions of the text not in italics are in gold uncial letter.

This diploma, issued three years after the publication of the first folio of Shakespeare, forcibly reminds one of the opening lines of "The Taming of the Shrew":—

"Tranio, since—for the great desire I had
To see fair Padua, nursery of the arts,—
I am arriv'd for fruitful Lombardy,
The pleasant garden of great Italy:
And, by my father's love and leave, am arm'd
With his good will and thy good company,
Most trusty servant, well approv'd in all;
Here let us breathe and happily institute
A course of learning and ingenious studies."

The University of Padua, one of the most famous in Europe, was founded by Charlemagne, and was restored by the Emperor Frederick the Second in the year 1222. It now embraces nearly 50 professorships, and is attended by some 2,000 students. Connected with the university are an anatomical theatre and botanic garden, both dating from the sixteenth century, and each the first of its kind in Europe.

FAC-SIMILE ON VELLUM OF A RARE EROTIC WORK, AND BOUND BY THOUVENIN.

370 MS.—"LES PRÉSUMPTIONS DES FEMMES." AN EIGHTEENTH CENTURY FRENCH MANUSCRIPT ON EIGHT LEAVES OR SIXTEEN PAGES OF VELLUM—WITH CURIOUS DRAWING ON TITLE. Minimo (five and five-eighths inches by three and three-quarters). Elegantly bound by THOUVENIN in crinkled crimson morocco gilt, gold tooled inside borders, and blue watered silk ends. SÆC. XVIII.

UNIQUE AND EROTIC ORIGINAL EIGHTEENTH CENTURY VELLUM MANUSCRIPT IN FRENCH.

This is a fac-simile of the excessively rare edition of the "Conjectures of Women" of William Coquillart imprinted, as the title shows:—"A Roven, Chez Abraham Cousturier pres le Palais: au Sacrifice d'Abraham"—and of which Brunet writes as follows in the fourth volume of the "Manuel du Libraire":—

"Edition originale de cette pièce en vers, laquelle n'est autre chose que la Rubriche (sic) commençant de presomptionibus, morceau qui termine la première partie des Droits nouveaux de Guil. Coquillart (voy. ce nom). Cette pièce est réimprimée dans le 3e. vol. du Recueil de M. Montaignon. Il y en existait déjà une réimpression fac-simile faite à Paris chez Pinard, en 1830, qui n'a été tirée qu'à 42 exemplaires, dont 32 sur pap. de Hollande, 4 sur pap. de Chine rose, 4 sur pap. de Chine jaune-paillé et 2 sur vélin.

"Présomptions signifie ici conjectures. D'après l'extérieur des femmes, leur air, leur habillement, l'auteur présume leur conduite cachée; et il entre dans des détails grossièrement obscènes."

This vellum fac-simile has a MS. memorandum on one of the ends—"Sale by Sotheby, 1817"—also a pencil note, as follows—"Manuscrit de Fyot, reproduction d'une pièce fort rare." On an end paper is the book-plate of the—"Bibliothèque de Mr. J. Renard."

The French poet William Coquillart was born at Rheims in 1421—he died in 1510. He was the official canon ("chanoine officiel") and grand chanter of Rheims Cathedral. He word-painted the manners of his time and the loves of the bourgeoisie in a lively and natural manner full of truly naive humor and fifteenth century erudition of language. His verse is easy and full of action, but better adapted to comedy than to satire.

Brunet devotes over two and a half pages to his works, of which the earliest was printed towards the end of the first century of typography. Jean Treppeul, Galliot du Pre, Alain Lotrain, Jehan Janot, Jeanne de Marnef, and other eminent early printers of Paris printed much of his poetry. The best editions of his complete works are Coustelier's, in 1723; that re-edited by Tarbe, 1847, and by Ch. d'Hericourt, printed in 1857 in the "Collection Elzevirienne."

LE R. P. FRANÇOIS MARIE DE BELLE-ISLE, CAPUCIN, AUTREMENT LE R. P. LE GALLEN,
1754." A BEAUTIFULLY WRITTEN MANUSCRIPT IN FRENCH
OF 325 LEAVES OR 650 PAGES OF SUPERFINE WHATMAN
PAPER—with EXQUISITELY ILLUMINATED title in GOLD AND COLORS, spirited ORIGINAL WATER-COLOR DRAWING of Belle-Isle-en-Mer—false title and page with date in GOLD AND COLORS, with narrow border—and every page with carefully executed borders of ruled red lines. Thick 4to (nine and five-eighths inches by seven). Bound by BAUZONNET-TRAUTZ in dark brown morocco, tooled inside gold borders, and gilt edges. SÆC. XVIII.—XIX.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL FRENCH MANUSCRIPT, of most carefully executed and beautiful script on Whatman paper.

This is an unpublished history of "Belle-Isle-en-Mer" (Beautiful Isle in the Sea), an island on the Western coast of France and in the Atlantic. Belle-Isle is in the Department of Morbihan, a part of Ancient Brittany. It is some eight miles from Quiberon, which is defended by Fort Penthièvre, and is remarkable as the last stronghold in 1795 of about 7,000 Royalists, who, after a most desperate struggle against the troops of the French Republic, eventually surrendered to General Hoche.

Belle-Isle forms a canton and is defended by its citadel. It was taken by the English in 1761 and held by them until 1763. The population is from 9,000 to 10,000, most of whom are engaged in the pilchard fishery. The island, which is eleven miles by six, is noted for its grain and superior breed of draught horses. It has several small ports, has good anchorage and is nearly surrounded by rocks. The admirable water-color sketch illustrating the manuscript displays some of its salient features.

There are two titles to this unique MS.—the first or false title, which is in gold and colors and is worded as stated above, is surrounded by a dentelle border, of which there is another on the verso of the page upon which is the inscription—"Commencée en 1748 et Finie le 1754." On the back of the water-color marine view alluded to is—"Vue de Belle-Isle-en-Mer, 1840." The second, or real title is similarly worded, but with the addition of the date "1754." It is a beautiful example of modern illumination in gold and colors. The style is somewhat Moresque, with red, green and white, touched up with red, and of diamond or lozenge shape decoration. These are heightened with gold, also the word "Histoire" and line "Belle-Isle-en-Mer," which is of jewelled design. In the upper part of this illuminated page are two circles of white and crimson, surrounded with gold.

The text of the manuscript commences with the dedication—"A mes très chers et honorés compatriotes," and is signed "F. F. M. D. B. C." This is followed by a preface commencing page 6 and ending on page 26. The work is divided into five books running from pages 27 to 612. Then comes a supplement by the author which is followed by the copyist's certificate and three pages of notes by M. Detaille, Mayor of Belle-Isle.

The certificate just referred to reads:—"I, the undersigned Jean Baptiste le Gallen, nephew of the author, certify the present copy conforms to the manuscript in the handwriting of the author, belonging to M. Detaille, now Mayor ["Major"] of the place, and no other changes have been made than the inscription paragraphs, while in the original, are in the margins, as also some numbered pages of reference, which are not the same in the author's as in this copy. In support of which I have signed, and in this faith I have added to this copy as in the original. At Belle-Isle-en-Mer, October 31, 1789, signed, LE GALLEN, cadet."

This history is very complete. The first book commences with "Islands in General"—then refers to the formation of the Island, its antiquity and indigenous population, of Roman medals found there, a Roman camp, and gives its annals in good narrative and chronologically. Many of the historical references are of importance, as Belle-Isle, being a point of vantage in war-time, played a conspicuous part in medievalism and later times.

The great interest of the MS. is attached to the fact of its having been associated with the fortunes of the Foucquet family. Anciently a seignury of the King, Belle-Isle became the property of the Foucquets, of whom the most celebrated members in history and literature were—the famous Superintendent Nicholas Foucquet, the patron of La Fontaine and Corneille, and devoted friend of St. Evremond and Madame de Sévigné—and the grandson of the last-named Charles Louis Auguste Foucquet, who was in 1740 made a Marshal of France, in 1758 Minister of War, in 1749 a member of the Académie Française, and in 1748 a peer of France by the title of Duke of Belle-Isle. Vide number 431 in the following division of this catalogue.

ARTISTIC EIGHTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT.

- 372 MS.—"FESTA PROPRIA O. S. B. IN MONASTERIO AD SANCTA MAFFRAM 1776." A LATIN MANUSCRIPT ON 91 LEAVES OR 182 PAGES, WITH ONE PAGE AND TWO HALF PAGES OF MS. INSERTED, ALL IN ROMAN TYPE IN BLACK AND RED. With four pages ornamented in gold and colors, others with decorations or landscape pen drawings, 14 smaller pen drawings, 99 floriated or rubricated capitals, and numerous arabesque or floriated ornaments throughout. Small 8vo (seven and one-eighth inches by four), morocco extra gilt, edges gilt. SÆC. XVIII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT in Latin and of German origin.

The first ornamented full page is the title lettered as above and which is surrounded by sprays of "forget-me-nots." The second full page consists of a wreath of flowers encircling:—"S. M. Antonia," evidently showing the volume was a gift to the Mother Superior of the Benedictine Convent of St. Afra. The third full-page represents a pair of scales depending from a human heart; below the weighted down arm of the scale is the letter "G."—below the other "O." On this page the "sun" and "moon," the letters "A" and "O" and some ferns are represented. The fourth page decoration is the monogram of the "B. V. M." within a glory in the upper half—and in the lower a drawing of a Winter scene. In a three-quarter page is depicted "Autumn" below the monogram "I H S." Two half-pages are devoted to landscapes of "Winter" and "Spring."

MANUSCRIPT TREATISE ON MINIATURE PAINTING, WITH SECRETS FOR THE PREPARATION OF GOLD AND COLORS.

- 373 MS.—"TRAITÉ DE MIGNATURE POUR APPENDRE AISEMENT À PEINTRE SANS MAITRE, AVEC LE SECRET DE FAIRE LES PLUS BELLES COULEURS, L'OR, ETC. An Eighteenth Century Manuscript in French of 68 leaves or 136 pages. Small 8vo (six and three-eighths inches by three and seven-eighths), bound by QUINET in morocco gilt, gold tooled inside borders, edges gilt.

SÆC. XVIII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT of the last century in French.

According to a printed cutting on an end paper of the above, this Treatise on miniature painting was attributed by the great French bibliographer Brunet to Lavoye-Mignot. It is very carefully written and the script is clear and easy to follow. There are over a hundred and thirty valuable instructions for the painting of miniatures as well as a large number of secrets as to the preparation of colors and metals for illuminational work.

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY FRENCH MANUSCRIPT.

- 374 MS.—"LIVRE D'EXAMEN." AN EIGHTEENTH CENTURY MANUSCRIPT IN FRENCH CAREFULLY WRITTEN ON 134 LEAVES OR 268 PAGES, EACH BORDERED WITH LINES RULED IN RED. Small 8vo (over six and a half inches by four), fine old crushed crimson levant morocco, back extra gilt, inside borders gold tooled, and edges gilt on marble.

SÆC. XVIII.

UNIQUE ORIGINAL EIGHTEENTH CENTURY FRENCH MANUSCRIPT in binding of that date and in good condition.

The above MS. consists of 56 separate chapters, each on a particular "Examination of Conscience." These are preceded by "Renouellement de la Profession du Baptisme," "Renonciation" and "Promesse." The script is excellent and the subject matter Catholic.

MANUSCRIPT ON THE SONGS OF FRANCE.

- 375 MS.—"LA CHANSON FRANÇAISE—RECUEIL PAR E. OUDEN, 1840," etc. Small 8vo (six and seven-eighths inches by four and five-eighths), calf gilt, inside gold borders, lemon edges.

SÆC. XIX.

UNIQUE. There are twenty pages of carefully written MS. in the above, which not only contains what is named in the title, but also a portion of a criticism on—"Les Chansons de Desaugiers ou la Journée d'un Epicure—Vaudeville en 5 actes de MM. Theaulon et de Courcy, 1836," and others on "Les Chansons de Beranger [1833]," "Sur la Chanson," etc.

These are bound up with "Memoire Historique sur la Chanson en Général et en Particulier sur la Chanson Française, par M. Meusnier de Querlon. To this is a frontispiece engraved by Le Mire after Gravelot. Querlon was born 1702, died 1780, and was the author, among other works, of—"Psaphion, ou le Courtisan de Smyrne."

UNIQUE MS. BEAUTIFULLY WRITTEN BY A PHILADELPHIAN IN 1812.

- 376 MS.—"PIECES ON VARIOUS SUBJECTS by J. S. [JOSEPH SPENCER], PHILADELPHIA, MDCCCXII." A MANUSCRIPT BEAUTIFULLY WRITTEN IN BLUE AND RED IN ROMAN LETTER, AND OCCASIONAL GREEK, on 34 leaves or 68 pages. Small 8vo, old red roan gilt, edges gilt.

SÆC. XIX.

UNIQUE original manuscript containing—"A Speech on the Rise, Progress and Utility of Literature; Musæus, or the Man of Study; on Nature; the Advantages of Knowledge; an Ode to Liberty; an Epigram; the Portrait of a Patriot; the Stranger; a Song on Spring; Hymn to Harmodius and Aristogniton; Notes."

The name of the writer appears at the end of the first piece. The first page reads—"Presented to Miss Mary Coulter, by her sincere friend and admirer, the Author."

UNIQUE COLLECTION OF SOME 2,200 COATS-OF-ARMS COLORED BY HAND.

- 377 MS.—HERALDIC AND MANUSCRIPT COLLECTION, I. E.:—

I. "LIBER A. WAPEN SAMMLUNG." A collection of 76 page coats-of-arms, 16 half-page and 128 smaller, on 58 leaves or 116 pages.

This consists of coats-of-arms of Emperors, Kings, Free (!) Republics, Princes and Dukes, with an Index. Many have numerous quarterings—particularly the first of the Holy Roman Empire. All are emblazoned in their proper tinctures, and all the quarterings, as well as the names of the owners of the shields, are added in MS. Some of these illustrations are original, others are engraved plates with the colors added by hand.

II. "LIBER B. WAPEN SAMMLUNG." A collection of 58 page coats-of-arms, 4 half-page and 296 smaller, on 57 leaves or 114 pages.

Comprising coats-of-arms of the Counts of the Holy Roman Empire, also of some Danish, Swedish, Polish and Prussian Counts, with Index. The same remarks as in note to "I." will apply to this. In both "Libers A and B" the large inserted or pasted coats of-arms are cut out of a collection entitled: "Der Durchlauchtigen Welt—New vermehrter und verbesseter Geschichte. Geschlechter und Wappen Calender auf das Jahr 1740. Nürnberg in Verlegung Christoph Weigels des Altern Wittib Gedruckt bei Lorentz Bieling."

III. "C. REGISTER FÜR DIE WAPEN SAMMLUNG." An Index of eight leaves or sixteen pages in MS.

IV. "LIBER D. WAPEN SAMMLUNG." A Collection of 637 coats-of-arms on 45 leaves or 90 pages.

The coats-of-arms in this volume are all originals, first tricked in ink, then filled in with the proper colors. They are the heraldic bearings of the knights and noblemen of the Holy Roman Empire—also of several other noblemen, with Index. The coats-of-arms Nos. 354-417 and 435-445 in the above are surmounted with marquisial crowns! Not only are these families not titled, but there are, in Germany, no marquises—but only barons and counts—besides the higher nobility.

- V. "LIBER E. SAMMLUNG VON ALLEN EINZELNEN PROVINZEN WAPEN." A collection of 761 coats-of-arms on 48 leaves or 96 pages.

In the above are the armorial achievements of all the separate provinces of Europe—as Empires, Kingdoms, Republics, Duchies, Principalities, Counties (? Earldoms), Seignories, etc. All the above are entirely original heraldic sketches painted by hand.

- VI. "LIBER F. WAPEN SAMMLUNG VON GEISTLICHEN FÜRSTEN." A collection of 70 coat-of-arms on 10 leaves or 20 pages.

These are the coats-of-arms of the Princes of the Catholic Church—Popes, Cardinals, Princes of the Holy Roman Empire, Archbishops, Prince Abbots and Abbesses, with Index. All are originals done by hand with the exception of that of the large shield of Cardinal Rohan, Bishop of Strassburg. Between the arms of the abbesses of Gandersheim and Quedlingburg are those of "Doctor Martin Luther."

- VII. "LIBER G. WAPEN SAMMLUNG." A collection of 105 coat-of-arms on 14 leaves or 28 pages.

These are the heraldry of the Free Imperial Cities, of the Cities of the Principality (Churfürstlich) of Saxony, of the Duchy of Wurtemberg and of some of the Duchy of Silesia, with an Index. All are original painted or ink drawings.

- VIII. "H. REGISTER WAPEN SAMMLUNG." An Index of 16 leaves or 32 pages in MS.

TOGETHER 8 vols. 4to, sewed.

SÆC. XVIII.

UNIQUE. This interesting collection of nearly 2,200 heraldic bearings is of the greatest value to students of Heraldry, particularly of Germany, it containing numerous shields not to be found elsewhere. Nearly all the coat-of-arms in the series are colored and drawn by hand. The volumes are of German origin and must have taken many years to study out, as all the emblazonings are painted in the proper heraldic tinctures, an undertaking of great magnitude, and only possible after years of patient study and toilsome research.

ANOTHER HERALDIC COLLECTION PAINTED BY HAND.

378 HERALDIC ALBUMS. With 3,325 coats of arms mostly of German Sovereigns, nobility and landed proprietors—nearly all of which are PAINTED BY HAND IN THE PROPER HERALDIC TINCTURES. 2 vols. thick oblong minimo, boards.

SÆC. XVIII

UNIQUE. The above contains, as stated, over 3,300 different shields. Altogether the two volumes make 688 pages, including the manuscript indices to the various achievements. The heraldic colors are painted by hand on engravings believed to have been taken from Siebmacher's "Wappenbuch," published at Nuremberg in the first half of the seventeenth century, of which there have since been other editions. The last, not yet completed, is much enlarged and altered as to families; many of those in the above albums, it must be supposed, have become extinct in the male line, and are now only represented by females, collateral descendants, or lost heirs.

- 379 NOUVELLES HEURES GOTHIQUES, D'APRÈS LES MANUSCRITS DES BIBLIOTHÈQUES NATIONALES ET PARTICULIÈRES. Nearly 200 pages of EXQUISITE MEDIEVAL ORNAMENTATION chromolithographed in gold and colors after ancient missals, together with large MINIATURES, etc. Small 4to, crushed dark green levant morocco, inside gold dentelle borders, watered green silk ends and two pierced and engraved silver clasps of Gothic floriated design, in cloth box.

Paris, Leroy, Secail & Cie., n. d.

- 380 HEVRES ROMAINES AVEC FIGURES PAR A. QUEYROY GRAVEES PAR A. GUSMAN. Every page illustrated with woodcut borders, some full-page wood engravings—rubricated throughout. Small 4to, folded, uncut and loose, in boards.

Tovrs, Alfred Mame et fils, 1874

A beautiful volume printed on "papier verge," in the style of the Hardouin and Vostre Hours. The illustrations by Queyroy, engraved by Gusman, succeed in carrying out most delightfully the manner of the fifteenth and sixteenth century printed missals.

THE DUC D'AUMALE'S UNIQUE LARGE PAPER COPY OF THE "ROMAN DE LA VIOLETTE"—WITH TWO SETS OF PLATES, ONE BEAUTIFULLY ILLUMINATED BY HAND IN GOLD AND COLORS.

- 381 GIBERT DE MONTREUIL. ROMAN DE LA VIOLETTE OU DE GERARD DE NEVERS EN VERS DU XIIIÈ SIÈCLE, PUBLIÉ POUR LA PREMIÈRE FOIS D'APRÈS DEUX MANUSCRITS DE LA BIBLIOTHÈQUE ROYALE, PAR FRANCISQUE MICHEL. With two sets of the beautiful plates, after the original manuscripts, one of the sets being ILLUMINATED BY HAND IN GOLD AND COLORS. Thick 8vo, crushed red levant morocco extra, inside gold tooled borders, gilt edges, by MULLER.

Paris, 1834

UNIQUE, LARGE PAPER, and from the library of the Duke D'Aumale, son of King Louis Philippe. It is stamped with his coat of arms on the title, and was sold as a duplicate copy. The above is No 29 of a limited edition of 200 copies, was printed on vellum, China paper, Holland paper and vellum paper. It is considerably enhanced by the double set of plates, one set of which is illuminated with all the beauty peculiar to ancient missals.

ARUNDEL SOCIETY REPRODUCTIONS IN GOLD AND COLORS AFTER THE OLD MASTERS.

- 382 MEISTER STEPHEN.—REPRODUCTIONS AFTER, IN GOLD AND COLORS, BEING THE SERIES OF FIVE BEAUTIFULLY EXECUTED CHROMOLITHOGRAPHS AFTER THE ORIGINALS BY MEISTER STEPHEN, OF THE FAMOUS "TRIPTYCH OF COLOGNE." Framed in ebonized triptych, with glass before each of the five pictures.

THESE FIVE MAGNIFICENT ART WORKS were issued by the "Arundel Society, or Society for Promoting the Knowledge of Art by Copying and Publishing Important Works of Ancient Masters," and which was so named after Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel—living in the Reigns of James I. and Charles I.—who has been called the "Father of vertu in England" and "the Mæcenas of all polite arts."

These grand art works of Meister Stephen are united in one beautiful whole by three ebonized and gold folding frames, with brass Gothic hinges. When extended they measure as an unit 4 feet  $8\frac{1}{2}$  inches by 22 inches.

The centre piece represents the "Three Kings of Cologne"—or "Wise Men with attendants worshipping the Madonna and Child." The side inner panels depict "St. Ursula" to the left, and "St. Stephen of Hungary" to the right. The two outer panels when brought together, in order to close the triptych, form "the Annunciation of the B. V. M."

- 383 PINTURICCHIO (Bernardino). "ST. CATHERINE OF ALEXANDRIA PLEADING BEFORE HER JUDGES." SPLENDID CHROMOLITHOGRAPHIC REPRODUCTION ( $21\frac{1}{4}$  INCHES BY  $18\frac{1}{2}$ ) ISSUED BY THE "ARUNDEL SOCIETY," AFTER THE ORIGINAL IN THE VATICAN at Rome. In black walnut and gold frame, with deep mount and glass.

Pinturicchio studied under Pietro Perugino, and assisted him in many of his principal works, both at Rome and Perugia. Upon the command of Cardinal Francesco Piccolomini, afterwards Pope Pius III., he decorated the Sacristy of the Cathedral of Siena, "with works of such magnitude," says Lanzi, "as perhaps had never before been entrusted to a single master." He was aided by Raffaello Sanzio, and the same writer states that he had—"painted with much applause at Rome before Raffaello was born."

- 384 "MADONNA AND CHILD," SUPERB CHROMOLITHOGRAPHIC REPRODUCTION IN GOLD AND COLORS ISSUED BY THE "ARUNDEL SOCIETY," AFTER ONE OF THE OLD MASTERS, WHO PRECEDED RAFFAELLO. In maple and gold frame, with glass.

This beautiful reproduction has two quatered shields at the lower corners. It measures, independent of its black mount, nearly 20 inches by 10 and a half.

SPLENDID WORK ON MEDIEVAL ILLUMINATION.

INTERESTING LETTER IN ARABIC OF ABD-EL-KADER.

- 389 ABD-EL-KADER (Sidi-el-Hadji-Ouled-Mahiddin, the celebrated defender of the Arab Nationality). A. L. S. in Arabic. 1 p., folio, dated 1276, i. e. 1859.

RARE. This letter in the handwriting of Abd-el-Kader and stamped with his seal, is accompanied by a French translation made by Meyer Ali, Interpreter of the Army. It is dated from Damas, where he generously defended the Christians against the murderous fury of the Druses and for which he was made a Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor. The name of this great patriot will be ever remembered in connection with the French conquest of Algeria. For a Mohammedan of his exalted position Abd-el-Kader was singularly virtuous, as he only had three wives and twenty-four children, whereas King Solomon and the Defenders of the Faithful counted theirs by hundreds.

- 390 ABOUT (Edmond, author of "La Grèce Contemporaine," etc.). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

A request for a box at the theatre.

- 392 ADAM (Juliette Lamber, French authoress). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Juliette Lamber is one of the most notable French women of the age. After the death of her second husband, Antoine Edmond Adam, the distinguished French statesman, her house became one of the great political and literary centres of France, where was founded "La Nouvelle Revue," and many of the political movements of Léon Gambetta.

- 393 AMERICAN AND ENGLISH LITTÉRATEURS. Signatures. (13 pieces)

Includes signatures of—Goldwin Smith, Edgar Fawcett, Bonamy Price, Leone Levi, Richard Grant White, Julian Hawthorne (2), Edward A. Freeman, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Henry James, etc.

LETTER OF ANNE OF AUSTRIA WITH HER SIGNATURE TO THIS IMPORTANT HISTORICAL STATE PAPER.

- 394 ANNE OF AUSTRIA (Queen Regent of France, mother of Louis XIV., wife of Louis XIII. and daughter of Philip II. of Spain). L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated "Melun, le 24 Juin 1652."

EXTREMELY RARE. This letter, written to Monsieur Frual, Seigneur de la Turoliere, is signed in bold script "Anne," is addressed, and has two wax seals of the Queen Regent, with crown, and impaled shield of France and Spain. It refers to Louis XIV. as "Roy monsieur mon Filz," speaks of the regard in which the writer holds M. Frual and wishes to see him in association with important matters of state before he leaves for Dauphiny on his way to Piedmont.

Anne of Austria was virtually separated from her husband for nearly a quarter of a century through the machinations of Cardinal Richelieu. She became Queen Regent in 1643 and Cardinal Mazarin was chosen as her chief adviser. Two curious personal peculiarities are related of her in the biographies—"her antipathy to roses, so strong that, while passionately fond of flowers and perfumes, she could not endure even the picture of a rose; and the extraordinary delicacy of her skin, which made Mazarin remark that 'if her majesty were condemned to the infernal regions, her hell would be to sleep in brown holland's'"

- 395 AUBER (D. F. E., the great French musical composer, author of "Fra Diavolo," etc.). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Note to Monsieur Denis requesting the pleasure of being permitted to have a box to see "L'Ambassadrice."

- 396 AUGIER (Guillaume Victor Emile, French dramatic poet, Commander of the Legion of Honor and Member of the "Academie Française" and of the Institute). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Emile Augier, by an imperial decree of July 27, 1870, was made a Senator of France—"pour services rendus par ses productions litteraires."

- 397 AUGIER. Another. A. L. S., 1 p., minimo.

Augier returns a domino with his thanks and a "pour boire" for the "garçons."

- 399 BECCHI (Fraltuoso, Secretary of the Academy of Gasea). A. L. S., 2 pp., 4to, dated "Florence, August 12th, 1838."

- 400 BERANGER (Jean Pierre de, the great French poet). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Interesting letter from Beranger to M. Blaize, nephew of Lammenais.

- 401 BERAT (Frédéric, French poet and ballad writer). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Letter to the editor of "L'Artiste."

- 402 BERLIOZ (Louis Hector, French musical composer, critic and author). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Note to—"Mon Cher Seligman."

INTERESTING LETTER OF CARDINAL DE BERNIS.

- 403 BERNIS (François Joachim de Pierres de, Cardinal, poet, Minister to Louis XV., and French Ambassador). A. L. S., 1 p., small folio, dated—"a Albano ce 17 Octobre 1787."

EXTREMELY RARE and interesting, being a letter to M. de Latour, President of the Parliament of Provence and Intendant of that province at Aix. Cardinal de Bernis, whose fame as a poet has reached our days, does not exhibit much romance in this document. He instructs M. de Latour, on behalf of the Pope and the Cardinal Secretary, to have arrested Count Carrati and Anne Marchioness Massa, who have eloped from Bologna and embarked at Leghorn for Marseilles.

Cardinal de Bernis, one of the most remarkable men of the reign of Louis the Fifteenth, owed his dignities to the friendship of Madame de Pompadour, whose dimples he had flattered in his "Petits Trous":—

"Ainsi qu' Hebé, la jeune Pompadour
A deux jolis trous sur la joue;
Deux trous charmants ou le plaisir se joue,
Qui furent faits par la main de l'Amour."

For these and other erotic verses the King's mistress had him made a Cardinal, Ambassador to Venice, Minister of Foreign Affairs, etc. In his early days his Eminence was the boon companion of Voltaire, Buffon and Fontenelle, as well as the intimate of Madame Dupin and the Princess de Rohan. Marмонтel says of de Bernis—"bien joufflu, bien frais, bien poupin, en compagnie du gentil Bernard, il amusa de ses jolis vers les joyeux soupers de Paris."

- 404 BOISSANVEUR (Captain in the French Navy). A. L. S., 2 pp., 4to, dated—"Brest, le 27 Vendémiaire, l'an 11 de la République Française une et indivisible."

RARE. This interesting souvenir of the First French Republic is written on paper headed "Liberté, Égalité—Le Capitaine de Vaisseau chef de Mouvement du Port," and to the "Contre Amiral chef militaire de le Marine."

- 405 BOURBON (Louis Auguste de, Count of Toulouse, Admiral of France, etc.). Document signed and dated—"Paris, le 22 Mars, 1721." 1 p., folio.

RARE. This is an order to pay 11,000 livres for naval expenses. It is signed by the Count of Toulouse, the bastard son of Louis the Fourteenth, by his mistress Madame de Montespan. He was born 1678, and died 1737, leaving a son, the Duke of Penthièvre, who, by his wife, Mary of Modena, had two children, I.—Prince de Lamballe, whose wife, Louisa of Savoy, was murdered by the Revolutionists in 1792, and II.—Louisa of Bourbon, the wife of "Égalité," Duke of Orleans, guillotined in 1793, and the father of King Louis Philippe.

- 406 BOURGOING (Jean François de, Baron, diplomat and author). Autograph Memorandum signed, 1 p. and dated—"Leipzig, May 31, 1809."

RARE. Baron de Bourgoing was born at Nevers in 1748, served early in the French army, and successively acted as Secretary of Legation, and lastly as Ambassador at various courts. He died while Envoy at Dresden, in 1811. His principal works are—"The Picture of Modern Spain," and "Historical and Philosophical Memoirs of Pius VI."

- 407 BRIBES (Vincent, Adjutant-General in the French Republican Army). A. L. S., 3 pp., small folio, dated—"an 8me de la Republique."

RARE. An interesting official letter written to the General of Division Gardanne, one of the principal commanders of the army of the First French Republic. The paper has a printed heading with a vignette of the "Goddess of Liberty."

- 408 CAPEFIGUE (Jean Baptiste Honoré Raymond, French historian and publicist). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

INTERESTING LETTER, respecting communications to the "Figaro." By one of the most prolific and eminent authors of France in the nineteenth century. He was born in 1802, and died 1872. His most charming works are his lives of Madame Pompadour, the Countess du Barry, Mdle. de la Valliere, Madame de Montespan and others of the same genre.

- 409 CARAFA DE COLOBRANO (M. H. F. A. V. P., musical composer, born, 1785; died, 1872). A. L. S., 1 p., small 8vo. 1835.

The celebrated musician, Carafa, is best known to us in these days by his "Massaniello," an opera as remarkable for the popularity of its melodies, as for its instrumentation. In early life, Carafa was a soldier and was decorated by Murat with the Legion of Honor. At the time of his death he was a member of the French Institute and of the Academie des Beaux-Arts.

MOST INTERESTING STATE DOCUMENT RELATIVE TO THE FRIENDLY RELATIONS OF THE GREAT NAPOLEON
WITH THE U. S.—A LETTER FROM THE DUKE OF VICENZA.

- 410 CAULAINCOURT (Armand A. L., Duke of Vicenza, aide-de-camp to Napoleon, statesman and diplomat). L. S., 1 p., small folio, dated—"Paris, April 10th, 1815."

DEEPLY INTERESTING. This is a letter sent by the celebrated Duke of Vicenza during the "Hundred Days" while Minister of Foreign Affairs to William Harris Crawford, the U. S. Minister to France, enclosing a personal letter from the Emperor Napoleon to the President of the U. S., informing him of his return from Elba and desiring a continuance of the friendly relations which had existed between France and this country.

- 411 "CHAM" (i. e., Count Amédée de Noé, French caricaturist). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Signed "Cham," and over the signature is the line "Je vous embrasse sur le front." This is a note addressed to Charles Francois Marchal, the artist and pupil of Francois du Bois. Cham on the superscription calls this unfortunate painter, who committed suicide on account of loss of eyesight, "notre peintre." "Cham" took his pseudonym from the fact that his father, the Count de Noé, cursed him on account of his desire to become an artist. "Cham" is the French for "Ham," the son of "Noe."

- 412 CHARDIN (Jean Baptiste Simeon, 18th century French artist). SEPIA SKETCH. 4to and signed.

As Mr. Pene du Bois purchased this from the Alfred Bovet collection of autographs, it is placed, although a drawing, in this division. It represents a savant seated before a desk on which he is writing—in front of him is a globe, picture and other objects. On the floor is a coffer signed "Chardin."

This artist has been compared by his countrymen to Gabriel Metz. He was a member of the Royal Academy at Paris and one of the portrait painters to the King.

- 413 CHERUBINI (L. C. Z. A., composer and founder of the French Conservatory of Music). Document signed, 1 p., 8vo, dated—"Paris, Dec. 20, 1827."

This is a certificate given by the great composer to L. J. Morin and is signed and stamped by Cherubini as the Director of the "l'Ecole Royale de Musique et de Déclamation." When Beethoven heard the composer's opera of "Faniska" he said that Cherubini was the first dramatic composer of his time, and Haydn embraced him and called him his son. He was for twenty years the principal of the Conservatory of Music, had been connected with that institution for forty-eight years and was the instructor of thousands of eminent musicians.

- 414 CHOISEUL (Duc de, Major-General of the National Guard of Paris and diplomat). L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"May 6th, 1820."

This is a confidential letter from the Duke to the Baron de Monville, Colonel of the 10th Legion, headed "pour vous seul" and requesting, him in view of possible revolutionary trouble, to pay the most scrupulous attention to everything said and done in his legion. It is in fact a letter in which one nobleman asks another to act as a "mouchard."

- 415 CLERMONT TONNERRE (Duke, Minister of War and General). Document, 2 pp., small folio, and dated—"Paris, April 20, 1822."

This document, with printed head of the "Etat Major-General Garde Nationale de Paris," is signed by the Duke as Major-General and is addressed to the Count de Vaulgrenaud, Colonel of the 10th Legion.

- 416 COPPEE (Francois Edouard Joachim, French littérateur and archivist of the Comedie Française). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

This note, entirely in the handwriting of this distinguished poet and dramatist, is a recommendation of Mlle. Maria Barthelemy as an aspirant for heroic honors.

- 417 CORMENIN (L. M. De la Haye, Viscount and French publicist). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Signed. This is an interesting letter from Viscount de Cormenin, who died in 1868, to Villemain, the celebrated historian.

- 418 COROT (Jean Baptiste Camille, painter and officer of the Legion of Honor). A. L. S., 1 p., minimo.

A brief note to Petit, the Parisian art connoisseur, and entirely in the handwriting of the great French artist of whom Jarves wrote:—"Corot stands apart. Critics call him a master."

- 419 COURCELLES (J. B. P. J., Chevalier de, historiographer and genealogist). L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"March 25th, 1822."

The Chevalier de Courcelles was the director of the "Bureau Général de la Noblesse de France." Originally a notary, he started in the genealogical business by purchasing the heraldic cabinet of Viton de Saint Allais. He wrote nearly thirty volumes of genealogy. Those on the ancient nobility of France have always been deemed authoritative.

- 420 COUTURE (Thomas, historical painter and author of the "Romains de la Decadence"). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo; also a pen sketch made by COUTURE in 1846 representing a

"gavroche"; also etched portrait of COUTURE made by LEON LA ROCHE in 1847. (3 pieces)

VERY INTERESTING, and from the Alfred Bovet Collection. The sketch of the Paris gamin made by this artist is signed by G. G. Chardin, his brother painter, who writes above his name that it was made by Couture, at his house, in 1846. The letter of Couture is very curious. He requests a general high in the service of the Emperor Napoleon III. to repudiate on his behalf to his Majesty an abominable forgery which had appeared in the "Figaro." He always wishes to remain in the service of the Emperor, and has no time to lose in hunting down literary rascalities, and to give the lie to calumnies.

- 421 CUVIER (G. L. C. F. D., the great French naturalist). A. L. S., 1 p., 4to.

This is a letter of Baron Cuvier, one of the most celebrated members of the French Academy, written by him as temporary director of the Museum of Natural History, to the almost equally eminent naturalist, Lacépède, in which the writer expresses his regret at a letter of resignation. After the death of the last named, in 1825, Cuvier pronounced the eulogy on him.

- 422 DAUMIER (Honoré, French caricaturist). A. L. S. in pencil, 2 pp., 4to; also grotesque caricature of gentleman taking off his hat most politely to a lady, and thus exposing the baldness of his cranium. (2)

Daumier, one of the oldest artistic contributors to the "Charivari," died in 1879, after his humorous sketches of a radical political character had been renewed after an interval of nearly twenty years, caused by the hostility to him of the "man of Sedan." He ranks in French caricature alone with Gavarni and Cham. The back of the sketch described above is covered with MS., and his autograph letter is written on matters artistic to his brother artist, Jeanron.

- 423 DE LA CROIX (F. V. Eugene, painter, Member of the Institute and Commander of the Legion of Honor). 1 p., 4to.

MOST RARE. This valuable piece was purchased, like the preceding number, by Mr. Pene du Bois at the sale of the Alfred Bovet Collection. It had been previously bought by its former owner at the sale made after the death of Eugene De la Croix. It is partly autographic and partly aquarelle. The MS. consists of memoranda relating to the male and female figures and architectural studies made by the artist at Tangiers during his celebrated voyage to Morocco in 1832. The sketches are colored. At the Oppenheim sale, Paris, in 1877, the Duke D'Aumale paid for his "Two Foscari" seventy thousand five hundred francs.

"That which makes De la Croix the greatest artist of the nineteenth century, and perhaps the last of the grand family, is that he unites all the faculties of the painter, the poet and the historian by an innate power and a profound knowledge."—SYLVESTRE.

- 424 DE LA ROCHE (Hippolyte, called Paul, artist, member of the Institute, officer of the Legion of Honor and professor of painting at the "Ecole des Beau-Arts"). A. L. S., 1 p., minimo.

This is a note from Paul De la Roche to the celebrated French physician and author, Trousseau, in which he asks him to come as quickly as possible to his house as—"one of my children is suffering."

At the San Donato sale De la Roche's painting of Lady Jane Grey sold for one hundred and ten thousand francs, and at the Delessert sale in 1869 his St. Cecilia brought £840, nearly one hundred and seventy thousand francs.

- 425 DORÉ (Gustave, French painter and Chevalier of the Legion of Honor). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, and dated—"February 27, 1873."

Interesting, and relates to the editions of a work illustrated by him.

- 426 DROZ (Antoine Gustave, French littérateur). A. L. S., 2 pp., minimo, dated—"Dec. 30, 1871,"

Droz will be ever remembered by his first work, entitled—"Monsieur, Madame et Bébé."

- 427 DUMAS (Alexander père, novelist and dramatist). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

This is a billet doux of the greatest writer of fiction, in which he makes an assignation with his "dear Marie," at three o'clock in the afternoon, if she has nothing to do, and wishes to "causer" with her. He ends the note with "mille tendresses. A. Dumas." Evidently showing that the author of "Monte Cristo" had as little fear of being compromised as years after, when he had his photograph taken with Ada Isaacs Menken in an almost nude condition.

- 428 DUMAS (Alexander fils, novelist and dramatist) A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

A note from the author of the "Lady of the Camelias" to an acquaintance asking him not to call until three or four o'clock, as he always works until then.

- 429 DUMAS, THE YOUNGER. A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

VERY CHARACTERISTIC. The writer desires a friend to delay a visit, as he has to take an emetic.

- 430 DUMOULIN (Charles, General of the first French Republic). Document signed and dated at Caen—"l'an VIII. de la République Française, une et indivisible." 2 pp., small folio.

This document, which is signed by Dumoulin as General of Brigade, relates to the sum of thirty-four thousand "livres" imposed upon the southern cantons of the Department of La Manche.

- 431 FOUCQUET (Charles Louis Auguste, Duke of Belle Isle, Marshal of France and Minister of Louis the Fifteenth). L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"Metz, 1738."

The Duke of Belle Isle, one of the greatest statesmen and generals that France has produced, was born in 1684, and died in 1761. He distinguished himself in the war of the Spanish Succession, became Lieutenant-General in 1732, took part in the siege of Philippsburg, and procured the cession of Lorraine to France. Created Marshal of France about 1740, he commanded in Germany against the Imperialists, took Prague, was sent as Ambassador to the Diet at Frankfort, and procured the election of Charles VII. Being taken by the English, he was brought to England, where he was confined some months. He was afterwards created duke and peer, admitted to the French Academy, and made Minister of War in 1757.

Vide—"History of the Belle Isle," No. 371 in the previous division of this catalogue.

- 432 GARDANNE (Stanislas, General in the army of the First French Republic). A. L. S., 2 pp., 4to, and dated—"22 Brumaire An 8," letter of 3 pp., 4to, dated "February 28, 1814," from the brother of GEN. GARDANNE to his widow; document, 3 pp., small folio, signed with numerous signatures, sealed and dated—"An huit," from the municipality of Cresson to GENERAL GARDANNE; document signed, 2 pp., small folio, from the Prefect of the Department of Var to the Minister of War in relation to the claims of CAPTAIN GARDANNE for promotion; document with four signatures of officers and seal of 81st Regiment of the Army of Italy in reference to CAPTAIN GARDANNE, dated Padua, June 7th, 1808. (5 pieces)

- 433 GEROME (Jean Leon, French artist, Member of the French Institute, officer of the Legion of Honor, grand medallist, etc.). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"Oct. 6th, 1868."

This is a letter from the great painter Gerome to a friend, expressing his sorrow at the death of Monsieur Lefevre.

- 434 GOUNOD (Charles Francois, musical composer and Member of the French Institute). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"Oct. 10, 1879."

Gounod will have an immortal fame as the composer of "Faust."

- 435 GROS (Antoine Jean, Baron, historical painter). ORIGINAL PEN-AND-INK DESIGN, with his signature and fourteen autographic lines, oblong 4to.

Purchased by Mr. Pene du Bois from the Bovet collection.

This design represents a man seated and digging his nails into his chest—he has a remorseful expression. Baron Gros explains his subject in reproducing a passage from Mirabeau, in which the great orator describes the remorse which assailed both Oliver Cromwell and Clive, the founder of the British Empire in India.

- 436 GUIZOT (F. P. G., statesman, historian, etc.). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

This letter from Guizot requests that an office-seeker of the name of Gustave de Castillon shall be sent as a courier to Russia. The historian informs his correspondent, whom he styles Monsieur le Marquis, that the Duke de Montebello has promised that his friend shall have the desired position.

- 437 GUIZOT. Another, from the same. 1 p., 8vo, and dated from—"the Ministry of Foreign Affairs."

- 438 HALÉVY (F., musical composer). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo, dated—"February 19, 1849."

Interesting letter, by one of the greatest composers of France, relative to matters theatrical, by the uncle of the celebrated dramatic author Ludovic Halévy, and brother of the French littérateur Léon Halévy.

- 439 HENRIOT (Francois, French revolutionist and commander of the Revolutionary Guard of Paris). Document signed "le Commandant Gal., HENRIOT," 1 p., 4to.

DEEPLY INTERESTING document, in which the audacious and infamous Henriot orders the "Citizen Montalant" to be confined in a secret cell at the prison de l'Abbaye. Henriot was military commander of Paris during the Reign of Terror. At the time of the breaking out of the Revolution he was a convicted felon. In the terrible scenes of August and September, 1792, he headed the Sans Culottes. The triumph of Marat made him Generalissimo of the National Guard. On the occasion of the arrest of Robespierre by Barras he was hurled half drunk out of a window at the Hotel de Ville and was executed the day following along with Robespierre.

SPLENDID SIGNATURE OF KING HENRY THE FOURTH TO A MOST DEEPLY INTERESTING LETTER OF HIS-TORICAL IMPORTANCE.

440 HENRI IV. (King of France and Navarre). L. S., 1 p., folio, and dated—"Tours, March 26th, 1589."

MOST RARE. This is a relic of the hero of Ivry and is of the deepest interest. It is a letter written by Henri, then King of Navarre, to the Count of Vireville, requesting him to devote all his attention to counteracting the plots of the conspirators who have threatened his life. In view of the assassination of Henry IV. by Ravaillac a few years later, this letter is of great importance. It was written in the year of Henry of Navarre's accession to the throne of France and previous to the assassination of his brother-in-law and predecessor, Henry III.

Henry the Great and the Good, as the lower orders of France up to the time of the Revolution used to call him, was full of excellent qualities, but—"Inordinate love of women was his worst fault, the cause of much evil in his own and succeeding reigns, for his prodigality and weak indulgence to his favorite mistresses, Gabrielle d'Estrees and Henrietta d'Entragues, and his affection for his natural children, which they bore him, were a scandal to the nation and a source of impoverishing embarrassment to the Government."

441 HERCAULT (Pons de l', French deputy, 1837). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo.

The tenor of this statesman's note is—"that God proposes but woman disposes."

442 HUGO (Victor, author). A. L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"Paris, July 19, 1849."

A letter from the author of "Les Miserables" to the Duke de Sotemayor, Ambassador of Spain, in which he thanks that noble for services rendered in connection with Louis Bastida.

443 HUMBOLDT (Alexander Von, author and scientist). A. L. S., 2 pp., 4to, dated—"Berlin, March 4th, 1844."

Addressed to Monsieur Frederic Lacroix, Paris. Written in French, full of matters geographical and in which Humboldt calls himself an almost antediluvian traveler.

444 HUMBOLDT. A. L. S., 3 pp., minimo. A French letter of a personal and social nature.

445 JACOB (Count, Admiral of the French navy, born 1768, died 1854). Document signed by the officers of the frigate "Bellona," and COUNT JACOB as Captain, and dated—"an 6 de la republique." 2 pp., folio.

446 JACQUE (Charles Emile, painter and etcher). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

VERY INTERESTING autograph letter and somewhat curious. Jacque writes to a picture dealer and asks him in true Bohemian phraseology to let him have four hundred francs. At the bottom of the note is a sketch in which the artist depicts himself with sabots, surrounded by chickens and holding out his hand for the four hundred francs, which the dealer is trying not to find in his vest pocket.

- 447 JANIN (Jules Gabriel, French critic and author). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated April 5, 1859.

Jules Janin writes to Amyot that Gérôme wishes to borrow certain daguerreotypes. Amyot endorses the letter by writing to M. Leblanche, asking him to oblige the celebrated artist.

- 448 JANIN. A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo.

A letter to an intimate friend on matters domestic and social.

- 449 JOLY (François). Document signed and relating to pecuniary and other transactions between the JOLY, DUBOIS and GARNIER families in the year 1666. 1 p., small folio.

- 450 LAHRBUSH (Friedrich, captain). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

The writer was famous on account of having died at the age of 111 years and 25 days.

- 451 LAMARTINE (Alphonse M. L. P. De, President of the Second French Republic, poet, etc.). A. L. S., 2 pp., small folio, dated—"Florence, May 20, 1827."

In this letter, addressed to the Marquis Clermont-Tonnerre, Minister of War, Lamartine, in his official capacity as Charge-d'affaires in Tuscany, requests the services of the Minister on behalf of Count Bentivoglio, a former officer under Napoleon, who desires to return to the French army.

- 452 LAMARTINE. A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Lamartine requests his friend Poujoulat, the distinguished French littérateur, to have inserted in his journal an account of an oration which he has to pronounce at the Hotel de Ville.

- 453 LAMARTINE. A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo [March 13, 1839].

A note from the poet to the Countess de Girardin relative to his having broken an engagement in order to attend her reception. Stamped in the corner with Lamartine's initials and coronet.

- 454 LAMENNAIS (Felicite Robert de, polemical author). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"July 31, 1841."

The Abbé Lamennais, who, it is asserted, became a heretic because Leo XII. would not promote him to a cardinalate, writes in this letter to Monsieur Parisot asking for an authorization for Meissonier to see him at Saint Pélagie. The request was evidently granted, as the note is endorsed in French—"once a week."

- 455 LA TOUR-DUPIN (French Minister of State). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"June 13, 1767."

- 456 LECUREUX (the French bibliophile). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, "October 27, 1858."

A bibliographical note in reference to a rare work. The writer's life has been told by Octave Uzanne.

- 457 LEGENDRE (A. M., the eminent French mathematician and Member of the Academy). Document dated "an trois" and signed by LEGENDRE and fourteen other members of the National Convention, including LOMONT, DUBOIS-CRANCÉ, MERLIN, etc. 2 pp., folio.

This document has the printed heading of the National Convention above the official seal of the Goddess of Liberty. Before and after the great French Revolution Legendre received naught but honors from the various governments of France, but in 1824 Louis XVIII. deprived him of a pension of three thousand francs because he had not voted in the Academy for the ministerial candidate.

458 LITTRÉ (Emile, publicist and philologist). A. L. S., 1 p., minimo, dated—"Oct. 19, 1875."

IMPORTANT HISTORICAL AND STATE DOCUMENT WITH THE SIGNATURE OF LOUIS THE THIRTEENTH.

459 LOUIS XIII., King of France. A DOCUMENT SIGNED BY THE KING AND COUNTERSIGNED, 5 pp., folio, dated—"June 12th, 1641."

VERY RARE. This important historical manuscript is a confidential letter sent by King Louis XIII. at the dictation of Cardinal Richelieu to the Count de Vireville instructing him to do all in his power against the suspected conspirators, the Duke de Guise, the Count de Soissons and the Duke de Bouillon. King Louis XIII. claims in this letter that a rebellion is possible and that the King of Spain has been so worked upon by the emissaries of these malcontents that an invasion of France appears imminent. The Soissons League against Richelieu was one of the most important events in the history of France during the second quarter of the 17th century. The finale of these episodes was wound up in the year this document was written by the tragic death of Louis, Count of Soissons (grandson of the first Prince of Condé) at La Marffée, and the condemnation to death by the Parliament of Paris of Henry the Fifth, Duke of Guise, but who, on the death of Louis XIII., returned to France and eventually became notorious under Louis XIV. for his domestic infelicities, his gallantries, his imprisonment in Spain and his treacherous betrayal of his best friends.

460 LOUIS XIV. A sonnet addressed to "Le Grand Monarque" on the elevation of his grandson, the second son of the Dauphin, to the throne of Spain under the title of PHILIP V. 1 p., 4to.

This poetical epistle was written by a Spanish admirer of Louis XIV.

LOUIS THE FIFTEENTH'S SIGNATURE TO A STATE DOCUMENT ADDRESSED TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE PARLIAMENT AT PARIS.

461 LOUIS XV. (King of France, called "le bien aimé"). A document signed "LOUIS" and dated—"Versailles, Nov. 27, 1751." 1 p., folio.

EXCESSIVELY RARE. This document is countersigned by the Duke d'Argenson and is addressed to M. Olivier de Senozan, President of the fourth chamber of "Enquetes" of "my Parliament of Paris." The King orders him to resume his functions under pain of disobedience.

This historical document emanated from one of the worst of the many bad kings with which France has been cursed. His long reign of nearly sixty years was one continued carnival of debauchery, and the extravagances which he lavished upon his du Barrys, Pompadours and Parc-aux-Cerfs not only cost his grandson his head, but his own life. We read—"Louis, who had for some time suffered from a disease contracted through vice, was seized with smallpox, the infection of which was communicated by a young girl who had been brought to him. On 10th May, 1774, he died, so far from being regretted that his funeral was a sort of popular festival and was celebrated with pasquils and merry ballads."

- 462 MARTIN (Henri, French historian and Member of the Institute, etc.) A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo, dated—"Paris, June 6, 1873."

Refers to Viollet-le-Duc, de la Borderie et de Boisselle. Henri Martin, who was also christened "Bon Louis," was one of the greatest historians of France. His history of that country stands very high in the estimation of his compatriots. He occupied the seat in the Académie Française previously held by Adolphe Thiers. He defeated Taine by a vote of 18 to 15.

- 463 MARTIN. A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"July 4, 1862."
Apology for silence on account of illness.

- 464 MASSÉ (Felix Marie Victor, French composer, Member of the Institute, etc.) A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"September 18, 1871."

Letter of the composer of the very popular "Noces de Jeannette," asking M. Martinet for a box with four seats. Massé became a member of the Academy of Beaux-Arts on the death of Auber.

- 465 MEISSONIER (Jean Louis Ernest, painter, Member of the Institute, Commander of the Legion of Honor, etc.) A. L. S., 1 p., minimo, dated—"July 2, 1867."

Friendly letter to General Rou and stamped with monogram. Meissonier's painting called "1807" was sold to the late A. T. Stewart for over three hundred thousand francs. It was recently resold for $67,000, and was presented to the Metropolitan Museum of Art by Judge Henry Hilton.

- 466 MÉRIMÉE (Prosper, French littérateur). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Invitation to a friend to have a "bad breakfast" with him on Sunday morning at eleven.

- 467 MEYERBEER (Jacob, celebrated musical composer). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

This is a letter in regard to the libretto of one of the operas of Meyerbeer, whose musical genius was such that even at five years of age he could spontaneously play tunes on the piano. His "Robert le Diable" was received on its production with enthusiasm, and the "Huguenots" in 1836 made him reach the climax of his fame.

- 468 MIGNET (F. A. A. A., French historian, Academician, etc.) A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Declination of an invitation to breakfast. During the reign of Napoleon III. Mignet rested on his celebrity as the author of the "History of the French Revolution," a period which he regards more from a moral than from a philosophical standpoint. It has therefore been charged with leading to fatalism.

- 469 MIGNET. A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Letter to Monsieur Lemoyne, dated—"Jan. 16."

- 470 MIGNET. A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Written in the third person to the Count de Kalckreuth, and as perpetual secretary of the Academy of Moral and Political Sciences of the French Institute. With engraved artistic heading.

- 471 MONTBAREY (Le Prince de, Minister of Louis XV.). A. L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"Versailles, December, 10, 1780."

Requests advice from the Lieutenant-General le Marquis de Voyer in relation to a matter of a delicate character in which a lady is concerned.

- 472 MORELLET (André, French littérateur and friend of Benjamin Franklin). A. L. S., to the COUNT ALGROLI, dated—"Florence, Jan. 5, 1759," 2 pp., 4to; also—copy of a 4to letter of 4 pp. written to LORD HENRY PETTY, Chancellor of the English Exchequer and son of the Marquis of Lansdowne. (2 pieces)

With English translations of the above. In the second letter referred to and written in 1806 the Abbé Morellet thanks Lord Henry Petty for the books forwarded to him through Lord Lauderdale. Refers to the Malthusian theory and states that he regards England as the centre of the light and civilization of Europe. He also expresses his great admiration of the writings of Jeremy Bentham.

NAPOLEON THE FIRST—THE ORIGINAL MINUTES OF AN OFFICIAL DOCUMENT DICTATED BY THE EM-PEROR.

- 473 NAPOLEON BONAPARTE (Emperor of France, called "the Great"). Document, 7 pp., small folio.

Five of these pages consist of the original notes dictated by Napoleon, February 12th, 1812, on the distribution of bread to the indigent population of Paris. It includes a very neatly written two-page schedule of the localities requiring assistance.

- 474 NECKER (Jacques, financier and Minister of France, under Louis XVI.). L. S., 1 p., small 4to, stamped with heraldic seal, dated—"Versailles, Sept. 13, 1785." With portrait.

A letter to Monsieur Boissel, thanking him for a work which he had sent to the father of Madame de Stael. Necker further states that he has given Louis XVI. the copy of the same destined for his Majesty. The last few years of the reign of that King were but one continuous sending into exile and recalling to ministerial duties the vain and egotistical writer of the above letter. Necker was not guillotined like his master, but died in his bed at Geneva, in 1804.

- 475 OFFENBACH (Jacques, musical composer). L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"Paris, Jan. 9, 1856."

Note from the composer of the "Grand Duchess of Gerolstein," "Orpheus in Hell," etc., telling his correspondent that the "Bouffes Parisiens"—great and little—will be only too happy to receive him when he will accord them a visit.

- 476 PALMSTJERNA (Baron, diplomat). A. L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"Sept. 7th, 1840"; also L. S. signed and sealed from HIPPOLYTE DE St. ANTHOINE to M. H. F. DELANO informing him that he has been elected a Member of the Institute of Africa, dated—"Dec. 25, 1851." (2 pieces.)

The last mentioned is headed with the names of the presidents, including the Duke de Valentinois, the Prince de Rohan Rochfort, and the Prince Soutzo of the African Institute for the abolition of slavery and the civilization of Africa.

- 477 PEIGNOT (Etienne Gabriel, the celebrated French bibliographer). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"Dijon, August 22, 1812."

VERY CHARACTERISTIC LETTER of the most distinguished book expert of the first half of this century, and the only one whom all the bibliographers following the lead of Brunet accept the assertions of with implicit faith. Peignot recommends his friend to keep away from bad company, and above all such that would make him remember the scourge of St. Hilary, the only cause of all our evils. Then he asks after "la Soeuseu," and tells his friend to embrace her for him. He winds up with a request in rhyme that his "Xavier" would let him have "those 412 francs."

- 478 PHELLIPON (Baron, General of the National Guard of Paris). L. S., 4to, with receipt for 88 francs and 65 centimes.

The above document dated August 11, 1814, has a vignette head of the fleur-de-lys and royal crown of France, and four months after Napoleon had been sent to Elba. The document is interesting as it is dated between that period and the "Hundred Days."

- 479 PONIATOWSKI (J. M. X. F. J., Prince, French Senator and musical composer). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo.

This is stamped on the corner with the princely crown of the Poniatowskis, and it is a cool request to the celebrated French vaudevillist Nérée Desabres to let the Prince officiate as a champion dead-head. He complains that the last time he wanted seats he did not get any. He will be contented with only ten this time, although he really wants twelve, as well as four boxes.

- 480 PONSARD (Francois, French dramatist). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

This is almost as refreshing as the last-named. Ponsard writes from Vienna that he wishes the Director of the Odeon to let his cousin and her family, composed of pretty girls, have a box.

- 481 QUANTIN (A., bibliophile and bibliopole). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"Nov. 12, 1881."

- 482 RAFFET (D. A. M., French artist, Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, etc.) A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Raffet was one of the greatest water-colorists and book illustrators of his time. He was the intimate friend of Prince Demidoff, and so great was his enthusiasm for art that it is said that on one occasion he obtained the head of a young soldier, shut himself up with his ghastly treasure and made numerous studies of it—"in order to master the strange pallor and painful mysteries of death."

- 483 REGNAULT (A. G. H., painter, prix de Rome, 1866). Original pen and ink sketch, with signature and autograph lines at the bottom. With portrait by BLANCHARD on INDIA PAPER.

This sketch was made by Regnault at college when he was fifteen years old. It represents a schoolmaster practicing a method of forcing a rule into the head of a boy. With an air of stern determination the dominie grips with both hands the ears of the scholar with all his strength—result, boy with contortion of fingers and dancing in agony. This humorous design is of great interest, in view of the glorious death of Regnault at the battle of Buzenval before Paris, Jan. 19, 1871, and but a comparatively brief period after exhibiting such pictures as the "Salome" and the "Execution without Judgment."

Mr. Pene du Bois purchased this sketch at the sale of the Alfred Bovet collection, and it is a pathetic relic of the distinguished artist of whom Paul Mantz wrote, after the painter's sad death—"Regnault, crowned already with a precocious glory, scarcely at the first chapter of his book; his art was young like his soul . . . there remains to us only his work, which is but a radiant beginning, and the example of his death, which plainly shows the culture of art extinguishes not the religion of patriotism in the soul."

- 484 REMUSAT (Charles F. M., Count de, author, statesman, Member of the Institute, etc.) A. L. S., 1 p., 4to.

Letter of recommendation for political office for an unhappy but interesting young man. Charles de Remusat, who died in 1875, became the Minister of Foreign Affairs under Thiers, and later French Minister to Italy, was a son of the celebrated Madame de Rémusat, whose "Memoires" created such a stir in the world of letters and the "haut monde."

- 485 RENAUDIN (Admiral of the French Navy). Document to the General-in-Chief of the Army, signed by RENAUDIN and others. 1 p.

Admiral Renaudin was born in 1757, died in 1809.

- 486 REYER (L. E. E. Rey, French musical composer, littérateur, Member of the Institute and Academy of Beaux-Arts.) A. L. S., 1 p., small 8vo.

A request to his "dear D'Hormoy" to let him have a box at the theatre.

- 487 RICHINI (Paul, President of the municipality of Alexandria). L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated "20th Floreal, An 7."

A petition to General Gardanne on behalf of his brother Vincent Richini, who wishes to enter the French army.

- 488 ROSSINI (Gioacchino, the greatest composer in this century of the Italian lyric stage). Document signed—"GIOACCHINO ROSSINI," and dated—"Firenze li 25 Settemb. 1854," 1 p., 4to.

A receipt for £4,779 8s., to Leopoldo Pini, advocate. "In Rossini's early works he developed with great felicity the type established by his Italian predecessors. These compositions are characterized by sterling melody, brilliant instrumentation and enjoyable vivacity. 'Guillaume Tell,' though equally original, approaches far more nearly to the character of the German school."

- 489 ROUYEYRE (Edouard, bibliophile, bibliographer and bibliophile). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo.

The author of some of the most charming volumes for bookmen issued during the past few years.

490. SAINTE-BEUVE (Charles Augustin, French critic and poet).
A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"November 21st, 1870."

A letter to the librarian of the French Institute in regard to various works.
"En 1865 ses [Saint Beuve's] liaisons avec deux membres de la Famille Impériale, plus encore que sa grande notoriété littéraire, le firent entrer au Sénat."
—VAPERAU.

491. SANDEAU (Leonard Sylvain Jules, French littérateur and Member of the Academie Française). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Jules Sandeau's intrigue with George Sand was the principal cause of his entering literature. In 1831 the first work of both was written in collaboration under the nom-de-plume of Jules Sand. Later Sandeau became more eminent as a dramatist than as a writer of fiction.

492. SANDEAU. A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

A demand from the playwright for a box at the theatre.

493. SARCEY (Francisque, French littérateur). A. L. S., 2 pp., minimo.

A note to a friend in regard to a criticism on Sarcey by Alberic Second.

Sarcey has been for years in continual hot water in matters literary. His celebrated controversy in regard to Chinese children devoured by pigs and his condemnation to three thousand francs fine and fifteen days in prison for having denounced the miracle of Lourdes have given him notoriety on both sides of the Atlantic.

494. SARDOU (Victorien, French dramatist and Academician).
A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

The great popularity in this country of "Daniel Rochat," in which Sardou makes a powerful plea in favor of divorce, has made us forget many of his earlier and brighter plays.

495. SARDOU. A. L. S., 1 p., minimo.

496. SCALONI (Francesco, Italian littérateur).<sup>a</sup> A. L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"1840."

A key to the "Hypercalipse" of Hugo Foscolo, and being a communication to Dr. Baldasari Lambertenghi of Como.

497. SCRIBE (Augustin Eugene, French dramatist and Academician). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

A note to his friend Mons. de St. George and invitation to breakfast. Scribe died at Paris in 1861 after fifty-five years of successful playwriting. His first piece was written by him when he was eighteen years old, in collaboration with some friends.

498. SIMON (Jules François Suisse, French writer, Senator, Member of the Institute). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo, dated—"Jan. 21, 1844."

A very interesting literary letter to a friend, probably Pauthier, the Orientalist, in which he refers to his knowledge of Greek philosophy and his ignorance of Chinese metaphysics, which were much more elevated than he had previously thought. He writes "such ignorance ought to surprise you." This great Frenchman has played one of the most conspicuous parts in the politics of Europe for more than a quarter of a century and particularly during the infancy of the present stable and glorious French Republic.

- 499 SOLIVERES (de, distinguished French army officer). A. L. S., 3 pp., 4to, dated—"February 9, 1827."

Written on note paper headed "Etat Major-General Garde Nationale de Paris." This letter is really one of the celebrated Marshal Oudinot, Duke of Reggio, but it is signed on behalf of the Commander-in-Chief by the above-named, who was his "Colonel d'Etat Major" and Secretary General. It is a scolding epistle to Mons. Pieult, Mayor of the Tenth Arrondissement in relation to military matters.

- 500 SULLY-PRUDHOMME (R. F. A., French poet and Academician). A. L. S., 1 p., minimo, dated—"Feb. 26, 1883."

- 501 TALLEYRAND-PERIGORD (C. M. de, diplomat, statesman, Bishop of Autun, Prince, etc.). A document of 11 pages, large 4to, with many signatures and among others that of PRINCE TALLEYRAND, stamped with various seals of the first French Republic and dated at Paris in the tenth year of the same.

This is a state document and the last few lines read as follows—"the undersigned chargé des affaires of the French Republic to the United States certifies that the foregoing is the signature of Mr. Talleyrand, Minister of Foreign Affairs in France. Given under my hand and seal of office at Baltimore, Feb. 23, 1804. L. A. PICHON."

Napoleon's celebrated Minister signs his name "Ch. Mau. Talleyrand." He was one of the most unscrupulous and subtle of modern diplomatists. During his entire life he was nothing but a theological and political turncoat. While an abbé his conduct was so grossly immoral that Louis XVI. for many years refused to give him any ecclesiastical preferment, and it was only his administrative abilities that caused the mitre of the See of Autun to be placed upon his unworthy head. He was excommunicated by the Pope, and although Napoleon made him a Prince and used what Carlyle calls "his vulpine understanding" for some of the most tremendous of his many European coups d'état, the nickname given Talleyrand by the Empress Josephine will always cling to his memory and chronicle him as the "Maudit Boiteux," i. e., the "cursed cripple."

- 502 THIERS (Louis Adolphe, President of the third French Republic and historian). A. L. S., 1 p., small 8vo, dated—"May 28th, 1839," with stamped envelope in the handwriting of THIERS and of a later date. (2 pieces)

A note from the celebrated historian of the French Revolution to Pauthier asking that eminent Orientalist to let him have a copy of his work on "China," in which, he says, he is deeply interested, more particularly on account of the subject having been treated by his friend.

- 503 THOMAS (Charles Louis Ambroise, French composer and Member of the French Institute). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Letter accepting invitation from Theodore de Larminois to the eminent composer, who replaced Auber as the director of the Conservatoire at Paris in 1871.

- 504 TILDEN (Samuel J., American statesman and Governor of New York State). Two documents signed. (2 pieces)

- 505 TOCQUEVILLE (A. Ch. C. de, French statesman and author). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo, dated—"Dec. 30, 1850."

Written during the period De Tocqueville was Minister of Foreign Affairs of the second French Republic to a colleague. It is a letter of sympathy on the loss of his friend's mother. De Tocqueville also speaks of his own health as rapidly mending.

- 506 TOPFFER (R., French author and novelist). Document signed mentioning "Clarissa Harlowe." Minimo, 1834.

Vide numbers 329 and 330 in the previous division for works of this author.

- 507 TODCHER (Director of the French East India Company). L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"A l'Orient, le 30 Jer., 1748." With heraldic wax seal, coronet, shield and supporters, addressed to "MONSIEUR BIGOT DE LA MOTHE, Intendant de la Marine à Brest."

- 508 VALÉE (Sylvain Charles, Marshal of France and Count). L. S., 1 p., folio, addressed to the Minister of State, dated—"Algiers, 30th of August, 1840," and signed by COUNT VALÉE as the Marshal Governor of Algeria relative to army matters and the transportation service in the Algerian province of Oran.

- 509 VAULGRENAUD (A. de, distinguished officer in the French army). A. L. S., 3 pp., small 8vo, addressed to "MONS. BÉVILLE à Paris," and stamped with wax heraldic seal.

- 510 VERDI (Giuseppe, operatic composer). A. L. S., 1 p., minimo, with envelope.

A brief note from the immortal author of "La Traviata" and "Il Trovatore."

- 511 VERNE (Jules, French author). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Enclosing ticket for box at the Porte St. Martin. The writer of sensational fiction tells his friend that madame should have written to the theatrical director, but he is only too delighted to be of service.

- 512 VIGNY (Alfred de, French poet and novelist). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo, dated—"May 28, 1850."

Characteristic letter from the author of "Cinq-Mars."

- 513 VILLEMAIN (Able Francois, French author and Secretary of the Academie Française). A. L. S., 1 p., 8vo.

Villemain's works on French literature and history will be counted among the classics of this age. He incurred the eternal enmity of Charles X. for drawing up, along with Chateaubriand and Lacretelle, the petition addressed by the French Academy to that monarch against the reestablishment in France of the censorship of the press.

- 514 VIRY (Arthaud de, distinguished French army officer). A. L. S., 2 pp., 4to, dated—"December 20, 1811."

A confidential letter from one of Napoleon's soldiers to a friend.

EXTREMELY INTERESTING LETTER OF THREE PAGES OF VOLTAIRE, IN REFERENCE TO HIS "SIECLE DE
LOUIS XIV."

- 515 VOLTAIRE (Francois, Marie Arouët de, the most famous of all the authors of France). A letter signed "V" and dated—"à Ferney 5<sup>e</sup> Mars, 1768," 3 pp., 4to.

VERY RARE. One of the most important letters in the Pene du Bois Collection. The immortal author of the "Henriade" and "La Pucelle" wrote these three pages to Mons. de Tauler. Voltaire tells him that three-quarters of the new edition of the "Siècle de Louis Quatorze" are printed. He asks for anecdotes on Jansenism, and says that he is aware that politics enter into the quarrels of the Jansenists and Molinists. As to the will attributed to Cardinal Richelieu, he wishes all the information possible, and requests Mons. Tauler to show this letter to the Duke de Choiseul. He adds that the Duchess d'Aguillon had sought at the Office of Foreign Affairs for all that was favorable to the opinion of Voltaire on this matter. If there is any new light on the subject, he is willing to publicly retract, and will say that the Cardinal Richelieu made a blunder in politics as ridiculous and bad as he made in theology. The succinct narration, so badly compiled by the Abbé de Boureis under the eyes of the Cardinal, Voltaire says, has nothing in common with the "testament." It shows, on the contrary, that document is suppositious. The will of Cardinal Richelieu ought to say what Louis XIII. ought to do when he should lose his minister. Voltaire writes that it ought to speak of the education of the Dauphin; of the negotiations with Sweden, the Duke de Weimar and the other German princes against the house of Austria; how the war can be continued and be brought to an advantageous peace; what precautions should be taken against the Huguenots; what form of regency should be established in the event of Louis XIII. succumbing to his long illnesses, etc. These are the instructions, Voltaire states, a Minister of State should have given, but he does not say a word of what is indispensable, and he speaks "des sottises énormes dignes du Chevalier de Moulin et de l'ex-Capuchin Maubert sur des choses très inutiles."

- 516 UZANNE (Octave, editor of "Le Livre," author of "The Fan," etc.). A. L. S., 2 pp., 8vo, dated Paris, "February 20, 1882," with envelope.

Note from Uzanne to Mr. Pene du Bois, making him the American correspondent of "Le Livre."

- 517 WERDET (Edmond, celebrated French bibliographer). A. L. S., 1 p., 4to, dated—"15th of Sept. 1856."

Interesting letter to Anguste Aubry. The distinguished bibliographer Werdet published the larger portion of the works of Balzac. He wrote that humorist's life, as well as other works more or less of a bibliophilistic character, such as his "Histoire du Livre en France" in five volumes.

THE GRAND RUSSELL COLLECTION OF AUTOGRAPHS
OF U. S. PRESIDENTS, AUTHORS, STATESMEN, ETC.—MANY OF CONSIDERABLE VALUE.

- 518 AUTOGRAPHS. A COLLECTION OF OVER 220
LETTERS WHOLLY IN THE CALIGRAPHY OF THE VARIOUS

WRITERS, OR SEPARATE SIGNATURES, SOME OF THE LAST NAMED WITH MS. IN THE SAME HAND ABOVE THEM. THE WHOLE IN A SMALL OCTAVO MOROCCO ALBUM, WITH TWO BRASS CLASPS.

UNIQUE, MOST INTERESTING AND VALUABLE COLLECTION.

This album contains 223 signatures, exclusive of three on—"A Bill of One Shilling—Proclamation, is Emitted by a Law of the Colony of New Jersey, passed in the Fourteenth Year of the Reign of His Majesty King George the Third. Dated March 25, 1776." They include the signatures or handwriting of ten Presidents of the United States, i. e. :—George Washington, James K. Polk, Zachary Taylor, John Tyler, Martin Van Buren, Millard Fillmore, John Quincy Adams, James Madison, James Buchanan and Franklin Pierce.

There are the signatures of statesmen, governors of States, poets, artists, singers, authors, physicians, ecclesiastics, historians, philanthropists, military and naval officers, actors, etc.

Also will be found verses and extracts by and from Geo. Ticknor, H. W. Longfellow, Th. Starr King, T. W. Parsons, Oliver Wendell Holmes, Charles Sprague, Charles James Sprague (son and grandson of Samuel, of the "Boston tea party,"), Nathan B. Shurtleff, Elias Boudinot (President of Congress, 1782), John Phillips, Ben. Silliman, Joseph Leidy, Thaddeus W. Harris, etc.

Among the signatures are those of Sir Charles Lyell, Commodore Perry, Maria Mitchell, of Vassar College; Rembrandt Peale, E. F. Ellet, Thomas Bailey Aldrich, G. P. Morris (author of "Woodman, Spare that Tree"), John G. Saxe, B. P. Shillaber ("Mrs. Partington"), Charlotte Cushman, J. Papi-neau, Paul Morphy, Wm. Prescott, Ch. Lowell, Jenny Lind, Adelaide Ristori, Fanny Kemble, H. B. Stowe, L. Sigourney, Edwin Booth, J. Wilkes Booth, Daniel Webster, Henry Clay, Jefferson Davis, Caleb Cushing (2), Sam. Ward, R. H. Dana, L. Agassiz, Emerson, F. D. Huntingdon, Jared Sparks, W. A. Seward, Marcy, Benton, Lewis Cass, John Hancock, 1759; James Bowdoin, B. Silliman, Jr., Humboldt, Mary Somerville, Adam Badeau, Chas. Mackay, B. Taylor, Motley, Washington Irving, G. W. Curtis, C. M. Sedgwick, William Cullen Bryant, A. Potter, John Eliot, 1791; Beecher, H. H. Milman, Sam. Appleton, Nathan Appleton, Lord Castlereagh, Baroness Burdett Coutts, A. Lang, George Rawlinson, etc.

Specially worthy of note is a letter dated—"Boston, 12 Sept., 1859," and of four pages, from Edward Everett, written in the album over his signature, telling of his acquaintance with Jenny Lind. On leaf 5 is a five cent silver piece of 1840, given him by "the Swedish Nightingale," and immediately following is her autograph signed to a list of the charitable institutions of Boston, and the amounts donated each, the proceeds of a concert given by her.

Henry W. Longfellow's lines on a half-sheet of paper are:—

"All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

—HENRY W. LONGFELLOW."

Oliver Wendell Holmes on leaf 22 contributes two verses of original poetry over his signature, dated—"Boston, Nov. 3rd, 1839."

President John Tyler is represented by a note to Horace P. Chandler, dated—"Sherwood Forrest, Oct. 13, 1859."

These references give an indication of the character of the collection. It was made by a devoted autograph collector, Mrs. Russell, who left it as a legacy in her will to Mr. Pene du Bois.

THE "COMEDIE FRANCAISE TOMBOLA" COLLECTION OF AUTOGRAPHS OF DISTINGUISHED MEMBERS OF THE FRENCH STAGE, AUTHORS, CRITICS, ETC.

519 "ALBUM D'AUTOGRAPHES DE LA TOMBOLA DES ARTISTES DRAMATIQUES." Oblong quarto.

UNIQUE AND SPLENDID COLLECTION OF AUTOGRAPHS and referred to by the "New York Tribune," on June 3, 1883, as follows:—"He [Mr. Pene du Bois] owns an autograph album by the French artists . . . which is worth one thousand dollars." This, although an exaggeration as to the actual worth of the collection, is an indication of its being of great value.

This album of autographs consists of several hundreds of signed letters and signatures with autographs of the leading men and women of letters, dramatists, critics, actors, actresses and singers of France. It is an autograph "omnium gath-erum" gotten up by the secretary of the "Comedie Française" for the "Société des Artistes Dramatiques," and was raffled off in a tombola or lottery for the benefit of that society after the Commune of 1871, and upon the return of a portion of the members of the "Comedie Française" from London. This lottery was held in Paris in 1871, and resulted in handing over a goodly sum to the destitute members of the stage who, during the siege and Commune, had played to empty houses. Contributions from all the professionals and men of letters available were joined together, as well as many letters written previously by notabilities and in the possession of sympathizers of this charitable cause.

Among the more important signed autographs letters are those of—Béranger, a letter, 1854, to Emile Thierry thanking him for the pretty songs he has forwarded; Alexander Dumas the Elder, an original quatrain entitled "Liberty and Love," one of the last productions from his pen, also a letter from the same; Ed. Thierry, "The Sentinel," a poem of sixteen lines; Cherubini, signature and two pages of music in his handwriting, being an "examen de solfège"; Count de Las Casas, author of "Memorial of St. Helena" in reference to that work; Laboulaye, refers to his novel of "Abdallah"; Lamartine, receipt of three hundred francs from Hachette, the publisher; George Sand, a three-page autograph letter signed and dated Oct. 20, 1856, in reference to a play produced at the Odéon; Ponson de Terrail, request for a box; Madame de St. Ouen, the authoress; Michelet, letter dated July 30, 1860, requesting Mons. Demoliere to send the money due him on account of his "Louis XI." and other works; Sainte-Beuve, a demand dated Dec. 26, 1859, for three hundred francs for an unwritten work; E. Arnal, the "Artist," an original poem of eighteen lines; P. Lefort, poem in four verses, "La Cinquantaine"; A. De Forge, Minister of War, request for a box; etc.

There are also letters (A. L. S.) from the following:—Emile Girardin, Camille Dorti, Victorien, Marie Delaporte, Jeanne Boudois, Couder, N. Roquepln (dramatic critic), Paul Dhormoy, Cherie Ad. Adam, Adolphe, Duprez, Angéla, S. Duchesney, Marie Favart, Bagier, Dormeuil, J. Roubaud, Frederic Thomas, Legouve, Muriel, Ouvrié, V. Cochinat (2), C. Montaland, Lemeuil, Grassot, P. de Gasparin, Quatrefores (scientist), Beauvallet, Dr. Blanche, Altaroche (managing editor of "Charivari"), Alberic Second, Ch. Nutter, E. Monvey, Jeanne Sabbatier, Delacour, Léon Cogniard, Paul Dalloz, M. Escudier, B. Jouvin (of the "Figaro"), Octave Lacroix, C. Laurent, Jules Prevel, Tony Revillon, L. Buloz (2), V. Bourey, Munoz, M. Petit, Elisa Picardi, A. Pasca, Desirée, Castagnary, Paul de Saint Victor, etc., etc.

Among the numerous signatures, many of which have original lines above them, are those of—Etienne Senescal (sketch and verses from Alfred de Musset), Levesto, Verteuil, Davesnes, Leon Gaillard, Eug. Garraud, Augustine Brohan, Bonval, Nathalie, C. Jouassain, Madeleine Brohan, Edile Requer, Victoria Lafontaine, Emilie Dubois, Arnauld Plessy, Zelia Poussin, Emilia Guyot, Marie Favart, Emma Fleury, Marie Lloyd, Rose Barretta, Dinah Felix (Rachel's sister), Marie Roger, Jeanne Tordin, Rosa Didier, R. Deschaumes, Pauline Granger, Edmée Ramillé, V. Angelot, D. Macquet, E. Devoyod, Deligny-Derval, M. Lemoine Montigny, Eug. Maisot, A. Landrol, Frances, P. Esquier, Mdle. Berton, Louvel, Renaudin, E. Pradeau, Paul Boisselot, Blanche Pierson, Eugene Herold, Regnier, G. Duprez, Got (four lines of poetry), L. Delaunay, Talbot, P. Leroux, Maubant, Louis Monrose, P. Bressant, H. Lafontaine, C. Coquelin (verses from Hugo in reply to attack of Veuillot on "The Actor"), Mirecour, Chery, Tronchet, Febvre, Eugene Provost, L. Barré, Moutet, G. Guichard, C. Gibeau, Verdellet, Prud'hon, Boucher, Ch. Masset, etc., etc.

There are also many cartes-de-visite of the company of the "Comedie Française," such as:—Regnier, Barre, Monrose, Bressant, Lafontaine, Febvre, Jouassain, etc.

520 AUTOGRAPH PORTFOLIO. Large 4to, half morocco, cloth sides, with cloth flaps and ties.

521 BOVET (Alfred). Catalogue de la Precieuse Collection d'Autographes composant le Cabinet de,—Series I, II, III, IV and VIII. 2 vols. 4to, sewed. Paris, 1885

Illustrated with numerous fac-simile autographs and sketches.

522 FONTAINE (P. Jul.). Manuel de l'Amateur d'Autographes. 8vo, old roan, gilt. Paris, 1836

An invaluable work for autograph collectors. Loose with the above is a long article on autograph collecting by Paul Eudel.

IV. Early Typography,

CONSISTING OF

INCUNABULA, BLACK LETTERS AND OTHER RARE BOOKS PRINTED BEFORE THE YEAR 1600—ALSO SPLENDID ALDINE AND ELZEVIRIAN IMPRINTS.

" Incunables ! for you I sigh,
Black letter, at thy founts I kneel,
Old tales of Perrault's nursery,
For you I'd go without a meal !
For Books wherein did Aldus deal
And rare Galiot du Pré I pine.
The watches of the night reveal
The Books that never can be mine !"

—ANDREW LANG.

ST. JEROME ON THE DIVINE ESSENCE—AN EXCESSIVELY RARE INCUNABULIC SPECIMEN.

523 Black Letter.—HIERONYMUS (Beatus). Liber de Essencia Diuinitatis: also—THOMA DE AQUINO, de Articulis Fidei et Ecclesie Sacramentis. 4to, boards.

[? Augsburg, Gunther Zainer, circa 1470]

EXTREMELY RARE. Printed on thick paper in handsome old Gothic types, with the initial letters and date "MCCCCLXX" added in red.

This volume was printed with the same font of type as the "Imitatio Christi" and by Gunther Zainer of Reutlingen, the first printer of Augsburg.

Several writers have given 1466 as the date of the first book printed at Augsburg and by Zainer. General Hawkins, in his valuable work on "the First Books and Printers of the Fifteenth Century," claims the first with a date printed in Augsburg, to have been St. Bonaventure's Meditations, by Zainer, in 1468, and adds—"It might almost be said that the first school of wood-engraving in Europe was founded in that city." This, of course, means outside of xylographic books.

Gunther Zainer's imprints, write Bigmore and Wyman—"were all printed in the semi-Roman character, first used by the Cologne printers; but in 1472 he introduced for the first time a true Roman letter in imitation of that cast by Jenson at Venice."

COMPANION INCUNABLE TO THE PRECEDING NUMBER.

524 Black Letter.—BEATUS HIERONYMUS, Liber de Viris Illustrib. Large 4to, boards.

[? Augsburg, Gunther Zainer, circa 1470]

EXTREMELY RARE. Printed with the same types as the last named—the initial letters added in red, also this colophon in MS.—"Liber pvb. G. Zayner Avgvsta A.D. MCCCCLXX."

St. Jerome, author of the above and preceding work, is also known in biography as "Eusebius Hieronymus Sophronius." He was born on the confines of Dalmatia, circa 331–345. He retired to the desert of Chalcis in 374, and became a priest at Antioch four years later. For three years after he lived at Constantinople in close intimacy with Gregory Nazianzen. In 382, St. Jerome came to Rome and acted as the secretary of Pope Damasius, engaging in his great work of biblical revision. He was celebrated chiefly for his Pelagian controversies, and died on September 30, in the year 420. Erasmus edited his works. St. Jerome is—"universally regarded as the most learned and eloquent of the Latin Fathers."

FATHER ROSENHEIM'S "ROSEUM MEMORIALE"— PRINTED ABOUT 1482.

525 Black Letter.—ROSENHEIM (Petrus de). ROSEUM MEMORIALE DIUINORUM ELOQUIORUM COPILATUM. PER FRATREM PETRUS DE ROSENHEIM MONACHUM MONASTERII MELLICENSIS ORDINIS SANCTI BENEDICTI. Small 4to, half calf. [? Memmingen, Albert Kunne, circa 1482]

EXTREMELY RARE. This was probably printed by Albert Kunne, the first printer at Memmingen, vide Hain, 1398. 47 leaves and 33–34 lines to the page. The first initial letter "R" is illuminated in gold and colors, with floriated border.

"The earliest specimen of the typography of this town [Memmingen] is an edition of the well-known chronicle entitled 'Fasciculus Temporum.' . . . This work was executed by Albertus Kunne de Duderstadt, who had previously been a printer at Trent, and who appears to have reigned without a rival at Memmingen, as more than fifty of his books are mentioned by Panzer in the XVth century, but not one single volume executed by any other printer."—COTTON.

THE "VIOLA SANCTORUM," PRINTED WITH THE TYPES OF ANTHONY SORG IN 1482.

526 Black Letter.—VIOLA SANCTORUM. 4to, old half stamped calf, on wooden boards.

[? Augsburg, Anthony Sorg,] 1482

EXTREMELY RARE, with some of the initial letters illuminated in gold and colors. With contemporary marginalia and some pages stained, 118 leaves, 28-31 lines to the page. The colophon of this martyrology reads:—I, "Viola sanctoru. explicit feliciter Anno dni. MCCCCLXXXII." The types are those of Anthony Sorg. Cotton states:—"In 1472 a press was erected in the monastery of SS. Ulric and Afra [at Augsburg], but no book issued from it before 1474 now remains. Anthony Sorg, who is supposed to have printed for the monastery, says of one of his books that it is not—"cyrographatus, sed stan-neis karakteribus artificialiter effigiatus."

HANDSOMELY BOUND CICERO—VENICE, 1483.

- 527 CICERONIS EPISTOLAS CUM HUBERTINI CLERICI COMMENTO. Thick small folio, handsomely bound in red morocco extra gilt, inside gold borders, leather joints, gilt edges. Venice, 1483

VERY RARE and printed in Roman type, and the commentary in a smaller font than the text. There are occasional marginalia. The first and last pages are carefully mounted. The colophon shows that the volume was printed:—"Accuratissime, optinoqz. caractere impensis Andree de Asula Bartholomeiqz alexadrini socior. Venetiis impressi: Anno salutis dominice MCCCCLXXXIII. pridie calendas februarias. Laus deo."

Brunet quotes two vellum copies of the above edition having been sold between $125 and $150, as follows:—"31 liv. 10 sh. Williams; 23 liv. 10 sh. Butler."

Nicholas Jenson is claimed to have been the first Venetian printer, who was considered—"the only printer of merit in that age, and the productions of his press are far superior to those of any other." Timperley says that in 1458—"King Charles the Seventh, King of France, having received private information of the invention of printing at Mentz, sent Nicholas Jenson, or Jenso-nius, an engraver of coins and medals at Paris, to obtain a knowledge of the art. Having succeeded he returned to France, when he found his patron dead; upon which he returned to Venice and commenced letter founder and printer; he excelled in all branches of the art, and more than are united with it. He first determined the form and proportion of the present Roman character. The date of his first work is 1471, and the last 1481, in which year he is supposed to have died."

Paul Lacroix (Bibliophile Jacob) printed an unqualified statement that Jenson introduced typography into Venice, but that honor is now generally conceded to John de Spire, presumably of Spire on the Rhine.

VERY RARE FIFTEENTH CENTURY EDITION OF "THE SERAPHIC DOCTOR."

- 528 Black Letter.—BONAVENTURE (Saint). BREIULO QUIU. SANCTI BONAVENTURE DE ORDINE MINORU. Large 4to, black vellum.

n. p., Anno dni. MCCCC.LXXXIII. [1484]

VERY RARE incunable with neither the place of printing nor the printer's name given in the colophon. It is rubricated throughout by hand and the principal capitals are also in red or blue. From a MS. note on the title, this volume originally belonged to the library of the convent of the Minorites at Wurtzburg. On an end paper is the note—"See 'Spenceriana,' Vol. 3, p. 197."

The author of this work was St. Bonaventure, the "Seraphic Doctor," and great scholast of the Franciscans, who was born in Tuscany, A. D. 1221, and died at Lyons in 1274, universally regretted as the second of the two great lights which illumined that age. His works, besides the above, consist of Exposition of Genesis, Psalms, Ecclesiasticus, Wisdom, Lamentations, Matthew, Luke and John; Sermons; Commentaries on the Four Books of Sentences; seventy-three tracts.

Dante has added to Bonaventure's immortality by placing him in his "Paradiso." Luther considered Saint Bonaventure as a most excellent man; Bellarmine as beloved by God and man. Alexander de Hales (his preceptor) used to say that Brother Bonaventure seemed not to partake of Adam's sin. Gerson greatly admired him and recommended the study of his works, which obtained for him the title of SERAPHIC DOCTOR,—his companion when he took his Doctor's Degree, being the ANGELIC DOCTOR, St. Thomas Aquinas.

"Bonaventure, called the Seraphic Doctor, was a scholar, a man of an acute mind, a good writer, and a very devout man. He united mystic with scholastic theology, and was a voluminous writer on practical religion. His works comprise commentaries on the scriptures; a full comment on the sentences of Lombard; a great number of tracts, chiefly on ascetic and practical subjects; letters; sermons; etc."—DR. MURDOCK.

EARLY MEMMINGEN WORK ON THE ANTI-CHRIST.

- 529 Black Letter.—QUESTIO DETERMINATA EST IN QUODLIBETO STUDI EFFORDENSIS ANNO 1486 POST BARTHOLOMEI AD PETITIONE MULTOR. TAM RELIGIOSORU QZ SECULARII CONTRA TRIPILICEM ERRORE. Small 4to, boards.

Memmingen [? Albert Kunne], circa 1486

VERY RARE. The colophon reads simply—"Impressum Memmingen." The volume is one on the Antichrist and consists of 44 leaves. Vide Hain, i, 154.

A 1486 VOLUME OF A METAPHYSICAL NATURE.

- 530 Black Letter.—PROSPER DE VITA COTEPLATINA DE VITA ACTUALI DEQZ VITHS ANERIS VIRTUTIBUS. 4to, boards. [? Strasburg,] 1486

VERY RARE, with MS. name over title, of convent where it was originally conserved. 49 leaves, 2 columns and 36 lines to the page. Vide Hain, 13418. The initials are added by hand in red—some of the larger ones in red and gold.

Strasburg, where the above was doubtless printed, is one of those towns which put in a claim to the honor of giving birth to the typographic art, and it has been concluded by Schoefferlin and others that John Gutenberg printed there between the years 1440 and 1450. Gen. Hawkins quotes in his "First Books and Printers," a Bible that was probably printed at Strasburg between the years 1459-61 by John Mentelin, who he claims to have been the first printer of old Argentoratvm."

FRANCIS NIGER'S EPISTOLARY ART, IMPRINTED CIRCA

1487.

- 531 Black Letter.—RODUS EPISTOLANDI FRANCISCI NIGRI. Very curious early wood-block on title of "the author, birch in hand, teaching three scholars." Small 4to, paper.

[? Cologne, circa 1487]

VERY RARE. On an end paper is a page of contemporary MS. The date "1487" will be found in the centre of the volume. 44 leaves, 36 lines to the page.

The above has every indication of having been imprinted at Cologne, where Ulric Zell was the first printer, who had been one of Peter Schoeffer's hands at Mayence. Bigmore and Wyman write concerning Zell:—"He was an industrious printer there [at Cologne] for more than forty years, but never printed a book in German, nor did he adopt any of the improvements of the printers of Italy. He adhered rigidly to the severe style of his master, Schoeffer, printing all his books from three sizes of a rude face of a round Gothic type. Madden supposes that he went to Cologne in 1462, and was engaged by the Brotherhood of the Life in Common at Weidenbach, near that city, to assist them with his new art of printing in their pious task of making books. Zell's name appears for the first time in a book dated 1466, which date may be accepted as indicative of the time when he left the monastery and began to print on his account."

JOHN NEUNHAUSER'S FAMOUS EPISTLE TO POPE INNOCENT—PROBABLY PRINTED AT ROME IN 1490.

- 532 Black Letter.—JOHANNIS NEUNHAUSER Decretor. Doctoris Ecclesie Ratisponensis decani: Illustrissimi principis ALBERTI BAUARIE DUCIS: ad INNOCENTIU. pont. max. oratoris: pollicite obedientie oratuincula. Small 4to, sewed. [? Rome, Stephen Planck, circa 1490]

EXTREMELY RARE, four pages and attributed by Hain, No. 11,696, as above, to an early printer of Rome, of which the first typothetæ were Conrad Sweynhym and Arnold Pannartz.

MAGNIFICENT AND VERY TALL COPY OF THE NUREMBERG CHRONICLE IN THE ORIGINAL BINDING, AND WITH BRILLIANT IMPRESSIONS OF THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS—THE EDITIO PRINCEPS PRINTED BY ANTHONY KOBERGER IN 1493.

- 533 Black Letter.—[SCHEDEL (Hartman).]— | Registrum | huius ope- | ris libri cro- | nicarum | cu figuris et imagi- | bus ab inicio mudi. | Illustrated with over 2,000 wood engravings, and executed by WILLIAM PLEYDENWURFF and ALBERT DURER'S master, MICHAEL WOLGEMUTH. Thick large folio (eighteen and seven-eighths inches by over twelve and seven-eighths), in the original and contemporary fifteenth century stamped pigskin binding on wooden boards.

Consummatii. autem duodeci- | ma mensis Julij, anno salutis nre. 1493. |

VERY RARE AND A SPLENDID COPY, FAR TALLER THAN ORDINARY EXAMPLES, AND WITH MORE BRILLIANT IMPRESSIONS OF THE WOOD ENGRAVINGS.

This copy contains between folios CCLXVI. and CCLXVII. the unpaginated ten pages of—"De Sarmacia regione Europe" lacking in so many copies, as well as the cut of "Joannes Septimus," i. e., Pope Joan and her baby on the verso of folio "CLXIX," which is generally either destroyed by cutting out or by erasure. Facing this is a loose MS. note anent Pope Joan by a former sixteenth century owner. A few pages at the beginning and end are, as in most copies, slightly wormed, some are neatly mended and a few are slightly stained, but hardly worth mentioning. Two of the three blank leaves which were inserted by Koberger for future additions in MS. by owners, i. e., "Sexta etas mundi CCLX." and "folium CCLXI.," have been added from a slightly shorter copy. The folio CCLIX. is the only one wanting, but like the two just mentioned, being blank, does not interfere with the text, which is perfect and complete throughout. On the title are two lines in MS., one of a former possessor, who signs himself—"Hieronymus Reijff, Anno 1570."

The reliure is paneled in oblong and diamond-shaped compartments, in which are stamped floriated ornaments, conventional roses, etc. It is the original binding and was probably executed in the bindery of the printer Anthony Koberger, one of the most famous of all the early German typothetæ.

Timperley, partly quoting Ottley, records under the year 1493:—"The 'Chronicle of Nuremberg,' illustrated with more than two thousand woodcuts, reckoning those that are given more than once over, was published and embellished by Michael Wohlgemuth, a celebrated engraver and painter. It professes to furnish figures 'from the beginning of the world,' and contains views of Scripture histories and of cities and scenery, the latter bearing scarcely any resemblance to the places mentioned. Michael Wohlgemuth was born at Nuremberg in 1435, and died in 1519. He is thought to have invented etching; but the chief honor of Wohlgemuth is that of his having been tutor to Albert Durer, the most celebrated artist in the annals of engraving. His mark is 'M. W.' or 'W.' only."

"It appears to have been the ancient practice of those masters who furnished designs for the wood-engravers to work from, carefully to avoid all cross hatchings, which it is probable, were considered as beyond the power of xylographists to represent. Wohlgemuth perceived that, though difficult, this was not impossible; and in the cuts to the 'Nuremberg Chronicle,' the execution of which, besides furnishing the designs, he doubtless superintended, a successful attempt was first made to imitate the bold hatchings of a pen-drawing, crossing each other, as occasion prompted the designer in various directions. To him belongs the praise of having been the first who duly appreciated the powers of this art; and it is more than probable that he proved with his own hand, to the subordinate artists employed under him, the practicability of that style of workmanship which he had acquired."

THE SECOND EDITION OF THE "NUREMBERG CHRONICLE," PRINTED AT AUGSBURG IN 1497 BY JOHN SCHENSPERGER.

- 534 Black Letter.—[SCHEDEL.] Liber Cronicarum cum Figuris et Ymaginibus ab Inicio Mundi usqz. nunc temporis. Illustrated with over 2,000 woodcuts by PLEYDENWURFF and WOLGEMUTH. Thick small folio, old stamped pigskin, one clasp (some pp. wormed, a leaf torn and back broken). Augsburg, Johannes Schensperger, 1497

BLACK LETTER and VERY RARE. This is the second Latin or Augsburg edition of the Nuremberg Chronicle, of which the first was printed by Anthony Koberger at Nuremberg in 1493, vide the preceding number.

"This volume is not only famous for its woodcuts, but it is an authority sometimes quoted in support of the claim to the discovery of America by Martin Behaim, before Columbus. The passage referred to occurs on the reverse of fol. 290, where the writer of the chronicle, after speaking of the discoveries made through the efforts of Prince Henry, of Portugal, the Navigator, proceeds to relate that subsequently, in the year 1483, João II., of that country, a king of most exalted mind, supplied some galleys with provisions, and sent them beyond the Pillars of Hercules to make explorations in the South towards Ethiopia, under the command of Jacob Can (Diogo Cam) and Martin Behaim, of Nuremberg, in Upper Germany; a Bohemian of good family, who was both well acquainted with the situation of the earth and used to the sea, and who understood thoroughly the longitudes and latitudes of Ptolemy in the West, from experience and long navigating; and that these two sailed into the Southern Ocean under favorable auspices, coasting not far from the shore, and crossed the equator into another world, where, when they stood with their faces towards the East, they projected a shadow on their right hand towards the South. Thus by their industry they opened another world before that unknown to us, and for many years afterwards unoccupied by any persons except some Genoese, who did so, however, to no purpose. Having in this way finished their voyage, they returned to Portugal in the 26th month, many of the crew having died in consequence of the extreme heat of the climate. In proof of their discovery, they brought home with them pepper, grains of Paradise, and many others which it would be tedious to enumerate.

"It is partly from the slender grounds which this description affords, that the claim of the discovery of America is set up for Martin Behaim. There is really nothing in the statement to warrant the idea that he ever saw America, but on the contrary, that hugging the coast south of Gibraltar, he saw only Africa. He thus crossed the equator, which had not been accomplished previously, and was therefore the opening to Europeans of another hemisphere, or world, but not the discovery of what came to be called by distinction the New World. It seems, therefore, unnecessary to adduce the circumstance which was disclosed through the researches of Mr. von Murr, that the whole passage is interpolated by another hand in the manuscript which still exists.

"Martin Behaim constructed a globe, which still exists, showing the whole face of the earth as he supposed it to exist, filling up the sea of darkness which lay beyond the limits of Western Europe. In it he laid down the Canary Islands, the Cape Verd Islands, Madeira and the Azores, which were then well known, and beyond them to the West, the fabulous Antila and Saint Brandan, and then, without any intermediate continent, and at no great distance the islands of Cathai and Zipangu (Japan), mentioned by Marco Polo. This globe was made, it is said, in 1492, the same year in which Columbus made his first voyage and discovery. It does not show any portion of America, but does exhibit many islands which are not named, both North and South of Zipangu, which, of course, could have no reference to the islands discovered by Columbus several thousand miles east of that island."—HENRY C. MURPHY.

ABBOT TRITHEMIUS, OF SPANHEIM—HIS PRAISES OF ST. ANNE—LEIPSIC, 1494.

535 Black Letter.— | DE LAUDIBUS SAN | CTISSIME MATRIS ANNE TRACTAT. | PERQUAM UTILIS DOMI. JOHANIS | TRITEMIJ ABBATIS SPANHEMENSIS | ORDINIS DINI PATRIS BENEDICTI. | Small 4to, sewed.

Leipsic, Melchior Lotter, 1494

VERY RARE, in Gothic letter, and slightly holed. (Vide Hain 15,631.) The colophon reads: "Impressum Liptzk per Melchior Lotter." The date will be found at the bottom of the third page.

This tractate was written by the Abbot Trithemius who in the "Chronicon Spanheimense," under the year 1450, states that printing was invented by his contemporary John Gutenberg, who—"lived at Mentz in a house called the Zum Junghen, but afterwards known by the name of the Printing House."

The first printer at Leipsic was Marcus Brand according to Hawkins and other bibliographers, while some have written in favor of giving Conrad Kacheloven the first place. Cotton says:—"The earliest printers were Conrad Kacheloven and Marcus Brand or Brandiss. Until the year 1500 the Gothic letter was exclusively used by the Leipsic printers; Melchior Lotterus having the credit of being the first to adopt the Roman letter.

NICHOLAS DE LYRA'S POSTIL'S PRINTED BY ANTHONY KOBERGER AT NUREMBERG IN 1494.

- 536 Black Letter.— | REPERTORIUM IN POSTILLAZ FAMO | SI
ET EGREGII DOCTORIS FRATRIS NI- | COLAI DE LYRA
SUPER VE. ET NO. TESTA. | 4to, stamped pigskin on wooden boards, with brass clasp.

Nuremberg, Anthony Koberger, 1494

VERY RARE. A fine example of Koberger's typography with many of the initials added in red by hand, and according to a contemporary MS. on the first page:—"Codex iste attinet Closterio Wessoprunnen."

The author of the Postils was Nicholas de Lyra, vel. Lyranus, who was born about 1270 and died in 1340. This celebrated biblical commentator was a French monk, who knew more about Greek and Hebrew, it was said, than any scholar of his time. His commentary has always been greatly esteemed by the learned.

"Celebratissima est inter scriptores Medi Ævi Glossa illa, quæ Ordinaria dicitur, quia commune omnium interpretum fuit refugium, tantæque auctoritatis, etc."—MASCH.

"Nuremberg was amongst the first places to admit the newly-discovered art of printing. Its earliest known specimen is the 'Comestorium Vitorum' of Franciscus de Retza, executed by John Sensenschmidt, in 1470."—COTTON'S "Typographical Gazetteer," p. 199.

"Nuremberg. This city occupies a prominent position in the early history of printing, particularly on account of the enterprise of one of its printers, Anthony Koberger, who had more presses at work and produced a greater number of books than any other printers of his time,"—RUSH C. HAWKINS'S "First Books and Printers of the Fifteenth Century," p. 5.

[? Milan], 1495

EXTREMELY RARE. Printed in Roman types, with many charming initial letters. The date at the end of the dedication of the author at Milan to Pomponius Lætus is given as "M.CCCC.XCV." There is also another dedication to Pope Alexander the Sixth, Borgia. At the end of the "Caput XXX." are some very interesting genealogical details.

This is a good example of the Milanese press. Philippus de Lavagina has been considered by many as the first Milan printer—but it is believed now that he only hired typothetæ, of whom the first was probably Zarotus of Parma, 1470-71, who was followed by Christopher Valdarfer from Venice in 1474, and by John Bonus in 1475.

BONAVENTURE'S SACRED THEOLOGY—BASLE, 1501.

- 538 Black Letter.—BONAVENTURE. Compedium sacre theologie paupis SANCTI BONAVENTURE e: doctoris seraphici Sacro sancte romane ecclesie cardinalis et Albanens-sis epiter ordine minorum. Thick 4to, old half calf on wooden boards, brass clasp.

Basle, impressum per magistrum Jacobu de pfortzen, 1501

VERY RARE and from the library of the conventual house of Buxheim, with its coat-of-arms on the dedicatory page, which, like a few others, is wormed slightly. The fifth page is rubricated and the large capital in red is touched up with yellow. The title, which is red, is mounted. The three pages preceding the index have many MS. notes by a sixteenth century hand.

"Basle was the first city in Switzerland which could boast of the art of printing, which is thought to have been carried thither by Berthold Rodt of Hanau—formerly employed in the office of Füst at Mayence—between the years 1460 and 1465."—COTTON.

CURIOSLY ILLUSTRATED VOLUME FROM THE PRESS OF JOHN GRUNINGER.

539 DE ORIGINE SACERDOTII ET IMPERII, etc. Profusely illustrated with wood engravings and charming capitals.
Large 4to, sewed. Strasburg, John Gruninger, 1504

EXTREMELY RARE and commencing folio VII. With numerous large-sized wood engravings of Popes, Emperors, etc., with coats-of-arms, etc., the first page having a large shield of heraldic bearings over the words "Prefatio—Viuat Rex Maximilianus." The text, which is partly black letter, but principally Roman, has many most delightful initial letters.

"Towards the close of the XVth century John Gruninger possessed a flourishing printing establishment at Strasburg, from which he sent forth a Terence, Horace, Virgil, and some other books filled with curious and interesting wood engravings; amongst them is an edition of Brandt's 'Stultifera Navis,' published in 1497."—COTTON.

CARDINAL HUGO'S EXPOSITION OF THE MASS—1507.

540 Black Letter—EXPOSITIO MISSE DOMINI HUGONIS
CARDINALIS ordinis Predicatorum. Small 4to, cloth.
Nuremberg, impressa per Hieronymum Holtzel, 1507

VERY RARE, some pp. wormed and with curious early woodblock affixed under title of the "Madonna and Child" within large capital letter.

THE EDITIO-PRINCEPS OF ST. HILARY OF POITIERS, PRINTED BY ASCENSIVS OF PARIS.

541 HILARY (St.)—OPERA COMPLURA SANCTI HYLARII
EPISCOPI HAC SERIE COMPRESSA. Vignette on title and many charming initial letters. Thick 4to, stamped pigskin on beveled wooden boards.

Paris, impressa sunt in edib. ASCENSIVIANIS Parrhisiiis, 1510

EXTREMELY RARE and EDITIO PRINCEPS of the works of St. Hilary, with rubricated title and the vignette on which is the press of the printer Jodocus Badius, vel Ascensius. A fac-simile of this cut is at the head of this division of the catalogue. Some pages are wormed.

This copy came from the library of the Benedictine monastery of SS. Ulric and Afra at Augsburg. On the title is a contemporary MS. note to that effect, and there is also a very old heraldic book-plate of the same conventual institution. This volume is the earliest example of the Paris press in the Pene du Bois Collection. According to Cotton:—"There is no doubt that Paris witnessed the exercise of the art of printing so early as 1470, in which year, through the exertions of two of its learned professors, Guillaume Fichet and Jean de la Pierre, a press was set up in the college of the Sorbonne by the three illustrious partners—Ulric Gering, Martin Crantz and Michael Friburger.”

The printer of the above, Jodocus or Jose Badius, surnamed Ascensius, was also a Latin poet and scholar. He was born at Asche, near Brussels, and, as Rush C. Hawkins states—“is first mentioned in connection with printing as a corrector of presses for Trechesell and De Vingle, in the city of Lyons, in 1495 or 1497. He remained there until about 1500, when he removed to Paris, where, according to Panzer, in 1502 he established a printing house, which he called ‘Prelum Ascensianum.’ In 1507 he used for the first time for his device this engraving [vide above] of the printing press as then constructed, which is believed to be the earliest ever made of that subject.”

“Les œuvres de S. Hilaire de Poitiers ont été imprimées pour la première fois à Paris, chez Badius Ascensius, en 1510, in fol., édition que Maittaire cite sous la date de 1500.”—BRUNET.

DIONYSIUS AFER—THE FIRST EDITION.—“EXTRAORDINAIREMENT RARE.”

Ferrara: Joanes Maciochus Bondenus imprimebat, Ferrariae Die XVIII. Decembris. Anno MDXII.

EXTRAORDINARILY RARE AND EDITIO PRINCEPS. Sir M. Sykes's sale, £11 11s. Of this Brunet wrote:—“First edition so scarce that he has found no copy.”

This comprises a Latin translation as well as the original Greek text of the well-known hexametrical description of the earth written by Dionysius Periegeles, Libicus or Africanus, towards the latter part of the third century.

Dionysius is placed among early Americana on account of his indirect references to our portion of the globe. The 1518 edition of Dionysius by the first Vienna printer, John Winterburg, has on the reverse of the title slight allusions to the recent Oceanic discoveries. On the title-page of the 1543 and Venetian edition of this author by the poet-laureate Lemnius is a large woodcut, representing two globes, one issuing out of an open eye, the other with the word “America.”

THE PASSION OF CHRIST ILLUSTRATED WITH QUAIN ENGRAVINGS ON WOOD.

- 543 Black Letter.—PASSIO DOMINI MASTRI JESU CHRISTI SM. SERIE QTTUOR. EUAGELISTURU: P. FRATRE DANIELE. AGRICOLA. ORDIS MINORU. de obseruatia. Small 4to, sewed. Basle, Petrus de Langendorff, 1514

VERY RARE. This little volume is noticeable on account of the series of woodcuts with which it is illustrated—as also the title. These are marked with the monogram “V. G.” Some of the initials are rubricated, there is a line of MS. at the top of the title, and the edges are cut down into the marginalia.

EARLY BREVIARY FROM THE PARIS PRESS, WITH VERY CHARMING WOODCUTS.

- 544 Black Letter.—BREUIARIU. ROMANU. sub maiori forma expulsis sumo. labore difformitatu. scopulis lipidissime efformatu. extat. pulcherrimis decoratu. imaginib. tam tpi. cz. sctis. cospiciunt, etc. Illustrated with beautifully executed wood engravings—some full-page—rubricated throughout. Thick 4to, fine old stamped leather, rebacked in morocco gilt, uncut.

Paris, impressum per Nicolaum higman allemanum Saxonien—impesit honesti viri Francisci Regnault alme uniuersitatis Parisien. librarii, 1518

EXTREMELY RARE, BLACK LETTER and in splendid order. The leather of the old binding has been preserved and mounted anew on levant morocco. The sides are floriated Gothic, with a label, repeated on which is the legend "Maria."

Francois Regnault commenced to print in Paris before the year 1500. He ranks along with Hardouin, Kerver, Badius, Vostre, and the best of the earliest Parisian printers. His well-known device an elephant and castle, the last-named bearing the device "F. R." below which is a scroll with the words "Francois Regnavlt," is on the last page of the volume above the colophon, all enclosed within a beautiful woodcut border.

EXTREMELY RARE AND VERY EARLY LUTHER TRACTATE.

- 545 Black Letter.—| DE DISPVTA | TIONE LIPSI-
CENSI, quantum ad Boemos obiter de- | flexa est,
Epistola HIERONYMI EMSER. | Ad Ægocerotem Em-

Ægoceron sine fœno, peccat in uno, | Quod non est Luce
linea ducta manu. | Small 4to, sewed. [Leipsic, 1519]

EXTREMELY RARE, being one of the earliest tractates extant in reference to Martin Luther, and his celebrated controversy at Leipsic with Eckius, in June, 1519, which—"dispute originated in a challenge from Eckius to Carlostadt, Luther's colleague and companion, to a public discussion concerning the freedom of the will, and a challenge to Luther also to enter the lists with him, while he defended the authority and supremacy of the Roman pontiff."

The above imprint is taken from the end of Emser's letter to John Zack, of Prague. On the title is a large coat-of-arms and crest, with the legend in the corner:—"Arma Hieronymi Emser."

DA PONTE'S GRAMMATICAL ART—PARIS, 1520-25.

- 546 PONTANUS (Peter). GRAMMATICÆ ARTIS et Ars Versificatoria. Fine printer's marks on the titles. 3 vols. small 4to, fresh red russia, citron edges (some pp. stained).

Paris, Bernard Aubry, 1520-25

VERY RARE. Pierre da Ponte, the celebrated Flemish philologist and author, was blind from his youth up. He died in 1529.

THE 1521 PLINY OF CRATANDER.

- 547 PLINY.— | C. PLINII SECVNDI | Nuocomensis epistolarum | libri dece., in quibus mul | tæ habentur epistolæ | no. ante impressæ: | cu. pluribus ali- | is, quæ pro- | xima pa- | gella in | dica | bit. Thick small 8vo, stamped pigskin on wooden boards.

Basle, apud And. Cratandrum, 1521

VERY RARE, and in Italic types, with engraved title, charming initial letters and printer's device of Cratander on the last page—some colored. The pages at the beginning are foxed and there are contemporary marginalia. Following Andreas Cratander's "To the Reader" is the epistle of Aldus Pius Manutius to Aloysius Mocenicus.

VALUABLE EARLY LUTHER BROCHURE, WITH MOST RARE WOOD ENGRAVING OF HANS HOLBEIN, 1521.

- 548 Black Letter.— | DETERMINATIO THEO | LOGICE faculta- | tis Parisien. super DOCTRI- | NA LUTHERIANA hacte- | nus per eam visa. | Small 4to, paper (wormed slightly).

Basle, impressum Denuo basilee per Nicolaum Lamparter, 1521

VERY RARE. This tractate is not only interesting as an early Luther brochure, but as having on the title a wood-engraving executed by Hans Holbein, and possibly the large initial letter on the second page, which is colored.

"As a wood engraver Holbein is said to have executed some works as early as 1511, and before his departure from Switzerland he engraved a great many wooden cuts for the publishers of Basle, Zurich, Lyons and Leyden."—SPOONER.

EXTREMELY RARE WORK BY ERASMUS, 1522.

Zurich, Christopher Froschouer, 1522

EXTREMELY RARE. This is one of the very earliest productions of the Zurich press and antedates Panzer. The remarkable Renaissance title-page, with border of children playing drums, fifes, etc., and with vignette of Christ in the centre, also of naked woman on toad, was probably cut by Holbein on the wood.

"At what time it [Zurich] first adopted typography, I have not learnt: the earliest book noticed by Panzer bears date 1523: but in the Bodleian collection of German tracts on the Reformation, one of Luther's, printed at Zurich, is dated 1521. Christopher Froschouer was the printer of most eminence and business."—COTTON.

RARE EXAMPLE OF THE CRATANDER PRESS.

dentelle gold borders, edges gilt.

Paris, Nouvellement imprime a Paris par Phelippe le Noir libraire et relieur . . . l'an mil centz xxvii, [1527]

EXTREMELY RARE and handsome black letter, tooled à la Du Seuil. With numerous strange woodcuts, some slightly suggestive, also printer's mark on the last page, over which are the numerals "liii," the same as on title, and which refers to the number of sheets. The typographical mark of Philip Le Noir (i.e., "the black") is a shield with his monogram supported by a negro and negress. The crest is a negro "couped." Around the device is the motto:—"Cest mon desir a dieu servir povr acquerir son dovlx plaisir."

Brunet says this work is a kind of "Art of Poetry," accompanied by a number of examples selected from different poets of the 15th century such as Alain Chartier, Charles d'Orleans, Villon, Coquillart, or composed by the anonymous author himself, who assumed the nom-de-plume of "Infortuné." As there is very little order in the arrangement of the different pieces, it has been believed that the work remains incomplete, and that we only possess a portion. Nevertheless Brunet goes on to state it is a very curious selection, and it holds a distinguished place among the collections of the ancient French poets. In the last piece, entitled "Le Cheualier outre par l'Amour de sa dame," will be found the erotic passages that Goujet stigmatized as "impious and obscene."

[GALLIOT DU PRE—THAT FAMOUS PARIS BIBLIOPOLY'S DEVICE, FROM THE "ORDONNANCES" OF 1534, AND NUMBER 559 OF THIS CATALOGUE.]

["LES LUNETTES DES PRINCES," PUBLISHED BY GALLIOT DU PRE, OF PARIS, IN 1528, AND ELEGANTLY BOUND WITH GOLD TOOLED DOUBLÉ BY TRAUTZBAUZONNET. NUMBER 554 OF THE "PENE DU BOIS COLLECTION."] ]

an Union Square book-dealer for it, vide inserted cutting from his catalogue numbered 445. The text is round Roman letter, and the volume is the most sought after of all the editions of the poetical works of Meschinot.

It is one of the only two or three copies known, and came from the library of Prince d'Essling, but it has been richly rebound by the greatest of modern binders—Trautz-Bauzonnet.

It was exhibited at the Grolier Club exhibition of bindings, May 7-15, 1886, and was thus spoken of in the New York Tribune account thereof:—

"Trautz-Bauzonnet 70 is the best piece of this artist's work in the exhibition. The tooling is good. He is said to have excelled all modern workmen in this particular."

Morgand and Fatout in their catalogue of 1882 (vide inserted cutting) asked 3,000 francs for a copy (No. 655), also bound by Trautz-Bauzonnet, but it was not double like the above. In their 1876 catalogue the same firm of Paris bibliopoles priced another copy, bound by Lortic, at 1,000 francs. Brunet styles this edition:—"Jolie édition en lettres rondes; elle est rare et fort recherchée."

Goujet and Vapereau both notice favorably the writings of Meschinot, who was born about 1415, at Nantes, and died September 12, 1491. The last-named authority states the "Lunette des Princes" owed its popularity to—"des tours de force, alors fort appréciés, comme rimes redoublées, allitérations, vers coupés de telle façon qu'ils pussent se lire par moitié séparée, en avançant, en rétrogradant, de gauche à droite, de droite à gauche, etc. Le chef-d'œuvre en ce genre est une pièce de Meschinot, consistant en huit lignes qui peuvent se lire de trente-deux manières différentes, en conservant toujours 'sens et rime.'"

The fac-simile of this nugget of the "Pene du Bois Collection" is given through the courtesy of Ingersoll Lockwood, Esq., of the "American Book Maker," who loaned the electrotype of this illustration of the Meschinot, as well as of other reliures. This engraving of the handsome double binding on this number, i. e., the "Lunettes des Princes," is referred to in the following extract from the "American Book Maker" of March, 1887, in the article on "Bookbinding as an Art and Industry," by Mr. Ingersoll Lockwood, who writes:—"Bauzonnet becomes an interesting figure somewhat later, for he breaks away entirely from the bad methods of the First Empire and the Restoration, and once again, after a long eclipse, the glories of the golden age of bibliopogy shine forth with wholesome vigor. Large irons were laid aside, and the delicate patterns, with which the names of the Eves, of Le Gascon, Derôme, Padeloup and others are inseparably associated, reappeared upon book-covers. So far as this beautiful art is concerned, the simoon of the Revolution passed over it without doing any more than temporary injury. Like the herbage of the prairie which sprouts up sturdier and greener after the besom of flame has passed over it, the art of book decoration in little more than a third of a century had not only regained, but had even surpassed its old-time brilliancy, and to-day France is by right accredited with the honor of being the first in the art. In 1833 Bauzonnet entered into partnership with a brother decorator of distinction, Trautz, and the light cast by the conjunction of these two stars of first magnitude is one which lends coveted distinction to a binding. On page 67 of the 'American Book Maker,' for March, 1887] is given a photo-engraving of a section of a very rich and delicate tooling executed by Trautz-Bauzonnet in the double of a rare old book entitled 'Les Lunettes des Princes,' small octavo, printed in Paris in 1528. The binding by this celebrated firm is wrought in red morocco, with double of dark blue. The camera can give only a faint idea of the purity and delicacy of this tooling. It is in the style of Eve, the laurel leaf and myrtle vine are the forms followed, the design being broken into compartments. The imprint of the celebrated dual firm-style will be found set directly under the lowest central compartment."

GALLIOT DU PRE'S EDITION OF LE MAIRE AND BOUND BY BAUZONNET.

Thick minimo (five and five-eighths inches by three and a half), handsomely bound by BAUZONNET in dark green crushed levant morocco, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, par GALLIOT DU PRE, a la grant salle du Palais au premier pillier. MDXXXI., i. e., 1531

EXTREMELY RARE and very beautiful example of the most sought after edition of this work, and which is considered one of the rarest volumes published by Galliot du Pre. The colophon reads further that it was—"imprimez a Paris par Maistre Pierre Vidoue pour Galliot du Pré."

This copy was imported from Paris for Mr. Pene du Bois at a cost of 325 francs, i. e., $65, according to the inserted catalogue cutting (No. 6269) in the book, where it is called—"très bel exemplaire de l'édition les plus recherchée de cet ouvrage et l'un des plus rares volumes publiés par Galliot du Pré." It has the book-plate of the—"Bibliothèque de M. Renard."

Its woodcuts are curious. On the title is a vignette of a galley, etc., the device of Galliot du Pre—at one end is a man with a telescope—the other is decorated with fleurs-de-lys. On the back of the title are two cuts, one of nude gods and goddesses at Carthage, and the other of a battle at Troy, in which are depicted Priam, Ascanius, Eneas, etc. The title and the fourth and fifth pages are rubricated. There are other cuts, including one at the end of the first volume of the printer, a naked woman, etc.

John Lemaire, called "de Belges," the poet and French historian, was born in Belgium 1478, and died about 1548. He was the nephew of the chronicler Molinet, and succeeded him as the Librarian of Margaret of Austria, Governor of the Low Countries. Towards the end of the reign of Louis the Twelfth he was—"historiographer of the Court of France." Moke, in his "Histoire de la Littérature Française," says:—"Des allégories parfois ingénieuses et surtout une bonne facture du vers, assignent à Jean Lemaire LA PREMIÈRE PLACE parmi ses contemporains." He laid down the rules of prosody which were adopted by Marot, and he was one of the masters of Ronsard.

THE "FLANDERS CHRONICLE"—MOST CURIOUSLY ILLUSTRATED, AND THE 1531 ANTWERP EDITION.

556 Black Letter.—[ROOUERE (A. de).] DITS DIE EXCELLENTE CRONIKE VA VLAENDERE BEGHINNENDE VA LIEDERICK BUC DEN EERSTEN FORESTIER, ETC.
Profusely illustrated with curious woodblock engravings of ancient scenes and incidents in the history of Flanders, portraits, coats-of-arms, etc. Thick small folio, calf, gilt.

Antwerp, Willem Vorsterman, 1531

EXCESSIVELY RARE and splendidly printed black-letter copy of Buc's "Chronicle of Flanders." The title-page is printed in black and red, three-quarters thereof are taken up with a woodblock illustration of the Emperor Charles V. in armor on horseback and attended by four mounted knights. At the back of the title is a somewhat similar portrait of Charles the Fifth, but not "cap-à-pie." The folios are paged I.—CCC. and then recommence, ending LIX. The table follows. The first title is mended and mounted. There is also a second title, with a splendid three-quarter portrait of Charles the Fifth. Before folio XLVI. of the second part is a double plate folded. Many of the initial letters are charming examples of ornamental work. The colophon is dated—"Anno MCCCCC. ende XXXI. (1531). Ende es voleyndt den XI. sten dach der maent Julij."

The name of the author, "Anthonis de Roouere," who describes himself as "a noble rhetorician and musician," will be found on the verso of folio CCXXV. Vide Santander, "Memoire Historiques sur la Bibliothèque dit de Bourgogne," page 149.

Paris, ce present Liure fort acheue dimprimer le XXII. Jour de Ianuier, M.D.XXX.II. pour Pierre Rouset, dict le Faulcheur, par Maistre Geuffroy Tory de Bourges, Imprimeur du Roy, 1532.

EXCESSIVELY RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION, very fine copy and cost M. Pene du Bois $45, as per inserted cutting of New York book-dealer.

Brunet says in regard to this volume:—"Edition en lettres rondes, la plus ancienne que nous connoissions de ces poésies. Elle a été publiée par Clement Marot, qui y a joint une Epistre au Roy . . . faissant mention de la mort de Ian Marot son père, autheur de ce liure." This will be found on leaves ii.-iii. of the above. On page 69 of the copy in this catalogue of Fournier's "L'Art de Reliure en France," will be found the following probable reference to this copy:—"Malheureusement, les deux exemplaires du Jean Marot, qui j'ai vus, l'un en 1854 à la vente Berlin, l'autre l'année d'après chez Potier, avaient échangé leur ancienne reliure pour une plus moderne. L'une avait été relié de nouveau par Bauzonnet, l'autre par Duru." At the bottom of the page is this MS. note:—"Ce dernier est probablement celui qui figure dans le cabinet de Mr. H. du Bois de Brooklyn."

Jean Marot, the early French poet and father of the yet more celebrated Clement Marot, was born in 1463 and died 1523. It is believed his real family name was Desmarests. The talent that he showed for poetry placed him under the protection of Anne of Brittany. Later he was valet-de-chambre to Francis the First. His poems, we are told—"Offrent de réelles qualités, le naturel dans le tour, la justesse dans l'expression, la vérité et quelquefois l'éclat dans la peinture, le choix et la variété du rythme."

Geoffroy Tory, who printed the above, was one of the most distinguished typothetæ and authors of the beginning of the 16th century. Tory—"began his literary career in Paris in 1505. Having a special fondness for art, he began to practice wood-engraving, and finally determined to pursue art studies in Italy. Here he became much interested in printing. As a wood-engraver he was soon recognized as one of the chief artists of his time. He is supposed to have engraved the elegant antique script used by Henry Stephens. . . . The richly illustrated 'Books of Hours' published by Tory are distinguished by a combination of antique art with French grace and an abandonment of the prevalent Gothic method of ornamentation."

In 1529 that singular book of Tory's the "Champ Fleury" was issued. He also translated various Greek works into the French language. Francis the First honored him with special privileges as a printer in consideration of the choice ornamentation with which he decorated his books. His mark was—"un Pot casse, remply de toute, sorts d'instrumens," and the motto—"non plus." La Caille gives the history of Geoffroy Tory, who died in the year 1550, at considerable length.

merous cuts. Thick 4to, bound in the JANSEN style by TOUT in levant morocco, beveled sides, inside gold borders, edges gilt. Venice, 1536

MOST RARE. A remarkably clean copy of this very rare edition of Dante printed in italics, but with a few of the head-lines cut into by the binder's plough. The many wood-engravings are very curious examples of the art, as to both subjects and style. The imprint on the title reads—"In Venegia ad instantia di M. Gioanni Giolitto da Trino," and on the colophon—"In Vineggia per M. Bernardini Stagnino MDXXXVI." Below is the printer's mark of the last-named.

The commentary to Dante of Cristoforo Landino is considered by authorities the best of the many on the works of "the Divine Poet." Landino was born at Florence in 1424 and died there in 1504. He was the preceptor of Julian and Lorenzo de Medici.

A RARE TRACT on the Augsburg confession.

SCAEVOLA'S COMMENTARY ON CICERO—"OLD PARR'S" COPY.

- 571 CICERO.—Commentaria in M. T. CICERONIS Orationem pro T. A. MILONE, Avtore NICOLAO SCAEVOLA. Minimo, red morocco gilt, inside dentelle gold tooling, by C. SMITH. Rome, per Antonium Bladum, 1549

VERY RARE, and with the autograph on the title of Dr. Samuel Parr, "Old Parr." From the Syston Park Library, and with the book-plate of that collection inserted. This beautifully printed little volume is in italics, and the arms on the title are those of Bishop Caracciolo, to whom the work is dedicated.

FINE EXAMPLE OF MAIOLI RELIURE ON A VOLUME PRINTED BY ESTIENNE.

- 572 NOVUM TESTAMENTUM ex Bibliotheca Regia [Greek Text]. Thick minimo, old mosaic calf, gilt edges. Paris, ex officina Roberti Stephani, 1549

VERY RARE and a fine example of Maioli binding from the press of the celebrated Estienne and from the library of Ambrose Firmin-Didot, whose book-plate is inserted.

The reliure is of the usual Grolieresque geometrical design peculiar to Maioli bindings, and with red, blue, white and green mosaic worked into the gilt tooling.

"Lovers of bookbinding rejoice when they meet with works from the library of Maioli. Who and what Maioli was, and at exactly what period he lived, we do not know, but he possessed a splendid library. It is supposed that Michel Maioli, one of the first of Italian collectors, was his father or uncle. Tommaso Maioli's bindings were the perfection of art, whilst Michel's are less artistic."—CUNDALL.

- 573 Black Letter.—LAMBECK (Heino). Compendium Sciotericorum, das ist ein Kurtze und Brundliche Beschreibung allerhand sonnen Uhren und Natur. Many diagrams. Small 4to, boards. Hamburg, 1549-76

RARE. With large woodblock arms and supporters of Magdeburgh on title.

THE LIVES OF THE EMPERORS—LYONS, 1550—AND NUMISMATICALLY ILLUSTRATED.

- 575 HUTTICHIUS (John).—| Imperatorum & Cæsa- | rvm Vitæ, cvm | Imaginibus ad vinam effi- | giem expressis. | Huic æditioni additi sunt cum Icunculis & elen | cho, versus Ausonij Mycilli & Vellei poeta- | rum paucis ingentem historiam complectentes. | Vignette on title and numerous numismatic woodcuts of emperors. Small 8vo. Bound by MANSELL, successor to HAYDAY, in calf gilt, dentelle gold borders and dead gold edges.

Lyons, apud Bathazarem Arnolletum, 1550

VERY RARE and an excellent copy of this little volume, which is decorated with the portraits of emperors from ancient coins and medals. The printer's device of Arnollet—"a sea-horse and pair of scales"—is on the title.

Brunet says the portraits of the Roman, Byzantine and German emperors engraved in this volume were taken from the "Illustrium Imagines" of 1517. The text is different from that Roman edition, being more complete, with disctiches added and many additional portraits.

- 576 Black Letter.—VERNEUTE VND GEPESSERT E GERICHTS Ordnung zu Nurnberg—Decretum in Senatur XXVIII. Nouembris MDXLVIII. Small 4to, boards.
RARE. Nuremberg, J. Paulo Fabritio, 1550

PHILIP DE COMINES' CHRONICLE IN A MAIOLI BINDING.

- 577 COMINES (Philippe de).—Cronique et Histoire composee par PHILIPPE DE COMINES, cheualier seigneur d'Argeton, contenant les Choses aduenues durant le regne du ROY LOYS VNZIESME et CHARLES HUICTIESME son fils. Nouuellement reueue et corrigée. Thick minimo, old calf, gilt edges.
Paris, Estiene Grouilleau, 1551

VERY RARE. In mosaic binding of the "genre Maioli" and of Grolieresque design. Every page is carefully ruled in red. The most judicious and able history of the great Flemish statesman, Philip De Comines, which comprises a period of thirty-four years during the reigns of Louis XI. and Charles VIII. of France, was said by Catherine de Medicis to have made as many heretics in politics as Luther's works had done in religion.

THE RARE FIRST FRENCH AND ITALIAN GRAMMAR.

- 578 ACHARISIO.—La GRAMMATICA VOLGARE di M. ALBERTO DE GL' ACHARISI d acento—La Grammaire de M. ALBERT DE LA CHARISI DACENTO, tournée de Tuscan en Francois. Vignette on title. Small 8vo, old calf.
Louvaine, ex officina Bartholomei Grauij, 1555

VERY RARE, and the first French-Italian grammar, with the two languages in parallel columns.

SIXTEENTH CENTURY AND VALUABLE WORKS ON GERMAN LAW—WITH QUAIN T WOODCUTS.

- 579 Black Letter.—STATUTEN BUCH Gesetz Ordnungen vnd Gebrauch Kaiserlicher Allgemainer vnd etlicher Besonderer Land vnd Stett Rechten. Numerous wood engravings. Frankfurt, 1558; also—

Frankfort, 1564

TOGETHER 2 vols. in 1. Thick large 4to, half vellum.

VERY RARE. Two curious old German law-books, with quaint woodcuts. One title is mended, the other mounted.

PRESIDENT DE THOU'S COPY OF HERODIAN, AND WITH THAT GRAND OLD BIBLIOPHILE'S AUTOGRAPH SIG-NATURE.

- 580 HERODIANI Historiæ de Imperio post MARCVM vel de svis Temporibvs, ANGELO POLITIANO Interprete. Minimo, mottled vellum, red edges.

Lyons, apud hæred. Seb. Gryphii, 1559

VERY RARE, and with an eighteenth century note on the end paper, and in French, to the effect that this volume came from the library of the celebrated De Thou, and that his autograph is at end of the book, written by himself.

His signature is given in the Latinized form—"Jacobi Augusti Thuani." There are a few marginalia in his handwriting, also some caption contents.

A RELIC OF THE MAYFLOWER PILGRIMS.

- 581 Black Letter.—FRANCK (Sebastian). Das Verbuthschiert mit Siben Sigeln Verschlossen Buch. Curious woodblock on title—representing a man blindfolded and pointing at a volume with seven seals. Thick small folio, stamped pigskin on wooden boards, with two brass clasps.

Pfortzheym, Georg Rahen, 1559

VERY RARE. On an end paper is the MS. note:—"This came over in the May Flower." There is also on the title a MS. inscription, showing that it belonged to the Jesuit College at Bamberg, in 1614. The preface has many German marginalia in sixteenth century caligraphy.

VULGATE TESTAMENT OF 1560, WITH QUAIN WOODCUTS.

- 582 TESTAMENTI NOVI Editio Vulgata. With numerous woodcuts. Minimo, old stamped calf, red edges (title cut).

Lyons, apud hæredes Seb. Gryphii, 1560

RARE. The wood engravings in the above are very curious.

- 583 EBER (Paul). Bævis Historia Popvli Ivdiaci a Reditv ex Babylonico Exilio, etc. Minimo, stamped pigskin.

Wittenburg, Vitus Creutzler, 1560

RARE, and a curious example of stamped pigskin.

SIXTEENTH CENTURY EUCLID, AND PRINTED AT BASLE, IN 1562.

- 584 Black Letter.—EUCLID. Die Sechs Erste Bucher EUCLIDIS vom Anfang oder Grund der Geometri. Numerous woodblock diagrams. Small folio, stamped pigskin (MS. name on title). Basle, 1562

RARE. Translated into German, with the additions of Wilhelm Holtzman, of Augsburg.

SORBIN'S CURIOUS WORK ON THE CALVINIST DEFEAT IN 1569, AND BOUND BY THIBARON-ECHAUBARD.

- 585 SORBIN (Arnaud, Docteur en Theologie et predicateur de Roy). Allegresse de la France, povr l'Hevreuse Victoire obtenve entre Coignac et Chasteauneuf, le 13 de Mars, 1569, contre les Rebelles Caluinistes. Small 8vo, bound by THIBARON-ECHAUBARD, in crushed brown levant morocco, inside gold borders, gilt edges on red.

Paris, chez Guillaume Chaudiere, rue S. Jaques, a l'enseigne du Temps, et de l'Homme Sauvage, 1569

EXTREMELY RARE, and bound by Thibaron-Echaubard, pupils of MM. Trautz et Bauzonnet. These verses, in honor of a victory over the "rebel Calvinists," were written by the celebrated Sorbin, who seems, as a preacher and grand leaguer, to have had a monopoly of funeral orations over the notable personages of his time, vide Brunet. Among those upon whom he said the last words were—Charles IX., Cosmo de Medicis, the Constable Anne de Montmorency, the Duchess of Savoy, the Duchess of Lorraine and Bar, Count de Caylus, the Duke De Nivernois, the Princess de Condé, etc.

The printer's mark of Chaudiere on title represents "Old Time, with the legs of a satyr, scythe and hour-glass."

THE 1572 AND BEST EDITION OF THE CHRONICLES OF MONSTRELET.

- 586 MONSTRELET.— | CHRONIQUES | D'ENGVERRAN
| DE MONSTRELET | gentil homme iadis demevrant |
a Cambray en Cambresis. | Contenans les cruelles guerres ciuilles entre les maisons d'Orleans et de Bour- | gougne, pulsion | d'ieux, et autres choses memorables aduenues de son temps en ce Royau- | me, et pays estranges. | Histoire de bel exemple et de grand fruit aux François, commencant en l'an M.CCCC. | ou finist celle de IEAN

FROISSART, et finissant en l'an M.CCCC.LXVII. peu outre le commencement de celle de Mess. PHILIPPES
DE COMMINES, | Reueue et corrigée sur l'exemplaire de la Librairie du Roy, et enrichi d'abbregez | pour l'introduction d'icelle, et de tables fort copieuses. | Vignette device of printer on both titles, handsome initial letters, and head and tail pieces. 2 vols. thick small folio, splendidly bound by AD. BERTRAND in crushed red levant morocco, extra gilt, citron edges.

Paris, chez Pierre l'Huillier, rue saint
Jaques à l'Olivier, 1572

VERY RARE and a superbly bound copy in admirable condition of the 1572 and best edition of Monstrelet, of which Brunet says:—

"Cette edition est LA PLUS BELLE QUE NOUS AVONS DE CES CHRONIQUES; et, quoique le texte en ait été altéré par l'editeur, ou la recherche encore assez."

The same authority quotes the fact that a copy of this edition belonging to De Thou sold at the Stanley sale in London for £136 10s., nearly $700.

This copy, of which the title of Vol. 1 is carefully mended in one place, has the printer's mark on both titles of the bookseller L. Huillier, whose sign was at the Olive. Within a Renaissance border is an olive tree, around which is the motto—"Oliva fructi fera in domo Dei psalis." In the foreground is a rock with the monogram of L'Huillier, who on the back of the title has some Latin verses, addressed—"A. P. Gamin, son of P. Gamin, citizen of Cambray." The dedication to the King is signed by—"L'Huillier et Chaudiere, Libraires de l'Université de Paris."

Rose, in his "New General Biographical Dictionary," writes:—"Enguerrand de Monstrelet, a French chronicler of the fifteenth century, was a gentleman of an ancient family in Cambray, of which city he died Governor in 1453. He left a history of his own times, commencing with the year 1400, and carried down to 1453. THE BEST EDITION IS THAT OF PARIS, 1572, 2 VOLS. FOLIO.

"This work gives a faithful but prolix narrative of the wars between the houses of Orleans and Burgundy, of the capture of Normandy and Paris by the English and their expulsion, and of all the memorable events in France and other countries during that period. It fills the space between the histories of Froissart and Comines, and is reckoned particularly valuable on account of the number of original documents which it contains."

THE REMARKABLY RARE WORK OF COPPIER DE VELLAY ON THE ST. BARTHOLOMEW MASSACRE, AND ISSUED IN THAT YEAR—BOUND BY DURU.

587 COPPIER DE VALLEY (JAMES).—DELUGE DES HUGUENOTZ | avec levr Tvm- | beau, & les noms des chefs | & principaux, punys à Paris | le XXIIIJ | d'Aoust | & autres iours | ensuynans, | 1572. | Par IACQ. COPP. DE VELLAY | Small 8vo, bound in 1851 by DURU, in crushed red levant morocco, à la JANSEN, with dentelle gold inside borders, gilt edges.

Paris, par Iean Dallier Libraire, demourat. sur le pot. S. Michel, à l'enseyne de la Rose blanche,

M.D.LXXII., i. e., 1572

EXTRAORDINARILY RARE, unmentioned by Brunet, and most interesting volume, published the year of the Huguenot Massacre of St. Bartholomew, and containing the names of the victims. From the library of J. Renard, and with his "ex-libris." Imported for Mr. Pene du Bois, from Paris, for 175 francs, vide inserted catalogue cutting. On the title-page is a woodcut of a rose, the sign of the celebrated Parisian bookseller Dallier. The above was probably the author's copy, as the text is corrected in some places. It is also most carefully ruled in red ink. The privilege to print reads:—"Il est permis à Iean Dallier Libraire, de imprimer ou faire imprimer ce present Deluge, et dessence à tous autres de ne l'imprimer dedans troys moys sur peine de confiscatio. Faict le troisième iour d'Octobre, 1572."

THE "FLEA OF MADAME DES ROCHES," 1573—EXCESSIVELY RARE AND BOUND BY SIMIER.

588 DES ROCHES.—| LA PVCE | DE MADAME | DES ROCHES | qvi est | vn recveil de divers | Poemes Grecs, Latin & François, | composez par plvsievs | doctes personnages avx | Grans Iours tenus a Poitiers | l'an M.D.LXXIX. | 4to, bound by SIMIER, "R[elieur] du Roi," in yellow calf gilt, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, pour Abel l'Angelier au premier Pillier de la grand salle du Palais, M.D.LXXXIII., i. e., 1573

EXCESSIVELY RARE, and priced 400 francs by Fatout in 1876, and sold at the Didot sale previously for 220 francs. On the title is the printer's device of L'Angelier:—"An angel accepting Abraham's sacrifice of a ram." Facing the title is a MS. description of the origin of this very curious book, and the French poets Madeleine and Catherine des Roches. The story is also told in Vapereau.

These two ladies held a distinguished place in sixteenth century literature. In 1579, literary fetes were held at Poitiers. Etienne Pasquier, the poet, who was a member of the tribunal which decided at this tournament of verses, paid a visit to the two poetesses, and during his social talk with them saw a flea on the neck of Catherine. The wits of the time learning of this circumstance, expended their rhyming energies on the occurrence in French, Greek and Latin. The above is the original edition of the collection of verses gathered by Pasquier on "The Flea of Madame Des Roches."

Although this curiosity of literature was reprinted by the "Société des Bibliophiles" in 1871, the original still commands a very high price, as shown above. The dedication was written by "Iaqves de Sovrdrai" and Pasquier's address to the reader ends with the following lines over his signature:—

"SVR LA PVCE
"Ne nous trompez plus vostre Troien cheual,
Dont vindrent tant de Ducs, o trompeuses trompettes,
Voz superbes discours n'ont rien à nous d'egal,
Puis qu'vne PUCE esclost tant de scauans Poetes."

THE EXTREMELY RARE ESTIENNE AND ORIGINAL EDITION OF THE POEMS OF DES PORTES—BOUND BY CHAMBOLLE-DURU.

589 DES PORTES.— | Les Premieres | Oeuvres de |
PHILIPPES | DES PORTES. | Av Roy de Pologne. |
8vo, superbly bound by CHAMBOLLE-DURU in crushed red levant morocco, elegantly tooled gilt back and inside dentelle borders, rounded corners, gilt edges.

Paris, de l'Imprimerie de Robert Estienne, 1573

EXTREMELY RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION and splendid example of the Estienne or Stephens press, and with large printer's device of the same on title—"an old man beside an olive tree with the motto 'Noli altvm sapere,'" also with broad margins and charming head and tail pieces and initial letters. Priced 350 francs in vellum by Morgand-Fatout.

Philippe Des Portes, the celebrated French poet, was born in 1546, and died in 1606. He was a most remarkable writer, and went to Rome as secretary to the Bishop of Puy, where he exhibited—"une habileté, une souplesse de courtisan, qui lui valurent de nombreuses faveurs." Charles IX. gave him 800 golden crowns for his little poem of "Rodomont." Henry III., whom he accompanied to Poland and to whom the above volume is dedicated, made him his reader and a counsellor of state. That monarch gave him the Abbeyes of Tiron, Josaphat, Bon Port, etc. Des Portes might have been Archbishop of Bordeaux, but his licentious poetry stood in his way. He repaid Charles the Ninth for his favors by singing the praises of Marie Touchet, and similarly eulogized Marie de Cleves and Renée de Chateaufort to please Henry the Third, whose court, when it became the abode of effeminate young men, received his eulogies. He was, as one authority states—"le louangeur des mignons," i. e., the panegyrist of the emasculated favorites of the King and their unnatural vices. Des Portes thus praises the pederastic Henry:—

"Heureux en qui le ciel des thrésors assemble,
Qu'il ait la face belle et la cœur généreux !
Vous l'honneur plus parfait des guerriers amoureux,
Nous faites voir encore Mars et Vénus ensemble."

He was a genuine book-lover, had a genuine love for letters, which he aided by his wealth. His superb library was always at the disposal of friends like Vauquelin, La Fresnaye, Du Perron and De Thou.

JOACHIM DU BELLAY'S POETICAL WORKS—THE EXTREMELY RARE 1573 EDITION, AND BOUND BY THIBARON.

590 BELLAY.— | LES | OEUVRES | FRANCOISES DE |

eighths). Elegantly bound à la JANSEN by THIBARON-ECHAUBARD in red crushed levant morocco, inside gold dentelle borders, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, de l'imprimerie de FEDERIC MOREL.

Imprimeur du Roy M.D.LXXIII. Avec Priuilege

dudict Seigneur, 1573

EXTREMELY RARE and a superb copy, with brilliant impressions of all the fleurons and charming initials. The printer's mark is an olive tree of the genre Estienne and Elzevir, with a Greek motto twisted around the trunk.

Brunet quotes the Garcia copy as having sold in 1860 for 260 francs, but it has since gone up much in value in the Parisian book market.

Joachim's du Bellay's poetry was the result of leisure hours enforced by long-continued illness. He was greatly held in esteem by Francis I., Henry II. and Margaret of Navarre. He spent three years in Rome with his cousin, Cardinal du Bellay, a great lover of literature and poetry, and the patron of Rabelais. In his later years he was appointed by Eustace du Bellay, Archbishop of Paris, to a canonry in that prelate's cathedral. Joachim du Bellay died of an apopleptic fit in 1559, at the age of thirty-five. In one of the epitaphs made on him he was styled—"Pater elegantiarum, pater omnium leporum."

VERY RARE BIBELOT ON KING HENRY THE THIRD OF FRANCE, ISSUED 1574—BOUND BY CAPE.

591 HENRY III. OF FRANCE.— | PANEGYRIQVE | pour | la

ROY DE FRANCE & DE | POLOUGNE | par | MESSIRE ANT.
FUMEE CHEUALIER, Seigneur | de Blandé, Conseiller du
Conseil priué. | Small 8vo. Bound by CAPÉ, in half crushed levant morocco, uncut edges.

Paris, Nicolas Chesneau, 1574

VERY RARE bibelot on the return to France and accession of King Henry the Third to the French throne. On the title is the printer's device of Chesneau, which is somewhat like that of the Elzevirs and Estiennes. It is—"A chestnut tree beside which stands an old man—on the trunk of the tree is a bunch of arrows and the motto 'Concordia vis nescia vinci.'" Henri de Valois, says Rose, in his "Biographical Dictionary," displayed—"that strange and odious mixture in his character, which has rendered his memory despicable. Assembling about his person a few young men of dissolute habits, he abandoned himself to the most infamous debaucheries, which were intermingled with the practice of superstitious devotions and penances, while he lavished upon his minions all the treasures of the state, spent his time in the most frivolous occupations and resigned the reins of government to his mother, Catharine de Medicis."

EXTREMELY RARE WORK OF HENRI ESTIENNE,

S. THOMASON, in crushed blue levant morocco gilt, gold dentelle borders, and edges gilt on marble.

Paris, par Mamert Patisson Imprimeur du Roy, 1579

EXTREMELY RARE and a beautiful example on thick paper. Priced, 1883, in Morgand's catalogue at 500 francs in vellum. This copy came from the—"Bibliothèque de Mr. J. Renard," and has his "ex libris."

The life of the author of the above, Henri Estienne "the Second" (or Stephens), is one of the most painful in the annals of bibliography. A man of wonderful classical abilities, an author furnishing the greater part of the manuscript for his compositors—he wasted through intemperance his paternal patrimony, became insolvent, and an indigent wanderer on the face of the earth. After 1578, we are told—"his life was that of a hanger-on to the Court of Henry III. of France—a weak and narrow-minded king, but a patron of literature and art. The rest of the life of this eminent printer is a very painful one to recount. . . . He was seized by his last malady at Lyons and died in the public hospital there. He was interred in the common cemetery, near the Hotel Dieu, and a detachment of the burgher guard was obliged to turn out to protect the funeral from the violence of the Catholic mob. This was at the end of January, 1598—not the beginning of March, as the old biographers say. Henry's books are divided into three classes:—Editions of the classics, original writings on the Greek and Latin languages, and writings on the French language. He used as a device the olive-tree adopted by his father."

PELLETIER'S POEMS—THE 1581 EDITION—ELEGANTLY BOUND BY NIEDREE.

inside gold dentelle borders, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, chez Robert Coulombel, rue S. Ian de Latran, à l'Anseigne d'Alde, 1581

EXTREMELY RARE and excellent copy of this curious work by Pelletier. On the title is the assumed device of Coulumbel, "the anchor, dolphin and name of 'Aldus.'" This copy came from the library of the Right Hon. Charles Bathurst, of Lydney Park, and has his inserted book-plate. It has fine head and tail pieces throughout. Mr. Pene du Bois paid an Union Square book-dealer $75 for the above. Morgand and Fatout priced a copy in their 1876 catalogue (No. 2,297) at 1,000 francs.

The peculiarity about the volume and which makes it so high-priced is its strange orthography. This was invented by James Pelletier, and in the above he applies his method more completely than he does in his preceding works, of which—"il est impossible de contester les avantages."

Pelletier was as distinguished a mathematician as he was a poet. He was born in 1517, and died 1582. Originally a secretary of Rene du Bellay, he became the head of the Colleges of Bayeux and Mans. His verses are of the school of Ronsard.

THIBARON in red crushed levant morocco extra, inside gold dentelle borders, rounded corners, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, 1589

EXCESSIVELY RARE. These four pieces on the infamous Henry the Third, the filthiest of all the Kings of France, were imported for Mr. Pene du Bois, at a cost of 300 francs. Vide inserted catalogue cutting. This bibelot came from the libraries of Chedard, A. A. Renouard and E. M. Bancel—it has the "ex-libris" of the two last-named collectors.

The second described brochure is the first edition and has the rare cuts of the demons said to have been raised by the King at Vincennes. A copy of this alone sold for 592 francs at the Desq sale.

On the title of the fourth, which is in verse, is a horrible suggestion in regard to the sodomistic practices of Henry the Third, and the third tells the story of his assassination by Jacques Clement, the Dominican monk.

VERY RARE and printed at the press of the Vatican

Angelo Rocca, author of the above, was an Italian philologist, who was born in 1545 and died in 1620. He was a monk of the Augustinian order, was Bishop of Tagoste in partibus, and had charge of the Vatican printing office. He was the founder of the Angelical Library in Rome and which is called after him. He left his large literary collections to the Augustinian monastery there, upon the express condition that it should be always open for the benefit of the public. This was the first library in Rome to which the people had freedom of access.

Numerous fleurons, head and tail pieces, charming initial letters, printer's mark, etc. Thick folio, magnificently bound by BELZ-NIEDREE in lemon levant morocco gilt, with crushed red levant morocco doublé ends, with broad lace and pointillé tooling, and dentelle borders, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, chez Michel Sonnius, rue saint Iaqués a l'escu

de Basle, 1595

EXTREMELY RARE and superb copy in splendid condition of the best edition of Montaigne. The three books of the Essays are separately paginated.

To thoroughly appreciate this edition—which is the best text printed after the death of Montaigne, which occurred in 1592, three years before the issue of the above—one must carefully read the very long account given of it by Brunet in his third volume. He states that before Montaigne died he left two copies of the 1588 edition filled with corrections and additions in his handwriting. It was from one of these copies that Mademoiselle de Gournay edited this edition, which was printed at Paris by Abel l'Angelier (or Michel Sonnius) in 1595. The editor in her preface does not give the "avis" of Montaigne, but an eighteen-page preface.

This volume, which Brunet says is PERFECTLY AND CORRECTLY EXECUTED, CONTINUES UNTIL TO-DAY THE PRINCIPAL EDITION OF MONTAIGNE FOR THE AUTHENTICITY OF THE TEXT.

Such is the judgment of J. F. Payen, at page six of his excellent "Notice Bibliographique sur Montaigne," where he describes with scrupulous exactitude the various editions of the "Essays."

The differences noted by M. Payen in copies of this 1595 edition are mentioned by Brunet, one of which shows that the above is in the "primitive state" as printed, viz.: the fourth line of page 70 commences "que vne."

The reliaure of the above copy is magnificent, as fresh as when it left the binder's hands, and as an example of modern binding it cannot be equalled.

"Montaigne is the earliest classical writer in the French language, the first whom a gentleman is ashamed not to have read. No writer of the XVIth century has given so much delight."—HALLAM.

"Montaigne and Howell's Letters are my bed-side books. I like to hear them tell their old stories over and over again. I am informed that both of them tell coarse stories. I don't heed them, it was the custom of their time as it is of Highlanders and Hottentots to dispense with a part of dress which we all wear in cities."—W. M. THACKERAY.

Aldine Imprints.

JUVENAL AND PERSIUS, PRINTED BY ALDUS PIUS MANUTIUS IN 1501.

607 ALDUS.—JUVENAL ET PERSIUS. OPERA. Small
8vo, old calf gilt, marbled edges.
Venetiis, œdibus Aldi mense Augusto, MDI. (1501)

VERY RARE and good example of early Aldine imprint in Italic types. A coat-of-arms is stamped in gold on the sides—the chief charge of which, or possibly crest, is a lion. Below are—"quarterly 1 and 4 three fleurs-de-lys, and 2 and 3 a bend fuselly."

The above and nearly fifty following Aldine imprints constitute the largest and most important collection in the United States of the publications of the most famous typographers of Venice.

Aldus Pius Manutius was the founder of this great printing house. He was born in 1449 or 1450 at Sermonetta in the Pontifical States. His baptismal name was—"Theobaldo, the last two syllables of which served him for a nom-de-plume, which was Latinized into Aldus, with the affix of Manutius for his family and sometimes of Romanus to indicate his country. In addition to all these names he afterwards assumed that of Pius out of compliment to a pupil."

He commenced his typographical labors in Venice in 1496, and, as Bigmore and Wyman state—"married the daughter of Andrew Torresano d'Asola, the purchaser, in 1479, of the printing office of Nicholas Jenson, the celebrated engraver who was sent by Louis XI. to Mayence in 1458, to discover the secrets of the new art of printing. There is reason to believe that Aldus was greatly assisted by this circumstance in the cutting of his new Greek types, especially the cursive character."

To Aldus we are indebted for Roman type of a neater cut, and he gave birth to the Italic letter, which was primarily styled Venetian. Three Popes gave Aldus the privilege of the sole use of this type for the period of fifteen years. The elder Aldus died in 1515, leaving four sons, one of whom, Paul Manutius, was then aged three years.

Between 1516 and 1529 the Aldine printing office was superintended by Andrew d'Asola and his sons. From 1533 to 1571 all the editions of the Aldi were issued under the direction of Paul Manutius in the name of the successors of Aldus, but during which time, however, the establishment was closed for four years owing to quarrels between the son and the representatives of the founder.

The Aldine dynasty ended just before the close of the sixteenth century and upon the death of Aldus the Younger, whose editions were produced between 1572 and his decease in 1597.

Examples of all these periods—over a hundred years of typography—and representing the various mutations of the printery established by Manutius will be found in this elegant collection, nearly all the volumes of which, as well as the Elzevirs following, came from the Syston Park Library and were bound by Roger Payne, Bozerian, Duru, Lewis and other celebrated relieurs.

The device of the Aldi, a dolphin entwined around an anchor, it may be well to add, was taken from a design found on the obverse of a medal of Vespasian and one of Domitian. Aldus Manutius adopted the emblem as token of swiftness (the dolphin) in execution, combined with steadiness (the anchor) in conception. This mark was used later in honor of Manutius by other notable printers, such as the eminent William Pickering, a man who in matters typographic, and by the aid of the Whittinghams, or rather the Chiswick Press, was the equal of any of his predecessors of the olden time.

SUIDA'S GREEK LEXICON, PRINTED BY ALDUS IN 1514.
608 ALDUS.—SUIDA. Lexicon Graece. Thick small folio, crinkled morocco, extra gilt on the back, stamped in gold on the sides, with ALDINE dolphin, anchor and cable, inside gold borders, green watered silk ends and gilt edges, by R. STORR.

Venetis, in aedibus Aldi et Andreae soceri mense Feb.

M.V.XIII., i. e., 1514

VERY RARE. From the Syston Park Collection, with heraldic book-plate inserted. It had previously belonged to Sir Mark Sykes, and a few pp. are slightly stained.

The text is wholly in Greek. At both the beginning and end is the Aldine device with the legend "Aldvs M. R." The printer's mark on title is colored, and at the top is painted in the arms—"gu. a fess ar." This shield is twice repeated. The initials "G. N." are beside the first named, and there is also the signature "Guidi Nobilius," probably the name of the owner of the coat-of-arms.

"Seconde édition, fait sur un autre manuscrit que la première de Milan, 1499. Le texte en est souvent meilleur, et plusieurs lacunes y sont heureusement remplies."—RENOUARD.

THE VERY RARE ALDINE EDITION OF JUSTIN.

609 ALDUS.—JUSTIN, TROGI POMPEI externæ Historiæ in Compendivm ab IVSTINO redactæ—Externorum Imperatorum Uitæ autore ÆMYLIO PROBO. Small 8vo, red morocco, extra gilt on the back and sides, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, edges gilt.

Venetis, in aedibus Aldi et Andreae Asulanæ soceri mense Ian. M.D.XXII., i. e., 1522

VERY RARE, printed in Italic letter, with the Aldine mark at the beginning and the end. From the Syston Park Library, with heraldic book-plate.

Rose says Justin's work is—"Written with great purity and elegance, excepting here and there a word which savors of encroaching barbarism."

Of the above Dibdin states:—"This edition, to which Nepos is joined according to Ernesti, is compiled from certain ancient MSS., and conjectural emendations. It was reprinted by the Junta in 1525, which edition is said by Grævius to be of considerable authority. . . . It is a very rare and correct edition; much more so than its precursors in the XVth century."

THE ALDINE VALERIUS OF 1523, AND BOUND BY BOZERIAN.

610 ALDUS.—VALERII FLACCI Argonautica, IO. BAPTISTÆ PIJ carmen ex quarto Argonauticon APOLLONIJ, ORPHEI Argonautica innominatv interprete. Small 8vo, elegantly bound by BOZERIAN, in dark blue morocco, extra gilt on the back and sides, the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, inside gold borders, vellum fly-leaves, gilt edges.

Venetiis, in aedibus Aldi et Andreae Asulani soceri
mense Maio M.D.XXIII., i. e., 1523

VERY RARE. Printed in Italic letter with the mark of the Aldi on the title and last page. With the inserted Syston Park heraldic book-plate.

"This edition is said by Heinsius and Burman to contain many bold conjectures and glaring interpolations; although the editor, Asulanus, has shewn himself a scholar of no common erudition. It contains the 'Orphei Argonautica' from the preceding edition of Pius. Fine copies of it are obtained with some difficulty."—T. F. DIBDIN.

HERODIAN, BOTH IN GREEK AND LATIN, PRINTED BY THE ALDI IN 1524.

611 ALDUS.—HERODIANI historiarum lib. VIII, Græce pariter et Latine. Small 8vo, morocco gilt, edges gilt.

Venice, in aedibus Aldi, et Andreae Asulani
Soceri mense Septembri, 1524

VERY RARE, with both the Greek and Latin texts, and separate pagination. At both the beginning and end is the Aldine device. The tooling on the back is an arrow piercing a wreath of vescica-piscis shape. Herodian's history of the Roman Emperors comprises the period between the death of Marcus Antoninus, A. D. 180, and the accession of Gordian III. in 238. His style is clear and elegant. The above edition, says Dibdin—"contains the truly elegant Latin version of Politian. . . . Harwood has erroneously supposed that Politian first published his version of Herodian after the Louvain edition of 1525."

THE GRAND 1524 FOLIO GREEK DICTIONARY, IMPRINTED BY ALDUS AND ASULANUS IN 1524.

612 ALDUS.—DICTIONARIVM GRAECVM cum Interpretatione Latina, omniu., quæ hactenus impressa sunt, copiosissimum. [Accedunt Opuscula AMMORICI, ORBICII, JOANNIS Grammatici, CORINTHI, HERODIANI, CHÆROBOSCI, THOMÆ MAGISTRI, PHRYNICI, MOSCHOPULI, etc., Græce]. Thick small folio, handsomely bound in red levant morocco, profusely tooled in gold on the back and sides, with the ALDINE device in gold on both sides, gilt edges.

Venetiis, in aedibus Aldi, et Andreae Asulani soceri,
mense Decembri, M.D.XXIII., i. e., 1524

VERY RARE. A handsome folio example with the usual device of "Aldvs M. R." on both the title and last page. Back of the title is—"Franciscus Asulanus to the reader."

From the Syston Park Library, and with the "ex-libris" of that collection inserted.

A VERY RARE ALDINE IMPRINT.

- 613 ALDUS.—STEUCHUS EGUBINUS (Augustinus) Recognitio Veteris Testamenti ad Hebraicam Veritatem, collata etiam Editione Septuaginta Interprete cum ipse ueritate Hebraica nostra q. Translatione, cum Expositione Hebræcorum, ac Graecorum, etc. Small 4to, elegantly bound by R. STORR in green morocco, extra gilt on the back and sides, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, green watered silk ends, inside gold borders, edges gilt.

Venetiis, in aedibus Aldi et Andreae soceri,

MD.XXIX., i. e., 1529

VERY RARE, and so pronounced by Renouard—"volume très-rare." With the Syston Park "ex-libris" inserted. On the title is the warning: "Ne quis alius aut Venetiis, aut usquam locorum hunc impune librum imprimat Senatus Veneti decreto cautum est. MDXXIX."

"Volume rare, composé de 211 ff. chiffr. non compris 2 ff. prélim., et à la fin une page d'errata, dont le verso est blanc. Ce livre est impr. avec un petit caract. Rom., mêlé de Grec et d'Hebreu."—BRUNET.

ISOCRATES AND OTHER GREEK AUTHORS, BOUND BY C. LEWIS.

- 614 ALDUS.—ISOCRATES nuper accurrate recognitus, et avctvs—ISOCRATES, ALCIDAMAS, GORGAS, ARISTIDES, HARPOCRATION [Rhetores Graeci-Graece cura ALDI MANUTII]. Large 4to. Bound by C. LEWIS in morocco gilt, edges gilt, and with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides.

Venetiis, in aedibus haeredum Aldi Manutii, et

Andreae Asulani, mense Iulio, M.D.XXXIII., i. e., 1534

VERY RARE. With the Aldine anchor and dolphin in gold on the title and last page, also dedication of—"Aldvs Man. Rom. Ioanni Baptistæ Equatio Veneto," dated 1513. This copy has inserted the Syston Park "ex-libris."

FINE EXAMPLE OF ALDINE TYPOGRAPHY.

- 615 ALDUS.—GREGORII NAZANZENI Theologi Orationes Novem Elegantissime.—GREGORII NYSSENI liber de Homine, quæ omnia nunc primum, emendatissima, in lucem prodeunt. 2 vols. in 1. Minimo, dark blue morocco, extra gilt, with the ALDINE anchor and dolphin in gold on the sides, inside gold borders, edges gilt.

Venetiis, in aedibus haeredum Aldi, et Andreae Asulani soceri, M.D.XXXVI., i. e., 1536

VERY RARE and fine copy from the Syston Park Library, with inserted heraldic book-plate. The colophon is at the end of the first volume—there is none to the second. The Aldine device is on the title of the first volume and on the last page of the second.

A ROMAN SPECIMEN OF TYPOGRAPHY, WITH THE TYPES OF THE ALDI—1537.

- 616 ALDUS.—VALERIANUS, Compendium in Sphæram per PIERIVM VALERIANVM BELVNENSEM. With numerous woodcuts. Minimo, elegantly bound, with many blank leaves at the end, in dark blue morocco, extra gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, gilt edges.

Rome, impressit Romæ Ant. Blades Platina
Asulanus, cum priuelgio, nequis alius Imprimat, sub
Anathematis pœna, et pecunaria mulcta, ut in Breui
Apostolico continentur, 1537

VERY RARE, not in Renouard, and from the Syston Park Library, with heraldic book-plate.

The above is printed with the Italic types of the Aldi, of which fonts they had entire control, and were defended by the Holy See from typographical pirates, who, offending, are threatened in the colophon with fine and anathema.

FORTUNIO'S ITALIAN GRAMMAR, PRINTED BY THE YOUNGER ALDUS IN 1541.

- 617 ALDUS.—FORTVNIO (Messer Francesco) Regole Grammaticali della Volgar Lingva, Nvovamente Revisite, et con somma Diligentia Corrette. Minimo, maroon morocco, elegantly tooled, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, edges gilt, many blank leaves at the end.

Venice, in casa de' figliuoli di Aldo, 1541

VERY RARE, first Aldine edition, with numerous contemporary MS. marginalia. From the Syston Park Library, with armorial "ex-libris."

"C'est la plus ancienne grammaire Italienne qui ait été imprimée . . . On compte au moins quinze réimpressions dont trois faites a Venise chez les Alde, en 1541, 1545 et 1552 pet in 8."—BRUNET.

FERRARI'S EMENDATIONS TO CICERO'S PHILIPPICS—ALDUS, 1542.

- 618 ALDVS.—HIERONYMI FERRARI ad PAVLVM MANVTIVM Emendationes in Philippicas Ciceronis—PAVLVS MANVTIVS ALDI F. Cvm Senatvs Veneti Privilegio. Small 8vo, red morocco extra gilt, edges gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides by R. STORR.

Venice, apud Aldi filios, 1542

VERY RARE, printed in Italic types with the mark of the Aldi on the title and the last page. With the heraldic book-plate of the Syston Park Library.

Paulus Manutius Aldus, at the time of the publication of the above, was just thirty years old, and had given proofs of ripe scholarship.

AN ALDINE IMPRINT IN ROMAN LETTER—1545.

- 619 ALDUS.—PARTHENIUS.—BERNARDINI PARTHENII Foroiuensis pro Lingva Latina Oratio. Small 4to, dark blue morocco extra gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, inside gold borders, gilt edges, blank leaves at the end (a few pages slightly stained).

Venice, apud Aldi filios, 1545

VERY RARE, printed in Roman types, with the anchor and dolphin of the Aldi on the title and last page. With the heraldic book-plate of Syston Park.

CICERO DE RHETORICA, BY THE ALDI, 1546.

- 620 ALDUS.—CICERO, In Omnes de Arte Rhetorica M. TVLLII CICERONIS libros, item in eos ad. C. HERENIVM Scriptos, Doctissimarvm Virorvm Commentaria, in Vnvm Velvti corpvs redacta, etc. Thick small folio, handsomely bound by R. STORR in maroon morocco extra gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, inside gold borders, edges gilt (a few pages slightly stained at the bottom).
Venice, apud Aldi filios, 1546

VERY RARE, from the Syston Park Library, with heraldic book-plate. On the title is the autograph signature—"Guil von Sestick, 1623," also the Aldine anchor and dolphin within a floriated ornament. On the last page is the coat-of-arms of a Cardinal, with the motto "Dvrate" and beneath which are two angels.

ITALIAN TRANSLATION OF TERENCE BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE, AND WITH THE ALDUS IMPRINT OF 1546.

VERY RARE. These orations, which include one on celibacy and another on marriage, are principally obituarial and on King Sigismund of Poland, Cardinal Estienne, Alfonso Duke of Ferrara, Popes Paul the Third and Julius the Third, etc. With the heraldic book-plate inserted of Syston Park. This copy in 1649 belonged to the college of the Order of Jesus at Louvain.

- 636 ALDUS.—ELEGANZE INISIEME con la Copia, della Lingva Toscana e Latina, Scielte da ALDO MANUTIO utilissime al comporre nell'una e l'Altra Lingua. Minimo, dark blue morocco extra gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, inside gold dentelle borders, edges gilt.

Venice, Aldus, 1558

VERY RARE. A fine copy and printed in Italic letter. With the inserted heraldic book-plate of the Syston Park Library.

Paulus Manutius, the son of Aldus and the author, publisher and printer of the above, was born in 1512. Bigmore and Wyman write:—"Some say that he was educated by Erasmus, but the statement is challenged. At an early age he manifested a great love for learning and books, and labored in various literary enterprises with the most indefatigable devotion. This excessive labor, combined with a feeble constitution, soon nearly killed him, and for a time he was compelled to renounce his studies. He became remarkably well versed in the Latin language and his library contained copies of all the Roman classics. Venice was very proud of him, and the Cardinals Bembo and Bernardin Maffeo especially became his patrons. At the solicitation of Pius IV. he became head of the Apostolic Printing Establishment, the intention of the Pope (ultimately carried out) in establishing which was the publication of a complete collection of the Fathers. Manutius was charged, together with J. Poggianus and C. Amalthée, to write, entirely in Latin, 'the Catechism of the Council of Trent.' For this purpose he went to Rome in 1560, but left there to return to Venice in 1570. He died in 1572. His son, Alde Manuce, a scholar and printer of great eminence, continued his publications."

For other works by or on him, vide ante et supra.

- 637 ALDUS.—PAVLI MANVTII Epistolæ, et Praefationes qvæ Dicvntvr. Vignette on title of angel with trumpet and motto on globe. Minimo, green morocco, extra gilt by R. STORR, inside gold dentelle borders, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, gilt edges (some pp. stained).
Venice, in Academia Venetia, 1558

VERY RARE and from the Syston Park Library, with "ex-libris" of that collection. Like the preceding number by Paul Manutius Aldus, and showing that this famous printer was in correspondence with the most eminent men of his time.

- 638 ALDUS.—SIGONIUS (Carolus). Orationes Septem. With mark of ALDUS within wreath on title. Small 4to, green morocco, extra gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, edges gilt, blank leaves at end. Venice, Aldus, 1560

VERY RARE. From the Syston Park Library, and with this note in MS. on an end-paper:—"No copy of this edition seems ever to have been sold in any of the famous collections. Extremely rare, not collated by Renouard, and mentioned among his 'Desiderata.' The editors of the 'Serie' [vide No. 656] had never seen it, as they merely give it on the authority of Volpi and Crevenna."

- 656 ALDUS.—SERIE DELL' EDIZIONE ALDINE per Ordine Cronologico ed Alfabetico Terza Edizione con Emendazione e Giunte. Small 8vo, crinkled purple morocco gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, edges gilt, by R. STORR.

Florence, Giuseppe Molini, 1803

RARE. From the Syston Park Library, with heraldic book-plate, also with the armorial "ex-libris" of "Sylvester, Lord Glenbervie," on back of title and the autograph signature on title of that British blue-blood.

The above admirable bibliography of the Aldine editions has a folded sheet genealogy of the Aldus Manutius family. It is of five generations, commencing with Manuzio da Bassiano, father of Aldo Pio Manuzio, whose wife was a Torresani, and ending with Paolina Manuzio, the great-granddaughter of the founder of the first Aldine press in Venice. It also shows intermarriages with the Odoni and Giunta families.

- 657 ALDI PII MANUTII Scripta Tria Longe Rarissima a IACOBO MORELLIO denuo Edita et Illustrata. Green morocco extra gilt, with the ALDINE device in gold on the sides, inside gold borders, gilt edges, blank leaves at the end.

Bassano, typis Remondinianis, 1806

RARE, and from the Syston Park Library, with inserted heraldic book-plate. It has the anchor and dolphin of the Aldi on the title and last page.

The volume is divided as follows:—"Hellénisme dans l'occident"; "Isabella D'Este, Marquise de Mantone"; "Correspondance Inédite des Réfugiés Grecs en Italie"; "Zacharias Calliergi et les Calligraphes. Crétois"; "Premières Impressions Grecques"; etc.

[THE DEVICE OF THE ELZEVIRS.]

Elzeviriana.

659 ELZEVIR.—NOVUM TESTAMENTUM GRÆCUM, ex Regijs alijsque optimis editionibus cum cura expressum. Minimo, fine old morocco, tooled, extra gilt, edges gilt.

Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1624

VERY RARE, with MS. on end-papers and title leaf.

This "Greek Testament" is the first volume issued from the press of the Elzevirs given in Bérard's "Essai Bibliographique sur les Editions des Elzevirs." None precede it—no work of earlier date is given in the chronological list of the duodecimos in that authority. Bérard says:—"Cette édition du Nouveau Testament Grec est la première qui ait été donnée par les Elzevirs. Elle passe pour la plus correcte, et celle de 1633 est regardée comme la plus belle."

The last and best authorities on early printing, Messrs. Bigmore and Wyman, write as follows respecting — "The Elzevir Family, who flourished in Holland during the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, (who) were famous for the elegance of their type, the excellence of their press-work, the accuracy of their text, and their successful efforts to introduce the duodecimo as an improvement upon the larger and more expensive forms of books. Their type was highly esteemed in this country, and furnished the model for that of the First Caslon. Of twelve printers belonging to this family, at least seven were celebrated for special excellence.

"Louis Elzevir, the first printer of the family, was born at Louvain, and established himself at Leyden. His first book was an edition of Eutropius in 1592, and it is excessively rare. He continued to print in that city until his death in 1617. He adopted for his device the arms of the Batavian Republic and the motto 'Concordiâ res parvæ crescunt,' which motto, adopted by Jo Steels, with another device, Brunet and other bibliographers, were led to believe that Elzevir's and Steels's devices were the same.

"The five sons of Louis were all printers—the youngest, Bonaventure Elzevir, achieving great celebrity as the publisher of the famous duodecimo classics. Louis, a grandson of the first Louis, was the founder of the Elzevir press of Amsterdam.

"The Elzevirs did not aim at luxury, like the Aldi and the Stephens, for they printed only one work upon vellum, but devoted their endeavors to furnishing accurate works for common use."

Respecting the Elzevirian device, of which a cut is given above, and which is on the title of this number and most of those following, the bibliographers just quoted, say:—"The emblem of the olive tree and vine, under it an old man gathering fruit, on the other side on a scroll the motto, 'Non Solus' (not alone), was a later and better-known mark of these famous printers. The adopting for their mark of the prolific vine—crowned by Grecian fable as the greatest blessing to mankind, and the gift of the wise Minerva—was very appropriate for a family so many in number and so multitudinous in works."

Another mark of the Elzevirs, and which will be found on the titles of some of the succeeding numbers represents:—"Minerva and her owl beneath an Olive Tree with the motto—'Ne extra olea.'"

SUTHOLT ON UNIVERSAL LAW—BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

660 ELZEVR.—SVTHOLT (Bernard). Dissertationes Vnde-viginti quibus Universum Jus Institutionum ex Principiis Explicatur, etc. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red crinkled morocco, gilt edges.

Leyden, ex Officina Elzeviriorum, 1633

VERY RARE, fine copy, and not mentioned in Bérard, with the buffalo head-line over the dedication.

This binding is correctly given as Roger Payne's on the authority of the expert of Sotheby, Wilkinson and Hodge, who catalogued the library of the late Sir John Hayford Thorold, Baronet, of Syston Park, Lincolnshire, the book-plate of which collection will be found inserted in the above, as in nearly all the following numbers of Elzeviriana.

Wherever Roger Payne is represented as the relieur of any volume in this sub-division, it is asserted upon the expert testimony of that most able of living British bibliographers, John Bohn.

THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY ANATOMIST SPIGEL'S "ISAGOGES"—BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

661 ELZEVR.—SPIGEL (Adrian, philos. ac Medici Patauini). Isagoges in Rem Herbarium, Libri Duo. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco, gilt edges.

Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1633

VERY RARE, fine copy, unknown to Bérard, and with handsomely engraved title. From the Syston Park sale, with heraldic book-plate. The engraved title is a brilliant impression. Priced $25 in a N. Y. catalogue.

Adrian Spigel, known also as Van den Spigel, was one of the most eminent medical writers of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries. He was Professor of Anatomy and Surgery at Padua—was made a Knight of St. Mark, and decorated with a collar of gold.

VERY RARE 1634 ELZEVR IN A ROGER PAYNE BINDING.

- 662 ELZEVR.—IONSTON (Iohan., Doct. Medici). Enchiridion Ethicvm, ex Sententiossissimis Dictis Concinnatum. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco gilt, edges gilt. Leyden, ex officina Elseviriana, 1634

VERY RARE. Fine copy and from the Syston Park Library. Priced $22.50 in a New York book catalogue. The author was a learned philological writer, a talented musician, a college professor and a divine.

THE RAREST ELZEVR TERENCE, 1635.

- 663 ELZEVR.—PVB. TERENTII Comœdiæ sex ex Recensione HEINSIANA. Engraved title. Minimo, green morocco gilt, edges gilt on red.

Leyden, ex officina Elseviriana, 1635

VERY RARE. The engraved title represents "Scipio crowning Venus, nude." From the library of "Canheveau adcat. du Roy," vide his name in MS. on title. On end paper is the note—"Editio genuina. Lib. rariss."

This is a rubricated copy. It is the best of the two editions of 1635 and which Bérard says is most sought after by amateurs, having the buffalo's head over the dedicatory epistle of Heinsius, the Testimonia following, etc., and with page 101 paginated in error 69, and page 104, 108. It has further the rare index and the vignette portrait of Terence. At the MacCarthy sale a copy sold for 66 francs—but it has gone up considerably in value within the last sixty to seventy years.

AN ELZEVR EDITION OF CALVIN NOT MENTIONED BY BERARD, BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 664 ELZEVR.—CALVIN (John). Analysis Paraphrastica Theologicarum, Disputationibus contexta avctore DANIELE COLONIO. Thick minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco gilt, edges gilt on marble.

Leyden, ex officina Elseviriana, 1636

VERY RARE. From the Syston Park collection, with library stamp on back of title and "buffalo's head" cut over dedication. Priced $25 in a New York book catalogue, vide inserted cutting. Not mentioned by Bérard.

CLOPPENBURG'S RARE WORK ON SACRIFICES, AND IN ROGER PAYNE'S BINDING.

- 665 ELZEVR.—CLOPPENBURG (J.). Sacrificiorvm Patriarchalivm Scholia Sacra. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco gilt, edges gilt.

Leyden, ex officina Elseviriorum, 1637

VERY RARE, and from the Syston Park collection. Not mentioned by Bérard.

PATERCULUS, 1639, BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 666 ELZEVIR.—M. VELLEIVS PATERCVLVVS cum Notis GERARDI VOSSII. G. F., With engraved title. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco gilt, edges gilt on marble. Leyden, ex officina Elzeviriana, 1639

VERY RARE, the Syston Park copy, and priced $33 in a New York book catalogue, see inserted cutting.

When the 1520 Froben and original edition of Paterculus appeared it was considered throughout Italy to be a spurious work, and Asulanus in the preface to his folio Livy did not hesitate to attack it. The style of Paterculus is pure and elegant, showing internal evidence of its being genuine.

THE APHORISMS OF CORVINUS, BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 667 ELZEVIR.—ARNOLDI JOHI. F. CORVINI J. V. D. Digesta per Aphorismos Strictim Explicata. Thick minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco, gilt, edges gilt. Amsterdam, apud Ludov. Elzevirium, 1642

VERY RARE. The Syston Park copy, with engraved title. Under two of the figures in front are engraved the words "Tribonianus" and "Theophilus."

THE AMSTERDAM ELZEVIR PRESS—AN EXAMPLE BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 668 ELZEVIR.—VERUS (Ioannes Baptista). Rervm Vene-tarvm Libri Quatuor ad Illustrissimum PETRUM CONTARENUM FRANCISCI F. Handsome engraved title of armor, battle scene, arms, etc. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red crinkled morocco, edges gilt.

Amsterdam, apud Ludovicum Elzevirium, 1644

RARE, from the Syston Park Library. With the "buffalo's head" cut over both dedication and first page of text.

THE ROMAN JURISPRUDENCE OF CORVINUS, IN ROGER PAYNE'S BINDING.

- 669 ELZEVIR.—CORVIN (I.). Ivrisprvdentia Romana H. VULTEII Contracta. Fine engraved title, including figure of "Justice," portrait of the author, etc. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red crinkled morocco, edges gilt.

Amsterdam, apud Ludovicum Elzevirium, 1644

RARE, from the Syston Park Library.

PORTA ON NATURAL MAGIC—LEYDEN, 1644.

- 670 ELZEVR.—PORTA (J. B., Neapolitani). Magiæ Naturalis Libri Viginti. Engraved title, cuts, fancy initials. Thick minimo, red crinkled morocco, edges gilt.

[sed typis Elzevirii], 1644

VERY RARE. From the Syston Park Library, with heraldic book-plate. The "buffalo's head cut" of the Elzevirs will be found over the dedication.

Porta was an alchemist of the Arnold Da Villanova and Cardan school. He was the founder of the "Secreti," a society fashioned somewhat after the style of our modern Theosophical Societies. He had to defend himself in Rome from the charge of magical practices.

AN ELZEVR GROTIUS, HANDSOMELY BOUND BY DURU.

- 671 ELZEVR.—H. GROTII et aliorum Dissertationes de Studiis Institutendis. Fine engraved title. Thick minimo. Handsomely bound by DURU in crushed green levant morocco, inside dentelle gold borders, and edges gilt on marble. Amsterdam, apud Ludovicum Elzevirium, 1645

RARE, and a superb copy on thick paper.

"Grotius hic Hugo est, Batavum captivus et exul Legatus regni, Suecia magna tui."

THE LIFE OF ALEXANDER THE GREAT—BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 672 ELZEVR.—MATTHIA (Christian). Historia ALEXANDRI MAGNI, sive PRODRUMUS Quatuor Monarchiarum. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco, gilt edges. Amsterdam, apud Ludovicum Elzevirium, 1645

RARE, and from the Syston Park Library, with inserted heraldic book-plate. On the printer's device on the title of above Minerva takes the place of the old Philosopher. Priced $27.50 in a New York book catalogue.

SUPERB COPY OF CHARRON ON WISDOM AND IN FRENCH.

- 673 ELZEVR.—CHARRON (Pierre). De la Sagesse—Trois Livres. Handsomely engraved title. Minimo, vellum, gilt edges. Leyden, chez les Elseviers, 1646

RARE, a beautiful Elzevir with broad margins and "suivant la vraye copie de Bovrdeaux," with the book-plate inserted—"Bibliotheque de Mr. J. Renard." The title represents four females tied to a pedestal on which stands a naked woman, whose visage is seen reflected in a mirror, held by a hand proceeding from a cloud. Pierre Charro's work on "Wisdom" is really an abridgment of Montaigne. On account of its scepticism it was threatened with suppression by Parliament.

A 1646 ELZEVR DEDICATED TO DES CARTES—BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 674 ELZEVR.—HOGELANDE (Corn. Ab.). Cogitationes, quibus Dei Existentia; item Animæ Spiritualitas, et Possibilis cum Corpore Unio Demonstrantur. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco, gilt edges.

Amsterdam, apud Ludovicum Elzevirium, 1648

VERY RARE, and dedicated to Cardinal Mazarin. The Syston Park Library copy, and priced $33 in a New York book catalogue.

The bibliophile De Thou and Grotius were the warmest of friends, and corresponded together until the death of the former. For embracing the tenets of Arminius Grotius was condemned to perpetual imprisonment, but escaped from the fortress of Loevestein in a book chest.

LUBIN'S KEY TO THE GREEK LANGUAGE, 1651—BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 677 ELZEVR.—LVBIN (Eilardus). Clavis et Fvndamenta Græcæ Lingvæ. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red crinkled morocco, gilt edges.

Amsterdam, apud Ludovicum Elzevirium, 1651

RARE. The Syston Park Library copy, and with inserted heraldic book-plate.

The celebrated philologist and theologian Eilard Lubin was Professor of Poetry at Rostoch. Some of his works are devoted to the hypothesis of two co-eternal principles, God and nothing, of which the latter stood in the place of the evil principle of the Manicheans and other theorists.

THE FAMOUS ENGLISH JURIST RICHARD ZOUCHE'S ELEMENTS OF LAW—BOUND BY ROGER PAYNE.

- 678 ELZEVR.—ZOVCHEVS (Richard). Elementa Jurisprudentiæ Definitionibus, Regulis et Sententiis Selectoribus Juris Civilis, Illustrata. Minimo. Bound by ROGER PAYNE in red morocco, gilt edges.

Amsterdam, D. Elzevier, 1678

VERY RARE, and from the Syston Park Library, with heraldic "ex-libris." Priced $33 in a New York book catalogue, vide inserted cutting. Some of the plates are missing, but otherwise a good copy.

Giambattista Marini, the eminent Italian poet, was born in 1569 and died in 1625. He was patronized by Marie de Medicis, who settled upon him a liberal pension. Marini is charged by Italian critics with being the great corrupter of their poetry, by the introduction of extravagant figures and unnatural conceits, which were called the stile Marinesco.

"Besides his [Marini's] Adone, of which there are many editions, one of the best of which was that of Elzevir, Amsterdam, 1678, in 4 vols. 12mo, there are 'La Stragé degli Innocenti,' 'Rime,' 'La Sampogue,' etc., and also a collection of letters."—ROSE.

TAVERNIER'S VOYAGES, PRINTED BY THE ELZEVIRS.

- 690 ELZEVIR.—Les SIX VOYAGES de JEAN BAPTISTE TAVERNIER, Ecuyer Baron d'Aubonne, en Turquie, en Perse et aux Indes. Numerous plates and maps. 3 vols. minimo, old calf. [Holland, Elzevir,] 1679

VERY RARE, and vide pp. 214-215 of Bérard, as to the fact of this being printed by the Elzevirs. The title only reads on the imprint—"Suivant la Copie Imprimée a Paris." The Elzevir head-piece of the buffalo's head will be found over the dedication "au Roy." A few pp. are slightly stained. Not the least interesting portion of the work is the—"Relation de l'Interieur du Serrail du Grand Seigneur." Bérard says it is difficult to find well-preserved copies of the work, and over sixty years ago quotes a copy having sold at the Méon sale for sixty francs.

CIACCONIUS'S "DE TRICLINIO," IN FINE OLD GILT VELLUM BINDING.

- 691 ELZEVIR.—CIACCONIUS (Petrus, Toletanus). De Triclinio sive de Modv Convivendi apud priscos Romanos et de Convivorum Apparatu accedit FULVII URSINI. Appendix et HIER. ## V. Bibliography

AND

Authorities on Literature, Binding, Book-plates, etc., also Rare Book Catalogues.

"Cataloguing is a handicraft just as much as any other mechanical trade; an art to be learned by attention and diligent practice. When amateurs get together and talk about catalogues, the question is sure to come up 'What arrangement do you prefer!' To discuss arrangement before you can prepare a title for a catalogue is as if you would be a colorist before you can draw an outline."
—BLACKBURN.

694 ALBERT (Paul). La Littérature Française des Origines à la Fin au Dix-Huitième Siècle. 3 vols. small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1883-84

"Mr. William Blades, Mr. Theodor Goebel, of Stuttgart; Mr. John Hessels, of Cambridge; Mr. Louis Mohr, of Strasbourg; Mr. Theo. L. De Vinne, of New York, and Mr. Van de Hagen, of Ghent,—names of the highest eminence in this department of bibliography,—have all rendered invaluable aid, and contributed most materially to the carrying out of an enterprise, the results of which are now in the hands of the reader."—Preface to Vol. III., 1886.

- 709 BLANC (Marie, Madame Veuve). Catalogue de Livres Anciens et Modernes de Littérature et d'Histoire, Ouvrages sur les Beaux-Arts, Grand Livres à Figures, etc. Large 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1882

Priced catalogue of 2,357 lots. This was one of the great Paris book-sales at the Hotel Drouot and had an unique and immense collection of Napoleoniana. The catalogue was printed on thick hand-made paper by Jouaust.

- 710 BOND (L. Montgomery, of Philadelphia). Catalogue of Books, Autographs, Coins, etc. Sold at the Clinton Hall Book Sale Rooms. Large 8vo, half morocco (last leaf cut). N. Y., Leavitt, Strebeigh & Co., Auctioneers, 1870

LARGE PAPER. This is an old-time catalogue of the Leavitts, a bibliopolistic auction house, which keeps up its old reputation, has never failed and never can.

"The New York World" said through "Sol Pringle" in his "Sunday Chat," of Sunday, April 3d, 1887:—"If I should ever have a valuable collection of paintings or books and wanted to auction them off, I think, in fact I know, I would call upon George A. Leavitt & Co., the art auctioneers, at No. 787 Broadway, to sell them for me. This house, founded forty years ago by James E. Cooley, gives the public confidence in everything it sells. It has facilities for reaching all people which other auction houses do not possess. They have conducted many fine art sales, notably the J. A. Harper sale, at which $100,000 was realized; the sale of John Wolfe's collection, which netted $115,000, and J. C. Runkle's art treasures, which were sold for $70,000. Among the valuable libraries sold by this house, I recall just now the sale of William Menzies's for $50,000, George Brinley's for $114,000, Joseph J. Cooke's, $70,000, Henry C. Murphy's $50,000, and R. M. Dorman's, $24,000. George A. Leavitt & Co. also sold August Belmont's, Legrand Lockwood's and F. S. Cozzens's collections of paintings. The firm also conducts private house sales, as it did in the case of Mrs. Mary E. Feyh's collections, at which $12,000 was realized, and in the case of Richard R. Haines's treasures, which sold for $10,000, and other noted sales too numerous to mention."

- 711 BOBAN COLLECTION of Antiquities, Curios and Coins, also Books, Manuscript and Printed [Catalogued by CHARLES SOTHERAN and ED. FROSSARD]. With illustrations by PAUL FRENZENY. Large 8vo, sewed, totally uncut. N. Y., Geo. A. Leavitt & Co., 1886

- 713 BOOK-LORE, 18 parts; also The Antiquary, 2 parts. Together 20 parts. 4to, paper. London, 1884-86

- 714 BOOKMART (The). From May, 1883 [Vol. 1, No. 1], to August, 1886, being Vols. 1, 2 3, complete, and part of Vol. 4. Together 39 parts. Large 8vo, sewed.

Pittsburgh, 1883-86

Edited by Richard Halkett Lord, the stepson of Horace Mayhew.

"That charming litterateur Richard Halkett Lord, whose sparkling Dibdinian verses printed in the 'Bookmart' have evoked so much enthusiasm, will be our new editor. Mr. Lord is eminently qualified for the position. An old-time editor, a book critic, an author and an ardent bibliophile, he is the man for the place. No one living on this continent has a better right than he has to occupy our editorial chair. Mr. Lord has also been an intimate friend of some of the great lights of contemporaneous English literature, including Thackeray and Dickens. With young Charles Dickens he compiled the 'Life of Charles Mathews' and both the 'Dictionaries of the Thames and of London.' Mr. Lord has not only held editorial positions in the British metropolis but also at its antipodes, in New Zealand. With such a record, to say nothing of his laurels as a soldier and lawyer, Mr. Lord will bring to the editorship of this journal a mine of book learning."—The Bookmart.

- 715 [BOSSANGE (Hector).] Ma Bibliothèque Française. Small 8vo, half morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut.

Paris, J. Claye, 1855

VERY SCARCE. Compiled by the head of the firm of "Hector Bossange et Fils," on a similar plan to that of Henry Stevens' "My English Library." This is a presentation copy, with the MS. inscription:—"au Rev. E. H. Chassin, avec les assurances respectueuses de son obeissant serviteur, Hector Bossange. Paris, 30 Mars 1859."

- 716 BOUCHOT (Henri). Le Livre—l'Illustration—la Reliure. Numerous fac-similes of type, printers' marks, illustrations and bindings. Small 8vo, fresh cloth. Paris, Quantin, n. d.

- 717 BOUCHOT. Another copy of the same.

- 718 BOULMIER (Joseph). Études sur le Seizième Siècle—ESTIENNE DOLET, sa Vie, ses Œuvres, son Martyre. Portraits, one on India paper and two duplicates, ordinary impressions. Small 8vo, paper, uncut.

Paris, chez Auguste Aubry, 1857

RARE and limited edition, printed by Herissey—50 on papier vergé, 4 on "papier de couleur," and 446 on "papier velin," of which the above is one of the last-named.

This volume is dedicated to the late Ambroise Firmin Didot, and it tells the tragic story of Estienne Dolet, who was burnt at Paris, in 1546, in consequence of his refusal to retract heretical opinions expressed in a book printed by him.

DIBDINIANA.

738 DIBDIN (THOMAS FROGNALL). BIBLIOTHECA SPENCERIANA. Large 8vo, half russia.

UNIQUE and from the Library of "John Bailey Langhorne," whose heraldic book-plate is inserted on an end paper.

The above is lettered "Vol. II.," and consists of 500 pages of paginated revises, with the manuscript corrections and considerable additions in MS. of the great bibliographer, Thomas Frognall Dibdin. It shows how a careful describer of rare books went over and over his proofs again and again, allowing no errors to creep into his text if possible.

These revised page proofs are a lesson to bibliographers and printers. They show what patience and perseverance are necessary, both on the part of a compiler, who does his allotted task with as scrupulous care as he can, and of the typographer, who takes a genuine interest in the labor, which to him should be both profit and honor.

But then Dibdin was not superficial. He was a bibliographer, "whose like we ne'er shall look upon again," and whose printers, like Bulmer and Savage, were ripe scholars of the character of Caxton and the Aldi, who loved their profession for the sake of knowledge, which is power.

S. Austin Allibone observes:—"Now, of all Englishmen who have ever lived, there never was a man better suited to make a dry study attractive, and a learned subject plain, than Dr. Dibdin of Roxburghe memory. This magician could, with his pen, dress up a begrimed, uncouth-looking volume, in more attractive style than could Grolier's binder with his most cunning tools. He could convert 'Belindas' and 'Almasas' into Bibliomaniacs, and make a dry catalogue of old English poetry more attractive than the last novel. It was but necessary for him to apply the epithets 'excessively rare,' or 'exceedingly curious,' and the neglected Caxton in your garret would buy you a year's clothing for your household, and the old family Bible would defray your Christmas festivities."

Dibdin's symptoms of the Book Disease are, (1) a passion for large paper, (2) uncut, (3) illustrated, (4) unique, (5) vellum copies, (6) first editions, (7) true editions, and (8) Black Letter, (9) private distribution, or at a private press, (10) all the editions, or (11) connected with a particular author or subject. His probable means of cure are, (1) directing our studies to useful works; (2) reprinting scarce, and intrinsically valuable, productions; (3) editing our best ancient authors, in prose or poetry, (4) erecting public institutions, and (5) studying bibliography.

739 DIBDIN. ÆDES ALTHORPIANÆ; or, An Account of the Mansion, Books and Pictures at Althorp, the Residence of GEORGE JOHN, EARL SPENCER, K.G., to which is added a SUPPLEMENT to the Bibliotheca Spenceriana. With 32 beautiful engravings of the most important pictures in the gallery, and charming woodcuts on INDIA PAPER. 2 vols. large 8vo, half russia gilt, marbled sides and edges.

London, Shakespeare Press, 1822

A VERY FINE and UNUSUALLY TALL COPY of this magnificent work. See the author's "Reminiscences," II., 557-94, for the interesting account of the publication of this work, where it appears that the cost of engraving the portraits was upwards of £2,000.

"This work is intended as a Supplement to the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, forming Vols. 5 and 6. It contains an account of the ancestors of Earl Spencer, a history of the mansion, with an account of the pictures, and 32 engravings of the most important in the gallery, a systematic catalogue of editions of the Scriptures, an account of the Aldine editions, not contained in the former volumes. A supplement to the works printed in the fifteenth century."—LOWNDES.

- 740 DIBDIN. BIBLIOMANIA, or Book-Madness; a Bibliographical Romance. NEW EDITION, edited by WALMSLEY, with a Supplement, and Key to the assumed characters in the Drama. Steel front. and wood engravings. Large 8vo, half roan, totally uncut (rubbed and slightly foxed).

London, 1842

BEST EDITION, LARGE PAPER, and very scarce in this state. The word "Book-Madness" is printed in red, and it also contains a brilliant impression of the inserted portrait of "Mary, Queen of Scots," at page 254, which is lacking in most copies. To this improved edition is added Preliminary Observations, a Supplement continuing the work, a Key to the Characters, and a reprint of the "Epistle Addressed to Richard Heber" from the First Edition of 1809.

Lowndes thus speaks of the Bibliomania:—"The Bibliomania is written in dialogues or conversations, the characters introduced are well-known book collectors of the author's acquaintance. The great value of the work is in the notes, which abound with anecdotes of Books and Book Collectors, and an account of the rarer articles in their collections, and the prices at which they were sold, extracted from the sale catalogues. This work has in a great degree given a stimulus to the collecting of our early literature, and bibliography in this country, on which subjects it will be always consulted as an authority.—The characters personified are Aurelius, G. Chalmers, Esq.; Atticus, Richard Heber, Esq.; Alfonso, Mr. Morell; Bernardo, J. Haslewood, Esq.; Gonzalo, J. Dent, Esq.; Hortensius, W. Bolland, Esq.; Leontes, J. Bindley, Esq.; Lepidus, Dr. Gosset; Lysander and Rosicrusius, the Author; Lorenzo, Sir M. M. Sykes, Bart.; Lavinia's husband, J. Harrison, Esq.; Lisardo, R. Heathcote, Esq.; Marcellus, Edmond Malone, Esq.; Mustapha, Mr. W. Gardiner; Menander, Tom Warton; Malvolio, ———; Menelaus, Rev. H. Drury; Mercurii, Foss, Triphook and Griffiths; Nicas, G. Shepherd, Esq.; Narcotus, Rev. J. Jones; Orlando, M. Wodhull, Esq.; Prospero, F. Douce, Esq.; Philemon, J. Barwise, Esq.; Phormio, Rev. H. Vernon; Quisquilius, G. Baker, Esq.; Rinaldo, Mr. Edwards; Sir Tristram, Sir Walter Scott, Bart.; Sycorax, Joseph Ritson; Ulpian, E. V. Utterson, Esq. Some copies have the words 'Book-Madness' in the title-page printed in red. It was published at £1 7s., and has brought £8 8s."

- 741 DIBDIN. BIBLIOMANIA, or Book-Madness, a Bibliographical Romance. NEW EDITION, with a Supplement, and Key to the assumed characters in the Drama. Steel front., engravings and rubrications. Thick 4to, half green morocco, cloth sides, top edge gilt, others uncut, Roxburgh style.

London, 1876

LARGE PAPER. "You have contrived to strew flowers over a path which, in other hands, would have proved a very dull one; and all Bibliomanes must remember you long, as he who first united their antiquarian details with good-humored raillery and cheerfulness."—SIR WALTER SCOTT to DR. DIBDIN.

- 742 DIBDIN. THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL DECAMERON; or, Ten Days' Pleasant Discourse upon Illuminated Manuscripts and Subjects connected with Early Engraving, Typography and Bibliography. With numerous plates, fac- similes, and steel vignettes, many on INDIA PAPER. 3 vols. large 8vo, boards, top edges gilt (imperfect, 18 leaves and several plates lacking).

London, printed for the author by W. Bulmer & Co., Shakespeare Press, 1817

The "beautiful specimen" of printing in gold, "glittering like the sun," missing in many copies, will be found in its place on page 417, Vol. II.

"The dialogue (of the Bibliographical Decameron) is cleverly sustained, and the occasional Socratic form affords opportunity for numerous sallies of wit, while the information conveyed is of more value than that contained in any other of the doctor's works which affect greater sincerity."

The late Mr. Freeling, a distinguished book collector, enthusiastically remarked—"If the gods could read, they would never be without a copy of the Decameron in their side pocket!"

- 743 DORMAN (Rushton M., of Chicago, Illinois). Catalogue of the Library Manuscripts and Prints of, [compiled by CHARLES SOTHERAN]. Large 8vo, sewed, uncut.

N. Y., George A. Leavitt & Co., 1886

THICK PAPER, limited edition of twenty copies. 353 pages, 1,810 numbers, and produced over $24,000, an average of over $13 a lot; one, the famous "Sforza Missal," selling for $1,500.

- 744 EDWARDS (Edward). Lives of the Founders of the British Museum; with Notices of its Chief Augmentors and other Benefactors, 1570-1870. Front., vignette on title and colored blans. Thick 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, 1870

This valuable work is in a large measure based upon documents previously unused and upon personal examination of the collections in the British Museum gotten together by Cotton, Arundel, Harley, Compton, Sloane, Hamilton, Charles Towneley, Payne Knight, Lansdowne, Bridgewater, George III., Banks, Cracherode, Grenville, Fellows, Layard, Cureton, etc.

FIRMIN-DIDOT'S NOTEWORTHY CATALOGUE.

- 750 FIRMIN-DIDOT (AMBROISE). CATALOGUE Illustré des Livres Précieux, Manuscrits et Imprimés. Profusely illustrated with photogravure plates, some chromolithographic. 12 vols. large 4to, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1878-84

LIMITED EDITION of 500 numbered copies.

This set of this wonderful auction library catalogue of thousands of pages consists of the divisions:—June, 1878; May, 1879; June, 1881; June, 1882; June, 1883, and June, 1884. All are accompanied with separate printed price lists.

The illustrations to the above are mostly from the manuscripts of M. Firmin-Didot, who had the finest collection in Europe, many far excelling in quality those in the most important National Libraries. Some of the plates are in gold and colors.

This "Catalogue," on account of its perfect compilation by a bibliographer who knew his business and was no Barnumistic charlatan, now ranks as a kind of supplement, so to speak, of Silvestre. Let rival cataloguers who egoistically plume themselves on knowing it all and having nothing to learn study this bibliography of the Firmin-Didot collection and ponder. And let those, never mind who they be, that ignorantly criticise, find fault and perennially object, to catalogue descriptions, whether short or long, look over the pages and see how they do these things in France. If they be honest and not captious, or fractious, or mischievous, they will then forever hold their peace and in future—"NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS AGAINST THEIR NEIGHBOR."

- 751 FONTAINE (Auguste). Catalogue de Livres Anciens et Modernes, Rares et Curieux. 6 vols. in 5. Thick large 8vo. Bound by AD. BERTRAND in half-crushed red levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut. Paris, 1870-79

This set includes Fontaine's splendid bibliographies for the years:—1870-72, '74, '75, '77, '78-79. The last volume, which has a rubricated title surrounded with cut of armorial stamps on bindings, has a preface by Paul Lacroix—"M. P.-L. Jacob, bibliophile."

- 752 FONTAINE DE RESBECQ (A. de). Voyages Littéraires sur les Quais de Paris, Lettres à un Bibliophile de Province. Small 8vo, half morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut. Paris, Durand, 1857

RARE, with the autograph of "A. J. Odell" on the title.

- 753 FORTSAS.—Catalogue d'une très-riche mais peu nombreuse Collection de Livres provenant de la Bibliothèque de feu M. le COMTE J. N. A. DE FORTSAS, dont la vente se fera à Binche, le 10 août 1840 à onze heures du matin, en l'étude & par le ministère de McMOURLON, notaire, rue d'Eglise, 9, 4me Edition; also—Documents et Particularités Historiques sur le Catalogue du COMTE DE FORTSAS, numerous cuts and fac-similes. 2 vols. in 1. Large 8vo, bound in three-quarters crushed orange levant morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut. [Brussels], 1863

VERY SCARCE. This is a fac-simile reprint of the famous sale-catalogue of Count de Fortsas, facile princeps among modern bibliographical hoaxers. It contains a detailed description of his books, each of them, to say the least, worth its weight in gold. This wonderful collection was announced to be sold on a certain day in 1840 by auction. An extraordinary excitement was created among book-collectors, who from far and near flocked together at Binche, a small town in Belgium, where the sale was to take place. The day before the sale, however, the newspapers of Brussels contained a notice that the little town had bought the entire collection for its public library. This is not the place for narrating all the serio-comic incidents of this rude practical joke; suffice it to say that the whole affair from first to last was a downright canard. The Count de Fortsas and his book treasures were found to be a myth. As to the catalogue, it had unquestionably been prepared with all savoir-faire of an expert in bibliography; the titles of the books with the appended notes seem so attractive and authentic that one almost regrets that this unique collection was only "airy nothing," without a "local habitation" beyond this catalogue, which will always occupy a foremost, though unenviable, place in the annals of bibliographical hoaxing.

The author of this most witty and successful bibliographical joke was M. Renier Hubert Ghislain Chalon, of Mons.

The fac-simile of the catalogue is printed on orange-colored paper—the "Documents" on lemon paper. The last named is an indispensable supplement to the Fortsas Catalogue. It is so arranged that in the Notes, Remarks Adjuncts, etc., the whole of the "original catalogue" is reproduced despite the legal injunction against its reproduction. It contains also the orders and correspondence of various bibliophiles relating to the sale; articles from various literary journals, and a fac-simile of a letter from the bogus Count de Fortsas.

TOGETHER 3 vols. Thick large 4to, fresh half brown crushed levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut, by BRADSTREETS. N. Y., 1880-85

"The American Catalogue is the monument of Frederick Leyoldt. For many years it was his chief purpose in life to lay the foundation of an American bibliographical system on which there might be built a structure worthy of the future of literature in this country. With what enthusiasm, at what cost he pursued that purpose, so far as it was given to him to do, only those nearest to him can ever know. When he died, at the close of a life which was short measured in years but long measured by the work which was crowded into it, he had accomplished indeed only the foundation, and the fulfillments of his plans rest with others.

"It is the bibliographer who of all men has most occasion to realize the imperfection of human endeavor. Completeness in bibliography is an ignis fatuus that eludes even the closest pursuit and the most painstaking accuracy."

—R. R. BOWKER.

Paris, 1802-4

VERY SCARCE. With the rare supplements to this most important bibliographical authority.

The works of Peignot are of the greatest value to bibliographers and students of the history of printing. He was a writer of great industry and of wide knowledge.

"Etienne Gabriel Peignot, the great bibliographer, whose amiable erudition has been testified to by so many of his contemporaries, was born at Arc-en-Barrois, 15th May, 1767. Originally a bookseller at Besançon, he was appointed librarian of the Ecole Centrale of La Haute Saône, which had been established in Vesoul, and threw heart and soul into his new duties. Abbeys and convents for miles around Vesoul had been suppressed and pillaged. Their intellectual treasures had been huddled together by ignorant hands, and were exposed to all perils—by fire, by flood and by base uses. Peignot never rested as long as he saw one of them still to be secured for his library. He was made principal of Vesoul College, where he remained many years, and which he quitted when promoted to be master of Lyons College and District Inspector of Classes. He discharged these duties with zeal, but it was always with delight that he returned to books, though he did not desert society for his favorites; he bore his share in company and trained up a family. No man has done more than he to foster in France a love for bibliography. He left behind him no less than fifty or more unpublished works in manuscript, among them a 'Myriobiblion Français,' which in 1830 numbered twelve or fifteen volumes, and increased daily. These contained above 3,000 references to, or critical notices of select works, memoirs, dissertations and treatises on every kind of subject published, either separately or in great literary and academical collections, each summary having a reference to the page and volume of the work in which the original was to be found. Some Paris publishers bought the manuscripts left by Peignot and announced their publication, but they still remain in manuscript. It has often been wondered how he was able to do so much work. His secret was that from the hour he began to read, he began to write; his left hand never held a book that right hand had not a pen. Every leisure moment he gave to book and pen; he noted everything he read or heard in commonplace books under proper heads—authors, titles, subjects, words, thoughts, references to kindred subjects. He lived to be eighty-three years old. He died at Dijon, April 14th, 1849. His letters have been very recently published by his grandson, M. Emile Peignot. The volume includes his correspondence from 1813 to 1845."—BIGMORE AND WYMAN, Vol. II., page 151.

- 806 PEIGNOT. Manual du Bibliophile, ou Traité du Choix des Livres, contenant des Développemens sur les plus propres à former une Collection précieuse, et particulièrement sur les chefs-d'œuvre de la Littérature Sacrée, Grecque, Latine, Française, Étrangère; avec les Jugemens qu'en ont portés les plus célèbres Critiques, etc. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf gilt, totally uncut. Dijon, 1823

UNIQUE and very scarce. Fine clean copy, with inserted three-page original autograph letter signed "Gabriel Peignot," and dated "Dijon ce 31 Octobre 1828." It is written—"A mes chers et très chers Lyonnais," entirely in the handwriting of this celebrated bibliognoste. He speaks of a charming dinner he had been given and that he read in Lyons for his "spiritual nourishment" a novel of Walter Scott. He names many bibliophiles and gives a list of three lots of books he had sent as presents—nine for the rector, six for M. Chouve, and five for M. Rabanis. The first volume named is—"La Passion de J. C. par Olivier Maillard gr. in 8o."

Dijon, 1832

VERY SCARCE. Limited edition of 250 copies, with frontispiece of the "Famille Jacmart" on the tower of the church of Notre Dame de Dijon. From the library of and with book-plate of Doct. D. Bernard.

Peignot wrote the above under the pseudonym of "P. Périgal," an anagram of "Gabriel P."

817 PEIGNOT. Recherches Historiques et Littéraires sur les Danses des Morts et sur l'origine des Cartes à Jouer. Illustrated with lithographic plates and vignettes. 8vo, half sheep, totally uncut. Dijon, 1826

VERY RARE. This is an exhaustive account of all that was known at the time when Peignot wrote this work of the celebrated series of subjects called "the Dance of Death," which were so frequently reproduced by the early wood engravers. It also gives a full account of the origin of playing cards. This volume ought to have gone into the division of "Facetiæ," but it is put along with others among bibliographical authorities so as to keep all of Mr. Pene du Bois's examples of Peignot together.

- 817* PEIGNOT. Elémens de Morale. Minimo, sewed, uncut.
Dijon, 1858

VERY SCARCE, and to which is added—"Opusculs Moraux de Franklin: le Bonhomme Richard et le Sifflet."

Paris, 1838

VERY RARE, LARGE PAPER and one of 80 copies on Holland paper and with the ex-libris engraved on the title. This copy came from the library of "Henri Lambert, avocat, Versailles," and has his book-plate on an end paper. The catalogue is priced in ink throughout. There is also added a printed price list showing the entire collection, one of the rarest in Europe, sold for over 74,956 francs.

MAX ROOSES'S SPLENDID WORK ON CHRISTOPHER PLANTIN.

- 829 PLANTIN.—CHRISTOPHE PLANTIN IMPRIMEUR ANVERSOIS par MAX ROOSES, Conservateur du MUSÉE PLANTIN-MORETUS. 100 plates, portraits, views and fac-similes—also head and tail pieces, etc. Square folio, folded and loose in sheets ready for binding.

Anvers, Jos. Maes, 1882

Imported price—fifty dollars. This grand volume of 450 pages on Christopher Plantin gives a picture of that printer's astonishing activity. After an account of his life, his relations with the scholars of his time, and his struggles during the great events of the sixteenth century, for which the author has found much new material in the archives of the printing house, M. Rooses deals with his professional career, which is illustrated with numerous reproductions of the title-pages, vignettes, etc., designed and engraved by contemporary artists who were employed on the various works of Plantin.

- 830 POTIER (L., Libraire de la Bibliothèque Impériale). Catalogue des Livres Rares et Précieux Manuscrits et Imprimés faisant partie de la Librairie de. Thick large 8vo, sewed, uncut (a few pp. torn without hurting the text, and can be easily mended). Paris, 1870

Potier was one of the great book-experts of France. The above was but a part of his collection. There are 27 pages of prefatory matter. The catalogue itself makes 452 pages. This copy is priced throughout in ink, and shows that this part alone brought 149,439 francs, but then that was in Paris, you know, where there are amateurs who are true bibliognostes, and would not insult a library or an auctioneer with two-for-a-cent bids. They do these things better in France, you know.

QUERARD'S WORKS ON IMPORTANT LITERATURE.

- 831 QUERARD (J. M.). La France Littéraire, ou Dictionnaire Bibliographique des Savants, Historiens et Gens de Lettres de la France, ainsi que des Littérateurs Etrangers qui ont Ecrit en Français, plus Particulièrement pendant les XVIIIe et XIXe Siècles. 10 vols. 8vo, fresh half red morocco gilt, top edges gilt.

Paris, chez Firmin Didot père et fils, 1827-39

VERY SCARCE. A work of great bibliographical importance, being supplementary to Brunet and containing information as to editions to be found nowhere else. Querard, in these volumes, describes:—1, Reprints of French works in all ages; 2, Translations into French of all foreign authors ancient and modern; and 3, reprints made in France of the original works of these authors. This bibliography, therefore, covers a ground unattempted by Brunet, Lowndes, or any of the authorities of any nation.

- 832 QUERARD. Les Supercheries Littéraires Dévoilées Galerie des Ecrivains Français de toute l'Europe qui se sont déguisés sous des Anagrammes, des Astéronymes, des Criptonymes, des Initialismes, des Noms Littéraires, des Pseudonymes Facétieux ou Bizarres, etc., suivie 1° du Dictionnaire des Ouvrages Anonymes par ANT. ALEX. BARBIER, Troisième Edition, Révue et Augmentée par M. OLIVIER BARBIER, Conservateur sous Directeur adjoint à la Bibliothèque Impériale—2° d'une Table Générale des Noms Réels des Ecrivains Anonymes et Pseudonymes cités dans les Deux Ouvrages. 3 vols. thick large 8vo, fresh three-quarters dark green crushed levant morocco, top edges gilt. Paris, Paul Daffis, 1869

VERY SCARCE. A fine, tall, clean and handsome copy of the second edition of Querard's important work, and considerably enlarged by Gustave Brunet and Pierre Jannet

This grand book is a work on pseudonyms, anagrams, asteronyms, cryptonyms, initialisms, literary names, etc., etc., and not a slipshod makeshift of a book gotten up for mere profit. It was the labor of love of Brunet, Querard, Barbier and Jannet who made up a bibliographical quadrilateral of unequalled authority.

The above also includes the etching by Du Maurier of "Frederick Locker" and Andrew Lang's poem of "The Rowfant Books":—

"The Rowfant books, how fair they shew,
 The Quarto quaint, the Aldine tall
 Print, autograph, portfolio!
 Back from the outer air they call,
 The athletes from the Tennis ball
 This Rhymer from his rod and hooks,
 Would I could sing them one and all,
 The Rowfant books!"

- 851 TIMPERLEY (C. H.) Encyclopædia of Literary and Typographical Anecdote, being a Chronological Digest of the most Interesting Facts Illustrative of the History of Literature and Printing from the Earliest Period. SECOND EDITION, with a Continuation to the Present Time, and a PRACTICAL MANUAL OF PRINTING. Cuts, loose illustrations, etc. Thick large 8vo, half morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut.

London, 1842

FINE COPY of the "Second edition, to which is added a continuation to the present time, comprising recent biographies, chiefly of booksellers, and a practical manual of printing."—LOWNDES.

Timperley's work is one of the most accurate, laborious and voluminous compilations ever made, and one to be gratefully remembered by all students of the history of English literature and typography. The author was in early life a soldier, had gone through many campaigns, had served at Waterloo, and had well earned his pension of a shilling per diem. He was at one time a bookseller, but had accepted bills to a large amount; and in order to pay the debts contracted he consigned his stock to an auctioneer, who, after disposing of it by auction, ran off with the proceeds. Broken down by misfortune, he accepted literary employment with Fisher and Jackson, the subscription-book publishers, in whose service he died.

The man who knows not the name of "Timperley" is unworthy of the name of book collector. In fact, so great is this old printer's fame that if one bibliographer call upon a friend and send in the name of "Mr. Timperley" it is known in an instant that one of the guild awaits the presence of another. The surname of "Timperley" is the esoteric word among the craft bibliophilistic. This, unlike the pass-words, grips, signs, etc., of the Mystic Tie, or of the Sheikhs of the Kaaba, is an open secret. Bookworms! Verbum sap.

852 TROUBAT (Jules). Plume et Pinceau, Etudes de Littérature et d'Art. Rubricated title. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, 1878

Includes studies on—Rabelais, Voltaire, "l'Assommoir," Hugo, Gautier, Courbet, Cabanel, etc., etc.

853 UZANNE (Octave, editor of "Le Livre"). Caprices d'un Bibliophile. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, Rouveyre, 1878

LIMITED EDITION. Although published nine years ago, this little volume is quite rare. It contains most interesting articles on book collectors, book sales and book rarities; also on Restif de la Bretonne, Balzac, "le Cabinet d'un Eroto-Bibliomane," etc.

854 UZANNE. Nos Amis les Livres Causeries sur la Littérature Curieuse et la Libraire. Etched front. by H. MANESSE and loose inserted view of Chantilly. Small 8vo, paper, gilt.

Paris, Maison Quantin, 1886

855 VALLEE (Leon). BIBLIOGRAPHIE DES BIBLIOGRAPHIES. Thick large 8vo, fresh half crushed red levant morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut, by ROUSSELLE. Paris, 1883

The most complete catalogue of catalogues yet made. It is invaluable to librarians, and treats as extensively of English and American Bibliography as that of Continental Europe.

856 VAPEREAU (G.). Dictionnaire Universel des Littérateurs. Very thick large 8vo, half red morocco, cloth sides.

Paris, Hachette, 1876

A most useful work for bibliographers and students of literature. It gives a list of the writers of all ages, is full of articles on curious literary subjects, and is more or less of a bibliography.

857 VIOLET LE DUC. Catalogue des Livres composant la Bibliothèque de M. VIOLET LE DUC, avec des Notes Bibliographiques, Biographiques et Littéraires, avec Supplement. 2 vols. in 1. 8vo, half calf, gilt.

Paris, 1843-47

Edouard Fournier's copy, and with his signature on the title. The first volume is—"pour servir à l'histoire de la poésie en France"; the second is of—"Chansons, Fabliaux, Contes en Vers et en Prose, Facéties, Pièces Comiques et Burlesques, Dissertations Singulières, Aventures Galantes, Amoureuses, Prodigeuses."

- 858 WEISSE (John A., M.D., President American Philological Society). Origin, Progress and Destiny of the English Language and Literature. 8vo, cloth, 700 pp.

N. Y., J. W. Bouton, 1879

The object of this work, to which the author has devoted his time and labors for thirty years, is: 1. To lay before the English-speaking populations, in both hemispheres, the real origin and progress of their language. 2. To make the coming generation realize the superiority of their idiom over others, as to the refinement and vigor of its vocabulary, clearness of diction, simplicity in grammar, and directness in construction. 3. To show the inconsistency of so-called English orthography. 4. To suggest a method to write and print English as it is pronounced, and remove the few remaining irregularities from its grammar. 5. Last, To stimulate the English-speaking millions all over the globe, so to simplify the uttering, writing, and printing of their language as to make it a desideratum for universal adoption.

"The author has analyzed the philosophy of language by a new method, so thorough that the deepest scholar can not cut a flaw in it; so clear that a school boy of fifteen can comprehend it."—Philadelphia Press.

THE PENE DU BOIS COLLECTION OF BOOK-PLATES AND PRINTERS' MARKS.

864 BOOK-PLATES, EARLY TYPOGRAPHICAL DEVICES, LATER PRINTERS' MARKS, ETC. A collection of 614 examples, many very early, and dating from the beginning of the sixteenth century. The whole in one volume, thick large 4to, half russias, cloth sides, guards, red edges.

UNIQUE, and a most remarkable, if not one of the finest, "ex-libris" collections in this country. There are, all told, 466 book-plates, mostly heraldic and of noble and distinguished personages or families. Some date from the seventeenth century, and are of extreme rarity. There are also nearly 150 printers' marks, the larger number being title pages from sixteenth century works, which have been thus ruthlessly destroyed.

Mr. Pene du Bois writes as follows respecting the collecting of book-plates :

"If humanity has a failing, it is to express possession. One puts his monogram on his linen, his time-piece, the door of his brougham; if the owner be great, the value of these objects is enhanced, if not, it is diminished. If the mark of ownership was the work of an artist, the object marked is precious for that reason alone, and if it is to be discarded as unworthy of the mark, the mark itself should be preserved. Then, the man who collects book-plates is not a maniac. Every artist from Durer to Edwin A. Abbey has made some drawing for a friend, that he has forgotten and that does not appear in the catalogue of his work. It is true especially of book-plates, and men who have meditated on Mahomet's maxim that 'every hair has a shadow' have snatched from the Lethe the insignificant fleuron, initial or book-plate.

"They have done well, for the world likes to see an artist off his guard, and the collector of book-plates has the familiar work of an artist. Now, in this collection is the familiar History of Engraving from the earliest woodblock to the zinc-plate. In it, a History of Manners from the grave epopee to the money counter; in it, a History of Taste in every country. Desbarolles, who made a science of the art of divining a man's character from his handwriting would have liked to be enabled to tell it from his book-plate. Is he witty, grave, a student or a mere dilettante? His book-plate tells it; and a collection of book-plates tells an infinity of other secrets to the devout, that do not go to the profane. And the profane who looks wonderingly at monuments, at churches that are theology in stone, at books that are to be studied in the light that comes through stained glass, in ogival windows, with an artist's fervor, like symbols for the symbols themselves. Wherefore the world's philosophy is probably in a collection of book-plates.—H. P. B."

This "Pene du Bois Collection of Book-Plates" is particularly rich in specimens of "ex-libris" used by the old noblesse of France as well as by the men of the great French Revolution. As an indication of the wealth of the collection, examples of the following may be specified as being included:—Napoleon I. and III.; "Monsieur le Comte d'Artois"; Cardinal Prince de Rohan; Berryer; J. D. Cochin; the Benedictine Monastery of Rayhrad at Breslau, founded MXLVIII.; M. Haet; Joannes Petrus Buzot; E. A. Fischer; "B. de Fouchères-Dufour, procureur du Roi à Douay"; M. Von der Mulhen; Agustin Quenson; Joseph Garamph; I. B. Gastaldy, 1752; Jean Weibel; George Fairholme of Greenhill, 1779; I. H. de Chaillat; "J. A. Louis; Haller; C. de Chaussepierre; Elize Gulston; R. Chardey; "Charles de Baschi, Marquis D'Aubais"; Joseph Kaupi; De Blanriez; G. M. Deplace; "La Bibliothèque des Grands Pensionnaires"; G. C. Wilder; J. Giralidi; Delahaye des Fosses; Henry Thomas Buckle; Murat; "Louis E. de Lavergne Comte de Tressan"; Armand Bertin; "Sir Ernest Gordon, Bart."; Le Comte de Fortia; Comte Joseph de Lagondie; A. Koepfner; Sternberg; Longueval de Bouquoy; N. F. Von Mulinen; "Bibliothèque de la Belle Fontaine"; J. P. Le Dru; Bourneville; M. Lebrun; A. Felibien; "Le Prince de la Moskowa"; Comte F. de Lagrange; "The Right Hon. Charlotte Viscountess Howe"; R. W. St. John; "Monasterii Besuensis"; Victor Duc de Saint Simon Vermandois; F. de Brossard; N. F. B. Le Sage; F. Mouchard, 1732; Viscount de la Maillardiere; L. de Lionne; J. B. Durey de Noinville; Comte du Parc; E. Mey; T. Wood; J. Chartarius, 1742; Victoris Gay; B. H. De Fourcy; Calandrini; A. de Lavergne; "Le Chevalier N. Du Nouy"; Elizabet Dundas; F. Thormann; J. L. Beraud; M. Loyevis; H. de Silva; G. de Fontaine; etc., etc.

Many of these book-plates were engraved or designed by well-known artists. Among the names will be found:—D. Villiers; J. Martinet; Veyrier; Daudet; A. Sergem; François Montulay, 1754; G. Huot; Hughes; Laurent; C. N. Cochin; François; Roy; J. B. Scotin; Bouchy; Pollett; M. Thevenard; P. Giffart; A. Zingg Beaumont; Choffard; etc.

The printers' devices embrace some admirable specimens such as:—Plantin, Badius, Petit, Oporini, Kerver, Girault, Foucher, Birchman, Morel, Giunta, Frelon, Chesneau, Sonnius, Gryphius, Marnef, Landry, Wechel, Millot, Richer, Cramoisy, Moreau, Thierry, etc., etc.

This volume will make a splendid nucleus for some more ambitious collector than Mr. Pene du Bois, and now that there is an "ex-libris" literature, the value of book-plates has increased wonderfully within a few years.

865 BOOK PLATES.—WARREN (J. Leicester, M. A.). A Guide to the Study of Book-Plates (ex-Libris). Numerous plates. 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, 1880

"When a volume in your catalogue contains an interesting or an early-dated book-plate, it is well worth one more line of type to notify the fact. Even the large book auctioneers might find this hint deserving of their serious attention."

—PREFACE.

"Books of which the principles are diseased or deformed MUST be kept on the shelf of the scholar, as the man of science preserves monsters in glasses. THEY BELONG TO THE STUDY OF THE MIND'S MORBID ANATOMY. But they ought to be accurately labelled. Voltaire will still be a wit, notwithstanding he is a scoffer. We may admire the brilliant spots and eyes of the viper, if we acknowledge its venom and call it a reptile."—R. A. WILLMOTT.

Handsomely bound by W. PRATT in Spanish calf gilt, edges gilt on red.

Leipzig and Amsterdam, Peter Schenck, 1752

RARE ORIGINAL EDITION, with BRILLIANT IMPRESSIONS of the illustrations, and one of the most sought after editions of "Reynard the Fox," on account, as Brunet states, of the 57 engravings of Alb. von Ewerdingen, and some by Fokke, illustrations which, while most exact from the standpoint of natural history, truthfully tell the subject of the various fables.

The original designs of this work were sold at the White Knight's sale in 1819, and were purchased by Mr. Hibbert for nearly £90 sterling, i. e., $450.

Alkmaer lived at the end of the fifteenth century. Rollagen asserts that "Henry Alkmaer" was only a pseudonym of Nicholas Baumann, who revenged himself on the Duke de Juliers by writing the above as a satire on the manners of his time. It is certain that the "bas-allemand" edition of "Reinecke Voss" of Alkmaer was a translation of ancient Flemish versions, probably derived from the original French. Alkmaer, in his preface to the 1498 edition, says that he had—"traduit le present livre du Welche et du Français."

VERY EROTIC and LIMITED EDITION of 100 copies, for "Isidore Liseux et ses amis." The portrait is by Titian, and engraved by E. Burney after Marc Antonio's celebrated print, a copy of which sold for £1,000, i. e., $5,000. This edition is arranged in six volumes, as follows—I. La Vie des Religieuses; II. La Vie des Femmes Mariées; III. La Vie des Courtisanes; IV. L'Education de la Pippa; V. Les Roueries des Hommes; VI. La Ruffianerie. This set is No. 4 of the "Musée Secret du Bibliophile."

"He [Aretino] began to write prose and verse satires, indelicate dialogues, heroic cantos, sonnets, comedies, besides an immense quantity of letters, which he addressed to all the princes, great men and ladies of his time, sometimes flattering them or praising himself, and at others even threatening them with the lash of his satire; and from them all he received presents, which enabled him to lead a dissolute life. He had the impudence to style himself 'Il Divino Aretino,' and boasted that he was the scourge of princes. . . . He died suddenly in Venice, in 1557, by overturning his chair in an immoderate fit of laughter at hearing an indecent story of his two sisters, who led a life as infamous as his own."—ROSE.

ALMOST UNIQUE and ORIGINAL EDITION of the "Livre des Monnoyes Etrangères," a work of 250 pages which was left in the above state, and was published later in another form, with considerable additions, under the title of "Comptes Faits."

Only one other copy is known, and that in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris. A parallel can be drawn between this unique volume and that of the extremely rare "Le Pâtissier" of the Elzevirs.

But little is known of François Barreme, who flourished at the end of the seventeenth century. He was an accountant and a poet. In the "Magasin Pittoresque" of 1852—a copy of which accompanies the volume—is given a four-page interesting account of Barreme, with illustrations from the above extremely rare but almost forgotten work. Yet the phrases, "He is a true Barreme," and "He counts like Barreme," are proverbial expressions in France to this day.

François Barreme was born at Lyons about 1640. There is no knowledge of his first mathematical studies, but it is known that he traveled before coming to Paris. We learn from his own statement that after having been to Rome and nearly over the entire Mediterranean, he found himself in Maltese waters. There he was attacked by a corsair coming from Toulon and commanded by a certain Captain Jacques. Notwithstanding the fact that his vessel was entirely manned by Frenchmen, Captain Jacques deemed it necessary to treat the ship as if she had come from the coast of Barbary. All was given up to pillage. Barreme, who would not submit tamely to an outrage which would either ruin him or destroy his credit, resisted the enemy and received a terrific sword cut, the scar of which he bore for ever after. He would inevitably have lost his life in attempting to save a precious valise containing letters of credit on Leghorn if a gentleman named Beaumartin had not arrested a second stroke of the deadly sabre. This event happened on St. Martin's Day, but the exact calculator has not fixed the date of his unhappy encounter with Captain Jacques so well as to enable us to make anything but conjectures concerning the precise period he visited the commercial cities of Italy and probably various other seaports of Europe.

In 1668 we find Sieur Barreme married, settled in Paris, and living at the extremity of the Rue Dauphine, near the Pont-Neuf. He made his calculations, revised those of merchants, kept books according to a system of double entry, and wrote verses in his leisure moments. It must be known that Barreme's great passion was poetry, and above all the composing of acrostics. He made them for King Louis Quatorze, for Colbert, and even for De La Reynie. They were most assuredly the verses of a good calculator, for it was by the aid of his "Stances Chretiennes" that he obtained a profitable privilege for his "Comptes Faits." He narrates the circumstances of this memorable event, and at the same time allows us to see in what naïve estimation the mathematician held the poet and the stanzas addressed to the King. This occurred in the year 1668:—

"On Friday, the 27th of January, six days before the King left for the 'Franche Comte,' His Majesty, being at Paris in the Louvre, I knelt before him and presented to him, on vellum, my 'Stances Chretiennes et Royales,' supplicating him very humbly to accord me the privilege for them and the books of the 'Comptes Faits' for public sale. He took the book, and after having read four lines, gave it to Monsignor the Duke de Saint Aignan, saying these words:—'I accord it, provided that is good.' The next day I gave myself the honor of going to salute Monsignor the Duke de Saint-Aignan in his apartment in the old Louvre, and having asked him if he had had patience to read the stanzas I had presented to His Majesty on the preceding day, he answered me that it was easy to have patience to read beautiful and good things."

The works of Barreme, so poorly and coarsely printed in these times, were first published in an elegant and correct style and always with a certain amount of costliness. The one from which we have taken the curious engraving reproduced herewith was very expensive in production at the date of its origin. Bearing in mind the minute care then given to certain details, it can be supposed that this engraved title represents a portrait of the author of the "Comptes Faits," and this gives it iconographic value. Without doubt the personage who holds the letter of exchange is his son N. Barreme, or perhaps his son-in-law.

We have already spoken of the strange passion of Barreme for poetry. In fact he did not content himself with composing the "Stances Chretiennes et Royales" which obtained his privilege for him, he also addressed his effusions to all the high functionaries of the Court, as well as to all whose names were noted in finance. The "Vessel of State," for instance, which figures at the end of each of his sections of the "Grand Banquier de France," and which is also intended to recall the arms of France, gives place to two most burlesque quatrains in honor of De La Reynie who had been the companion of the celebrated Regnard in Lapland, and afterwards became one of the ministers highest in favor with Louis XIV.

The fortress surrounded by symbolical bastions, which is also inserted in the book, depicts the capital of France. Barreme's work, according to the "Magasin Pittoresque," appeared in February, 1687, yet the author was obliged to leave it incomplete. He died in Paris, 1703, without being able to finish "Le Grand Banquier de France," of which the above copy is almost unique, one other only being known, as stated above, and which is in the Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris.

VERY RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION AND PRINTED BY FIRMIN DIDOT.

The fac-simile illustration of the reliure on this number is the same as that given in the "American Book Maker" of February, 1887, as one of the best examples of Thouvenin's binding in this country. Mr. Ingersoll Lockwood, in his essay on "Bookbinding as an Art and an Industry," says:—

"These latter-day Romans [the Republicans of the First French Revolution] cried out for Spartan simplicity. They fell upon the sumptuous bindings and destroyed them as things to be hated. True, they must have books, but henceforth let them be clothed in republican simplicity, sheep or calf. And such were, in fact, the books of the Revolution. In the place of delicate fillet, dentelle, floral or geometrical tooling, popular taste called for and got the Phrygian cap, the fasces of the lictor, sword and torch scales, and even a full-length figure of Liberty herself. With the establishment of the Directory there was a return to emblems of quite another genre—the frivolous and gallant, the meretricious and erotic. At this period it was that the Bradel binding (boards) took its rise in France. This half-binding could never succeed in winning for itself in France that popularity which it was later destined to gain and hold in England and America.

"Turning from this period of utter sterility in the art of book decoration, the First Empire attracts attention through the work of its binder, the elder Bozérian. Like the period in which he was active, his work is gaudy, heavy and lacking in taste; but he marks the dawn after the long night, and anything is preferable to that wretched iconoclasm which hates art because it is bright and beautiful. The younger Bozérian, of the Restoration, even surpassed his brother in the production of profusely gilded covers. He has been called the 'Brummell of Fine Bindings'; but the one fact that will ever secure him a place in the book-lover's calendar is that Thouvenin was his pupil.

"Thouvenin, like the two Bozérians, was not a great artist, but he was original. He was a man enamored of his art, his treatment of which at times was delicate and refined. He was only too willing to turn back to the great masters, but the public loved glitter and display. On this page [of the "American Book Maker," February, 1887] will be found two specimens [i. e., of this "Beranger" and "Poesies de Clotilde," vide supra] of Thouvenin's tooling. They prove conclusively that this beautiful art, which had been sick unto death a quarter of a century before, was now at least convalescent. The tooling of the back of the larger volume especially is refined and tasteful.

"The position of Thouvenin was peculiar, but not infrequent in the world of art. He was really not in sympathy with the art methods which his patrons in particular and the public in general forced him to follow. Thouvenin would gladly have restored the glorious traditions of French book decoration, just as he did the finish and solidity of Derôme's bindings, which had been during the Revolution supplanted by cheap, flimsy work. But there were two repellent forces at work, two counter-currents which were ever ready to bear Thouvenin away from his purpose. The first was the prevailing fashion to imitate English binders, although in reality superior work was done in Paris, and the second was the craze of the romanticists, to whom a stamp in gilt of a cathedral door was more pleasing than a gold tooling by Le Gascon. In his poem on book-binding, published in 1822, Lesné, whose poetry was no better than his binding, has this couplet on the subject of Anglophobia:

'Cet artiste amateur détruisit la folie

De regarder l'anglais avec idolâtrie.'

"The reference was to Bozérien, but it is no truer for that. Lesné also opened fire upon Dibdin, the bibliophile, for his strictures upon Thouvenin's tooling. Dibdin was on the side of the plaque cutters. He accused the elder Bozérien of being too much infatuated with gold tooling, and found fault with Thouvenin for working with irons heated in fiery ovens. No doubt Thouvenin would have been only too glad to depend upon his petits fers; but what can one artist do when the public cry out for the stamp of a Gothic cathedral upon a book? It means for the artist either stamp work or starvation. Thouvenin died in 1834."

Touchatout is one of the most honest French journalists and authors. He believes in the Republic. In the above works, as well as in his writings in the "Charivari," "Figaro" and other journals of the same order, he has ridiculed and made into a veritable burlesque the Monarchists, both Legitimist and Orleanist—and particularly the Imperialists, whose "Man of Sedan," M. Badinguet, has been the principal target for satirical digs from his vitriol-tipped pen.

LIMITED EDITION, on thick Holland paper. "Fanny Lear," who died last year, was a Philadelphian.

"The culmination of her romance was in Russia, in connection with the Grand Duke Nicholas Constantinowich, the nephew of the Czar, whom she met in St. Petersburg. He was a weak-minded youth, and purloined a part of the Crown jewels for her to wear at a ball. He brought the jewels from Russia to Paris, where they were living. He was compelled to desert her, and in revenge, with the aid of some writer, she published a scandalous book entitled 'Le Roman d'une Americaine en Russie.' For this she was expelled from Paris."—New York Times.

- 912 BRAZIER (Nicolas). Chroniques des Petits Théâtres de Paris, Réimprimées avec Notice, Variantes et Notes par GEORGES D'HEYLLI. 2 vols. thick small 8vo, vellum paper, totally uncut.

Paris, Ed. Rouveyre et G. Blond, 1883

LIMITED EDITION on "papier vergé" with new rubricated titles, as well as fac-simile titles of the 1837 edition of this rare work, which is both dramatic and facetious.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF JESSE'S LIFE OF BEAU BRUMMELL.

- 913 BRUMMELL.—THE LIFE OF GEORGE BRUMMELL, Esq., commonly called BEAU BRUMMELL. By CAPTAIN JESSE. Revised and Annotated Edition from the Author's own interleaved copy. With forty portraits in color of BRUMMELL and his contemporaries. 2 vols. thick large 8vo, boards, totally uncut. London, 1886

LARGE PAPER and No. 30. ONLY ONE HUNDRED and FIFTY numbered COPIES of this fine edition printed—ONE HUNDRED for ENGLAND and FIFTY for AMERICA.

This re-issue of Jesse's "Life of Beau Brummell," which has been a scarce book for a long time, contains a quantity of new matter now published for the first time, collected by the author, but which it was not deemed fitting to insert in former editions. Many notes have also been added, as well as forty illustrations, after Dighton and others, of contemporaries of Brummell.

- 914 BRUMMELL. Another copy of the same. 2 vols. thick large 8vo, fresh cloth, top edge gilt, others uncut.

N. Y. (London), 1886

Limited edition of 500 copies, printed from type, for sale in England and America.

- 915 BURTY (Philippe). Maitres et Petits Maitres. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1877

EXTREMELY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION OF THE AMOROUS HISTORY OF THE GAULS.

- 916 [BUSSY RABUTIN (Roger, Comte de.)] Histoire Amoureuse des Gaules. Minimo, old calf. A Liege, n. d.

EXTREMELY RARE. This is the first edition of this celebrated volume of erotica and was so proved to be by an article in "Le Livre." On the title the author's name is given in MS. as—"Messire Roger de Rabutin, Comte de Bussy." This was the Odell copy and has that collector's signature on title. The key to the names of the characters will be found on the leaf after the title.

This work, which has been described as worthy of Petronius Arbiter, was written for the author's mistress, the Marquise de Montglas. He describes the gallant adventures and intrigues of the great people of his own time, not forgetting his cousin, Madame de Sévigné.

- 917 AILLY (JACQUES DE.) DIVERSES PETITES
POESIES DV CHEVALLIER D'ACEILLY. Minimo. Elegantly bound by HARDY-MENIL in red crushed levant morocco, super extra gilt, inside gold dentelle borders, rounded corners, edges gilt on marble. Paris, Andre Cramoisy, 1667

VERY RARE. Original edition of these charming poems with the genuine title, which was replaced in the larger number of copies, where the words "et se donnent au Palais," were suppressed in consequence of being considered a serious imprint. Didot, in his Catalogue of the 1878 sale (No. 358), says that only three copies of the original edition were with the genuine title, and that Charles Nodier, when he edited a new edition of this charming poet's works, could neither procure nor see a copy. The Didot example in old morocco sold for 157 francs. The above, in perfect condition, is in a superb binding by a celebrated house of Parisian relieurs.

- 918 CANONGE (L. Placide). Maudit Passeport, ou les Infortunes d'une Droque. Small 8vo, sewed (foxed).

New Orleans, 1840

VERY RARE. Placide Canonge is one of the editors of "L'Abeille de la Nouvelle Orleans," the oldest French newspaper in this country. He is a writer of great merit, and is thoroughly appreciated in France. Canonge would have been a famous American if he had written in English, but Mr. Cable had never heard of him when he wrote about the Creoles of Louisiana.

- 919 CAREL (A.). Folles de leur Corps. With illustrations by HOPE, printed in pink, also the title—other cuts, mostly facetious. 4to, fancy paper cover, uncut.

Paris, Ed. Monnier, 1884

A very curious work, somewhat erotic,

- 920 CARNET D'UN MONDAIN GAZETTE PARISIENNE, Anecdotique et Curieuse, par "ETINCELLE." With facetious illustrations by A. FERDINANDUS, the plates colored. 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, Ed. Rouveyre et G. Blond, 1882

FACETIOUS and CURIOUS.

- 921 CARRÉ (Fabrice). Flagrant Delit—Comédie en un Acte. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1885

- 922 CARROSSES (Les), a Cinq Sols, ou les Omnibus du Dix-septième Siècle. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, Firmin-Didot, 1828

LARGE PAPER, limited edition on Holland paper of a very few copies, and printed for the "Société des Bibliophiles Françaises." Presentation copy from the author, vide MS. on cover.

- 923 CASANOVA (Jacques de Seingalt). A Collection of 48 steel engravings in illustration of his very facetious Memoirs. (48)

EROTIC AND RARE. Casanova's Memoirs, to which the above are illustrations, transcend in interest those of all other adventurers from Gil Blas downwards, with the added merit of being genuine and not fictitious. Accomplished, generous and of an audacity that never failed him in the most critical moments, he visited every Court of Europe, conversed with the most famous men, and intrigued with women everywhere. He relates all these transactions with a cynical precision that is sometimes frightful, and only to be forgiven in favor of the terseness of the style and the brilliancy of the narrative.

UNIQUE COPY OF "LE DIABLE AMOUREUX," AND BOUND BY TRIOULLIER.

- 924 CAZOTTE (JACQUES). LE DIABLE AMOUREUX. ROMAN FANTASTIQUE PAR J. CAZOTTE, précédé de sa Vie, de son Procès, et de ses Prophéties et Revelations par GÉRARD DE NERVAL. Illustrated with 200 designs by EDOUARD DE BEAUMONT. 8vo, fresh half dark blue crushed levant morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut, by "TRIOULLIER SR. DE PETIT-SIMIER."

Paris, Leon Gaurvet, 1845

UNIQUE COPY of this very rare edition, which is priced as high as 60 francs in Paris in boards. The above is unique, having, in addition to de Beaumont's charming woodcuts, three portraits of Cazotte, as well as a set of plates in two states.

Cazotte's early life was spent among the Jesuits, to which order he ceded his estates in the Isle of Martinique. After becoming an Illuminé and Martinist he brought an action against the Order of Jesus for the recovery of his property. It was Cazotte who prophesied in 1788, at a reception, before the French Revolution, the untimely fate that would befall, during the reign of terror, many of his auditors of the "haut monde."

"'Le Diable Amoureux,' donné par l'auteur comme une nouvelle emprunté de l'Espagnol, est un conte tiré de sa seule imagination. L'esprit et la grâce, la vivacité et le naturel de la narration sont les qualités."—VAPEREAU.

- 925 CENT NOUVELLES NOUVELLES (Les), suivent les Cent Nouvelles contenant les Cent Histoires Nouveaux, Qui sont moult plaisans à raconter en toutes bonnes Compagnies; par Maniere de Joyeuseté. 2 vols. minimo, sprinkled calf gilt, inside gold borders, gilt edges, by "PETIT SUCCR. DE SIMIER."

A La Haye, chez P. Gosse et J. Neaulme, 1733

RARE, from the library of and with the heraldic book-plate of "Thos. Forrest Betton."

Sir Walter Scott in "Quentin Durward" thus speaks of Louis XI. and the above work: "He [Louis] even mingled in the comic adventures of obscure intrigue with a freedom little consistent with the habitual and guarded jealousy of his character, and he was so fond of this species of humble gallantry that he caused a number of its gay and licentious anecdotes to be enrolled in a collection well known to book-collectors, in whose eyes (and the work is unfit for any other) the right edition is very precious."

- 926 CENT RECETTES (Les), de Mlle. Françoise. Thick 4to, paper, uncut. Paris, Paul Ollendorff, 1886

This volume of choice cooking receipts is printed in large type on thick paper.

DON QUIXOTE—ILLUSTRATED BY TONY JOHANNOT—ORIGINAL EDITION.

- 927 CERVANTES SAAVEDRA (Michael de). L'Ingenieux Hidalgo Don Quichotte de la Manche, traduit et Annoté par LOUIS VIARDOT. Profusely illustrated with the humorous and characteristic wood engravings of TONY JOHANNOT. 2 vols. large 8vo. Bound by H. CRABBE in half morocco, gilt. Paris, Dubochet, 1836-37

FIRST EDITION of this extremely high-priced issue in Paris, and with brilliant impressions of Tony Johannot's illustrations. The frontispieces are on India paper and the figure of "La Torralva" is turned to the right—in later issues to the left.

- 928 CERVANTES. Don Quichotte de la Manche traduit de l'Espagnol par FLORIAN, Ouvrage Posthume. With plates after LEFEBVRE, LEBARBIER, etc., by HALBON, COINY, MASQUELIER, GAUCHER, GODEFROY, etc. 3 vols. small 8vo, old Spanish sheep, gilt. Paris, Didot, 1799

- 929 CE SONT LES SECRETS DES DAMES deffendus à Reveler publiés pour la Première Fois d'après les Manuscrits du XVe Siècle, avec des Fac-simile, une Introduction, des Notes et un Appendice par les Drs. AL. C * * * * et Ch. Ed. C * * * *. Fac-similes printed in red and front. in 3 states or tints. Small 8vo, vellum, paper, totally uncut.

Paris, Edouard Rouveyre, 1880

No. 34 of a limited edition of 342 copies on vellum, China and Holland papers and "papier vergé." This is one of 25 Holland paper copies—the text is mostly in French Gothic and some is in red.

- 930 CHAMPSAUR (Félicien). Paris—Le Massacre. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1885

A series of short essays on celebrated Parisians—Judic, Daudet, Nina de Villars, Marie Colombier, un Amour de Gambetta, Croizette, Madame Adam, Arsene Houssaye, etc.

CHANTS HISTORIQUES—LIMITED IMPRESSIONS OF TWELVE COPIES ON COLORED PAPER.

- 931 CHANTS HISTORIQUES ET POPULAIRES du Temps de CHARLES VII. et de LOUIS XI. publiés pour la Première fois d'après le Manuscrit Original avec des Notices et une Introduction par M. LE ROUX DE LINCY. Small 8vo. Bound by V. CHAMPS in fresh half crushed dark green levant morocco, the back tooled in gold and inlaid with red morocco, rounded corners, top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in. Paris, Aug. Aubry, 1857

RARE. This is one of twelve copies on colored paper (blue) out of a limited edition of 352 in all. This copy has the rubricated title in three states—China paper, blue and pink.

Paris, Aug. Aubry, 1857–58

LIMITED EDITION of 600 copies, the above being on "papier vergé." This very interesting volume enters fully into the right of "cuissage" and other strange customs of feudalism.

"LES CONTES REMOIS"—LARGE PAPER COPY AND ILLUSTRATED BY MEISSONIER.

- 933 CHEVIGNÉ (Louis, Comte de). Les Contes Rémois. Fine portrait on INDIA PAPER, after DEBAY—also numerous engravings on wood after the original designs of E. MEISSONIER. Large 8vo, fresh half dark green morocco, extra gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut.

Paris, Librairie de l'Académie des Bibliophiles, 1868

LARGE PAPER edition of these facetious poems, of which a considerable portion of the merit attached to them is owing to the fact of their having been illustrated with the graphic designs of the great painter Meissonier.

- 934 CHEVIGNÉ.—Opinions des Journaux sur "les Contes Rémois." Small 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, 1869

- 935 CHORIER.—ALVISIÆ SIGÆ Toletanæ Satyra Sotadica de Arcanis Amoris et Veneris Alvisia Hispanice scripsit Latinitate donavit JOANNES MEURSIUS—re vera auctore NICOLAO CHORIER. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1885

LIMITED EDITION of 100 copies of this excessively erotic work. The first edition of this work was printed in 1660, and was somewhat imperfect—the above is the complete text. The notorious volume "l'Ecole des Biches" was written as a pendant to the above pederastic and tribadistic volume.

- 936 CHORIER.—Les Dialogues de LUISA SIGEA, ou Satire Sotadique de NICHOLAS CHORIER—pretendue écrite en Espagnol par LUISA SIGEA et traduite en Latin par JEAN MEURSIUS—Edition mixte Franco-Latine. 4 vols. small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, Isidore Liseux, 1881

VERY RARE, FACETIOUS, and in handsome Chambolle-Duru reliure. With vignettes on title of the head of a donkey and at the end an ass. This was a presentation copy, and at the bottom of the title is the following MS. note:—"Par M. le Chevalier du Coudray, ancien Mousquetaire, auteur des Nouveaux Essais Historiques sur Paris. Ces mémoires plaisants m'ont été donnés par l'auteur, en l'Année, 1788." Among the facetious matters broached in this volume are—"In Favor of Unfaithful Women"; "the Origin of Beards and their Variations"; "Historical Anecdotes on the Ass"; etc.

THE YOUNGER CREBILLON'S JAPANESE HISTORY.

- 951 CREBILLON LE FILS (C. P. J. de). L'Ecumoire, Histoire Japonaise avec les Curieuses Figures de l'édition "à Peking 1733." Tinted and facetious illustrations. Large 8vo, sewed, uncut. Brussels, Henry Kistemaechers, 1773-84

EROTIC. LIMITED EDITION on Japan paper and tinted "papier vergé."

The younger Crebillon, we are told,— "was a gay companion so full of wit and humor, and he wrote a series of licentious novels which pleased Miss Stafford, a young, handsome and rich Englishwoman, so much that she came to France and married him."

The 1734 edition of the above work caused the imprisonment of the author at Vincennes, it being claimed there were satirical concealed allusions to the Papal bull "Unigenitus," Cardinal de Rohan and the Duchesse de Maine.

"Crebillon (fils) was born in Paris in 1707, and died at the age of 70. It is related that his father, who was a noted dramatist, being asked one day which was his best production, pointed at his son, and said: 'I don't know which is my best, but there is my worst.' If his father was called the Æschylus of France, surely the son might be called the Petronius. M. d'Alembert once said: 'Crebillon, the father, paints in the blackest colors the crimes and wickedness of man. The son draws with delicate and just pencil the refinements and shades, and even graces of our vices, that seductive levity which renders the French what is called amiable, but which does not signify worthy of being loved, in short our manners, at once frivolous and corrupt, wherein the excess of depravity combines with excess of ridiculousness.' He was for a time in high repute for his wit and gaiety, which made him a pleasant companion, and for his clever, but licentious novels, which are best forgotten."—CATES.

- 952 CREBILLON LE FILS. Le Sopha, Conte Moral. Nouvelle Edition. Fronts. by BOVINET after BINET. 2 vols. minimo, sewed, uncut (foxed somewhat). Paris, chez Pillot, an VII.

VERY RARE. This is one of the rarest of the works of the younger Crebillon, and it is considered his most erotic, notwithstanding it is called on the title a "moral tale."

- 953 CUNNINGHAM (Peter). THE STORY OF NELL GWYN and the Sayings of CHARLES THE SECOND. Portrait after LELY ON CHINA PAPER and INSERTED PLATES OF INDIA

PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS. Large 4to, folded loose in board covers, suitable for binding or extra illustration.

"SECRETED FROM THE PAPAL POLICE after the Restoration of Order and just imported into America."

THE "DANCE OF DEATH"—VARIOUS EDITIONS.

- 956 DANCE OF DEATH.—L'ALPHABET de la Mort de HANS HOLBEIN, Entouré de Bordures du XVI<sup>e</sup> Siècle et Sinois d'Anciens Poemes Français sur le Sujet des Trois Mors et des Trois Vis publiées d'après les Manuscrits par ANATOLE DE MONTAIGLON. Vignette on title and every page surrounded with borders, mostly illustrating the "Dance of Death" and taken from early printed books. 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, Tross, 1856

Rubens once said that he had learned a great deal from the pictures of the "Dance of Death," and he recommended them strongly to the study of many of his own profession, while Erasmus was so much struck by the wonderful display of genius exhibited in this great work, that he conceived a strong friendship for Holbein, sat to him for his picture, and recommended him to Sir Thomas More, and to this incident England was indebted for the many excellent performances which it afterwards received from his pencil.

- 957 DANCE OF DEATH.—La DANSE DES MORTS comme elle est Depeinte dans la Louable et Célèbre Ville de Basle pour Servir d'un Miroir de Nature Humaine—(French and German Text). With engraved illustrations after the originals by MATTHEW MERIAN. Small 4to, cloth, red edges. Basle, 1744-56

RARE. With two titles, the French dated 1756, and the German, which has a curiously engraved border, 1744. This copy has the heraldic book-plate of —"John Lynch, D.D., Dean of Canterbury."

D'ALBERT DE LA FIZELIERE. Being a collection of 317 etchings, mostly designed and engraved by this celebrated artist, the whole forming the most complete and varied album possible for the study of engraving and etching—also portraits. 2 vols. 4to, folded in sheets ready for binding.

Paris, A. Barraud, Libraire Editeur, 1873

VERY SCARCE. Limited edition, printed on heavy paper, and of which this copy is No. 77.

A series of 317 etchings by the gifted artist who executed the admirable drawings for Bonaparte's great work on Egypt. The etchings are mostly original, but include some copies of Rembrandt and other Old Masters. The eleventh (suppressed) series, and which is included in the above, consists of over thirty etchings of priapic and very erotic subjects. Among these is the celebrated "Nun's Dream," "The Thirteenth Labor of Hercules," "Offerings to the God Priapus," etc., etc.

UNIQUE COPY OF CAMILLE DESMOULINS—WITH ORIGINAL MSS.

- 980 DESMOULINS (Camille). La France Libre. 8vo, sewed, uncut. [Paris], 1789

VERY RARE, and a curious French Revolutionary brochure, written by the celebrated Camille Desmoulins, who was guillotined in 1794 along with Danton and others.

Two octavo pages of original MS. in the handwriting of Desmoulins are affixed to the brochure.

- 981 DESPORTES (Philippe). Œuvres de, avec une Introduction et des Notes par ALFRED MICHIELS. Engraved front.—fac-simile title of the 1758 edition. Small 8vo, cloth, rough edges. Paris, 1858

"Bibliothèque Gauloise" limited edition on "papier vergé," issued under the direction of Paul Lacroix, who says:—"Desportes est un grand poète, peut-être un de nos meilleurs poètes Français. Cependant ses poésies, dont il y a plus de trente éditions, n'avaient pas été réimprimées depuis le commencement du dix-septième siècle, M. Michiels a consacré une étude très-importante à ce poète éminent."

The 1573 "Estienne" edition of this libidinous poet's work will be found in the "Early Typography" division of this catalogue, No. 589.

DES PERIERS'S NEW RECREATIONS—THE VERY RARE
1616 EDITION—BOUND BY DURU.

- 982 DES PERIERS (Bonaventure).—| LES | NOUVELLES | RECREATIONS, et | Ioyeux devis | de feu BONAVENTURE DES PERIERS, valet | de chambre de la ROYNE | DE NAUARRE | Augmentées de plusieurs autres nouvelles | fort ioyeuses et recreatives, non | encores veues, ny imprimees | par cy devant. | Minimo. Bound by H. DURU in crushed red levant morocco, inside dentelle gold borders, rounded corners, edges gilt on marble.

Lyons, par Noel Brvn, 1616

VERY RARE EDITION, and charming little bibelot, bound by Duru. Des Periers was the valet-de-chambre to Queen Margaret of Navarre, and he had made one of the circle of distinguished wits and people of genius who composed her court. His motto throughout life was "Loisir et liberté," and his death was a suicide's. He killed himself in the delirium of fever and despair, with his sword. His "Nouvelles Recreations" are in the style of the "Hep-tameron" of his mistress, and it was published for the first time after his death by Nicholas Parisot and Jacques Pelletier.

"Dans les 'Recreations' et le 'Cymbalum,' la prose est vive, aisée, claire, enjouée, et bien qu'on n'y trouve pas l'énergie et l'éloquence, c'est le style d'un excellent prosateur."—VAPEREAU.

THE "CYMBALUM MUNDI" OF BONAVENTURE DES PERIERS.

- 983 DES PERIERS.—CYMBALUM MUNDI, ou Dialogues Satyriques sur Differens Sujets, avec une Lettre Critique par PROSPER MARCHAND. Vignette on title. Minimo, old calf, gilt. Amsterdam, chez Prosper Marchand, 1711

VERY RARE, with the autograph of "A. J. Odeïl" on top of title, which is rubricated. This work, was not only so erotic, but so irreligious that it was condemned by the Sorbonne. It was rigidly suppressed, and so severely, that only one copy of the first edition is known. The above is one of the rarest editions of this strange work.

ANOTHER COPY OF THE PRECEDING WORK—BOUND BY CAPE.

- 984 DES PERIERS. The same, with—Lettre Critique par PROSPER MARCHAND—Nouvelle Edition, revue, corrigée et augmentée de Notes et Remarques, communiquées par plusieurs Savans. Engraved frontispiece, vignette title and plates by B. PICART after F. DE BAKKER. Small 8vo. Handsomely bound by CAPÉ in crushed red levant morocco gilt, inside gold dentelle borders, rounded corners, gilt edges (témoins). Amsterdam, 1753

EQUALLY RARE, with the above named, but with Picart's plates. It is superbly bound by Capé.

Paris, P. Rouquette, 1875

VERY RARE. One of 10 copies on China paper out of an edition of 110 in all.

EDITION-DE-LUXE OF DORAT'S KISSES AND LARGE PAPER.

- 992 DORAT (C. J.). LES BAISERS, précédés du Mois de Mai, poème (par DORAT). Frontispiece and engraved plate by CHARLES EISEN, engraved title, 22 vignettes, and 22 tail-pieces by EISEN, and 2 by MARILLIER. Large 8vo. Superbly bound in red crushed levant morocco elegant, inside gold borders, edges gilt, others by DE SAMBLANCOX-WECKESSEN. Rouen, J. Lemmonier, 1880

LARGE PAPER. No. 345 of LIMITED EDITION on "papier vergé." This is a splendid reprint of one of the most charming books issued from the press in the last century. A copy of the original edition was priced 3,000 francs, uncut by Morgand-Fatout, and another copy by the same, bound by Trautz-Bauzonnet, 2,200 francs. Also priced 35 guineas in a late London catalogue, bound in ordinary calf.

- 993 DORAT. Poésies. 4 vols. minimo, old calf.

Geneva, 1777

A pretty little edition of the poems of the author of "Les Baisers."

- 994 DORAT. Poésies de. Fine portrait engraved by N. DE LAUNAY. Minimo, sewed, uncut. Geneva, 1777

VERY SCARCE edition of Dorat's charming and erotic poems.

- 995 [DORAT.] Mes Fantaisies—Troisième Edition, Considérablement Augmentée. Engraved false title, vignette on title and head and tail pieces designed by EISEN and engraved by DE LONGUEIL and DE GHENDT. Small 4to, half calf, red edges. La Haye et Paris, 1770

RARE. One of the volumes of Dorat's poems containing pieces quite as facetious as the "Baisers."

This is one of the most amusing works illustrated by Gustave Doré.

- 997 DOUZE FACETIES. 12 facetious pieces, with cuts reproduced in fac-simile and of "l'ordre des cocus réformés" and "la patente des cocus." Small folio, paper.

Brussels, Gay et Douce, 1881

VERY FACETIOUS and AMOROUS. Limited edition of 500 copies, of which the above is No. 428. The bibliographical notice before the preface shows that only two of the patents in the above were known before the reprint, viz., that of "Bavarde" and that of "Curieuse."

- 998 DRESDEN GALLERY. A collection of twelve erotic subjects mostly from Heathen Mythology, photographs after RUBENS, VAN DYCK, GUIDO, TITIAN, PALMA VECCHIO, POUSSIN, KOFFMANN, MICHEL ANGELO, PAUL VERONESE and CORREGGIO. Small 4to, red cloth.

Paris, Victor Havard, 1878

SUPERB EDITION-DE-LUXE, LARGE PAPER, and printed on "papier vélin."

CHINA PAPER COPY OF THE LIFE OF MADAME DU BARRY.

- 1000 DU BARRY (La Comtesse). Sa vie Amoureuse—le Gaze-tier Cuirassé—GRIMM-BACHAUMONT—les Chansons—les Epigrammes—les Actes Officiels—ses Trois Amoureux—LOUIS XV.—LORD SEYMOUR—LE DUC DE BRISSAC—le Tribunal Révolutionnaire—la Guillotine—Portraits Authentiques—les Maitresses du Roi par PAUL DE SAINT VICTOR—Histoire de MADAME DU BARRY par ARSÈNE HOUSSAYE. With portraits in two states—HOLLAND AND CHINA PAPER. Small 4to. Bound by EMILE ROUSSELLE in crushed purple levant morocco gilt, rounded corners, inside dentelle gold borders, edges gilt (témoins), with the covers bound in.

LIMITED EDITION of 25 copies on China paper. This superbly printed volume is from the press of Alcan-Levy. The title-page is rubricated, and some of the text is printed in red.

This life of the lecherous Du Barry, the complaisant mistress of Louis XV., is from the pen of Arsène Houssaye. Needless to suggest, it is erotic and delightfully written in honor of the High Priestess of the Parc aux Cerfs.

- 1001 DU BARRY. Anecdotes sur, publiées par OCTAVE UZANNE avec Préface et Index. Tinted front. by LA-LAUZE, heraldic head-piece by GAUZEAN, fleurons and fancy initial letters. Thick large 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, A. Quantin, 1880

LIMITED EDITION on "PAPIER VERGÉ," handsomely printed by Quantin, and uniform with the remainder of the "Documents sur les Mœurs du XVIIIe Siècle" edited by Octave Uzanne.

The above volume contains a pretty thoroughly complete collection of the "Ana" of Louis the Fifteenth's celebrated mistress, who died by the guillotine in 1793. The "Lettres Originales" of Madame Du Barry were forged by Pidansat de Mairobert—and the two different editions of her "Memoires" by Madame Guérard and La Mothe Langon.

JAPAN PAPER COPY OF THE TABLEAU DE LA VOLUPTÉ HANDSOMELY BOUND BY PAGNANT.

Paris, Edouard Rouveyre, 1882

One of 10 copies on JAPAN PAPER out of a LIMITED EDITION of 600 in all. The plates and vignettes are in duplicate and in two colors—sepia and black. The beautiful typography is the work of Unsinger's press.

Paul Ulrich Du Buisson was the author of the tragedies of "Nadir" and "Scanderberg." He perished on the scaffold during the Reign of Terror along with his friends Hebert and Ronsin.

- 1003 DUCRET (Alexandre). Les Brouillons de la Société. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Annecy, 1872

Dedicated to General Garibaldi.

- 1004 [DUDEVANT (Amandine Lucile Aurore Dupin).] Letters of GEORGE SAND, Translated and Edited by RAPHAEL LEDOS DE BEAUFORT, with Preface and Biographical Sketch by the Translator. Illustrated with 6 portraits of GEORGE SAND at various periods of her life. 3 vols. 8vo, cloth.

London, 1886

The name of "George Sand" is said to have been given to Madame Dudevant by Jules Sandeau, the academician, and was adopted by her to denote a masculine style in her writings.

- 1005 DUFOUR (Pierre). Histoire de la Prostitution. Numerous steel plates on INDIA PAPER. 6 vols. in 3. 8vo, half green morocco, top edges gilt, others trimmed.

Paris, 1851-53

In this learned work—the best we have on the subject—many of the chapters are devoted to dissertations on matters of general interest to students of literature. We instance chapter XXIV., containing a treatise on the erotica verba of the French language, the Argot, its origin, etc.; also in chapter XXXII., a highly interesting bibliographical account of the Aretino plates by Marc Antonio, etc., etc.

The author was threatened with criminal prosecution, and pledged himself never to reproduce the work; it has now become scarce.

UNIQUE COPY OF DUMAS'S "LADY OF THE CAMELIAS," WITH ORIGINAL VERSES IN MS. BY THE AUTHOR ON THE ILL-FATED HEROINE.

1006 DUMAS (Alexandre,  fils). LA DAME AUX CAMÉLIAS, Préface par M. JULES JANIN—Quatrième édition entièrement revue et corrigée. Small 8vo, half russia, gilt.

Paris, 1852

UNIQUE COPY. With inserted heraldic book-plate. This copy has inserted five pages of original poetry in the handwriting of Alexandre Dumas fils and written by him on the heroine of this most remarkable story, upon which is founded "Camille" and "La Traviata."

Mr. Pene du Bois writes that the above MS. is a—"Copy made by Alex. Dumas fils—in his own hand, and as he says, 'de ma plus belle écriture'—of verses written by him on his hearing of the death of Marie Duplessis, who was the 'Dame aux Camélias.' The verses were never published, save in the edition of the play made for the artists of the 'Comédie Française.' The 'Gaulois' published lately a fragment of these verses, as a literary sensation. The verses are accompanied by a letter to his friend Paul Foucher."

This MS. copy of the verses was in the possession of Mr. Pene du Bois previous to its publication.

LIMITED EDITION-DE-LUXE OF THE "LADY OF THE CAMELIAS."

Fine portrait, engraved title by MARSHALL, numerous plates of emblems by CRISPEN PASS. Small folio, mottled calf, gilt.

London, printed by A. M. [Augustine Mattheve] for Henry Taunton, and are to be sold at his Shop in Saint Dunstanes Church-yard, MDCXXXV.

EXCESSIVELY RARE, and a fine copy of the ORIGINAL EDITION with all the plates. With the heraldic book-plate (coronet, supporters nine quarterings) of—"The Right Honble. Henrietta Countess of Pomfret Lady of the Bed-chamber to the Queen." A few pp. are mended carefully and there are MS. marginalia. The volume contains the leaf at the end of the "Lotteries," with movable Index, which, Lowndes says, is so often wanting. On an end paper is the following MS. note:—

"These engravings, in their original state, were first published at Cologne, 1611, vide Rollenhagen in Brunet. Wither borrowed the fine engravings and destroyed the verses, substituting his own, see his first preface to the Reader, towards the end, where he speaks with sufficient confidence of himself. But now probably for one person who reads his verses, less admire his engravings. The portrait of Wither is probably from an original by C. Janssen, which sold in Gutch's sale for £13. The frontispiece is not by Crispin de Pass, but by one Wm. Marshall."

- 1010 EMBLEMS.—CRAMER (Daniel). Octoginta Emblemata Moralia Nova. Engraved title and symbolical illustrations. Minimo, vellum (loose in cover).

EXTREMELY RARE AND EARLY SATIRICAL WORK ON THE FRENCH ACADEMY—BOUND BY BAUZONNET.

1038 FURETIÈRE (Antoine). Plan et Dessein du Poeme Allegorique et Tragico-Burlesque, intitulé les Couches de l'Academie Française. Minimo, crushed green levant morocco, extra gilt, inside gold borders, edges gilt, by BAUZONNET. Amsterdam, Pierre Brunel, 1687

VERY RARE. This curious work, which ridicules the French Academy, was written by a member who was also Abbé de Chaligny. With key to the names including La Fontaine, Boyer, Charpentier, Le Clerc, etc. This copy was bound by Bauzonnet, came from the Nodier Library, and has his "ex-libris." Furetière aided his friends Racine and Boileau in their plays, and his "Roman Bourgeois" was edited by Fournier and Asselineau.

"L'académicien Charpentier traita Furetière d'escroc, de fils de laquais, d'infame, de sacrilège, de protecteur de filous et de filles publiques, etc. Furetière répondit par des 'Factums,' qui sont regardés comme des modèles mais dont tous les traits ne sauraient être entièrement excusés par de langage de ses adversaires."—VAPEREAU.

Paris, 1812

RENOUARD'S EDITION, including the "Memoirs of Grammont," which are universally admitted to be among the most witty and entertaining that have ever been written. It was described by Gibbon as "a classic work, the delight of every man and woman of taste," praised and edited by Sir Walter Scott, printed in almost every language and every form, and found in every good historical library. Some have said that it is too much imbued with the spirit of Charles the Second's days to suit the severer code of the present age. But the reasons which would keep these volumes away from the great mass of readers would be equally applicable to nearly all writers of Charles the Second's period, and to Pepys as well as to Ariosto, La Fontaine, Beaumont, Fletcher, Massinger, Pope, and even Shakespeare.

- 1068 HANNON (Theodore). Rimes de Joie, avec une Preface de J. K. HUYSMANS. 4 etched plates by FELICIEN ROPS—2 of nudes, one bibliophilistic. Small 8vo, half cloth.

THE ANTIQUITIES OF HERCULANEUM AND POMPEII, INCLUDING THE SECRET MUSEUM.

- 1072 HERCULANEUM ET POMPEII; RECUEIL GÉNÉRAL des PEINTURES, BRONZES, MOSAIQUES, etc., découverts jusqu'à ce jour et reproduits, d'après tous les ouvrages publiés jusqu'à présent, avec un Texte explicatif par M. BARRÉ. With 700 fine engravings by H. ROUX, AINÉ. 8 vols. large 8vo, boards, totally uncut. Paris, Didot, 1870-77

This is the MOST COMPLETE WORK on the discoveries at Herculanum and Pompeii, exhibiting all the paintings, bronzes, miniatures, etc., hitherto published in rare or expensive works, with the addition of many others which have not previously appeared. The eighth volume, containing the "Musée Secret," is curious and uncommon; exhibiting the lascivious indulgences of the ardent Pompeians as depicted upon the walls of their baths and private apartments.

"We need not regret the departure of those times when modesty had no cloak; when, like the brute, man and woman stood before each other unabashed at their nakedness. The facility of enjoyment gave birth to satiety and disgust. A frightful corruption of morals was the inevitable consequence of this state of things, for excess of debauchery could alone reanimate desire, the prime mover of enjoyment. Eternal glory to the religion which, overturning these impure idols into the mire, and unrolling the code of chastity before our eyes, has made our sensations purer and our pleasures keener."—FANIN.

- 1073 HERCULANEUM AND POMPEII. EIGHT WATER-COLOR DRAWINGS, neatly framed, being faithful copies of ancient fresco-paintings on the interior walls of houses at Herculanum and Pompeii.

UNIQUE ITALIAN WATER-COLOR DRAWINGS in fac-simile, including the following subjects:—I., "Female Dancer," almost nude; II., "Pomona," partly nude; III., "The Rope Dancer," entirely nude; IV., "A Bacchanal"; V., "The Festival of Flora," Dancing Figures (one entirely nude), with flowers; VI., "Ceres"; VII., "Bleaching Linen"; VIII., "Quail."

- 1074 HISTOIRES DEBRAILLÉES, par l'auteur de "Pommes d'Eve." With tinted and erotic illustrations by "joyeux artistes." 4to, large paper cover, uncut. Paris, Ed. Monnier, 1884
FACETIOUS and LIMITED EDITION on thick toned paper.

ORIGINAL EDITION OF HOBBS'S LEVIATHAN.

- 1075 HOBBS (Thomas; of Malmesbury). LEVIATHAN, or the Matter, Forme and Power of a Common-Wealth, Ecclesiasticall and Civill. Engraved false title (margin torn) and diagram. Small folio, half calf, red edges (lacks portrait). London, Andrew Croke, 1651

VERY RARE and original edition, of which Hollis's copy sold for £3 4s.

"The atheistic and immoral theories of the 'Leviathan.'"—HALLAM.

"To my booksellers for Hobbes's 'Leviathan,' which is now mightily called for, and what was heretofore sold for 8s. I now give 23s. at the second-hand, and is sold for 30s., it being a book the Bishop will not let be printed again."—PEPYS.

1076 HOCHE (Jules). Les Parisiens chez Eux. Small 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, n. d.

HOGARTH MORALIZED—THE 1841 EDITION AND BOUND BY MATTHEWS.

1077 HOGARTH MORALIZED: a Complete Edition of all the Most Capital and Admired Works of WILLIAM HOGARTH, Accompanied by Concise and Comprehensive Explanations of their Moral Tendency by the late REV. DR. TRUSLER, to which are added an Introductory Essay and Many Original and Selected Notes by JOHN MAJOR. A new Edition Revised and Corrected, and Somewhat Enlarged by the Same. Numerous steel plates and wood engravings. 8vo, fresh half morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut by ALFRED MATTHEWS.

London, Henry Washbourne, 1841

ADMIRABLE COPY of this excellent edition.

William Hogarth was one of those few original and extraordinary characters with whom it has pleased Providence occasionally to bless the world, to enlighten mankind, and to carry the arts and sciences necessary for their comfort, pleasure and improvement, nearer to perfection. Moved by the impulse of genius rather than the tuition of man, he traveled in a path unexplored by any before him, and which remains closed to succeeding artists. Possessing by early practice the knowledge of the art of engraving, he was enabled to disseminate by its means the ingenious inventions of his mind in a manner more perfect than those of other painters have been presented to the world, or than probably ever again will be done, till another painter shall be his own engraver. Hogarth was one of those great men whose works are destined to survive all the changes of taste and all the caprices of fashion; for valuable and interesting as they would be did they do no more than preserve a faithful picture of contemporary manners, they are to be still more highly estimated for containing those strokes of nature and of genuine wit that are intelligible in every country and in every age. In dignity of subject, in grandeur of composition, in the technical beauties of execution, in designs, in chiaro-oscuro, in exactness of imitation, in elegance and in gracefulness, Hogarth has been excelled by several; but no artist has ever yet produced works that rival in expression and in character those of the great ethic painter—works that will always continue to be admired in proportion to the care with which they are studied.

1078 HOGARTH. HOGARTH Illustrated from his own Manuscripts, Compiled and Arranged from the Originals by JOHN IRELAND. Engraved vignette titles, one with portrait, two fronts. and numerous plates (one front. short). 3 vols. 8vo, morocco gilt, edges gilt (somewhat foxed and binding rubbed). London, printed by Bulmer, 1812

"The anchor which held Hogarth fastest to the public favor was the sincere and deliberate belief—prevalent among the more serious of the substantial orders—that his works were in the highest degree moral, and that they contributed to the inculcation of virtue and piety. . . . The philosopher who ever preached the sturdy English virtues that have made us what we are."—Cornhill Magazine.

1079 "HONNI SOIT QUI MAL Y PENSE,"—Nouvelles par "On-Sé-Ki." Small 4to, paper, uncut. New Orleans, 1883

- 1080 HONE (William). Apocryphal New Testament, being all the Gospels, Epistles, etc., attributed to JESUS CHRIST, His Apostles, etc., and not Included in the New Testament. 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, for the author, 1820 (reprint)

"By some persons of the multitude, commonly known by the name of Christians, and who profess to suppose they do God service by calling themselves so, the editor has been attacked with a malignity and fury that would have graced the age of Mary and Elizabeth, when Catholics put to death Protestants, and Protestants put to death Catholics, for the sake of Him who commanded mankind to 'love one another.'"—Second Preface.

- 1081 HOPING (J. A. J.). Institutiones Chiromanticæ. Small 8vo, boards. Jena, 1689

EXTRAORDINARY WORK ON THE JESUITS—BOUND BY CHATELIN.

- 1094 JESUITES (Les), de la Maison Professe de Paris, en Belle Humeur; also—Les Moines en Belle Humeur. Front. 2 vols. in 1, minimo. Elegantly bound by CHATELIN, of Paris, in citron morocco, mosaiced in red, green and pink leathers, beautifully tooled, and light green "doublé" gilt, edges gilt on marble. Cologne, chez Pierre Marteau, 1725

VERY RARE, SUPPRESSED and EROTIC. Although this beautifully bound bibelot has two distinct titles and three half-titles, the pagination throughout runs continuously. The frontispiece represents two ecclesiastics dancing and two with very "decolleté" females in their laps. One has his hand on the breast of one of the women, and with the other plays a symphony across her waist with a violin bow. The other cleric has his arm on the shoulder of his female partner, between whose knees he holds a violoncello. Beneath this caricature are the words—"Mon Pere mettez votre instrument entre mes jambes."

Paris, Isidore Liseux, 1886

No. 57. "Edition Unique a trois cents exemplaires numerotes." Pisanus Fraxi, in his "Index Librorum Prohibitorum," devotes some eighteen pages to an account of this remarkably erotic work, which enters into the most minute details, and gives several thousand methods of having sexual intercourse. It is the great authority on the "art of love" in the East, and was written over three hundred years ago by Kalyana Malla, a Hindoo poet, for the benefit of a monarch of the Lodi race. The verse of blessing reads:—"May this treatise [Ananga-ranga] be beloved of man and woman as long as the Holy River Ganges springs from Shiva with his wife Gauri on his left side; as long as Lakshmi loves Vishnu, as long as Brahma is engaged in the study of the Vedas, and as long as the earth, moon and sun endure."

"The treatise," write F. F. Arbuthnot and R. F. Burton, "originally written in Sanskrit, has been translated into every language of the East that boasts a literature, however humble. It becomes in Arabic and in Hindostani the Lizzat en' Nissa—the 'Pleasures of Women'; in Maharati and Gujrati, it is the Amanga-ranga, or 'Form of the Bodiless One' (Cupid). Generally, it is known as the Spila Shashtra, the 'Scripture of Play' (i.e., of Amorous Sport, To Παίξεν. or Kama-Shashtra, the 'Writ of Desire' or of 'the Hindu God of Love' (Kama-deva), and the vulgar call it 'Koka Pandit,' from the Prakrit name of the supposed author. Lithographed copies have been printed by hundreds of thousands, and the book is in the hands of both sexes and all ages throughout the nearer East."

"THE TOAST"—OF THE GREATEST RARITY AND PRIVATELY PRINTED.

- 1098 [KING (WILLIAM, LL.D.)] THE TOAST, an Heroick Poem in Four Books, Written originally in Latin by FREDERICK SCHEFFER: now done into English, and Illustrated with Notes and Observations by PEREGRINE O'DONALD, Esq. Front. by BARON after GRAVELOT and rubricated title. 4to, old calf, gilt. London, 1736

EXTREMELY RARE and privately printed. This copy has the MS. inscription on fly-leaf—"From the Author, THOMAS HURST 1764" and an inserted two-page manuscript key to the characters.

Lowndes says this is—"a violent satire against the Countess of Newburgh, occasioned by a lawsuit which Dr. King had about an estate in Galway to which he laid claim. A key to the characters will be found in 'the Second Journey round the Library of a Bibliomaniac by William Davis,' 1825."

Allibone writes:—"On the death of the author the whole of the impression save sixty copies was destroyed by his executors. Reid's copy (2204 of his catalogue) with MS. key to 'The Toast' was sold for £10 10s."

Pisanus Fraxi was so enraptured with this Macaronic book that he devotes twenty-five quarto pages to it in the "Centuria Librorum Absconditorum" besides giving four pages of fac-simile. As a sample of the chaste poetic muse of Dr. King the following description of the Countess of Newburgh may suffice:—

"There he saw the huge Mass tumble out of her Bed;
Like Bellona's her Stature, the Gorgon's her Head;
Hollow Eyes with a Glare, like the Eyn of an Ox;
And a Forehead deeply furrow'd, and matted grey Locks;
With a toothless wide Mouth, and a Beard on her Chin,
And a yellow rough Hide in the Place of a Skin;
Brawny shoulders up-rai'd; Cow-Udders; Imp's Teat;
And a pair of bow'd Legs, which were set on Splay Feet."

- 1099 LA CAYORNE (R. P.). LES JOYEUSETÉS. With etched front. by HENRY SOMM. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, Lemmonier, 1882

LIMITED EDITION and facetious.

LIAISONS DANGEREUSES BY CHODERLOS LACLOS.

- 1102 [LACLOS (Pierre Ambroise François Choderlos).] LES LIAISONS DANGEREUSES, ou Lettres Recueillies dans une Société, et publiées pour l'Instruction de quelques autres. Par M. C . . . de L . . . Charming erotic plates, mounted. 4 vols. minimo, half green morocco, top edges gilt.

Amsterdam and Paris, 1782

VERY RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION and facetious. This amorous work was one of those which Marie Antoinette and the Princess de Lamballe used to enjoy together at the Little Trianon. The success of this eighteenth century novel was owing to its—"immoralité conforme au gout de l'époque." The character of the principal personage, the enemies of the author insisted he had based upon his own peculiarities.

PAUL LACROIX'S FACETIOUS AND CURIOUS WORKS.

- 1103 [LACROIX (Paul).] Vertu et Temperament Histoire du Temps de la Restauration 1818-1820-1832 par "P. L. JACOB, BIBLIOPHILE, Membre de Toutes les Académies." 2 vols. 8vo, half calf. Paris, 1832

VERY RARE and UNIQUE. Printed on yellow paper with erotic fronts. by Tony Johannot. Presentation copy from the author with following MS. on half-title—"A Monsieur Auguste Aubry souvenir de bibliophile, Paul Lacroix. Bibl. Jacob."

Also with inserted autograph letter signed of Paul Lacroix dated May, 1853, in which he tells M. Aubry (?) that he sends him a book which has only the merit of being unique.

- 1104 LACROIX. Les Courtisanes de l'Ancienne Rome. Small 8vo, paper, uncut. Brussels, 1864

LIMITED EDITION on Holland paper.

- 1105 [LACROIX.] L'Homme au Masque de Fer par "PAUL L. JACOB, BIBLIOPHILE." 8vo, half calf, Paris, 1837

RARE. This volume on the "Man in the Iron Mask" is dedicated to the bibliophile Guilbert de Pixérécourt, and is an argument in favor of the Superintendent Fouquet being the victim of Louis the Fourteenth's saturnine vengeance.

- 1106 [LACROIX.] Curiosités de l'Histoire des Croyances Populaires au Moyen Age. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1859

Includes articles on—"Superstitions et Croyances Populaires, le Juif Errant, les Blasphémateurs, les Démones de la Nuit, les Sorcières et le Sabat, le Bœuf Gras, les Origines du Mal de Naples."

- 1107 LACROIX. Mystificateurs et Mystifiés Histoires Comiques. Small 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, 1875

MAGNIFICENT COPY OF THE "FARMERS-GENERAL" EDITION OF LA FONTAINE, BOUND BY CHAMBOLLE-DURU.

- 1108 LA FONTAINE.— | Contes | et | Nouvelles | en Vers | par M. DE LA FONTAINE | . 2 vols. small 8vo, bound in full red crushed levant morocco extra, inside gold borders, rounded corners and edges gilt on marble by CHAMBOLLE-DURU. A Amsterdam, 1762

SUPERB COPY in UNRIVALLED CONDITION of this BEAUTIFUL EDITION, with BRILLIANT IMPRESSIONS of the portraits, the numerous erotic plates by Eisen, and charming head and tail pieces, vignettes, etc.

Among the "Livres de luxe" of the eighteenth century there is one which is a marvel and a chef-d'œuvre, an example without an equal in the richness of a book. This work, the great monument and triumph of the "vignette," which rises above and crowns all other illustrations of the day, it is needless to state to all amateurs, is the Tales of La Fontaine known as the edition of the "Fermiers-Généraux," a truly royal book of the last Meccenean financiers; one of the grandest of the intelligent and sensual outlays of money of the reign of Louis the Fifteenth, and an inimitable model of gallant engraving applied to the illustration of light narrative.

- 1109 LA FONTAINE. The same. 2 vols. small 8vo, half red morocco gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut.

A Amsterdam, 1764

VERY RARE. This is the 1764 reprint of the "Farmers-General" edition, but the plates, which are proofs before letters, are colored by hand.

- 1110 LA FONTAINE. Contes et Nouvelles en Vers. 2 vols. large 4to, fresh half red morocco gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut, by R. W. SMITH (stained somewhat).

Paris, chez Tilliard, 1809

This is a copy of the Tilliard edition, in large type and without any plates.

FRAGONARD'S EROTIC ILLUSTRATIONS TO LA FONTAINE.

- 1111 LA FONTAINE.—FRAGONARD (Honoré). Figures des Contes de LA FONTAINE. 3 portraits, one by EDELINCK, and 57 etchings by MARTIAL after FRAGONARD. Square folio, 10 parts [complete] and in cloth portfolio.

Paris, Rouquette, n. d.

CAT'S HEAD PROOFS of the limited issue, published at 500 francs, of these celebrated designs of Fragonard, which were engraved by Martial with the intention of illustrating the 1795 Didot edition of La Fontaine.

The artist, Honoré Fragonard, was born at Nice in 1733, and died in 1806. Spooner says: "He studied under Boucher, and having carried off the grand prize of the Academy, he went to Rome with the royal pension. On his return to Paris he was elected a Royal Academician in 1765, on which occasion he painted his fine picture of 'Callirrhoe' as his reception piece, which was much admired. His next work was the 'Visitation of the Virgin' for the Duke of Grammont. He soon, however, left the path of high and noble subjects which he had hitherto followed, and painted bacchanals, conversations, and subjects of French manners, many of which had an exceedingly licentious tendency."

- 1112 LA FONTAINE. A series of 100 engravings to illustrate the "Contes et Nouvelles" of LA FONTAINE, and designed by FRAGONARD—including portraits, vignettes, etc.—A DOUBLE SET, SHOWING THE COMPLETED AND UNFINISHED PLATES, AND ALL ON JAPAN PAPER. Large 4to, in portfolio.

LIMITED EDITION and on JAPAN PAPER. This set was gotten up for the purpose of illustrating the Didot edition of La Fontaine, two volumes in quarto and published at Paris in 1795.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF LA FONTAINE'S FABLES, ILLUSTRATED—PARIS, 1796.

- 1113 LA FONTAINE. Fables de. With over 270 plates, engraved by SIMON and COINY. 6 vols. small 8vo, calf gilt, inside gold borders, edges gilt.

Paris, Bossange, Masson et Besson, 1796

LARGE PAPER, on "papier vélin," and very scarce. The Didot edition of these plates, after the designs of Vivier, is very rare, vide Morgand and Fatout catalogue cutting inserted, 1,200 francs, also a copy of the above on the same, priced 500 francs.

- 1114 LA FONTAINE. Fables, translated into English Verse by WALTER THORNBURY. Portrait and numerous illustrations by GUSTAVE DORÉ. Thick large 4to, fresh half morocco gilt, beveled cloth sides, gilt edges.

London, n. d.

- 1115 LA FARRE (C. A., Marquis de). Poésies—Nouvelle Edition Considérablement Augmentée. Front. Minimo, original mottled calf gilt, edges gilt. A Londres, 1781

RARE. Includes the "Opera de Panthée," of which La Farre wrote the libretto and the Duc d'Orleans the music. Chaulieu said this amorous poet and noble was—"Formé de sentiments et de volupté, rempli d'une aimable mollesse."

- 1116 LA FIZELLIÈRE (Albert de). Histoire de la Crinoline, suivie de la Satyre sur les Cerceaux, Paniers, etc., par le Chevalier de NISARD et de l'Indignité et l'Extravagance des Paniers, par un Predicateur. Small 8vo. Bound by CAPÉ in half morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in.

Paris, Aubry, 1859

A CURIOUS VOLUME on that monstrosity, the crinoline, and showing it was worn eight centuries before Christ, in Hesiod's time, and that Helen, when she fled with Paris to Troy, wore a primitive kind of hoop skirt.

- 1117 LA FIZELLIÈRE. Vins à la Mode et Cabarets au XVIIe Siècle. With etched front. by MAXIME LALANNE. Small 8vo, half crushed levant morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut, by ALLO.

Paris, chez Rene Pincebourde, 1866

Only a LIMITED EDITION on "papier vergé," and for amateurs.

- 1118 LA GRANGE-CHANCEL (F. J. de). Les Philippiques, Odes. Edition Definitive Collationnée sur un Manuscrit de l'Epoque avec Remarques Inédites. Thick 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, 1876

LIMITED EDITION. With letter from Victor Hugo accepting the dedication of the historical and biographical essay on Philippe of Orleans and La Grange-Chancel by Léon de Labassade. La Grange-Chancel in this remarkable work charged the Duke of Orleans with most infamous and immoral crimes. For the first "Philippiques" their author was imprisoned for two years in the "Iles Saint Marguerite," whence he escaped by the way of Sardinia and Spain to Holland, where he finished the work.

THICK JAPAN PAPER COPY OF THE MAGNIFICENT EDITION OF JULIETTE LAMBER'S POEMS—WITH THE PLATES IN TWO STATES.

- 1119 LAMBER.—LA CHANSON DES NOUVEAUX ÉPOUX par MADAME ADAM, JULIETTE LAMBER. With splendid portrait of the author by BURNEY, and ten beautiful etchings, mostly erotic, by ABOT, BOISSON, BOULARD FILS, COUNTRY, DUVIVIER, LEFORT, MERCIER, MONSANTO, VION, YON, all etched under the direction of LAGUILLERMIE, after the original designs of BENJAMIN CONSTANT, ED. DETAILLE, GUSTAVE DORÉ, JEAN PAUL LAURENS, JULES LEFEBVRE, FERNAND LEMAITRE, HECTOR LE ROUX, A. MOROT, MUNKACSY and TOUDOUZE—rubricated title. Large 4to, sewed, uncut, and in illuminated cloth cover, beveled sides, and flaps. Paris, 1882

This MAGNIFICENT VOLUME of these charming poems, by the Recamier of the Third French Republic, is No. 97 of one hundred copies entirely printed on thick Japan paper—with the delightful and suggestive plates and portrait in two states on Japan paper—proofs after letters and remarque proofs.

Vide No. 392 of this catalogue respecting Juliette Lamber Adam, the chère amie, adviser and confidante of Leon Gambetta.

- 1120 LARWOOD (Jacob) and HOTTEN (John Camden). History of Signboards from the Earliest Times to the Present Day. Colored front. and 100 illustrations in fac-simile by F. LARWOOD. Small 8vo, tree-marbled calf gilt, marbled edges.

London, J. C. Hotten, n. d.

- 1132 LE SAGE (Alain René). Histoire de Gil Blas de Santillane—Dernière Edition Revue et Corrigée. Numerous plates, some facitious. 4 vols. small 8vo, fresh blue crushed levant morocco elegant, rounded corners, inside gilt tooling, edges gilt on marble by DAVID. Paris, par les Libraires Associes, 1747

VERY RARE. A superb example of the last edition of "Gil Blas" published by the author. Priced 400 francs, vide inserted Morgand et Fatout catalogue cutting.

"The fancy, the lightness, the spirit and the vivacity of the enchanting pen of Le Sage."—SIR WALTER SCOTT.

- 1133 LE SAGE. The Adventures of Gil Blas de Santillane, Translated from the French by TOBIAS SMOLLETT, M.D. Illustrated with the 15 highly finished and colored engravings known as the MCLEAN series and from drawings designed expressly for this edition. 3 vols. 8vo, half calf, gilt. London, 1819

A VERY SCARCE and well-executed edition.

- 1134 LE SAGE. Gil Blas von Santillana, nach dem Franzosischen des LE SAGE von W. C. CH. MYLIUS. With plates by JURY after CHODOWIECKY'S designs. 6 vols. small 8vo, sewed, uncut. RARE. Leipzig, 1821

- 1135 LE SAGE.—| TURCARET. | COMEDIE. | PAR MONSIEUR LE SAGE. | Le prix est de vingt sols | Minimo. Bound by CHAMBOLLE-DURU in red crushed levant morocco, rounded corners, inside dentelle gold borders, edges gilt on marble and "temoins." | A Paris, | chez Pierre Ribon, sur le Quay | des Augustins, à la Descente du Pont | Neuf, à l'Image St. Louis, | MDCCIX | Avec Approbation, et Privilège du Roy. | 1709

EXTREMELY RARE, and very fine copy of the original edition of the dramatic chef-d'œuvre of Le Sage.

The preliminary pages comprise the title, on the verso of which are the names of the actors, then follows "Critique de la Comédie de Turcaret, par le Diable Boiteux," a dialogue between Asmodeus and Cleofas divided into two parts. The "Approbation" is dated February 20, 1709, and the "Privilege" was given March 1 of the same year.

This volume was imported unbound from Paris for Mr. Pene du Bois at a cost of 300 francs, i. e., $60, vide the inserted catalogue cutting of Morgand-Fatout.

- 1136 LE SAGE. Asmodeus; or, the Devil on Two Sticks, with Biographical Notice of the Author, by JULES JANIN, translated by JOSEPH THOMAS. Illustrated by TONY JOHANNOT, with the front. ON INDIA PAPER. 8vo, fresh half calf gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut. London, 1842

A FINE TALL COPY of the ORIGINAL EDITION. Some critics have pronounced the "Diable Boiteux" superior to Gil Blas.

Sir Walter Scott says of this delightful romance—"There is no book in existence in which so much of the human character, under all its various shades and phases, is described in so few words, as in the 'Diable Boiteux.' The fancy, the lightness, the spirit and the vivacity of the enchanting pen of Le Sage are everywhere visible. To quote examples would be to quote the work through almost every page. No work has afforded a greater stock of passages, which have been generally employed as apophthegms, or illustrations of human nature and actions.

"If there is anything like truth in Gray's opinion, that to lie upon a couch and read new novels was no bad idea of Paradise, how would that beatitude be enhanced, could human genius afford us another 'Gil Blas' or a 'Devil on Two Sticks!'"

- 1137 LE SAGE. Asmodeus; or, the Devil upon Two Sticks. With four fine etchings by R. DE LOS RIOS. Small 8vo, fresh cloth, totally uncut. London, 1881

The above includes Le Sage's "Dialogues Serious and Comic between Two Chimneys of Madrid."

- 1138 LE SAGE. History of Vanillo Gonzales, surnamed the Merry Bachelor. With four fine etchings by R. DE LOS RIOS. Small 8vo, parchment, beveled sides, totally uncut. London, 1881

- 1140 LIFE, an Illustrated Comic Weekly. Vols. 1, 2 and 4. Large 4to, half roan, cloth sides. N. Y., 1883-84

Profusely illustrated with humorous designs by the best American caricaturists.

- 1141 LIREUX (AUGUSTE). ASSEMBLÉE NATIONALE COMIQUE. Profusely illustrated with the very humorous designs of "CHAM"—some full-page. Thick large 8vo, half red morocco, gilt. Paris, 1850

Cham never made more facetious designs than will be found in this burlesque work on the National Assembly of the Second French Republic.

- 1142 LISLE (Lecomte de). Poèmes Barbares. Small 8vo, paper, uncut. ORIGINAL EDITION. Paris, n. d.

1142a LISLE. Poesies Barbares. Small 8vo, half calf, gilt.
Paris, 1862

1143 [LONGUS.] Les Amours Pastorales de DAPHNIS et CHLOÉ avec Figures. Engraved false title, vignette on title, plates, some erotic, vignette head-pieces and woodcut borders, etc. Small 4to, half morocco.

La Haye, chez Jean Neaulme, 1764

RARE EDITION of Amyot's translation of "Daphnis and Chloe."

1144 LONGUS. Les Amours Pastorales de DAPHNIS et CHLOÉ [Traduites du Grec en Français par JACQUES AYMOT]. Minimo, fine old French morocco gilt, edges gilt.

[Paris], 1745

FINE COPY, containing engraved frontispiece by Coypel, several vignettes, and the famous series of 28 plates, fine impressions, engraved after designs by the Regent, Duke of Orleans.

It is a beautiful copy of the edition of 1745, but lacks unfortunately pages 83 and 84.

1145 LOSSOW (H.). Metamorphosen. 12 beautiful reproductions of the charming drawings of LOSSOW—MOSTLY NUDES—and with rubricated and tinted title. Large 4to, loose in fresh cloth portfolio, gilt, with inside flaps. Munich, 1884

EROTIC. These charming studies after the "Metamorphoses" of Ovid represent "Pygmalion and Galatea," "The Three Graces," "Jupiter and Io," "Europa and the Bull," "Andromeda," "Daphne," "Diana and her Nymphs Surprised," "Dejanira," "Rape of Proserpine," "Rape of Orithya," "Judgment of Paris" and "The Sirens."

1146 LOUIS XI.—La Chronique de LOUIS XI. dite Chronique Scandaleuse Faussement Attribuée a JEAN DE TROYES Restituée a son Véritable Auteur par AUGUSTE VITU. 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, Librairie des Bibliophiles, 1873

RARE. No. 220 of limited edition of 350 numbered copies on "papier vergé" printed by Jouaust. This volume is valuable on account of its entering into the details of many of the intrigues that Louis the Eleventh enjoyed with women of mean condition.

HANDSOME SET OF FAUBLAS.

1147 LOUVET DE COUVRAY (J. B.). LES AMOURS DU CHEVALIER DE FAUBLAS, Troisième Edition revue par l'auteur. Erotic plates after the designs of MELLE, MARILLIER, MONNET, DEMARNE, etc., engraved by HALBON, DUPRÉEL, CHOFFARD, LE MIRE and others. 4 vols. 8vo, half crushed citron levant morocco, gilt top, edges gilt. Paris, an VI.

RARE and VERY EROTIC.

1148 LUCIUS DE PATRAS. La Luciade ou l'Ane, avec le Texte Grec revu sur Plusieurs Manuscrits. Erotic title and plates before letters. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, A. Bobée, 1818

EROTIC and RARE. Written in the style of the "Golden Ass" of Apuleius, by Lucius de Patras, a Greek writer who lived in the second century of this era.

"J'ai lu les 'Metamorphoses' de Lucius de Patras. La diction en est claire et élégante, le style plein de douceur. Il évite avec soin les agencements insolites de mots; mais pour le fond des choses, il recherche le merveilleux outre mesure: c'est en quelque sorte un second Lucien. Les deux premiers livres reproduisent presque littéralement l'ouvrage de Lucien intitulé, 'Lucius ou l'Ane,' à moins que ce ne soit Lucien qui ait copié Lucius."—PHOTON.

THE AMOURS OF THE DUKE MARSHAL DE LUXEMBOURG—VERY RARE.

- 1149 LUXEMBOURG (Marechal Duc de). Histoire de Ses Amours. Minimo, red crinkled morocco, extra gilt, gold inside borders, edges gilt. Cologne, Pierre Batanar, 1694

EROTIC and VERY RARE. With curious allegorical frontispiece depicting the hump-backed Duke, "France" and "Glory." This little volume narrates the amorous intrigues of this great Marshal of France, who, among other great victories, defeated King William the Third of England, at the battle of Nerwinde. On one occasion, it is stated, that King said with angry impatience—"What! shall I never beat this hump-back fellow?" "Hump-back fellow!", the Marshal remarked, "What does he know of my back? He never saw it."

- 1150  ACROBE (Ambroise). La Flore Parnographique —Glossaire de l'Ecole Naturaliste extrait des Œuvres de M. EMILE ZOLA et de ses Disciples. With illustrations by PAUL LISSON. Small 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, 1883

A philological curiosity and a dictionary of Zolaistic argot.

- 1151 MAILLARD (Firmin). Recherches Historiques et Critiques sur la Morgue. Small 8vo, boards, rough edges. Paris, 1860

Printed on "papier vergé." This volume on the Paris Morgue is very scarce.

- 1152 MARMONTEL (J. F.). Contes Moraux par M MARMONTEL de l'Académie Française. Portrait by COCHIN, engraved by St. AUBIN, engraved titles and plates from the designs of GRAVELOT. 3 vols. small 8vo, half morocco gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut. Paris, J. Merlin, 1765

VERY RARE and charming edition of these delightful tales, which are the antithesis of what their title represents. Marmontel's early success as a dramatic author led him into a whirl of dissipation of which the above have been considered as a mark of his repentance therefor. He was made Historiographer of France through the influence of Madame de Pompadour. For a satire on the Duke D'Aumont, he was sent to the Bastille and lost his position as sole editor of the "Mercure de France," in which he published the "Moral Tales."

The above copy was priced $30, vide inserted catalogue cutting.

- 1153 MAROLLES (Michel de, abbé de Villeloin). Le Livre des Peintres et Graveurs. Small 8vo, totally uncut. Paris, 1872

Second edition of the "Bibliothèque Elzevirienne." The above is edited, with notes, by Georges Duplessis. Limited edition of 572 copies, and the above is on "papier vergé."

New Orleans, 1877

- 1155 MASSIMI.—Hecatelegium ou les Cents Élégies Satiriques et Gaillardes de PACIFICO MASSIMI, Poète d'Ascoli, XVe Siècle—Littéralement traduit pour la première fois, texte Latin en regard. Thick large 8vo, sewed, uncut.
Paris, pour Isidore Liseux et ses amis, 1885

EROTIC LIMITED EDITION of 120 copies, of which the above is No. 53. On the cover it is stated:—"Avis aux Libraires, Edition privée. Ce volume ne doit pas être 'mis en vente ou expose dans les lieux publics' (Loi du 29 Juillet, 1881)."

"De tous ces ouvrages, c'est, en somme l'Hecatelegium qui survivra; Pacifico Massimi se place, grâce à ce recueil, parmi les poètes érotiques les plus audacieux. Le cynisme de certaines pièces n'a été dépassé par personne, pas même par Baffo; d'autres, parmi les élégies amoureuses sont gracieuses ou spirituelles. Nul, à notre connaissance, n'a encore fait la remarque qu'une centaine d'années avant Francisco Berni, qui a donné son nom au genre Bernesque. Pacifico avait inventé ce genre, et même l'avait du premier coup porté à sa perfection."—ISIDORE LISEUX.

- 1156 MATINÉES DU PALAIS ROYAL. 2 vols. in 1. Minimo, old mottled calf gilt, red edges. Paris, J. F. Bastien, 1772
Salacious and scandalous.

- 1157 MAYNARD (François). Priapées publiées pour la Première Fois d'après les Manuscrits, et Suivies de quelques Pièces Analogues du même Auteur, Extraites de Différents Recueils. Small 8vo, paper, uncut.
Freetown, imprimerie de la Bibliomaniac Society, 1864

EROTIC: LIMITED EDITION of 82 copies, of which 2 are on "peau vélin," 5 on "papier de Hollande," and 75 on "papier vergé." François Maynard was born in 1582, and died in 1646. He was the secretary of Queen Margaret of Navarre. Like his mistress, he loved lubricity and had a libidinous pen.

- 1158 MAZARINADES CYNIQUES (Les), c'est à scavoïr le Temperament Amphibologique des "Testicules" de MAZARIN et la Custode de la Reyne qui dit tout. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Cologne, 1649-51 (reprint)

LIMITED EDITION of 150 copies of this extraordinary little brochure, which is an infamous scandal as to the alleged relations existing between Cardinal Mazarin and the widow of Louis XIII.

- 1159 MEN AND MANNERS IN AMERICA. By the author of "Cyril Thornton." Large 8vo, cloth. Phila., 1833
- 1160 MENDES (Catulle). Poesies, i. e., Philomela, Paulelëia, Sérénades, Pagode, Soirs Moroses, Hesperus, le Soleil de Minuit, etc. 5 vols. small 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, 1885

 WIJN, also fleurons. 2 vols. minimo, bound by E. ROUS-SELLE, in crushed dark green levant morocco, top edges gilt. Brussels, chez George de Backer, 1699

ORIGINAL EDITION in French and EXCESSIVELY RARE.

Wheeler, in his Dictionary of Fiction, calls the above—"a novel of low life, the first of a class well known in Spanish literature under the name of the 'gusti picaresco' or the style of the rogues, and made famous all over the world in the brilliant imitation of it, Le Sage's 'Gil Blas.'" W. H. Hurlbut says:—"Faithfully executed [it] would exhibit . . . the type of the low-minded, merry-making, vulgar and shallow 'Yankee,' the ideal Yankee, in whom European prejudices find, gracefully combined, the attractive traits of a Gines de Passamonte and a Joseph Surface, a LAZARILLO DE TORMES, and a Scapen and an Autolycus."

- 1163 MENDOZA. Life and Adventures of LAZARILLO DE TORMES, translated by THOMAS ROSCOE; also Life and Adventures of GUZMAN D'ALFARACHE, or the Spanish Rogue, by MATEO ALEMAN, and translated by JOHN H. BRADY. With eight fine etchings by R. DE LOS RIOS. 2 vols. fresh cloth, totally uncut. London, 1881

MERAY'S TROUVERES—BOUND BY AMAND.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF THOMAS FROGNALL DIBDIN'S EDITION OF MORE'S "UTOPIA."

1183 MORE (Sir Thomas). UTOPIA, translated by RAPHE ROB-INSON, a. d. 1551, with copious Notes (including the whole of Dr. WARNER's) and a Bibliographical Introduction by Dr. T. F. DIBDIN. Portrait and wood engravings on the title and throughout the volume, with the RARE PLATE OF THE MORE FAMILY. 4to, elegantly crinkled morocco, blind and gilt tooled, inside gold border, edges gilt, and probably bound by BEDFORD at an early period of his career (foxed slightly). London, William Bulmer, 1808

"LARGE PAPER. FORTY COPIES ONLY PRINTED; with the PRIVATE PLATE of 'The Family of Sir Thomas More,' which is not in the small paper copies."—MENZIES CATALOGUE, "prepared by JOSEPH SABIN."

"The Romance of the Utopia has a very common fate upon it—to be more known and admired all the world over than here at home."—BP. BURNET.

"When the Utopia of Sir Thomas More was first published it occasioned a pleasant mistake. This political romance represents a perfect, but visionary republic, in an island supposed to have been newly discovered in America. 'As this was the age of discovery,' says Granger,' the learned Budæus, and others, took it for genuine history; and considered it as highly expedient that missionaries should be sent thither, in order to convert so wise a nation to Christianity.'—D'ISRAELI'S Curiosities of Literature.

- 1184 MOUTON (Eugène). La Physionomie Comparée Traité de l'Expression dans l'Homme, dans la Nature et dans l'Art. Portrait of the author. Thick large 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1885

- 1185 MUSÉE POUR RIRE, texte par MAURICE ALHON, LOUIS HUART et CH. PHILIPON. With numerous facetious illustrations, some full page, by eminent French caricaturists. Vols. 1, 2 and 3. 4to, old half roan (foxed and stained). Paris, 1839-40

- 1186 [MUSSET (Alfred de) and GEORGE SAND.] Gamiani ou Deux Nuits d'Exces par Alcide, Baron de M * * *. Minimo, sewed, uncut. [Paris], a Londres, chez le concierge du Pigs Club, n. d.

EXTREMELY EROTIC, VERY LIMITED EDITION, and written by Madame Dudevant and Alfred de Musset during the period of their liaison. De Musset, it is well known, and like his ancestor Mathurin Regnier, affected the saturnalian orgies described in this bibelot, which is equal to anything of the Marquis de Sade's in lubricity. Only a limited edition was printed:—"cette édition miniscule de ce livre, le chef-d'œuvre du roman érotique moderne n'a été tirée qu'à 104 exemplaires non mis dans la commerce et uniquement réservés aux membres du Pigs-Club."

- 1187 NARREY (Charles). L'Education d'ACHILLE. Small 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, 1885

This is the modern French La Rochefoucauld and Chesterfield, and is adapted to our civilization. The old authorities are played out. With this MS. note on page 35:—"As a rule now-a-days people do not know how to flatter, it is a lost art in France. If you wish to flatter Hugo do not tell him that he's a great poet, which is true; tell him he is a great statesman, which is false."

- 1188 NATALIE par Mme. de * * *, publié par N. A. DE SABANDY. 8vo, half calf, gilt. Paris, 1833

UNIQUE COLLECTION OF SATIRICAL CARTOONS, BROADSIDES, NEWSPAPERS, BROCHURES, ETC., PRINCIPALLY ISSUED DURING THE PARIS COMMUNE.

- 1208 PARIS COMMUNE, DECLINE AND FALL OF THE FRENCH EMPIRE, FRANCO-PRUSSIAN WAR, THE THIRD FRENCH REPUBLIC, ETC. AN EXTRAORDINARY COLLECTION OF REVOLUTIONARY AND COM-

MUNISTIC COLORED CARTOONS, BROADSIDES, NEWSPAPERS, PAMPHLETS, ETC., ISSUED DURING THOSE PERIODS. In 3 half roan scrap books and 3 portfolios. (6)

UNIQUE. This is one of the remarkable numbers in the Pene du Bois Collection.

It consists of three Scrap Books—one folio and two large quarto—containing 461 caricatures and cartoons, mostly colored by hand and three portfolios in which are—the “Journal Officiel” 260 numbers; 50 miscellaneous newspapers published during 1870-71; 12 broadsides, 1870-71; 7 proclamations of the Commune; 66 pamphlets, some of great rarity, including the Père Duchesne Series; 10 revolutionary ballads and 32 miscellaneous newspapers, 1868-79.

These constitute an aggregate of nearly 900 separate pieces, each of which is full of historical interest and united they make a whole of great value and uniqueness.

Nothing more terrible can be shown in the history of the world than the indictment of the Second Bonapartist Empire exhibited in the collection of cartoons in the three scrap books. The Parisian caricaturists seemed to have concentrated the extremest bitterness of hate in their endeavors to delineate to the people of France the treacheries, tyrannies and lusts of the twenty years of the reign of the Emperor “Badinguet.” Himself, his wife, his mistresses, his son, his relatives and his ministers of state are presented in every manner possible to the mind of men that could in any way horrible betoken infamy and degradation of the deepest and most criminal dye. Their personal peculiarities, their debaucheries, even incests, are sketched with pencils and crayons tipped, so to say, with vitriol. The detestation of the Republican and Communistic artists seem to have particularly been centered on the Empress Eugénie. The sacred ties of a mother and wife are as bitterly attacked as could possibly be conceived by even a Marquis de Sade, who had turned anarchist and still preserved the lecherous and salacious environments which are a necessary concomitant of aristocracies and dynasties. Many of the plates, colored by hand, are very erotic, at times vulgarly so, and yet others display as much genius of conception as we find in the drawings of Gillray, Hogarth and Rowlandson.

Not only are the “Man of Sedan” and his intimates, Fleury, Maupas, Rouher, Persigny, Pietri, Lebœuf, Ollivier, Duvernois, Granier de Cassagnac and others, specified as being co-partners in the affections of the Empress, but vile orgies are pictured as taking place in the Tuileries and St. Cloud, which, according to the French Republican mind, appear to have been considered monster brothels.

The Germans and the Versaillists are regarded as equally detestable. Thiers and Jules Favre are shown in as vile colors as Bismarck and Kaiser William. The Archbishop of Paris and his clergy are also the target of the vile attacks of these artists of the Commune, who seem to have imagined the cassock was simply a cloak for the most abandoned debaucheries.

On the other hand, these caricaturists exhibit as heroes and martyrs the men of the Commune, and among these 461 cartoons will be found portraits of all the notables who figured in Paris during the Spring of 1871. There is also a blank vellum commission in the National Guard of the Republic of 1870.

The “Journal Officiel,” or government publication, which may be considered the text to these cartoons, begins September 4th, 1870, and ends May 23d, 1871, only six numbers being short. It includes those issued on the last day of the Empire and the first day of the Third French Republic.

These few suggestions as to the contents of this collection give but a faint idea of what it contains. It must be carefully examined to be appreciated and understood. Let it suffice to say that these cartoons make a complete pictorial history of the Paris Commune. The collection was gathered in the French capital by a friend of Mr. Pene du Bois, who was locked up in Paris during both the sieges by the Germans and Versaillists. To duplicate the collection is impossible—only one anything similar has been in this country, and for which a second-hand book firm asked close upon ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS!

FACETIOUS and limited edition of this reprint.

ORIGINAL EDITION OF THE RARE "PARIS CHANTANT."

- 1211 PARIS CHANTANT, Romances, Chansons et Chansonnettes Contemporains—Texte par MARC FOURNIER, FERTIAULT, FESTEAU, MOREAU, HÉG, EUGÈNE BRIFAUT, etc. Illustrated with numerous page wood-engravings and cuts by French humorous designers—also music by FESTEAU, SCUDO, A. HARQUERIE, ED. DOUVE, J. VIMEUX, FRANÇOIS SCHUBERT, etc. Large 8vo, half red morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. Paris, Lavigne, 1845

VERY SCARCE and original edition of these facetious songs, with good impressions of the wood engravings.

- 1212 PARNY (Evariste). Œuvres Choiesies de, précédés d'une Notice sur sa Vie et ses Ouvrages. Engraved front. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf. Paris and Brussels, 1824-26

VERY SCARCE. The first volume is dated Paris, 1826, and is titled as complete in itself—it contains a life of the poet Parny and commences with his "Poesies Erotiques." The second volume is dated Brussels, 1824, and the title states that it contains—"la Guerre des Dieux," "le Paradis Perdu," "les Galanteries de la Bible," "les Rosecroix," and "Pièces inédites."

Voltaire called Parny—"son cher Tibulle," and François de Nantes proclaimed him—"le premier poete classique du Siècle de Louis XVI." Chateaubriand wrote of him:—"Je n'ai point connu d'écrivain qui fût plus semblable à ses ouvrages; poete et creole il ne lui fallait que le ciel de l'Inde, une fontaine, un palmier et une femme."

- 1213 PARNY. Œuvres Diverses, Nouvelle Edition Corrigée et Considérablement Augmentée. Portrait. 2 vols. in 1. 12mo, old calf gilt, edges gilt. Paris, 1802

RARE. The first volume is devoted almost entirely to the "Poésies Erotiques" of Parny.

- 1214 [PENE (Henri de).] Paris Mystérieux par "Mané," and le Paris Viveur par "Mané." Together 2 vols. Small 8vo, half red morocco, top edges gilt. Paris, 1861-62

"Mané" is the pseudonym that Henri de Pène, the uncle of Mr. Pène du Bois, used for his contributions to the "Independance Belge," after his famous duels, in alphabetical order, with the officers of the army in Paris. He had written a harmless paragraph in the "Figaro" that the army was good for nothing but to drain the refreshment tables at public balls, and sustained that opinion with his sword in duels with officers whose names ran from "A" to "H." The tournaments ceased at "H," when a man named Hyene wounded him in the lung.

1215 PENE. Trop Belle. Small 8vo, paper, uncut. Paris, 1886

VERY SCARCE AND FACETIOUS.

UNIQUE COPY OF THE CURMER EDITION OF PERRAULT, STRUCK OFF FROM ENGRAVED PLATES—DELIGHTFULLY ILLUSTRATED.

1217 PERRAULT (Charles). Contes du Temps Passe contenant les Fées, le Petit Chaperon Rouge, Barbe-Bleue, le Chat Botté, la Belle ou Bois Dormant, Cendrillon, le Petit Poucet, Riquet à la Houppe, et Peau d'Ane—Précédés d'une Notice Littéraire sur CHARLES PERRAULT par M. E. DE LA BEDOLLIÈRE. Illustrated by PAUQUET, MARVY, JEANRON, JACQUE and BEAUCÉ—with the text engraved by BLANCHARD. Large 8vo. Bound by E. ROUSSELLE in fresh half purple morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut. Paris, L. Curmer, 1843

UNIQUE COPY of this very beautiful edition of Curmer's Perrault, of which copies sell in Paris for 350 francs, vide inserted catalogue cutting. The above has a portrait of Perrault by Duflos inserted, also India proofs mounted on Japan paper of etchings by A. Lalauze.

MAGNIFICENT EDITION ON JAPAN PAPER OF ZELIS AU BAIN—BOUND BY PAGNANT.

1218 PEZAY (Le Marquis de). ZELIS AU BAIN.—Poème en Quatre Chants.—Réimpression sur l'édition de "Genève, s. d." With EISEN's erotic plates engraved by DE MALVAL, also head and tail pieces and initial leteers designed by MESPLES,—every page surrounded by a rose border. 8vo, handsomely bound by PAGNANT in brown crushed levant morocco extra, inside gold borders, rounded corners and gilt edges, in leather-lined drop case.

Paris, Edouard Rouveyre, 1882

One of 10 copies on JAPAN PAPER out of a LIMITED EDITION of 600 in all. The plates and vignettes are in duplicate and in two tints—sepia and black. The beautiful typography is the work of Unsinger's press.

The French poet, the Marquis de Pezay, was one of the instructors of Louis the Sixteenth. As an imitator of Dorat he was styled—"Le clair de lune." De Pezay was the intimate friend of Voltaire, Rousseau and Grimm.

- 1219 PICCOLOMINI (Alessandro). La Raffaella Dialogue de la Gentille Education des Femmes, Traduction Nouvelle, Texte Italien en regard par ALCIDE BONNEAU. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, Isidore Liseux, 1884

No. 134 of "Edition unique à cent cinquante (150) exemplaires numérotés." This work was written by Archbishop Piccolomini of Patras and Coadjutor of Sienna in the Sixteenth Century. It is decidedly erotic when it touches on carnal matters, particularly in the dialogue between a young woman and an old rouée of the female persuasion.

- 1220 PIEDAQUEL (Alexandre). Hier. Illustrated with charming designs in sepia by PAUL AVRIL, vignettes and frontispiece. Large 8vo, sewed, totally uncut. Paris, Claude Motteroz, 1882

No. 365 of limited edition of 750 numbered copies on China, Japan, tinted and vellum papers. The beautifully printed text is rubricated.

- 1221 PIGAULT-LEBRUN (G. C. A.). Le Citateur. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Brussels, Gay et Douce, 1879

LIMITED EDITION. "Bibliothèque Verte," No. 418 and printed in green ink. Pigault-Lebrun was the literary father of both Paul de Kock and Honoré de Balzac. The "Citateur" first appeared at Paris in 1811 under the imprint of "Hambourg." In that year Napoleon the First, furious at an aggressive bull of the Pope, ordered an edition of 100,000 copies of this satirical and erotic work to be distributed. After the Concordat the work was suppressed—"sévérement prohibé et condamné en France." During the Restoration it was frequently seized as contraband and was put on the Index as immoral and irreligious in 1825 and 1827.

SPLENDID SET OF PIGAULT-LEBRUN'S COMPLETE WORKS, NEARLY ALL OF WHICH ARE FACETIOUS.

- 1222 PIGAULT-LEBRUN. ŒUVRES COMPLÈTES. 20 vols. 8vo, half crushed red levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut. Paris, J. N. Barba, 1822-24

A HANDSOME SET of the works of Pigault-Lebrun and printed by Firmin-Didot.

THE REMARKABLE AND EROTIC BIBLIOGRAPHIES OF PISANUS-FRAXI—LIMITED EDITION.

- 1223 PISANUS-FRAXI.—INDEX LIBRORUM PROHIBITORUM, BEING NOTES BIO—BIBLIO—ICONO—GRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL ON CURIOUS AND UNCOMMON BOOKS. BY PISANUS-FRAXI. INDIA PAPER PROOFS of facetious front, and "flagellation horse," also fac-similes; the volume handsomely printed in red and black on toned paper. Thick 4to, half turkey morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut.

London, privately printed, 1877

VERY RARE. Limited edition of 250 copies. The frontispiece is in three states on JAPAN, INDIA and HOLLAND papers. The Falconer copy with this frontispiece in only one state sold in June of last year for $67 00. "Improper books, however useful to the student or dear to the collector, are not 'virginibus puerisque'; they should be used with caution even by the mature; they should be looked upon as poisons and treated as such; should be (so to say) distinctly labeled, and only confided to those who understand their potency and are capable of rightly using them."—PISANUS-FRAXI.

- 1224 PISANUS-FRAXI.—CENTURIA LIBRORUM ABS-CONDITORUM, BEING NOTES BIO—BIBLIO—ICONO—
GRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL ON Curious and Uncommon Books by PISANUS-FRAXI. Front., plates and fac- similes. Thick 4to, half turkey morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. London, privately printed, 1879

VERY RARE and high priced, the Falconer copy having sold for $59.00.
Limited edition of 250 copies.

"The present volume is a sequel to the 'Index Librorum Prohibitorum,' which I had privately printed in 1877, and might with propriety have formed a second volume of that work, had I not for several reasons preferred rather to alter the first part of the title, and to let each volume stand by itself, the more so as each volume is complete in itself."—PISANUS-FRAXI, Preliminary Remarks in above.

"This book for men alone is meant,
Book-worms or bibliophiles anent,
Of solid mind, of serious bent,
On curious, hidden books intent,
On odd research and learning."

- 1225 POGGIO. The Facetiæ, or Jocose Tales of POGGIO, now first Translated into English with the Latin Text. Beau- tifully printed. 2 vols. small 8vo, vellum, uncut.

Paris, 1879

Only a small edition printed. Poggio was the first who edited anything in this taste, and the Council of Trent placed this work on the Index Expurgatorius.
In addition to the original versions of tales familiar to the readers of Rabelais, La Fontaine, etc., these charmingly printed volumes are full of rich stories which do not appear elsewhere.

- 1226 POGGIO.—Les Facéties de POGGE. Traduits en Français avec le Texte Latin.—Édition complète. 2 vols. small 8vo, vellum, totally uncut. Paris, 1878

Isidore Liseux's edition in the "Petite Collection Elzevirienne."

- 1227 POGGIO.—Un Viellard doit-il se Marier? Dialogue de POGGE, Florentin. Traduit en Français pour la Première
Fois par ALCIDE BONNEAU—Texte Latin en Regard.
Rubricated title. Minimo, paper, totally uncut.

Paris, Isidore Liseux, 1877

LIMITED EDITION on "papier vergé," and in the "Petite Collection Elze-virienne."

- 1228 POOLE (W. H.). Anglo-Israel, or the Anglo-Saxon Nation identified with the Lost Tribes of Israel. 8vo, paper.

N. Y., 1880

- 1229 POPE (Alexander). La Dunciade, Poeme, en Dix Chants.
Nouvelle edition, revue, corrigée et enrichie d'un Commentaire plus complet que tous ceux des Editions précédentes. Portrait of the translator, CHARLES PALLISOT, by MONNET. Vellum gilt, red edges. A Londres, 1781

VERY SCARCE, with an interesting letter of Palissot on Claude Joseph Dorat.

- 1230 POUGENS (Charles, of the French Institute, etc.). Contes en Vers et Poésies, also "les Quatre Ages," by the same. 2 vols. minimo, calf gilt, top edges gilt.

Paris, Didot, 1820-28

VERY SCARCE. The last described is—"Seconde édition suivie du Portrait d'une Jeune Fille par un Papillon."

UNIQUE, MAGNIFICENT AND CHARMING EDITIONS OF
"MANON LESCAUT."

- 1231 PREVOST D'EXILES (Antoine Francois, L'Abbé). Manon Lescaut. Portraits, etchings, engraved title and head and tail-pieces. 4to. Elegantly bound by R. W. SMITH in crushed brown levant morocco gilt, doublé purple morocco, extra gilt, edges gilt and in leather-lined drop case.

Paris, Glady frères, 1875

No. 12 of 50 copies printed on China paper throughout of this charming volume of the "Collection de Galaup de Chasteuil."

This beautifully designed reliure is taken from a volume which belonged to Queen Margaret. The back is tooled with the "Marguerite" flower or daisy. On each side is a wreath of acorns and daisies. The purple doublé is one mass of tooled gold daisies, with stalks and leaves.

This reliure is extremely creditable to the American binder, who has taken as his model one of the most tasteful examples of sixteenth century French bibliopegy.

- 1232 PREVOST D'EXILES. Manon Lescaut. Illustrated with portrait by F. SCHMIDT and eight fine plates, PROOFS BEFORE ALL LETTERS, and EXTRA ILLUSTRATED with portrait and 10 plates by J. CHAUVET, also portrait and 10 plates by LEOPOLD FLAMENG on heavy ribbed toned paper—making 31 plates in all. 8vo. Bound by ADOLPH BERTRAND in crushed dark blue levant morocco, extra gilt, rounded corners, inside dentelle gold borders, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, Jouaust, 1867

UNIQUE, EXTRA ILLUSTRATED, and No. 4 of a LIMITED EDITION of 20 copies entirely on CHINA PAPER and numbered. This was Jules Janin's copy, and has his "ex-libris" on the half-title. This edition is a reprint of the original Amsterdam edition of 1753, edited by G. D'Heilly and F. Steenackers.

- 1233 PREVOST D'EXILES. Histoire du Chevalier des Grieux et de Manon Lescaut. Engraved title by BRACQUEMOND. Minimo. Elegantly bound by MARIUS-MICHEL in crushed green levant morocco, with beautiful ornamentation on both sides in colored leathers (depicting a bunch of wild lilies of the valley, red, white and purple, upon which a butterfly has alighted), inside gold borders, rounded corners, edges gilt on marble.

Paris, Alphonse Lemerre, 1870

LIMITED EDITION on white papier vergé and in a delightful reliure of Marius-Michel.

- 1234 PREVOST D'EXILES. Histoire de Manon Lescaut et du Chevalier des Grieux par l'ABBE PRÉVOST, précédé d'une Notice Historique sur l'Auteur par JULES JANIN. Front. with portrait; profusely illustrated with page wood engravings ON INDIA PAPER, and woodcuts by TONY JOHAN-NOT; also false titles printed in gold. Large 8vo, half purple morocco, gilt edges (corners broken).

Paris, Ernest Bourdin et Cie, n. d.

LARGE PAPER, with splendid impressions of the engravings and beautifully printed by Lacrampe with fancy head and tail pieces and fancy initial letters. The page plates are proofs before letters on India paper.

- 1235 PRISME (Le), Encyclopédie Morale du Dix-Neuvième Siècle. With illustrations by DAUMIER, GAGNIET, GAVARNI, GRANDVILLE, MALAPEAU, MEISSONIER, PAUQUET, PENGUILLY, RAYMOND PELEZ and TRIMOLET. Large 8vo, half morocco (slightly foxed and binding rubbed).

Paris, L. Curmer, 1841

- 1236 QUANTIN (A.). Collection des Chefs d'Œuvres Antiques:—OVIDE, Les Amours, traduction du CTE. DE SEGUIER. With tinted vignette engravings by MÉAULLE, after the designs of MEYER—borders colored in pink. Minimo. Bound by EMILE ROUSSELLE in crushed dark blue levant morocco, super elegant, with red morocco mosaiced into the back and sides, rounded corners, inside gold dentelle borders, edges gilt, covers bound in.

Paris, A. Quantin, 1879

VERY LIMITED EDITION ON CHINA PAPER out of an edition of 350 in all. With inserted Cazin portrait of Ovid after Marillier and erotic plate by Bartolozzi.

A more thoroughly charming series of volumes than the "Collections des Chefs d'Œuvres Antiques," from the press of M. Quantin, it would be difficult to name. In size, the volumes range with the celebrated editions of Horace and Virgil, etc., of M. Didot. The type is a round, open letter, devoid of shading, with the appearance of having been cut rather than founded, the impression being eminently pleasing and novel. Each volume is worked in two or more colors, with the vignettes—which have been designed specially for the series—in colors and gold in some of the volumes. The paper is of the finest quality, while the press-work is as perfect as modern appliances and the utmost care can render it. The volumes constituting this series will undoubtedly be eagerly sought for and treasured by collectors and amateurs in years to come. As a set, they are already scarce and difficult to procure.

- 1237 QUANTIN.—POÉSIES de ANACREON et de SAPHO—Traduction en Vers de M. DE LA ROCHE-AMYON, ancien Professeur de Rhetorique. Illustrated with erotic vignettes in tint from the designs of P. AVRIL—the borders in light green. Minimo, bound by AMAND in crushed red levant morocco extra, rounded corners, inside gold dentelle borders, top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in.

Paris, A. Quantin, 1882

JAPAN PAPER copy and limited edition of 50 copies. Bound by Amand of Paris.

- 1238 QUANTIN-VIRGILE, les Bucoliques, traduction d'ANDRE LEFEVRE. Illustrated with vignettes in tint after the designs of AUGUSTE LOLOIR—the borders in light brown. Bound by AMAND in crushed blue levant morocco extra, rounded corners, inside dentelle gold borders, top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in. Paris, A. Quantin, 1881

JAPAN PAPER copy and limited edition of fifty. Bound by Amand.

- 1239 QUANTIN.—LUCIEN, Dialogues des Courtisanes, 'traduction et Notices par A. J. PONS. Illustrated with erotic vignettes in tint, heightened with gold from the designs of H. SCOTT and F. MÉAULLE—the borders in green. Minimo, bound by AMAND in crushed blue levant morocco extra, rounded corners, inside dentelle gold borders, top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in.

Paris, A. Quantin, 1881

JAPAN PAPER copy and limited edition of fifty. Bound by Amand.

DE FAURE'S EROTIC 'POEM OF "LA TOILETTE DES DAMES," ON JAPAN PAPER—WITH THE PLATES IN DIFFERENT STATES, AND BOUND BY PAGNANT.

- 1240 QUATRE HEURES (Les)—de la Toilette des Dames—Poème Erotique par DE FAURE—Reimpression sur l'Édition de Paris, BASTIEN, 1779. With frontispiece, plates, vignette head and tail pieces by LECLERC, engraved by ARRIVET, HALBON, LEGRAND, LEROY and PATAS—IN DIFFERENT STATES. 8vo, new crushed levant morocco extra, inside gold tooling, gilt edges, by PAGNANT.

Paris, Edouard Rouveyre, 1880

One of 10 copies on JAPAN PAPER out of a limited edition of 600 in all, splendidly printed by Unsinger of Paris, with rose borders.

The very erotic plates and vignettes of Leclerc are in three states—bistre, black and "crayon sanguine (genre Boucher)." This volume was dedicated to the Princess de Lamballe, the Sapphic friend of Marie Antoinette.

- 1241 RABELAIS (F.). Œuvres de, Nouvelle Edition, Augmentée de Plusieurs Extraits, etc., et Notes. etc., par "L. JACOB, BIBLIOPHILE." Portrait (foxed slightly). 12mo, morocco gilt, edges gilt. Paris, 1843

This is a curiosity of literature and reliure, being a copy of Rabelais bound in a religious manner with Latin cross on the sides and lettered "Paroissien Complet," doubtless for the spiritual edification of some good Father, or for some holy woman's boudoir. It may, however, have been done in honor of the author, who was the Priest of Meudon as well as the inventor of the immortal Pantagruel and Gargantua.

MADAME DE POMPADOUR'S COPY OF RABELAIS.

- 1242 RABELAIS. — ŒUVRES DE MAITRE FRANÇOIS RABELAIS publiées sous le Titre de Faits et Dits du Géant Gargantua et de son Fils Pantagruel avec la Prognostication, l'Épître de Limosin, la Crème Philosophale, deux Épitres à deux Villes de Mœurs et d'Humeurs Différentes, et des Remarques Historiques et Critiques de MONSIEUR LE DUCHAT, sur tout l'Ouvrage. Engraved title by J. B. SCOTIN. 6 vols. small 8vo, sprinkled calf, gilt backs. [Paris], 1732

VERY RARE. "Nouvelle Edition augmentée de quelques remarques nouvelles." With eighteenth century MS. inscription on the half-title of Vol. I.:—"BIB. DE MME. DE POMPADOUR, CABINET."

Take the scholarly Father Prout, Dean Swift, and the Rev. Laurence Sterne, at their very worst, throw in the rollicking spirit of the Rev. Thomas Barham, with a spice of the wit of that "eminent ascetic," Sydney Smith, flavor it strongly with the gross license of the "Table-Talk" of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther, add the profligacy of Boccaccio, and you then have something akin to the literary monstrosity called Rabelais.

ORIGINAL FOLIO EDITION OF DORE'S RABELAIS.

- 1243 RABELAIS. ŒUVRES. Texte Collationné sur les Éditiones Originales avec une vie de l'auteur, des Notes et un Glossaire. Several hundred illustrations by GUSTAVE DORÉ. 2 vols. thick square folio, cloth gilt, uncut (joints broken). Paris, Garnier Frères, 1873

"Cardinal Duprat was so enamored of Rabelais's works that he was never without a copy of them. Wherever he went, his Rabelais went with him. Cardinal Jean du Bellay was possessed of the same feeling; he admired Rabelais so much, that he refused a learned individual of the day a seat at his table because he had not read THE BOOK, for so Rabelais' singular narrative was called."—VENTOUILLAG.

- 1244 RABELAIS.—Les Œuvres de MAISTRE FRANÇOIS RABELAIS Accompagnées d'une Notice sur sa Vie et ses Ouvrages, d'une Etude Bibliographique, de Variantes, d'un Commentaire, d'une Table des Noms Propres et d'un Glossaire par CH. MARTZ-LAVEAUX. Printer's mark on titles, fleurons and fancy initial letters. 3 vols. small 8vo, sewed, totally uncut. Paris, Lemerre, 1868-73

LIMITED and handsomely printed edition on Holland paper by J. Claye.

"Beyond a doubt Rabelais was among the deepest as well as boldest thinkers of his age. His buffoonery was not merely Brutus' rough stick, which contained a rod of gold: it was necessary as an amulet against the monks and legates. . . . The caricature of his filth and zanyism show fully he both knew and felt the danger in which he stood. I could write a treatise in praise of the moral elevation of Rabelais' work, which could make the church stare and the conventicle groan, and yet would be truth and nothing but the truth. I class Rabelais with the great creative minds of the world, Shakespeare, Dante, Cervantes, etc."—S. T. COLERIDGE.

- 1245 REBOUL (Jean, de Nîmes). Les Traditionnelles Nouvelles Poesies. Small 8vo. Bound by V. CHAMPS in crushed dark blue levant morocco extra gilt and mosaiced on back with red morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in. Paris, 1857

This curiosity of French literature was written by Jean Reboul, the famous baker-poet.

FACETIOUS AND SATIRICAL WORK ON MONASTICISM —WITH PLATES.

- 1246 RENVERSEMENT DE LA MORALE CHRETIENNE par les Desordres du Monachisme—Omstootinge der Christelyke Zeden door de wan-schik en ongeregeltheden der Moniken. 25 caricatures of ecclesiastics. Small 4to. Bound by AD. BERTRAND in half morocco gilt, edges gilt. n. p., n. d.

ORIGINAL EDITION, VERY RARE and FACETIOUS, with preface in French and Dutch, and the explanatory text in Dutch. On the title it is stated that the book was sold in Holland by permission of Pope Innocent XI.

REMARKABLE COLLECTION OF THE STRANGE AND FACETIOUS WRITINGS OF RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE.

- 1247 RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE.—Les Gynographes ou Idées de Deux Honnêtes-Femmes sur un Projet de Règlement Proposé à toute l'Europe, pour mettre les Femmes à leur place, et opérer le bonheur des deux sexes; avec des Notes Historiques et Justificatives suivies des Noms des Femmes célèbres; Recueillis par N. E. RETIF DE LA BRETONNE, éditeur de l'Ouvrage. 8vo, half cloth, rough edges, by CAMILLE. La Haie, 1777

VERY RARE. The two parts in one volume with false title. The second part contains the notes. Complete in itself and the third volume of the series "Idées Singulières."

One of Restif de la Bretonne's rarest works, and in which he usually used to narrate the vicissitudes and amours of members of his family.

"Restif's books are now very rare; they will become more so, as they are now sought after by the great amateurs of bibliographical curiosities. These books contain the most interesting documents for the history of the manners of the time. The peasants, the working men, the men of the people never had a more faithful or more sympathetic painter than Restif de la Bretonne. His works, in which, as in a mirror, the various aspects of French society from 1760 to 1805 are reflected, will be monuments of the manners and morals of that period, as the works of Petronius and Apuleius are of the Roman antiquity."—PAUL LACROIX.

- 1248 RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE. Le Pied de Fanchette ou l'Orpheline Française; Histoire Intéressante et Morale. 3 vols. in 1. Minimo, half sheep gilt, red edges.

La Haye, 1769

VERY RARE. With inserted heraldic book-plate—coronet and supporters.

- 1249 [RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE.] Les Parisiennes ou XL. Caractères Généraux Pris dans les Mœurs Actuelles propres à Servir à l'Instruction des Personnes du Sexe. Plates, some mounted. 4 vols. small 8vo, half morocco gilt, marbled edges. Neuchatel, 1787

VERY RARE and arranged as follows—Vol. 1, "les Jeunes Filles et les Filles-à-Marier"; Vol. 2, "les Nouvelles Mariées et les Mariées depuis 3 ans"; Vol. 3, "les Epouses à imiter,—à fuir"; Vol. 4, "les Jeunes Mères et—de Grands-enfants."

In a note to a catalogue cutting inserted of a copy of the above priced 250 francs, it is stated the plates are by Binet.

- 1250 [RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE.] Les Posthumes; Lettres recues après la Mort du Mari, par sa Femme, qui le Croit à Florence. Par feu Cazotte. 4 vols. small 8vo. Bound by BEET in red morocco gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut, and in cloth drop case. Paris, chez Duchêne, 1802

VERY RARE, LIMITED EDITION and one of the most curious of the works of Restif. One of the strangest features of this set will be found at the end of the fourth volume, where is given a list of all his eccentric works then published, as well as all he calculated that he intended to. These amount to 777 Novels in 1001 Histories. A thorough analysis of Restif's projected mastodon literary labors is given and a list of 200 possible subscribers to "M. Nicholas ou le Cœur Humain Devoilé," beginning with the exiled King and Queen, who were then non-residents of France and did not return until after Napoleon was sent to Elba.

- 1251 RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE. Histoire des Mœurs et du Costume des Français dans le Dix-huitième Siècle, revue et corrigée par M. CHARLES BRUNET, Préface par M. ANATOLE DE MONTAIGLON, avec la Vie de FREUDENBERG traduite de l'Allemand pour la Première Fois; also Monument du Costume Physique et Moral de la Fin du XVIIIe Siècle ou Tableaux de la Vie, texte par RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE, revu et corrigé par M. CHARLES BRUNET, préface par M. ANATOLE DE MONTAIGLON. Illustrated with numerous plates—PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS. 2 vols. in 1. Folio, half red morocco, totally uncut.

Paris, Leon Willem, 1876-78

EROTIC and RARE. The first described of the above is No. 145 of 500 numbered copies of which the above is one of 370 on vellum paper; the other volume is No. 254 of a similar limited issue. This copy came from the library of "Andrew Dickson White," and has his inserted book-plate.

The "Mœurs et Costumes" are illustrated with 12 engravings, mostly erotic, designed by Sigismond Freudenberg and executed by the best engravers. The "Costume Physique et Moral" has 26 plates designed and engraved by Moreau le Jeune, and other celebrated artists. All are proofs before letters.

- 1252 [RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE.] Le Pornographe ou Idées d'un Honnête Homme sur une Projet de Règlement pour les Prostituées propre à Prévenir les Malheurs qu'Occasionne le Publicisme des Femmes avec des Notes Historiques et Justificatives et une Etude Critique du Docteur H. MIREUR DE MAISEILLE. Etched portrait by CHAUVET. Thick small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Brussels, Gay et Douce, 1879

No 511 of a LIMITED EDITION of 600 numbered copies. This curious volume, by the French "Richardson," as Lavater called him, is a strange appeal in favor of a reorganization of prostitution.

"Cette nouvelle réimpression du Pornographe est un glorieux hommage rendu à la mémoire de Rétif."—MIREUR.

- 1253 RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE. Monsieur Nicolas ou le Cœur Humain Dévoilé Memoires, Intimes de RESTIF DE LA BRETONNE. 14 vols. 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, Isidore Liseux, 1883

EROTIC and CURIOUS. Reprinted from the unique and most rare edition, published by Restif de la Bretonne himself in 1796. Charles Monselet says that of all the works of Restif, Monsieur Nicolas is without doubt the most extraordinary, and adds that there should be placed together in the same rank—the Confessions of Rousseau, Monsieur Nicolas and the Memoirs of Casanova.

"Monsieur Nicolas est peut-être supérieur aux 'Confessions de J. J. Rousseau,' si l'on veut considérer le chef-d'œuvre de Restif comme une anatomie morale du cœur humain."—BIBLIOPHILE JACOB.

- 1254 RHETORIQUE DES PUTAINS, ou la Fameuse Maquerelle, Ouvrage Imité de l'Italien. 2 vols. in 1. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut (one title only).

Paris, sur la copie imprimée à Rome aux Dépens du Saint Père, 1794 (reprint)

LIMITED EDITION of this erotic work, printed exclusively for the members of the Royal Society of Bibliophiles of Venice at the Ducal Palace. The plates to this edition were issued separately.

LA LANTERNE OF HENRI ROCHEFORT—EXTREMELY RARE AND CONSECUTIVE SET.

- 1257 ROCHEFORT (HENRI). LA LANTERNE, May 31st, 1868 (Vol. 1, No. 1), to October 16th, 1869, inclusive. 73 parts in 8 vols. Square minimo, half red roan (4), half vellum (3), and cloth (1). Paris, 1868-69

EXCESSIVELY RARE and particularly so in consecutive completeness like the above set, as nearly every number was rigidly suppressed upon publication by the Emperor Napoleon the Third's government. These small brochures of a size that could be readily carried in the pocket were a phenomenon in literature. Published every week and more or less secretly in Paris, and in Brussels or the Hague when impossible in the French metropolis, the numbers came out regularly, finding their way mysteriously into the hands of subscribers. It can be safely asserted that "la Lanterne" did more to destroy the Empire than even the Fall of Sedan. Rochefort never spared the Imperialists, and whether on French or neutral soil, he mercilessly lashed their infamies and internal rottenness. Had the Franco-Prussian war never taken place, the Napoleonic régime was doomed, for owing to no one's efforts more than Rochefort's, had the French people come to the conclusion that the system of government, which fostered such noxious reptiles and slimy vermin as the Emperor "Badinguet," and his mistress, "Margot Bellanger," should be put an end to. And it was, thanks to men like Henri Rochefort, that the French Republic is now a glorious and continuous fact in civilization. "Ça ira."

- 1258 ROQUELAURE (Gaston Jean Baptiste, Duc de). Mémoires Secrets du DUC DE ROQUELAURE. 4 vols. 12mo, paper. Paris, Alexandre Cadot, n. d.

EROTIC and CURIOUS. The Duc de Roquelaure, who was born in 1617 and died in 1683, is known traditionally as a kind of zany to the court of Louis XIV. He was the father of one Marshal of France, and son of another. His "Mémoires," one critic remarks, had a place in the "Bibliothèque bleue," for a long time the only library of the people, and he comes down to our days—"avec son grand cordon, avec sa clef de maître de la garde-robe et son portrait enlaidi à plaisir, comme une sorte d'Esopé grand seigneur, que la malice des bourgeois aimait à se représenter fustigant de sa verve grotesque les vices et les grandeurs de la cour."

- 1259 ROSTAND (Eugene). Ebauches. Small 8vo, half red morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. Lyons, 1865

Printed on tinted paper with rubrications. Presentation copy with following MS. of the author—"À Monsieur Amédée Achard hommage d'un jeune compatriote. EUGÈNE ROSTAND."

THE FIRST EDITION OF JEAN JACQUES ROUSSEAU'S CONFESSIONS.

- 1260 ROUSSEAU (Jean Jacques). Confessions, Révéués du Promeneur Solitaire et Nouvelles Lettres de J. J. ROUSSEAU. With charming plates by or after LE BARBIER, TRIERE, HALBON, DAMBRUN, ROMANET and INGOUF. 3 vols. 4to, Spanish calf gilt, edges gilt. Geneva, 1782-89

VERY RARE. These three volumes are of great value, as they contain the first edition of Books I.-XII. of the "Confessions." They consist of:—Vol. 10 of the "Complete Collection of the Works of Rousseau," in which are "Les Confessions," Books 1-6, and "Les Révéués-Promenades I-X;" and Vols. 16 and 17, being Vols. 1 and 2 of the "Second Supplement" to the Complete Works, in which are "Books 7 to 12" of "Les Confessions" and "Nouvelles Lettres."

"Still is the impression of his [Rousseau's] works vivid and strong. The charm which cannot pass away is there—life breathing in dead words—the pulses of passion—the thrilling of the frame still are there—the fresh beauty, the undimmed lustre—these, light and vision-like as they seem, endure as marble."—Edinburgh Review.

1261 ROWLANDSON (Thomas). THE CARICATURIST, a Selection from his Works, with Anecdotal Descriptions of his Famous Caricatures and a Sketch of his Life, Times and Contemporaries, by JOSEPH GREGO. Portrait and about 400 humorous, facetious and characteristic illustrations after ROWLANDSON. 2 vols. 4to, half red morocco gilt, cloth sides, top edges gilt. N. Y. (London), 1880

"Almost simultaneously with the issue of Mr. Du Maurier's album of Punch sketches, there has appeared a collection of work of the same class, representing the England of a century ago. The illustrations to 'Dr. Syntax' have kept the name of Thomas Rowlandson alive among those who are not specially students; and among those who are, there is not much danger of its ever perishing. Mr. Grego has now edited two goodly quartos devoted to him, and containing not only a methodical catalogue of his work, but also an abundant allowance of examples selected with the double view of illustrating the work itself and consulting modern notions of propriety. . . . But there is really not much harm in Rowlandson, though he takes subjects and employs manners of treatment which would hardly be suffered nowadays in Punch. . . . A useful lesson in the social history of England, as well as a pleasant occupation of leisure moments."—London Daily News.

MOST EROTIC. No. 42 of limited edition—"imprimé à cent cinquante (150) exemplaires pour Isidore Liseux et ses Amis." On the cover is the following:—"Avis aux Libraires. Édition Privée. Ce volume ne doit pas être mis en vente ou exposé dans les lieux publics." This is a fac-simile reprint of the first edition of 1791.

The author of "Justine" was born in 1740, and died in the hospital at Charenton in 1814. Pisanus-Fraxi writes:—"The Marquis de Sade is perhaps one of the most extraordinary men who ever lived, and a very interesting subject for psychological study; nature has produced some strange abortions, both physical and moral, but probably never a greater mental monstrosity than Sade. Sprung from a stock which was most pure and honorable, reared and educated with the greatest care and simplicity, this mental monster burst forth suddenly, as it were without apparent cause, and became at once the most depraved libertine, the cruellest debauchee, the lewdest writer, and the most persistent propagator of immorality the world ever saw."

Paul Lacroix, who has treated his memory with great leniency, endeavors to prove that the Marquis considered himself justified in attempting to pervert the whole human race; indeed it would seem that he did—"force his soul so to his own conceit."

This descendant of Laura de Sade, Petrarch's love, was, after several imprisonments, condemned to death for immorality. He, however, died a hopeless monomaniac in 1814 at Charenton. Napoleon, in 1801, while First Consul, ordered his perpetual incarceration as an incurable and dangerous lunatic.

- 1275 SCHURIG (Martin, physician). Parthenologia Historica-Medica hoc est Virginitatis Consideratio, qua ad eam Pertinentes Pubertas et Menstruatio cum Opsarum Maturitate, etc. 3 vols. 4to, boards, marbled edges (foxed).

Dresden, 1729-32 \

A remarkable work. Some of the most curious passages in these volumes are:—Sale by auction of virgins among the Babylonians (p. 25); “De Menstrui Sanguinis usu” (p. 223); “de Statua uxoris Lothi” (p. 265); “de Notis Virginitatis ex Miraculis” (p. 274); chastity put to the proof by a hot iron and boiling water (p. 276); conception without sexual intercourse (p. 301); various modes of infunulation of girls (p. 369); Andramytes, King of the Lydori, was the inventor of the castration of women and Semiramis of that of men (p. 374); “Virgo a Serpente Amata” (p. 382). Numerous historical and scientific anecdotes are scattered throughout the volumes.

- 1276 SEWRIN (Charles Auguste). Première Nuit de Mes Noces par “SEWRIN.” 2 vols. in 1. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Brussels, Gay, 1883

LIMITED EDITION. A very curious work by Sewrin, who was born at Metz in 1771. It is written somewhat after the style of Pigault-Lebrun and Paul de Kock. The author also wrote “Les Trois Faublas de ce Temps-la.”

- 1277 SHAPIRA FORGERY:—HE-SHE-IT. Egyptian Court Chronicle, B. C. 1302, a Veracious and Truthful Version Preserved and transcribed for General Use by the Peerless Poet Laureate of His late Majesty Rhampsinnit III. Numerous illustrations from the designs of C. M. SEYPPPEL. 4to. Bound in imitation mummy cloth, with leather straps and big green seal on the sides.

Memphis, Pyramid Row, No. 36, Fifth floor,
close on Saturdays 2 P. M. [n. p., n. d.]

This work is an amusing parody on the SHAPIRA MS. forgery. According to the preface, this unique volume, the sole example of ancient Egyptian illustrated literature which has come down to us, was discovered just after the battle of Tel el Kebir by a savant who noticed some strange characters on a slab under the head of a sleeping guardsman, and who watched his opportunity and dug underneath this stony pillow until he discovered this illustrated MS. of the year 1302 B. C. The leaves of the volume are made to imitate papyrus, their edges are worn and rubbed, and the surface of them is stained and discolored, as though by all the juices of the earth and all the waters of the Nile. The cover is of brown sackcloth, much torn and ravelled at the edges. A coarse green string binds the leaves firmly to one another. One side of the cover is ornamented with a broad seal of green wax, having an uncouth impression of the head of “König Ruppisippos.” Divers comical Egyptian stories are told in verse, and the illustrations, with their combination of modern humor and ancient form, are exceedingly laughable. The whole thing looks as though it had been dug up out of the earth, which, indeed, is what is pretended. The author of this ingenious burlesque is Karl Maria Seyppel, a young Dusseldorf artist, who was assisted in his work by Professor Ebers and other eminent Egyptologists.

- 1278 SHAPIRA FORGERY.—SHARP, SHARPER, SHARPEST. A Humorous Tale of Old Egypt. Penned down and depicted in the year 1315 A. C., by C. M. SEYPPPEL, Court Painter and Poet Laureate of His Majesty King

Rhampsinnit III., and done into English Tongue by Two Mummies of the Old Dynasty. Memphis, 35 Mummies Arcade (Ring three times). Quaintly illustrated. 4to, imitation ancient mummy cloth cover, with ties, seal on sides, etc.

This is a humorous Egyptological burlesque on the alleged papyrine, Moabite stone and other bogus discoveries. The drawings are very ancient Egyptian, and the paper an imitation of papyrus.

- 1279 SHAPIRA FORGERY.—SCHLAU, SCHLAUER, AM SCHLAUSTEN, Aegyptische Humoreske. The German edition of the above. Illuminated boards.

Dusseldorf, n. d.

Dedicated to Schliemann.

Gand and Paris, Claudin, 1861

LIMITED EDITION on "papier vergé." Théophile de Viau, who commenced authorship as a tragic writer, soon dégenerated into a satirical and obscene versifier. He was exiled from France in 1619 for having published immoral and blasphemous writings. For the publication of the above work in 1622 the Sieur Théophile was condemned to be burnt alive, but the sentence was changed to perpetual exile. Later he returned secretly to Paris and died at the age of thirty-six in the hotel of the Duke de Montmorency.

"Edition la meilleure, très recherchée et devenue très rare, de ce recueil de poésies obscènes du XVII<sup>e</sup> siècle. Le savant expert Claudin en fait aujourd'hui son mea culpa."—LEHIC.

"Ces boutades obscènes—ces priapes bouffonnes."—THÉOPHILE GAUTIER.

VII. Poetry and Drama.

"But poets, or those who imagine and express this indestructible order, are not only the authors of language and of music, of the dance, and architecture, and statuary, and painting; they are the institutors of laws, and the founders of civil society, and the inventors of the arts of life, and the teachers, who draw into a certain propinquity with the beautiful and true, that partial apprehension of the agencies of the invisible world which is called religion . . . Poets are the hierophants of an unapprehended inspiration; the mirrors of the gigantic shadows which futurity casts upon the present; the words which express what they understand not; the trumpets which sing to battle, and feel not what they inspire; the influence which is moved not, but moves. Poets are the unacknowledged legislators of the world."—PERCY BYSSHE SHELLEY, "A Defence of Poetry."

- 1322 ACTRICES DE PARIS.—Texte par EMILE BERGERAT, DANIEL BERNARD, EMILE BLÉMONT, JULES CLARETIE, PIERRE ELZEAR, MAURICE GUILLEMOT, GUY DE MAUPASANT, ERNEST D'HERVILLY, LOUIS LEROY, FRANCISQUE SARCEY, SAINT-JURS, and VICTOR WILDER. Numerous portraits ON INDIA PAPER by E. DE LIPHART of the leading actresses of Paris, also vignettes, head and tail pieces. Large 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1882

Among the actresses whose portraits appear in the above are—Sophie Croizette, Marie Van Zandt, Christine Nilsson, Sarah Bernhardt, Anna Judic, Louise Théo, Jane Hading, and others, thirty-two in all.

- 1323 AICARD (Jean). La Chanson de l'Enfant—Nouvelle Edition. Illustrated with portrait and 128 designs by T. LOBRICHON, with the collaboration of E. RUDAUX, and engraved on wood by L. ROUSSEAU. Large 8vo, fresh half red morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut by SMEERS.

Paris, Georges Chamerot, 1884

This charming work was crowned by the French Academy.

- 1324 AMPERE (J. J.). SIGURD, Tradition Epique Selon l'Edda et les Niebelungs Restituée précédée d'une Notice pour Servir a l'Histoire de la Tradition. Large 8vo, half vellum, totally uncut. Paris, Renouard, 1832

PRIVATELY PRINTED, with autograph presentation inscription and signature of the author.

FRANCE'S ANCIENT POETS—TEN VOLUMES.

- 1325 ANCIENS POETES DE LA FRANCE, publiés sous les Auspices de S. Exc. M. le Ministre de l'Instruction Publique et des Cultes et sous la Direction de M. F. GUESSARD. 10 vols. small 8vo, cloth, rough edges. Paris, F. Vieweg, 1859-70

These charming volumes printed by Jouaust on "papier vergé" comprise the following—"Chansons de Geste":—Gui de Bourgogne, Otinel, Floovant, Doon de Maience, Gaufray, Fierabras, Panse la Duchesse, Huon de Bourdeaux, Aye d'Avignon, Gui de Nanteuil, Gaydon, Hugues, Capet, Macaire and Aliscans. The whole of the above, with one exception, appear for the first time in this series. They were edited from unique manuscripts by F. Guessard, H. Michelant, A. Pey, P. Chabaille, A. Kroeher, G. Servois, L. Larchey, C. Grandmaison, S. Luce, le Marquis de la Grange and A. de Montaiglon.

- 1326 ANDRIEUX (G. S.). LUCIUS JUNIUS BRUTUS, Tragédie. Small 8vo, half blue morocco, marbled edges. Paris, 1830

With inserted portrait. The author was Perpetual Secretary of the French Academy.

- 1327 ARNOLD (Edwin). The Secret of Death, from the Sanskrit. With some Collected Poems. Small 8vo, fresh cloth. Boston, 1885

LARGE PAPER AND UNIQUE COPY OF ARIOSTO—WITH TWO SETS OF PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS.

- 1328 ARIOSTO.—Orlando Furioso di LODOVICO ARIOSTO. Portrait and plates. 4 vols. 4to, half red morocco, top edges gilt (rubbed slightly). Paris, Plassan, 1795

VERY RARE, LARGE PAPER, UNIQUE and WITH TWO SETS OF PLATES, BOTH PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS. These beautiful engravings are by or after:—Titian, Eisen, Ficquet, Cipriani, Bartolozzi, Cochin, Ponce, Moreau le jeune, De Launay, De Ghendt, Lingée, Massard, Henriques, Prévost, Monnet, Duclos, Martini, etc. A few are slightly stained.

"Ariosto has been, after Homer, the favorite poet of Europe. His grace and facility, his clear and rapid stream of language, his variety and beauty of invention, his very transitions of subject, so frequently censured by critics, but artfully devised to spare the tediousness that hangs on a protracted story, left him no rival in general popularity. Above sixty editions of the Orlando Furioso were published in the sixteenth century. There was not one, says Bernardo Tasso, of any age, or sex, or rank, who was satisfied with a single perusal."—HALLAM.

THE EXTREMELY RARE "TRAGIQUES" OF AGRIPPA D'AUBIGNY.

- 1329 [AUBIGNÉ (Agrippa d').]—| Les | Tragiquest | Donnez
av pyblic par | le larcin de Promethee. | Av Dezert, |
par L. B. D.D. | MDCXVI. | Small 4to. Elegantly bound by BRANY in crushed maroon levant morocco, blind tooled, rounded corners, inside gold borders, edges gilt on marble. [Geneva,] 1616

EXCESSIVELY RARE, and from the library of and with the heraldic
"Ex-Libris de Marescot."

This is the original edition of this most uncommon book with rare page of "errata" at the end generally wanting. A copy of this volume without the errata was priced 800 francs by Morgand-Fatout.

The "Tragedies" of Agrippa D'Aubigny, a kind of counterpart of the "Discours sur les Misères du Temps" of Ronsard, are composed of seven satires whimsically entitled—"Misères," "Princes," "la Chambre Dorée," "les Feux," "les Fers," "Vengeances" and "Jugement," in which the poet successively passes in review the unhappinesses of the times, the debauchery of the court, the meanness of parliament, the tortures by fire, the massacres of the Faithful by the sword, and finally the heavenly vengeance and judgment of the Most High on the persecutors.

The text of these satires is filled with striking descriptions of the manners and customs of society at this eventful period in the history of Europe.

- 1330 AUGIER (Emile). La Cigue, Comédie. Small 8vo, half cloth, totally uncut. Paris, 1844

LARGE PAPER and PRIVATELY PRINTED LIMITED EDITION of 72 copies in all.

- 1333 BANVILLE (Theodore de). Poesie Française. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, n. d.

UNIQUE COPY OF THE EXCESSIVELY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION OF THE "FIGARO" OF BEAUMARCHAIS—LUXURIOUSLY BOUND.

- 1334 BEAUMARCHAIS (Pierre Augustin Caron de).— | La | Folle Journée, | ou | le Mariage de Figaro, | Comédie | en Cinq Actes, en Prose. | Par M. DE BEAUMARCHAIS. | Représentée pour la première fois, par les Comédiens | Français ordinaires du Roi, le Mardi 27 Avril 1784. | En faveur du badinage, | Faites grace à la raison. Vand. de la pièce. | 8vo. Superbly bound by REYMANN in crushed red levant morocco extra gilt, inside gold dentelle borders, rounded corners, edges gilt on marble and in drop case. [Kehl] | de l'imprimerie de la Société littéraire- | typographique; | Et se trouve à Paris, | Chez Ruault, libraire, au Palais Royal, près | le théâtre, no. 216 | 1785. |

EXCESSIVELY RARE and UNIQUE COPY of the ORIGINAL EDITION of "the Marriage of Figaro," in splendid condition and with broad margins. Extra illustrated with nine exquisite plates engraved by Lienard, C. N. Malapeau, Halbon and Roi, after the designs of St. Quentin.

In "Figaro" Beaumarchais has personified the tiers état, superior in wit, industry and activity, to birth, rank, or fortune, in whose hands lies the political power; so that the idea of the piece is not only a satirical allegory upon the government and nobility of that epoch, but a living manifesto upon the inequality, just or unjust, of society. We must not be surprised, therefore, if for a long time the comedy was forbidden to be acted. When at length suffered to be performed, its success was astonishing. It has been stated that such was the anxiety and eagerness of the people to be present at the first representation, that more than 400 persons went to the theatre early in the morning, and passed the day and dined in the boxes. It was acted for two years running, twice in every week, and produced 50,000 francs to the theatre, and 30,000 to Beaumarchais, who used to say, that if there were anything more foolish than his play it was his success.

- 1335 BEAUMARCHAIS. Le Barbier de Séville, ou la Precaution Inutile Comédié en Quatre Actes par M. DE BEAUMARCHAIS; Représentée et Tombée sur le Théâtre de la Comédie Française aux Tuileries le 24 de Février 1775, et reprise avec succès sur le même Théâtre, le 26 du dit mois et jours suivans. Fine portrait of BEAUMARCHAIS, engraved by DELATRE (slightly foxed). Small 8vo, half morocco, gilt. Paris, Ruault, 1775

EXTREMELY RARE and editio princeps. Bound up with the above are also the two following original editions of Beaumarchais:—

"Eugénie, Drame en cinq actes, en Prose," par M. de Beaumarchais. Paris, chez Merlin, 1778; and—

"Les Deux Amis," ou le Negociant de Lyon, Drame en Cinq Actes, en Prose," par M. de Beaumarchais. Représentée pour la première fois sur le Théâtre de la Comédie Française à Paris, le 13 Janvier, 1770. Paris, chez la Veuve Duchesne, 1771.

FIRST EDITION OF BEAUMONT AND FLETCHER—ALSO RARE SEPARATE PLAYS.

- 1336 BEAUMONT (Francis) and FLETCHER (John). COMEDIES AND TRAGEDIES. Never printed before, and now published by the Authours Originall Copies. Portrait of FLETCHER by MARSHALL. Thick small folio, old calf, gilt, rebacked (title mounted, and stained slightly).

London, Humphrey Robinson and Humphrey Moseley, 1647

RARE and very fair copy. Added thereto is the very erotic "Wild Goose Chase, A Comedie," printed in 1652, of which the last page has corner torn slightly, but without injuring text.

"First collected edition, containing—Plays dedicated by ten comedians to Philip, Earl of Pembroke and Montgomery. In this edition, edited by John Shirley, are 36 plays, printed for the first time."—LOWNDES.

"I do not care for a First Folio of Shakespeare. I rather prefer the common editions of Rowe and Tonson, without notes, and with plates, which, being so execrably bad, serve as maps, or modest remembrancers to the text. On the contrary, I cannot read Beaumont and Fletcher but in Folio. The octavo editions are painful to look at. I have no sympathy with them."—LAMB.

"Beaumont and Fletcher are lyrical and descriptive poets of the first order; there is hardly a passion, character, or situation which they have not touched in their devious range, and whatever they touched, they adorned with some new grace or striking feature; they are masters of style and versification in almost every variety of melting modulation or sounding pomp, of which they are capable in comic wit and spirit. They are scarcely surpassed by any writers of any age."—HAZLITT.

- 1337 BEETON (S. O.). Great Book of Poetry from CÆDMON and KING ALFRED'S BÆTHIUS to BROWNING and TENNYSON, also a Separate Selection of American Poems. 2 vols. 8vo, half calf gilt, marbled sides and edges.

London, n. d.

This valuable work contains nearly two thousand of the best pieces of English and American poetry. With biographical notices of the poets.

| Fabvlæ Centvm | ex | Antiqvīs Avctoribvs | Delectæ |
Carminibvsqve Explicatæ, | et eivsdem | Carmina Varia. |
Large 4to, tree marbled calf gilt, lemon edges.

Parma, in œdibus Palatinis TYPIS BODONIANIS, 1793

FINEST POSSIBLE COPY internally of a Bodoni and in fine old binding.

John Baptist Bodoni, the most celebrated typographer of the eighteenth century and the rival of Baskerville in fame, was born in Piedmont, 1740, and died at Padua in 1813. In early life he distinguished himself as a wood engraver of vignettes. For a period he was a workman in the printing office of the Propaganda at Rome, and there became renowned by engraving and founding beautiful types. Bodoni was offered the direction of the Ducal Printing Office at Parma and it was there he executed his typographical chefs-d'œuvre of which the above is one of his best. By the aid of the Chevalier d'Azara he established a printery of his own, and he rendered Parma famous throughout Europe for beautiful printing. The success and admiration that attended Bodoni were unbounded.

- 1343 BOIGNE (Charles de). Petits Mémoires de l'Opéra. Small 8vo, half red morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut.

Paris, 1857

- 1344 BOIGNE. Another copy of the same. Sewed, uncut.

Paris, 1857

FINE COPY OF THE 1747 BOILEAU.

- 1345 BOILEAU-DESPREAU (Nicolas). Œuvres de, avec des Eclaircissemens Historiques donnés par lui-même et rédigés par M. BROSSETTE; augmentée de plusieurs Pièces, tant de l'Auteur, qu'ayant rapport a ses Ouvrages avec des Remarques et des Dissertations Critiques par M. DE SAINT-MARC. Fine portrait of BOILEAU by DAULÉ after RIGAUD—also plates (stained), head and tail pieces by EISEN and others. 5 vols. small 8vo, fine old mottled calf gilt, edges gilt on red.

Paris, 1747

VERY SCARCE, and one of the best editions of Boileau, whose works place him as one of the members of a literary triumvirate, to which belong with him, Horace and Pope.

Brunet quotes the following sales of this edition—"391 francs F. Didot, a été porté à 433 francs Labedoy . . . en 1837; un autre en mar. r. rel. par Auguerand 380 francs De Bure." The same authority states further:—"On y a conservé les notes de Boileau, de Brossette, et en général presque toutes celles des éditions précédentes; et l'auteur y a joint non seulement les siennes propres, mais encore le 'Boileana' et des 'Essais Philologiques, ou Supplément aux remarques critiques ajoutées a celle édition, et qui sont en partie d'un Sieur de La Bruyère. De tout cela il est résulté un véritable 'Variorum,' avec les avantages et les défauts attachés à ces sorts de livres. Néanmoins, pendant plus d'un demi siècle celui-ci a conservé une certaine réputation, qu'il a due surtout à sa belle exécution typographique."

- 1346 BRAZIER (Nicolas). Histoire des Petits Théâtres de Paris depuis leur Origine. 2 vols. minimo, fresh half crushed green levant morocco gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut.

Paris, Allardin, 1838

VERY SCARCE. "Nouvelle édition, corrigée et augmentée de plusieurs chroniques."

- 1347 BRIET et CERFBEIR. Tribulations d'un Esculape, Vaudeville. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, 1886

THEATRICAL PORTRAITS—A RARE VOLUME.

- 1348 BRITISH THEATRICAL GALLERY, with Biographical Notices by D. TERRY. Steel portraits. Large 4to, half morocco gilt, cloth sides (rubbed and some plates foxed slightly).

London, 1825

This volume of dramatic portraits includes—Mrs. Siddons as "Lady Macbeth"; Messrs. Kean (as "Richard III."), Young, Harley, Knight, Gattie, Downton, Williamson, Fitzwilliam, Cooper, G. Smith, Simmonds, DeBegniss, and LeBlond; Mesdames Bland, S. Booth, Smithson and Copeland; and Miss Noblet and Miss Hullin.

The engravings were all executed by that talented master of the burin Robert Cooper, and after the original portraits by Clint, Sharp, De Wilde and Waldeck.

MRS. BROWNING'S POEMS—LARGE PAPER, ON HOLLAND PAPER.

- 1349 BROWNING (Elizabeth Barrett). Poetical Works. With fine portrait. 5 vols. 8vo, boards, uncut.

N. Y., Dodd, Mead & Co., 1884

LARGE PAPER. No. 153 of limited edition of 150 copies on Holland paper, 20 on Japan and 2 on vellum beautifully printed by DE VINNE. A new fresh copy, in the original wrappers.

"Mr. Leigh Hunt, in one of his clever poems, calls her 'the sister of Tennyson.' We object to this, and claim her as Shakespeare's daughter."

"Lovers of Mrs. Browning have long wished for a complete and satisfactory American edition of her works. There has indeed been a positive need of such an edition. That need is now filled by the five beautiful volumes published by Dodd, Mead & Company. It is not often even in this age of good book-making that a handsomer set of volumes comes under the eye of the reviewer than these. Altogether this edition will take its rank with the most satisfactory and permanently valuable publications of the season."—Christian Union.

- 1350 BUNNER (H. C.). Airs from Arcady and Elsewhere. Small 8vo, dark blue crushed levant morocco, JANSSEN style, by BRADSTREET.

N. Y., 1884

With inserted three-page autograph letter from the author to Mr. Pene du Bois.

EDITION-DE-LUXE OF BURNS.

- 1351 BURNS (Robert). Works.—The Library Edition, edited by W. SCOTT DOUGLAS, with Explanatory Notes and Glossary. Illustrated with portraits, vignettes and fronts.

engraved by W. FORREST, A.R.S.A., and R. ANDERSON, A.R.S.A., from the original drawings by ALEX. NASMYTH, R.S.A., SAM BOUGH, R.S.A., W. E. LOCKHART, R.S.A., and A. CLARK STANTON, A.R.S.A., and with woodcuts, fac-similes, maps and music. 6 vols. large 8vo, cloth, gilt, totally uncut. Edinburgh, 1877-79

LARGE PAPER and with the PLATES ON INDIA PAPER. "Without being unfair to previous collections of the poet's works, we cannot recall any which can for a moment be compared in magnificence to that which has been published in six volumes by Mr. Paterson, of Edinburgh, under the supervision of Mr. Scott Douglas. It is, if we may say so, the completest of the many 'Complete Editions' of Burns's works. A library edition such as this is the best and aptest monument to Burns. His fame constantly rises. It is no longer a faint star, beautiful but dim; in full splendor it shines in the firmament. . . . No casket is too precious for the records of his genius. . . . He has been known for many years as an ardent and acute student of the history of Burns. The drawings from the pencil of the late Mr. Sam Bough are admirable. It was an excellent choice to make him the interpreter of Burns's genius. An artist after Burns's own heart—'rough, rude, ready-witted'—he would have been loved and sung by the poet had they known each other."—London Times.

"For the benefit of English readers—perhaps, also, for the information of modern Scots—a very complete glossary of Scotch words is included, and each page bears a number of foot-notes explanatory of Burns's vernacular."—Liverpool Albion.

- 1355 CARCASSONE (Adolphe). Nouvelle Pièces a Dire. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1884
- 1356 [CASTEL (Louis).] Mémoires d'un Claqueur, contenant la Théorie et la Pratique de l'Art des Succès; des Jugemens sur le Talent de Plusieurs Auteurs, Acteurs, Actrices, Danseurs, Danseuses, et un Très-grand Nombre d'Anecdotes Historiques toutes Inédites; Ouvrage Indispensables aux Gens de Monde, Utiles a tous les Artistes, et Nécessaire a la Connaissances des Mœurs Littéraires et Théatrales du XIXe Siècle; par "ROBERT." Edition publiée, revue, corrigée et accompagnée de Notes par "un Vieil Amateur." Engraved front. 8vo, three-quarters half crushed green levant morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut.

Paris, 1829

EXTREMELY SCARCE, the work having been suppressed by the theatrical managers of Paris. This volume shows upon what a slender basis the success or failure of a dramatic author, the representation of a play, or the reputations of French actors and actresses rest.

1357 CASTIL-BLAZE. L'Opéra Italien de 1548 à 1856. 8vo, sewed, uncut. VERY SCARCE. Paris, 1856

1358 CASTIL-BLAZE. L'Académie Imperiale de Musique, Histoire Littéraire, Musicale, Chorégraphique, Pittoresque, Morale, Critique, Facétieuse, Politique et Galante de ce Théâtre de 1645 à 1855. 2 vols. 8vo, paper, uncut.

VERY RARE ORIGINAL EDITION OF CENTLIVRE'S PLAYS.

1360 CENTLIVRE (Mrs. Susanna). DRAMATIC WORKS, with a New Account of her Life. Portrait. 3 vols. 12mo, fine old red morocco gilt, dentelle inside gold borders, edges gilt, by DÉROME. London, 1760-61

VERY RARE. An exceedingly fine copy of the First Edition, with MS. note on fly-leaf:—"Mrs. Centlivre's plays were collected and published in 3 vols. 12mo, 1760. It is, however, become a scarce book. 'Biograph. Dramatica,' Vol. 1st, article, Centlivre."

These plays are greatly admired for their incidents, language, and humorous descriptions of real life.

This is one of the charming "Collection Lemerre," printed on Holland paper.

1362 CHANTS ET CHANSONS POPULAIRES DE LA FRANCE—Nouvelle Edition. Illustrated with engravings by the best artists after the original designs of DE BEAUMONT, DAUBIGNY, DUBOULOZ, E. GIRAUD, MEISSONIER, PASCAL, STAAL, STEINHEIL and TRIMOLET. 2 vols. large 8vo, half morocco gilt, cloth sides.

Paris, Garnier, 1854

CHARMINGLY ILLUSTRATED, many of the plates being facetious, and to which is conjoined a considerable portion of the text, which is also printed from the engraved plates. A few are slightly foxed.

The first volume consists of—"Chansons Choies—Romances, Rondes, Complaintes et Chansonnettes"; the second of—"Chants Guerriers et Patriotiques—Chansons Bacchiques et Burlesques."

- 1363 CHARLES II.—Sereniss. Principi CAROLO SECUNDO Mag. Brit. Fran. et Hib. Regi Votum Candidum Vivat Rex Avtore MAURITIO NEOPORTO Anglo. Small 8vo, crinkled red morocco gilt, edges gilt. London, 1676

RARE and good example of Bozerian's binding. The volume is a clean copy of Latin Verses, several hundreds of pages in number, to the honor of Charles the Second.

- 1364 CHAULIEU (G. A. de). Poésies. Portrait by ST. AUBIN. Small 8vo, half red crinkled morocco, totally uncut. Paris, Herhan, 1803

LARGE PAPER, with the vignette printer's device on title of Guttenberg, Fust and Schoeffer.

- 1365 CLAIRVILLE (L. F. N.). Chansons et Poésies. Small 8vo. Bound by V. CHAMPS in three-quarters crushed green levant morocco gilt, and back inlaid with red morocco, rounded corners, top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in. Paris, 1853

PRESENTATION COPY, with MS. inscription of author.

- 1366 CLEMENT (Felix) et LAROUSSE (Pierre). Dictionnaire Lyrique ou Histoire des Opéras. Large 8vo, half morocco, gilt. Paris, n. d.

A most useful work of reference, being an alphabetical list or analysis of the nomenclature of all the operas and comic operas represented in France and foreign countries from their origin to our time.

- 1367 CLEVELAND (Rose Elizabeth). GEORGE ELIOT's Poetry and other Studies. Small 4to, illuminated cloth. N. Y., 1885 ders, rounded corners, inside gold tooling, edges gilt on red by BELZ-NIEDRÉE.

Birmingham, John Baskerville, 1761

SCARCE. This is a beautiful specimen of Baskerville's printing, and is, at the same time, the best edition of Congreve's works. A fine copy, but with some pages of the life stained slightly.

"We have had in Congreve a humorous observer of another school [than Swift], to whom the world seems to have no moral at all, and whose ghastly doctrine seems to be that we should eat and drink and be merry when we can, and go to the deuce—if there be a deuce—when the time comes."—THACKERAY.

DRAMATISTS OF THE RESTORATION—FOURTEEN VOLUMES—LIMITED EDITION.

- 1383 DRAMATISTS OF THE RESTORATION. Edited, with Prefatory Memoirs, Introductions and Notes, by JAMES MAIDMENT and W. H. LOGAN. 14 vols. small 8vo, cloth, uncut. London, Henry Sotheran and Co., 1872-75

LIMITED EDITION of 633 copies only. This set, which is complete, includes:—Sir Aston Cokain's Dramatic Works, 1 vol.; John Crowne's Dramatic Works, 4 vols.; Sir William Davenant's Dramatic Works, 5 vols.; John Wilson's Dramatic Works, 1 vol.; John Lacy's Dramatic Works; Shackerley Marmion's Dramatic Works, and John Tatham's Dramatic Works.

No dramatic collection can be considered complete without the above authors, who, for the most part writers of comedy, flourished after the extinction of the British Commonwealth. As the text in previous editions had been either imperfectly or corruptly dealt with, the several plays are now presented in an unmutilated form. They are beautifully printed on fine paper, and range with the best editions of Ben Jonson, Shirley and other early dramatists.

- 1384 DREYFUS (Abraham). Comment se fait une Pièce de Théâtre. Large 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, Quantin, 1884
No. 43 of a LIMITED EDITION of 50 copies—"non mis dans le commerce."

"Collection Hetzel, édition spéciale pour la France interdite pour l'Etranger."

This was Baudelaire's copy and has inserted his MS. instructions to Lortic the binder.

- 1408 GAUTIER.—Le Tombeau de THÉOPHILE GAUTIER. Fine etched portrait of GAUTIER, fleurons, initial letters, rubricated title, etc. 4to. Bound by AMAND in half crushed levant morocco, back tooled in gold with "tears," top edge gilt, others uncut, covers bound in.

Paris, Alphonse Lemerre, 1873

LIMITED EDITION, handsomely printed on "papier vergé" by Claye. Among the many poets who contributed to this volume was Swinburne with six pieces—two in English, two in French, one in Latin and one in Greek. These eighteen pages written by the fleshly poet are not published in his works.

- 1409 GAUTIER.—BERGERAT (Emile). THÉOPHILE GAUTIER
Entretiens, Souvenirs et Correspondence. Avec une Préface de EDMOND DE GONCOURT. With etched frontispiece
by FELIX BRACQUEMOND. Small 8vo, paper, uncut.

VERY RARE and printed on China paper, being No. 5 of a limited issue of five copies on China paper.

- 1410 GAY (Delphine). Le Dernier Jour de Pompei, Poeme Suivie de Poésies Diverses. 8vo. Bound by BELZ-NIE-DRÉE in half red morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut.
Paris, 1829

RARE. The above work was written by the wife of Emile de Girardin. It is a presentation copy to Madame Recamier. On the half-title the author has written in her own hand:—"A MADAME RÉCAMIER, DELPHINE G."

- 1411 GOMBAULD (Jean Ogier de).— | Les | Epigrammes | de
| GOMBAULD. | Divisées en Trois Livres. | Vignette printer's mark on title. Minimo. Bound by N. TRIPON in red morocco, dentelle gold inside borders, gilt edges.
Paris, Augustin Courbé, 1657

VERY RARE and ORIGINAL EDITION of the most sought after of the works of Gombauld, who was one of the founders of the French Academy. This poet was made by Richelieu, although a Huguenot, one of the gentlemen of the bed-chamber to the King. Previously he had been in great favor with Marie de Medicis. Boileau quotes his beautiful sonnets, which that dramatist said had a great success.

- 1412 GOETHE (J. W. von). Faust—Première Partie—Preface et Traduction de H. BLAZE DE BURY. Illustrated with eleven beautiful etchings by LALAUZE and with numerous other illustrations after WOGEL and SCOTT. Thick large 4to, sewed, uncut. Paris, Quantin, 1880

The above charmingly printed and handsomely illustrated volume shows that it was left for French genius to do honor to the brain of the greatest of German poets.

In Faust, Goethe has embodied the results of his mature and infinitely varied experience, with his ripest, richest and profoundest thoughts; the whole being wrought out with admirable skill, and everywhere illumined, so to speak, with passages of the most exquisite poetry, touching in turn every chord of the human heart.

- 1413 GRAY (Thomas). An Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard—The Artist's Edition. Numerous fine illustrations by SWAIN GIFFORD, BOLTON JONES, F. S. CHURCH, WAL-TER SHIRLAW, etc., etc. 4to, fresh illuminated cloth, gilt edges. Phila., 1883

- 1414 GREENE (Robert). DRAMATIC WORKS, to which are added his Poems, with some Account of the Author, and Notes by the REV. ALEXANDER DYCE. 2 vols. small 8vo, half morocco, marbled edges.

London, W. Pickering, 1831

VERY SCARCE, and a good copy. Only 250 copies printed and by C. Whittingham.

Allibone says—"Greene was a boon companion with the dissipated wits of the day, deserted a lovely wife, lived a profligate life, occasionally chequered with partial repentance, and died of a surfeit of pickled herrings and Rhenish wine," but adds—"as an author, Greene's merits are undoubtedly considerable, and it is greatly to be regretted that he was not always in the moral vein, which presents so striking a contrast to his loose habits."

- 1415 HALL (S. C.). Book of British Ballads. Illustrated by several hundred beautiful woodcut engravings on every page by the first Artists. Morocco gilt, beveled sides, gilt edges, by RAMAGE. London, n. d.

Early edition, and scarce. It is scarcely possible to imagine a more attractive volume. The decorations are of the very highest class from designs by Creswick, Gilbert, Franklin, Corbould, etc.

- 1416 HEILPRIN (Michael). The Historical Poetry of the Ancient Hebrews, Translated and Critically Examined. 2 vols. small 8vo, fresh cloth. N. Y., 1879-80

- 1417 HENNIQUE (Léon). Les Hauts Faits de M. DE POUTHAU. Illustrated with plates by SALMON after BENJ. CONSTANT, GERVEX, INGOMAR, etc. 8vo, half sage morocco gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut. Paris, 1880

A Parody of the Romantic School of literature. "J'ai voulu montrer de l'imagination, combattre et 'blaguer' une école avec son vernis et la pointe émoussée de ses propres armes, démontrer que son genre de sublime, n'a rien à voir dans le fait de l'âme telle qu'elle est, que son grotesque ne peut jouer le rôle de la tête humaine."—Author's preface.

- 1418 HERVILLY (Ernest d'). Comédies, i. e., MOLIERE en Prison et Prisonnier du Chatelet; Bigoudis; Mal aux Cheveux. 3 pieces. Small 8vo, sewed, uncut.

Paris, 1885-86

LARGE PAPER COPY OF HOMER—PRINTED BY DIDOT AND CHARMINGLY ILLUSTRATED.

- 1419 HOMER. — Œuvres Complètes d'HOMERE, Traduction Nouvelle Dédiée au Roi; avec des Notes Littérales, Historiques et Géographiques, suivies des Imitations des Poètes Anciens et Modernes par M. GIN, Conseiller au Grand Conseil. Beautiful plates. 4 vols. large 4to, half calf, gilt (Vol. I. stained somewhat).

Paris, de l'imprimerie de Didot l'aîné, 1786-88

WHATMAN PAPER COPY OF KEATS—ONLY 30 PRINTED.

- 1441 KEATS (John). Poetical and Miscellaneous Works, edited by HARRY BUXTON FORMAN, including Poems and Letters not before published, with full indexes of subjects and first lines. With illustrations and portraits. 4 vols. 8vo, vellum cloth gilt, rough edges. London, printed for private distribution, 1883

EDITION-DE-LUXE, printed on Whatman paper, at the Chiswick Press, with portraits on India paper. Only 30 copies so executed. This fine edition of Keats's works is published in the same handsome style as that of Shelley's, edited by Mr. Forman, which has now become the standard edition of that poet's writings. Copies are priced about £10 10s. in the English catalogues.

- 1442 KEATS. The Letters and Poems of JOHN KEATS, reprinted from the edition edited by LORD HOUGHTON, with Memoir by JOHN GILMER SPEED; and Letters, many of which have never before been published. With illustrations. 3 vols. 8vo, boards, rough edges. N. Y., 1883

No. 143 of limited edition, printed from type, by De Vinne. Only 350 copies so printed, each numbered and signed, as follows: 4 copies on vellum; 12 copies on China paper; 55 copies on Whatman paper; 275 copies on Holland paper.

"The work is in three volumes, of which one is devoted to the Letters, and two to the Poems. The volume of letters has been prepared by the grand-nephew of the poet, John Gilmer Speed, Esq., and contain, in addition to those hitherto published, a number written by Keats to his brother George, in the United States. These were, to a considerable extent, memoranda of his daily doings, jotted down from time to time, so as to be ready for any chance vessel that might be sailing, and are full of most interesting references to his friends, as well as expressions of his own feelings and aims, such as would only be made to those most closely related to him. None of these American letters have ever been published complete and unaltered, and many of them now appear in print for the first time. An introduction to the poems has also been written by Mr. Speed. The text of the poems is that prepared by Lord Houghton, whose notes have been retained. The volumes contain portraits of the three brothers, John, George and Tom, reproduced in color from the originals in oil by Severn. In addition to the three portraits mentioned, there is an etching of the poet's grave, by Sabin; a fac-simile of the original draft of one of the author's smaller poems, showing his erasures and emendations; the silhouette of Fanny Brawne, the head of Keats drawn by Severn in his last illness, the drawing from life by Severn, and a reproduction of the life-mask by Hayden."—New York Critic.

- 1442* LA BRUYERE (J. de). La Comédie de, par EDOUARD FOURNIER. Rubricated titles. 2 vols. small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1872

- 1446 LARCOM (Lucy). Landscape in American Poetry. Illustrations on wood from drawings by J. APPLETON BROWN. 4to, fresh cloth gilt, edges gilt. N. Y., 1879

The wood engravers represented in this volume are Anthon, Linton, Harley, Lauderbach, Bobbett and Andrews.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF THE ABBÉ DE LA RUE'S GRAND WORK ON THE TROUBADOURS.

- 1447 LA RUE (Gervaise de, L'Abbé). Essais Historiques sur les Bardes, les Jongleurs et les Trouvères Normands et Anglo-Normands, suivis de Pièces de MALHERBE, qu'on ne Trouve dans aucune édition de ses Œuvres. 3 vols. large 8vo, half turkey morocco extra gilt, top edges gilt, others uncut (foxed slightly). Caen, 1834

LARGE PAPER, printed on thick paper and very rare. The Abbé de la Rue, a native of Caen, died a year after the above volumes were published. He exiled himself to England, refusing to swear to the civil constitution of the French clergy. He was made a member of the Royal Society of Antiquarians and actively engaged himself at the British Museum Library and elsewhere in the discovery of the early poetic romances of the Bards, Troubadours, etc. Nearly all comprised in his very valuable work were previously unknown. On his return to France he continued his work in the libraries of Paris.

"Le système de Raynouard sur l'idiome provençal, source des langues de l'Europe occidentale, y est combattu, avec beaucoup de précision et de savoir."
—VAPÉREAU.

- 1448 LEONARD (N. G.). Poesies Pastorales. Engraved title by DE GHENDT after MARILLIER. 8vo, old calf, gilt (a few pp. foxed). Geneva and Paris, 1771

RARE. This volume includes not only the "Poésies Pastorales," but Leonard's "Voix de la Nature," "Lettres de Sainville et de Sophie," and other prose and poetical pieces.

The Creole poet Leonard was a native of Guadeloupe, was born in 1744, and died in 1793. He is claimed to have been the best idyllic writer of France in the eighteenth century.

- 1449 LE ROUX DE LINCY. Recueil de Chants Historiques Français depuis le XIIe jusqu'au XVIIIe Siècle avec des Notices. 2 vols. small 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1841-42

THE RIVERSIDE EDITION OF LONGFELLOW.

- 1451 LONGFELLOW (Henry Wadsworth). Works, i. e.:
 I. LONGFELLOW. Poetical Works, with Bibliographical and Critical Notices. Portraits and fac-simile. 6 vols.
 II. LONGFELLOW. Prose Works. 2 vols.
 III. DANTE ALIGHIERI. Divine Comedy, translated by LONGFELLOW. Portrait. 3 vols.
 TOGETHER 11 vols. Small 8vo, fresh half crushed levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut, by R. W. SMITH.
 Boston, Riverside Press, 1886

This edition of Longfellow includes all the prose and poetry which the author admitted into the latest editions of his works, together with those pieces which have appeared since his death, with the sanction of his representatives. The text is the last revised by the author, and was printed with scrupulous care. The order of the writings is chronological in its main lines.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF NICHOLAS ROWE'S TRANSLATION OF LUCAN.

- 1458 LUCAN. Pharsalia, Translated into English Verse, by NICHOLAS ROWE, Esq., Servant to His Majesty. Handsome frontispiece and numerous vignettes by CHERON, also map. Large folio, fine old red morocco elegant, gilt inside borders and gold edges.

London, Jacob Tonson, at Shakespear's-Head, 1718

LARGE PAPER. "One of the best of the modern translations of the classics. Though sometimes diffuse and paraphractical, it is in general faithful in the sense of the original; the language is animated, the verse correct and melodious. According to the Quarterly Reviewers—'Rowe undertook his translation more in the spirit of party than in poetry, and the best portions of it are those which are least worthy of attention in the original.'"—LOWNDES.

- 1459 LUCAS (Hippolyte, critic of Paris "Debats"). Curiosités Dramatiques et Littéraires, avec une Notice sur l'Auteur. Small 8vo, half calf, gilt (foxed). Paris, 1855

VERY SCARCE. Includes—English literature, and the American, Chinese and Hrotsvitha theatre.

- 1460 LUCRETIUS.—TITI LUCRETHI CARI de Rerum Natura Libri Sex Accedunt Selectæ Lectiones Dilucidando Poemati Appositæ. Engraved title and exquisite plates of nudes by DUFLOS after FRANS VAN MIERES and charming headpieces. Minimo, old calf gilt, edges gilt. Paris, 1744

RARE. A fine piece of binding of the genre Du Seuil. It was printed on "papier vélin" by Coustelier who used the mark of the Elzevirs, "an old man under an olive tree, on which is the motto 'Non Solus.'"

- 1461 LYTTON (Lord, "Owen Meredith"). Glenaveril; or, The Metamorphoses, a Poem. 12mo, fresh cloth. N. Y., 1885

- 1462 MCCAY (Ringgold). An Exile from Poland. Small 8vo, cloth, gilt. N. Y., 1877

With autograph inscription on fly-leaf. "Mr. Henri Du Bois from his friend the author."

- 1463 MATTHEWS (J. Brander). The Theatres of Paris. Portraits and illustrations after MADRAZO, DURAN, GAUCHEREL, SARAH BERNHARDT and others. Small 8vo, fresh half red calf gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut.

London, Sampson Low & Co., 1880

Presentation copy to Mr. Pene du Bois with the author's inserted book-plate.

- 1464 MATTHEWS. French Dramatists of the 19th Century. Small 8vo, fresh half green calf gilt, top edge gilt, others uncut. London, Remington & Co., 1882

PRESENTATION COPY from the author to his friend Mr. Pene du Bois and with his inserted book-plate.

- 1465 MATTHEWS and HUTTON. Actors and Actresses of Great Britain and the United States from the Days of DAVID GARRICK to the Present Time. Vols. 1 and 2. Small 8vo, fresh illuminated cloth, top edges gilt.

N. Y., 1886

Vol. 1, "Garrick and his Contemporaries": Vol. 2, "The Kembles and their Contemporaries."

THE LIMITED CHISWICK PRESS AND BEST EDITION OF MARLOWE.

- 1466 MARLOWE (Christopher). Dramatic Works, with Notes, and some Account of his Life and Writings, by the REV. ALEXANDER DYCE. 3 vols. small 8vo, half morocco, cloth sides, top edges gilt, others uncut.

London, William Pickering, 1850

BEST EDITION. Only 250 copies printed at the Chiswick Press. Very scarce.

This edition is not a reprint of that of 1826, which abounds in the grossest errors, but is an entirely new text formed from a collation of the early editions.

Marlowe was the only dramatic poet who obtained any degree of celebrity previous to the appearance of Shakespeare.

FINE EXAMPLE OF LE GASCON BINDING ON A RARE VOLUME.

- 1467 MAROT and BEZA.—Les Pseaumes de DAVID Mis en Rime François par CLEMENT MAROT et THEODORE DE BEZE, Prières Ecclesiastiques. Music. Minimo, old morocco elegant, gilt edges.

Charenton and Paris, Antoine Cellier, 1691

VERY RARE. A fine example of the style of the binding of Le Gascon. The tooling is pointillé of the best kind, and the sides and back are one mass of gilding.

This is the remarkable translation of the Psalms by Clement Marot, which caused that great French poet to be declared a heretic by the Sorbonne. He was the favorite of Marguerite de Valois, sister of Francis the First, but that monarch had him imprisoned on account of his writings and Huguenot tendencies. His life, full of curious incidents, reads more like a romance than stern reality.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF MASSINGER—PRINTED BY BULMER.

- 1468 MASSINGER (Philip). DRAMATIC WORKS, with Notes, Critical and Explanatory. By W. GIFFORD. Portrait. 4 vols. large 8vo, russia extra gilt, edges gilt and contents lettered.

London, Bulmer, 1813

LARGE PAPER copy, extremely scarce. Second and best edition. The edges of this copy are nearly uncut, many being left rough. Some of the bindings are broken at the hinges—and part of one back is off.

A more perfect edition of an old poet than this was never issued from the press.

"An author who delights and never satiates."—DRAPER.

"Massinger, as a tragic writer, appears to me second only to Shakspeare; in the higher comedy I can hardly think him inferior to Jonson."—HALLAM.

GUIZOT'S COPY OF "LA JAQUERIE."

- 1469 [MERIMÉE (Prosper).] La Jaquerie, Scènes Féodales suivies de la Famille de Carvajal, Drame par l'Auteur du Théâtre de Clara Gazul. 8vo, half calf. Paris, 1828

VERY RARE, ORIGINAL EDITION, and in splendid condition. From the library of Guizot, and with his heraldic library stamp on the half-title.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF MIDDLETON'S DRAMATIC WORKS, BOUND BY RIVIERE.

- 1470 MIDDLETON (Thomas, contemporary of SHAKESPEARE). DRAMATIC and other Works, now first Collected. With some account of the author and Notes by REV. ALEXANDER DYCE. Portrait on India paper and frontispiece. 5 vols. 8vo, elegantly bound in polished calf extra, gold inside borders and gilt edges by RIVIÈRE.

London, Edward Lumley, 1840

LARGE PAPER. VERY RARE. Less than thirty copies were privately printed, Lumley says but twenty-five.

"Pre-eminently beautiful, many portions only inferior to Shakespeare. Hitherto almost inaccessible from their rarity; averaging from £20 to £30 a play."

- 1471 MIDDLETON. Another copy of the same. With portrait on INDIA PAPER and front. 5 vols. small 8vo, boards, uncut. London, Edward Lumley, 1840

"Middleton, a very voluminous writer, lived in the time of K. Charles 1st and is supposed to have died after the publication of the Pageant for 1626."—LOWNDES.

- 1472 MILLEVOYE (Charles). Œuvres de, Edition Publiée avec des Pièces Nouvelles et des Variantes par "P. L. JACOB, BIBLIOPHILE." With portrait, fac-simile and etchings by AD. LALAUZE, illustrative of the author's poetical works. 3 vols. small 8vo. Bound in fresh half crushed brown levant morocco, top edges gilt, others uncut.

Paris, Quantin, 1880

CHARMING EDITION printed on "papier vergé."

Lamartine called Millevoye his younger brother and Charles Nodier wrote:—"Venu dans un temps difficile pour les hommes d'Etat, Millevoye parut romantique parmi les classiques, et classique parmi les romantiques . . . Les uns prétendent qu'il n'a point tout osé; les autres qu'il n'a point tout bravé. Je crois que l'on citera ses ouvrages comme le point d'interjection entre les deux Écoles pretes à se confondre."

Paul Lacroix's edition, with Ch. Louandre's biography, is one long eulogy of Millevoye.

THE VERY RARE ELZEVIR MOLIERE.

- 1473 MOLIERE (J. B. Poquelin de). Les Œuvres de MONSIEUR MOLIERE—Edition Nouvelle. With engraved front. 6 vols. minimo, vellum, by J. POUILLET.

Amsterdam, Jacques et Guillaume Le Jeune, 1683-89

VERY RARE. A copy of what is known as one of the Elzevir editions of Molière and following the text of the 1675 Amsterdam edition of Jacques le Jeune in 5 vols., with the addition of—"Les Œuvres Posthumes" printed in 1689. All the volumes of this set, which is only illustrated with an engraved title to volume one, bear the imprint of Jacques le Jeune, with the exception of the "Posthumous Works," printed by Guillaume le Jeune.

There are many false titles throughout and to the separate plays, each of which are separately paginated without any reference to the remainder of the volume. Some of the dates on these false titles are different to and earlier than those on the general titles. All these particular titles state—"suivant la Copie imprimée a Paris."

The Elzevir Molière is one of the rarest and most valuable of the editions of the works of the greatest French Dramatic Poet.

"Many persons declare that his Comedies surpass or equal the most beautiful pieces of that kind written by the Ancient Greeks and Romans."—BAYLE.

LARGE PAPER MOLIERE—VAN LAUN'S TRANSLATION— WITH LALAUZE'S ETCHINGS.

- 1474 MOLIERE (J. B. Poquelin). Complete Dramatic Works of, translated and edited by HENRY VAN LAUN, with Memoir, Introductions, and Appendices, wherein are given the passages borrowed or adapted from MOLIERE by English Dramatists, with Explanatory Notes. Fine portrait and etchings on INDIA PAPER, executed specially for this edition by LALAUZE. 6 vols. large 8vo, boards, totally uncut. Edinburgh, 1875-76

LARGE PAPER and with the 35 plates of Lalauze on India paper.

"Masterly etchings, full of dramatic feeling, and rich in subtle suggestiveness of color."—Daily Telegraph.

"Exceedingly characteristic etchings from the skilful pencil of M. Lalauze, of Paris, which are entitled to the praise of being not only admirably executed, but really illustrative of Molière's text."—Glasgow News.

"As regards mere faithfulness of translation, it is astonishingly correct. Besides writing a modest prefatory life, Mr. Van Laun has prefixed to each play an Introduction containing all necessary information respecting its sources and circumstances, and has added to each an appendix of peculiar interest. These appendices contain full extracts from the plays in which English playwrights have done themselves the honour to 'convey' Molière's good things. . . . The portrait of Molière is extremely fine."—Academy.

- 1475 MOLIERE. Œuvres de MONSIEUR DE MOLIERE—Nouvelle édition, Revue, Corrigée et Augmentée. Portrait and numerous plates. 4 vols. minimo, old calf, gilt.

Utrecht, Guillaume Van de Water, 1713

London, printed for the Percy Society, 1840-52

A beautiful copy, scarce. From the very limited number of copies printed, and those for members, and not for sale, these works will always be very difficult to procure; the above contains all the publications of the Society, and includes: "Early English Poetry, Ballads, and Popular Literature of the Middle Ages, Edited from Original Manuscripts and Scarce Publications." The establishment of the Percy Society in 1840 was for the purpose primarily of paying a noble tribute to the memory of Bishop Thomas Percy, editor of—"The Reliques of Ancient Poetry."

The editors of the valuable works in this interesting series were:—J. P. Collier, J. O. Halliwell, T. Crofton Croker, Charles Mackay, T. Wright, A. Dyce, E. F. Rimbault, W. H. Black, W. Chappell, Peter Cunningham, F. W. Fairholt, P. Bliss, T. J. Pettigrew, W. J. Thoms, James Goodwin, James H. Dixon, M. A. Denham, W. Sandys and C. Hardwick.

This set, which includes the suppressed Gosson's "Quippes for Upstart New-Fangled Gentlewomen," and Bansley's "Pride and Abuse of Women," is arranged as follows:—Vol. 1, "Old Ballads," "Songs and Ballads relative to the London Prentices," "Historical Songs of Ireland," "Pain and Sorrow of Evil Marriage," and "The King and a Poor Northern Man"; Vol. 2, "Minor Poems of Lydgate," "Early Naval Ballads of England," "A Search for Money," and "Mad Pranks and Merry Jests of Robin Goodfellow"; Vol. 3, "Political Ballads," "Strange Histories," "A Marriage Triumph," and "History of Patient Grissel"; Vol. 4, "Specimens of Lyric Poetry," "Boke of Curtasye," "Christmas Carols," and "Nursery Rhymes of England"; Vol. 5, "Kind Hearts Dream," "A Knight's Conjuring," "Meeting of Gallants at an Ordinaire," and "Two Angry Women of Abingdon"; Vol. 6, "Ancient Poetical Tracts of the XVIth Century," "Cock Lorell's Bote," "Crown Garland of Golden Roses," "Hutton's Folies Anatomie," and Wotton's "Poems"; Vol. 7, "Harmony of Birds," "Paraphrase Seven Penitential Psalms," Drayton's "Harmony of Church," "Jack of Dover," and "A Kerry Pastoral"; Vol. 8,

"Selection Latin Stories" and Gifford's "Dialogues of Witches and Witchcraft"; Vol. 9, Rowlands's "Four Knaves," Thomson's "Poem to Congreve's Memory," "Pleasant Conceits of Old Hobson," "Maroccus Extaticus," and "Great Frost Old Ballads"; Vol. 10, "Lord Mayor's Pageants"; Vol. 11, "Owl and Nightingale," Croke's "Thirteen Psalms," Hall's "Historicall Expostulation, etc.," and Rich's "Honestie of this Age"; Vol. 12, "Reynard the Fox, from Caxton's edition"; Vol. 13, "Keen of South of Ireland," "Six Ballads, with Burdens" and "Lyrical Poems, 1589-1600"; Vol. 14; John Audelay's "Poems," "St. Brandan," and "Romance Emperor Octavian"; Vol. 15, "Friar Bakon's Prophecie," "Poetical Miscellanies," and "Crown Garland of Golden Roses, Part 11"; Vol. 16, "Seven Sages" and "Romance of Sir Tryamour"; Vol. 17, "Scottish Ancient Ballads" and "Ancient Poems, Ballads and Songs"; Vol. 18, Hawes's "Pastime of Pleasure"; Vol. 19, "Civic Garland" and "Thomas Becket"; Vol. 20, Barnfield's "Affectionate Shepherd," "Wit and Folly," "Proverbs and Popular Sayings" and "Song of Lady Bessy"; Vol. 21, "Popular Songs, Illustrative of French Invasion of Ireland"; Vol. 22, "Citizen and Uplondyshman," "Interlude Four Elements," "Disobedient Child," "Autobiography Mary Countess Warwick" and "Westward for Smelts"; Vol. 23, "Fifteenth Century Songs and Carols"; "Sixteenth and Seventeenth Century Festive Songs" and "Popular English Histories"; Vols. 24, 25 and 26, Chaucer's "Canterbury Tales"; Vol. 27, "Beleeve as you List," and "Satirical Songs and Poems on Costume"; Vol. 28, "Anglo-Saxon Passion of Saint George," "Poem on Times of Edward II.," "Poems of William de Shoreham," and "Triall of Treasure"; Vol. 29, "Fugitive Tracts and Chap Books," "Man in Moone," "Use of Dice Play," "Loyal Garland" and "Poems and Songs, Assassination Duke of Buckingham"; Vol. 30, "Garland of Good Will," "Britannia's Pastoral" and "John Bon and Mast Person."

PAYNE COLLIER'S PRIVATELY PRINTED EDITION OF SHAKESPEARE—LIMITED TO 58 SETS FOR SUBSCRIBERS ONLY.

- 1522 SHAKESPEARE (William). PLAYS AND POEMES WITH THE PUREST TEXT AND BRIEFEST NOTES, EDITED BY J. PAYNE COLLIER. 8 vols. (in 43 parts complete as issued) 4to.

London, privately printed for the Subscribers, 1875-78

VERY SCARCE and LIMITED EDITION of 58 sets, published for subscribers only, beautifully printed by Thomas Richards on heavy hot-pressed paper with extra wide margins, each play being separately paginated and duplicate sets of titles being given to suit the taste and wishes of the owner in binding, and is divided as follows:—

Vol. I. The Tempest, The Two Gentlemen of Verona, The Merry Wives of Windsor, Measure for Measure, The Comedy of Errors, Much Ado about Nothing; Vol. II. Love's Labours Lost, A Midsummer Night's Dream, The Merchant of Venice, As You Like It, Taming of the Shrew, All's Well that Ends Well; Vol. III. Twelfth Night, The Winter's Tale, King John, King Edward the Third, King Henry the Second, King Henry the Fourth—Part I.; Vol. IV., King Henry the Fourth—Part II., King Henry the Sixth—Parts I., II. and III., King Richard the Third; Vol. V. Henry the Eighth, Troilus and Cressida, Coriolanus, Titus and Andronicus, Romeo and Juliet; Vol. VI. Timon of Athens, Julius Cæsar, Macbeth, Hamlet, King Lear; Vol. VII. Othello, Antony and Cleopatra, Cymbeline, Pericles Prince of Tyre, The Two Noble Kinsmen; Vol. VIII. A Yorkshire Tragedy, Macedorus, Venus and Adonis, Lucrece, Sonnets, A Lover's Complaint, The Passionate Pilgrim.

Mr. Collier in his preface remarks that—"As to the text I have been guided, and indeed governed, by a close examination of, I may say, every authentic impression that has been issued from the year 1596 to the present day.

"I have inserted in my present edition three plays which have never yet been included in any collection of the works of the great dramatist—Edward the Third, indubitably by Shakespeare; The Yorkshire Tragedy, to which he contributed, probably in the haste to prepare it for representation; and Macedorus, to which it seems certain he added a scene on some revival of a popular old drama, most likely in existence before Shakespeare joined a theatrical company. This very scene may, possibly, have been his earliest contribution to the stage.

"My original proposal was to furnish fifty subscribers with three plays in return for every £1 transmitted to me from time to time as the work proceeded. I had calculated that printing and paper for each play would not cost more than £12 to £15, and such was the case in the outset; but as I advanced I found that many of the plays, from their bulk, cost from £15 to £20—in several instances nearly £25. For this increase I ought to have been but was not prepared, and as I was sure that my subscribers could not wish me to be a heavy loser by my labours, I ventured in one instance to make an additional call on them. As, however, I felt that I ought not to pursue a course so irregular and irresponsible, I resolved after much deliberation and very unwillingly to add to my fifty a few more names, so as to make my edition consist of 58, instead of 50 copies."

EDITION-DE-LUXE OF SHAKESPEARE, WITH MONZIES'S ETCHINGS.

- 1523 SHAKESPEARE. The Dramatic Works of SHAKESPEARE—the text of the first folio edition. Illustrated with charming etchings by M. MONZIES, from new designs by M. PILLE, and a faithful reproduction of the DROESHOUT portrait, head and tail pieces—beautifully printed on the finest paper. 8 vols. 8vo, cloth, rough edges.

Edinburgh, William Paterson, 1883

EDITION-DE-LUXE, published at £5. Limited edition of 550 copies only, on Holland paper and all numbered, this being No. 89.

"It is, then, an eminent service to Shakespearian literature which Mr. William Paterson renders when he issues an edition of the poet's works which is an exact reprint of the famous folio. In this case we have not a fac simile reproducing the size, shape and every detail or defect of the original, but a handsome edition in eight octavo volumes, with the best paper and the most delicate of typography, presenting an exact transcript of the folio, with the spelling and the metrical disposition of the original, and with all the minutiae of italics, parenthesis and the like with which a text of that period abounds. . . .

. . . We may almost fancy we are nearer to the poet in intelligence and sympathy when we have his words as he or his companions set them down. . . .

We need only remark, in conclusion, that the work is illustrated throughout with etchings of great finish and delicacy, which, for the most part, indicate a real Shakespearian sentiment."—London Times.

"It is a significant fact that Mr. Paterson should have gone to France for work of this kind. We doubt if he could have got it done so well in England. It is not that we do not possess etchers, men capable of far higher work than this, but, as a rule, the English artists in this kind are unable or unwilling to bend their talent to the business of miniature illustration. . . . Here we see MM. Pille and Monzies quietly going through the whole series of plays without a single failure. They are workmanlike and skillful, and, on the whole, they have produced an excellent edition of Shakespeare, which we recommend to all lovers of handsome books."—Saturday Review.

THE RARE CORRALL EDITION OF SHAKESPEARE.

THE DELIUS SHAKESPEARE.

- 1527 SHAKESPEARE. The Royal SHAKESPEARE. The Poet's Works in Chronological Order from the Text of PROFESSOR DELIUS with the addition of the "Two Noble Kinsmen" and EDWARD III., and an Introduction by F. J. FURNIVALL. Portraits, fac-simile, and numerous fine steel plates and wood engravings. 3 vols. thick 4to, fresh half morocco gilt, cloth sides, gilt edges. London, n. d.

This edition of the Works of Shakespeare is without doubt one of the most complete ever issued, containing as it does not only the acknowledged works, but also the "Two Noble Kinsmen" and "Edward III.," two plays which are considered by competent authorities to contain much of Shakespeare's work.

The chief object in the chronological researches of Professor Delius is to point out the growth and working out of the genius and dramatic career of the Bard of Avon.

- 1528 SHAKESPEARE. Dramatische Werke ubersetzt von AUGUST WILHELM VON SCHLEGEL und LUDWIG TIECK. Portrait of SHAKESPEARE by H. SAGERT. 12 vols. in 6. Small 8vo, cloth. Berlin, 1851-52

VERY SCARCE German translation of the plays of Shakespeare by Schlegel and Tieck.

SHERIDAN'S DRAMATIC WORKS—LIMITED EDITION, PRINTED BY DE VINNE.

- 1532 SHERIDAN (Richard Brinsley). The Dramatic Works, with an Introduction by RICHARD GRANT WHITE. Portraits. 3 vols. 8vo, boards, totally uncut. N. Y., 1883

No. 69 of edition printed from type, and limited to 350 copies on Japan and Holland papers.

"It is printed from type by the house of De Vinne & Co., which is well-known for the affectionate care bestowed by it upon the finer and more costly class of work, and the impression is limited to thirty copies on Japan paper and three hundred and eighteen on Holland paper. It may, therefore, be called an edition of luxury, and indeed by the beauty of the page, the perfection of the press work, the excellence of the paper, and the severe style of the plain binding, it is entitled to the respectful consideration of the serious collector. Mr. White reviews the career of the author with vivacity and acuteness, and whatever else may be said of his introduction everybody will call it interesting."—New York Tribune.

- 1533 SOIRÉES PARISIENNES par "Un Monsieur de l'Or-chestre," for the Years 1874 to 1883, inclusive. *With

DE ROUJOUX et CH. NODIER.

Paris, Nepveu, 1827

TOGETHER 2 vols. 8vo, half red morocco gilt, by THOUVENIN.

UNIQUE. These rare volumes are illustrated with engravings of the "genre Gothique," after the designs of COLIN, pupil of GIRODET. Some are in five states—first etching, India paper without Gothic border and before letters, India paper with border before letters, proof with border before letters, and proof colored by hand. Others are in four states.
The vignettes are in three states—1, in the text, 2,
India proof and 3, colored by hand.

Clotilde de Surville is claimed to have written poetry more correct in its language than that of Marot, and to have composed verses that Sappho would have been willing to acknowledge.

The illustration at the side of this description is taken from "the American Book Maker" of February, 1887. The reference to this reliure and that of the "Chansons de Beranger," which accompanied it in that part of Howard Lockwood and Co.'s valuable Magazine, will be found in the note to number 894 of this catalogue.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF WEBSTER'S DRAMATIC WORKS —PUBLISHED BY PICKERING.

- 1561 WEBSTER (John). The Works of, Now First Collected with Some Account of the Author and Notes by the REV. ALEXANDER DYCE, B.A. Small 8vo, cloth, uncut.
London, William Pickering, 1830

LARGE PAPER and printed on ribbed paper. This copy includes (loose) the very rare appendix printed in 1838. It also has the heraldic book-plate of Langford Sotheby Browne.

Hazlitt calls attention in his "Dramatic Literature" to the similarity between the "general conception and individual expression" of the plays of Webster and those of the Bard of Avon, which is nothing extraordinary, considering the two authors were contemporaries. Sir Walter Scott writing to Dyce in 1831, remarked:—"Webster, I think, is one of the best of our ancient dramatists."

"An author that liv'd in the Reign of King James the First and was in those Days accounted an Excellent Poet. He joyn'd with Decker, Marston and Rowley in several Plays, and was likewise author of others, which have even in our Age gain'd Applause."—LANGBAINE.

SPLENDID BASKERVILLE IMPRINT.

- 1586 BASKERVILLE.—PUBLII TERENTII AFRI Comœdiæ. Large 4to, red crinkled morocco, gilt.
Birmingham, typis Johannis Baskerville, 1772

VERY RARE and a fine example of the typography of the celebrated eighteenth century English printer, John Baskerville.

"The typography of Baskerville is eminently beautiful; his letters are in general of a slender and delicate form . . . . He united in a singularly happy manner the elegance of Plantin with the clearness of the Elzevirs . . . . He seems to have been extremely curious in the choice of his paper or ink . . . . In his italic character, whether capital or small, he stands unrivalled; such elegance, freedom and perfect symmetry being in vain to be looked for among the specimens of Aldus and Colinaeus."—DIBDIN.

- 1587 BELL (Sir C.). THE HAND; Its Mechanism and Vital Analysis, as evincing design, and illustrating the Power, Wisdom, and Goodness of God, with Notes, etc., by ALEXANDER SHAW. Small 8vo, half calf, marbled edges, by HARLEY. London, 1877

- 1588 BLACK (William). Adventures in Thule. Small 8vo, fresh cloth. London, 1883

- 1589 BOECE. Consolation de la Philosophie, traduite par le P. R. DE CERIZIERS, S. J. Engraved false title Minimo, vellum. Paris, [1639]

RARE. With the MS. note on title, "Ex Libris Francisci Maisiere," also with an autograph note on an end paper from J. Gentil, the exile from France under the Coup d'Etat, who came to Louisiana with Elisée Reclus, the great geographer, and founded a newspaper, Le Louisianais.

Although a large portion of the "Consolation of Philosophy," by Boethius, is in verse, it is in no sense a poem, the metrical portions having been written by its author, a Roman statesman, to relieve the monotony, not only of composition, but of imprisonment, which he left for his execution. Queen Elizabeth of England, while confined in prison by her sister Mary, translated the "Carmina" of Boethius into English, as her ancestor Alfred the Great did into Saxon just a thousand years ago.

- 1595 BOURDALOUE.— | Eloge Funebre | de Tres-Haut, Tres-Puissant | et Tres-Excellent PRINCE | HENRI DE BOURBON | PRINCE DE CONDÉ, | et Premier PRINCE DU SANG. | Prononcé à Paris le 10 jour de Décembre 1683. en l'Eglise | de la Maison Professe des Peres de la Compagnie | de JESUS. | Par le PERE BOURDALOUË, de la mesme Compagnie. | Vignette portrait on title and head and tail pieces engraved by LE CLERC. 4to. Handsomely bound by TRAUTZ-BAUZONNET in crushed red levant morocco, inside gold dentelle borders, gilt edges.

Paris, Sebastien Marie Cramoisy, 1684

VERY RARE and a superb copy of the original edition, with very wide margins and bound by Trautz-Bauzonnet. Morgand-Fatout priced a copy of this volume at 350 francs in their 1882 catalogue

The Jesuit D'Arruis, speaking of Bourdaloue, said : " Lorsque le Père Bourdaloue prêcha à Rouen, les artisans quittoient leurs boutiques pour l'aller entendre; les marchands leur négoce; les avocats le palais; les médecins leurs malades. Pour moi lorsque je prêchai l'année d'après, je remis toutes choses dans l'ordre, personne n'abandonnoit pas son emploi."

"The style and imagery of Bourdaloue seem to rush upon us with the force of a mountain torrent; he is the Demosthenes of French divines; but it cannot be denied that his art is too apparent; and that all the subordinate parts of his composition seem to be purposely kept down, in order to sharpen the force of his logic, and to aggravate the terror of his invective. In the higher departments of sermon composition, he is, doubtless, without a rival; our Horsley seems to have had much in common with that eminent divine, as, in the deeper scenes of Christ's sufferings, and in the delineation of the day of judgment, there was much about both these preachers which exhibited all the sublimity of which such subjects are capable."—DIBDIN.

"Almost all that we require in a novelist, the writer has,—perception of character and knowledge of delineating it, picturesqueness, passion and knowledge of life. Reality—deep, significant reality—is the characteristic of the book."—Fraser's Magazine.

- 1598 BROWN (Robert, M. A.). Countries of the World, being a Popular Description of the Various Continents, Islands, Rivers, Seas and Peoples of the Globe. Profusely illustrated. 6 vols. in 3. 4to, fresh half morocco gilt, cloth sides, marbled edges. London, n. d.

This most comprehensive work contains not only the ordinary geographical details, but also much previously unpublished information that the author has collected during extensive journeys and voyages. He was assisted by many experienced travelers and correspondents, whose descriptions of the regions of which they were personally acquainted form not only a thoroughly readable work, but a most valuable one of reference for the student, the man of business and the investor.

"The author's lively descriptions in 'The Countries of the World,' while scrupulously accurate as to facts, and giving the living marrow rather than the dry bones of geographical science, will give a clearer idea than would tons of geographical encyclopædias."—Scotsman.

EXTREMELY RARE CARICATURES BY ROWLANDSON, WOODWARD, GILLRAY, ISAAC CRUIKSHANK, ROBERT CRUIKSHANK AND GEORGE CRUIKSHANK—ALL COLORED BY HAND.

1606 CARICATURES.—TEGG'S CARICATURE MAGAZINE, OR HUDIBRASTIC MIRROR. 4 vols. oblong 4to, half roan. London, 1807-19

A MOST EXTRAORDINARY COLLECTION OF 204 ORIGINAL CARICATURES BY ROWLANDSON, WOODWARD, GILLRAY, ISAAC CRUIKSHANK, ROBERT

CRUIKSHANK AND GEORGE CRUIKSHANK, ALL ETCHED ON COPPER AND COLORED BY HAND. These etchings were originally published at sixpence plain and 1s. colored, but of late years their value has been considerably enhanced by the competition of numerous collectors on the one hand and their extreme rarity on the other. Some of the following prints included in these volumes have not long since been sold in London auction rooms for half a guinea to £6 each:—"Comedy in the Country and Tragedy in London," Rowlandson; "Dandies at Tea," Robert Cruikshank, 1818; "The Cobbler's Cure for a Scolding Wife," Rowlandson; "Rigging out a Smuggler," Rowlandson; "Snuffing our Boney" powerful early etching by George Cruikshank, 1814; "A Dutch Toy or a Pretty Play-thing for a Young Princess," a satire on the contemplated marriage of Princess Charlotte with the Prince of Orange, George Cruikshank, 1814; "Comfort to the Crows," Gillray; "Pidgeon Hole at Covent Garden Theatre to Coop up the Gods," Rowlandson; "Romeo Coates the Amateur of Fashion"; "After Sweet Meat Comes Sour Sauce!" Rowlandson; "Bartholomew Fair," Rowlandson; "Richardson's Booth at Fairlop Fair," "A Lilliputian Auction," Isaac Cruikshank; "Joanna Southcote Excommunicating the Bishops," Rowlandson, 1814; "Kicking up a Breeze at Nell Hamilton's Hop," Rowlandson; "Gambols on the River Thames (During the Great Frost)," Feb., 1814, George Cruikshank; "Fight between Cribb and Molineaux, Sept. 28th, 1811," Rowlandson; "The Clerical Magistrate," George Cruikshank, 1819; "The Irish Poet's Grace," Isaac Cruikshank; "Female Politicians," and Pastime in Portugal, Rowlandson, etc. The earliest date of any print in this collection is 1807—the latest 1819. It is impossible to say how near completion the set is, as so many have been broken up from time to time. Apparently two title-pages are lacking of four, but that is of little consequence to either the Cruikshank or Rowlandson collector, as the titles appear to have been executed by other and inferior artists.

Birmingham, 1885

"This volume cannot fail to interest the cultivated reader. One is able therein to look out on the New World as its discoverers and first explorers looked upon it. Now-a-days this globe has but few geographical mysteries; and it is losing its romance as fast as it is losing its wild beasts. In the following Texts, however, the Wonderment of its Discovery in all its freshness is preserved, as in amber, for all time: and they also contain notices of not a few barbaric civilizations which have long since passed away from off the face of the earth."—ARBER.

Published at twenty dollars.

- 1673 FROISSART (Sir John). Chronicles of France, England, Spain, etc., from the latter part of the Reign of EDWARD II. to the Coronation of HENRY IV., translated by THOS. JOHNES. Front. (cut down). 12 vols. small 8vo, half morocco, gilt (MS. names on some titles). London, 1808

THIRD EDITION, with life of the author, essay on his works, criticism on his history and dissertation on his poetry.

Sir Walter Scott, in his "Tales of My Landlord," thus speaks of the above:—"Did you ever read Froissart?" "No," said Morton. "I have half a mind," said Claverhouse, "to contrive you should have six months' imprisonment in order to procure you that pleasure. His chapters inspire me with more enthusiasm than even poetry itself."

Thomas Johnes, the translator of Froissart and Monstrelet, was a bibliophilic friend of T. F. Dibdin, who gives a most eulogistic account of his grand library, Allibone says—"In 1807 the splendid mansion of Col. Johnes, with much of its valuable contents, was destroyed by fire: the loss amounted to £70,000. The energetic Bibliomaniac was not, however, to be discouraged, and built and adorned a new edifice. Evelyn would have been delighted with the colonel, for he planted above three millions of trees on his Cardiganshire estates."

- 1674 GARDNER (Samuel R., LL.D.). History of England from the Accession of JAMES I. to the Outbreak of the Civil War, 1603-1642. Map. 10 vols. small 8vo, fresh cloth. London, 1884

This valuable work, published by Longmans, fills up a considerable portion of the "History of England" lacking between the works of Froude and Macaulay.

"Mr. Gardner is a historian in the truest sense; that is, he does not merely repeat in new forms the conclusions of others, but goes directly to the original authorities, reconstructs in imagination the periods of which he treats, and gives prominence only to such causes as lead to important effects. . . . In the most troubled ages, which are generally judged from a strictly party standpoint, he strives after complete impartiality, doing justice to the actions and motives even of those with whom he has no personal sympathy."—The London Globe.

- 1675 GATLING GUNS of Large Calibre. Report on. Plates, etc. Large 4to, cloth. Washington, 1864

- 1680 GIRAULT-DUVIVIER (C. P.). Grammaire des Grammaires sur la Langue Française. 2 vols. thick 8vo, sewed, uncut. Paris, 1873

GONSE'S MAGNIFICENT WORK ON JAPANESE ART— LIMITED EDITION.

- 1681 GONSE (LOUIS, Directeur de la Gazette des Beaux Arts). L'ART JAPONOIS. Illustrated by 64 full-page engravings, 30 of which are colored; there are in addition 13 etchings, 21 plates in heliogravure by the DUJARDIN process, and over 700 other engravings, exclusive of fac-similes of seals, autographs, etc. 2 vols. large 4to, fresh illuminated satin, edges uncut. Paris, A. Quantin, 1883

No. 906 of limited edition on Japan paper. The imported price of the above is 120 dollars. This magnificent work, of which but a limited edition was published, met with a ready sale among all interested in Japanese art. The work was the first published giving a general history of the art of Japan. The author, M. Gonse, himself a well-known collector, had unusually fine facilities for the faithful performance of his work. The period reaches from the ninth to the nineteenth century.

- 1682 GOODALE (George L., M.D., Professor of Botany in Harvard University). WILD FLOWERS OF AMERICA. With 50 well-executed and colored plates from original drawings by ISAAC SPRAGUE. Thick large 4to, fresh half red morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. Boston, 1882

Isaac Sprague, the eminent botanical artist, has brought to this work the skill and experience acquired by association with Audubon, and during his extended investigations conducted under direction of Prof. Asa Gray, of Harvard University.

"Mr. Isaac Sprague, who has drawn these flowers, is without a superior in the country as a botanical artist. The pictures are absolutely correct in the delineation of the organs and in the tone of color. The process of lithography has been marvelously successful. . . . The accompanying text by Professor Goodale is admirable."—The New York Independent.

This exquisite book is one of the most magnificent specimens of book-making and illustrating of ancient or modern times. The text (pp. 384) and plates throughout are printed on the finest plate paper. The reproductions on steel and wood consist of the best examples of twenty-four of the leading artists of the present day, viz:—BOUGUEREAU, ALMA-TADEMA, MUNKACSY, BONHEUR, HENNER, BAUDRY, LEFEBVRE, BRIDGMAN, KNAUS, BRETON, BONNAT, MILLAIS, ISRAELS, JACQUE, LAURENS, VAN MARCKE, DE NITTIS, HERKOMER, MEISSONIER, BOULANGER, CHAVANNES, MADRAZO, MESDAG and GEROME.

Of the 450 illustrations 24 are on India paper. But one of the most important features of this grand exhibit is the reproduction in the text of the sketches or studies of those masters of all that is greatest in art. Such an insight is seldom vouchsafed to the uninitiated, and the originals are unattainable, even by the wealthiest.

GRANT'S OLD AND NEW EDINBURGH.

1686 GRANT (James). Old and New Edinburgh—Its History, its People and its Places. Profusely illustrated. 3 vols. 4to, half morocco gilt, cloth sides, gilt edges.

London, n. d.

In Edinburgh—or Modern Athens, as it is often called—every step is historical; the memories of a remote and romantic past confront us at every turn and corner, and every spot is associated with some thrilling or heroic deed.

On the one hand we have, almost unchanged in general aspect, yet changing in detail at the ruthless demands of improvement, the Edinburgh of the Middle Ages—"the Queen of the North upon her hilly throne"—the city of the Davids and of five gallant Jameses—her massive mansions of stone, weather-beaten, old, dark and time-worn, teeming with historical recollections of many generations of men; many painful and many pitiful memories, some of woe, but more of war and wanton cruelty; of fierce combats and feudal battles; of rancorous quarrels and foreign invasions; and of loyal and noble hearts that were wasted and often broken in their passionate faith to religion and a regal race that is now now more.

On the other hand, and all unlike the warrior city of the Middle Ages, beyond the deep ravine overlooked by Princes Street—that most beautiful of European terraces—and by that noble pinnaced cross which seems the very shrine of Scott, we have the modern Edinburgh of the days of peace and prosperity, with all its spacious squares and far-stretching streets, adorned by the statues of those great men who but lately trod them. And so the Past and the Present stand face to face, by the valley where of old the waters of the North Loch lay.

In the old city there is not a street wherein blood has not been shed again and again, in war and local tumult, for it is the Edinburgh of those days when the sword was never in its scabbard; when to settle a quarrel à la mode de Edimbourg was a European proverb; when the death-bed advice of Bruce was carried out, and truces were made, but seldom peace, with England; and when it has been said that many a Scottish mother had never a son left to lay her head in the grave, for in foreign war or domestic feud all had gone before her to the land of the leal.

New Edinburgh appeals to us in a different sense. It tells peculiarly in all its phases of modern splendor, wealth, luxury and all the arts of peace, while "in no other city," it has been said, "will you find so general an appreciation of books, art, music and objects of antiquarian interest." In picturesque beauty the capital of Scotland is second to none. "What the tour of Europe was necessary to see I find congregated in this one city," said Sir David Wilkie. "Here alike are the beauties of Prague and of Salzburg, the romantic sights of Orvieto and Tivoli, and all the magnificence of the Bays of Naples and Genoa. Here, indeed, to the painter's fancy may be found realized the Roman Capitol and the Grecian Acropolis."

Paris, chez la Veuve Sebastien Hure, 1683

EXTREMELY RARE and First Edition, a copy of which sold at the Murphy Sale (lot 1193) for $70.

Field says:—"It has been the fashion until late in this age to deride the work of Father Hennepin, as smacking of the marvelous. Indeed, some of our savants have endeavored to prove that the very excellent Father Recollet never saw any of the wonders he narrates. This severe criticism proceeds from sources which entitle him to the benefit at least of a doubt of its impartiality."

"Hennepin was persecuted and has been severely criticised, chiefly on account of his opposition to the Jesuits, and because he counseled William III. (in whose dominions he had sought for the freedom and safety which he could not find in France) to send out missionaries to the New World. His enemies considered such advice from a monk as heretical and detestable; it simply proves the wiser, purer, and more Catholic Christianity of Hennepin, who had no bigoted horror for other sects than his own."—STEVENS.

LITTRÉ'S GRAND FRENCH DICTIONARY.

1744 LITTRÉ.—Dictionnaire de la Langue Française; par É. LITTRÉ, de l'Institut (Académie Française et Académie des Inscriptions et Belles-Lettres). Also Supplement. 5 vols. thick large 4to, half red morocco, cloth sides. Paris, 1878

"No language that we have ever studied, or attempted to study, possesses a Dictionary so rich in the history of words as this great work which M. Littré has fortunately lived long enough to complete. To the love of order, system and clearness which belongs to the French mind, he has joined a degree of patience in research and scientific thoroughness in comparison, which we have been accustomed to associate with German rather than with French erudition. The courage which could undertake such a task as this might have been considered mere uncalculating rashness if the workman had not lived to complete his colossal performance.

"The entire work contains 4,708 pages, and M. Littré's Dictionary contains twice as much printed matter as the whole of the Waverley Novels, with a few thousand of novel-pages into the bargain.

"Mere bigness is, however, one of the least of its many claims to attention. M. Littré is not the first man who has made a big Dictionary, and we all know that in labors of this kind the author whose name is on the title-page avails himself of the services of others. The wonder is that so vast an undertaking should have been carried through from beginning to end without the slightest hitch or flaw, and in perfect obedience to one great governing idea."—Saturday Review.

EXTREMELY RARE. The English title of the 1709 Indian Psalter reads—"The Massachusett Psalter: Or Psalms of David, with the Gospel according to John, in columns of Indian, and English, Being an Introduction for Training up the Aboriginal Natives in Reading and Understanding the Holy Scriptures." This copy is imperfect, only having 146 leaves. It lacks—the first seven leaves, also signatures R, S, T, V, W, Y, Z, BB, EE, HH, II, and some occasional leaves throughout, as well as the last two leaves.

"Next to Eliot's Bible this is the most important monument of the Massachusset language. The translation was made by the Revd. Experience Mayhew."—JOHN HAMMOND TRUMBULL.

"The Indian language had been familiar to him [Experience Mayhew] from infancy, and he was employed by the commissioners for propagating the gospel in New England to make a new version of the Psalms and of John, which work he executed with great accuracy in 1709."—WILLIAM ALLEN.

MOLIERE TRANSLATED BY VAN LAUN AND ILLUSTRATED BY LALAUZE.

1768 MOLIERE (J. B. P. de). Complete Dramatic Works of. The Library Edition translated and edited, with Memoir, Introductions and Appendices, wherein are given the passages borrowed or adapted from MOLIERE by English Dramatists, with Explanatory Notes by HENRI VAN LAUN. Portrait and exquisite etchings by ADOLPHE LALAUZE. 6 vols. large 8vo, cloth, uncut.Edinburgh, Paterson, 1875-76

"As regards mere faithfulness of translation, it is astonishingly correct. Besides writing a modest prefatory life, Mr. Van Laun has prefixed to each play an Introduction containing all necessary information respecting its sources and circumstances, and has added to each an appendix of peculiar interest. These appendices contain full extracts from the plays in which English playwrights have done themselves the honor to 'convey' Molière's good things. . . . The portrait of Molière is extremely fine."—Academy.

1769 MONROE (James). View of the Conduct of the Executive in the Foreign Affairs of the United States, connected with the Mission to the French Republic, during the years 1794-96. Phila., 1797

1770 MONTAIGNE (Michel de). Essais. Fine portrait of MONTAIGNE by NOEL PRUNEAU. 3 vols. small 8vo, crinkled morocco gilt, dentelle gold inside borders, watered crimson silk ends, with gilt tooled borders, edges gilt, by P. MESLANT. Paris, Jean François Bastien, 1783-RARE and much sought after edition. Brunet says:—"Edition imprimée sur tres beau papier, et beaucoup plus soignée pour la correction que plusieurs du même editeur," i. e., P. Coste.1771 MONTECUCOLI (Raymund). Arte Universal de la Guerra. Minimo, mottled sheep. Madrid, 1808

TOOLED BY BAUZONNET.

- 1772 MONTESQUIEU (Carl de Secondat, Baron de). Œuvres Complètes de MONTESQUIEU, précédées de son Eloge, par D'ALEMBERT. Nouvelle Edition. Portrait by POURVOYEUR ON INDIA PAPER. Thick large 8vo. Bound by PURGOLD in russia extra gilt, dentelle gold inside borders, edges gilt. Paris, De Bure, 1827

VERY SCARCE EDITION but foxed slightly in parts. The illustration of the reliure in this volume is the reproduction that appeared in the "American Book Maker" of March, 1887, where Mr. Ingersoll Lockwood says:—

"Purgold, too, belongs to this period of decorative stamp; but his chief claim upon the attention of the student arises from the fact that he was the predecessor, if not the instructor, of Bauzonnet.

"On page 66 [of the March, 1887, "American Book Maker"] will be found a camera reproduction of a piece of work [i. e., Mr. Pene du Bois's Montesquieu] bearing the imprint of Purgold, Paris, 1827, an admirably finished binding from a mechanical standpoint. In all probability the tooling was done by Bauzonnet himself."

- 1773 MONTH (The), an Illustrated Magazine of Literature, Science and Art. Illustrations. Vols. 1 and 2 (July, 1864–June, 1865). 8vo, half roan. London, 1864–65

FRANCS, vide inserted catalogue cutting. It came originally from the library of "Jn. Hte. Basse," vide inserted book-plate.

Bossuet, on being asked which of the French works he would prefer to have been the writer, replied: "Les Lettres Provinciales"; and Father Bonhours, once disputing with Boileau concerning the difficulty of writing pure French, mentioned several as, in his opinion, models of style. Boileau, however, rejecting them all, Bonhours angrily inquired, "Quel est donc selon vous l'Ecrivain parfait?" Boileau instantly replied, "Mon Père, lisons les Lettres Provinciales, et croyez moi, ne lisons pas d'autre livre."

1801 PASCAL. Lettres Écrites a un Provincial Précédées d'une Notice sur PASCAL, Considérée comme Ecrivain et Comme Moraliste par M. VILLEMAIN. Nouvelle Edition. 8vo, old calf gilt, marbled edges (half-title cut).

N. Y., 1884

Limited edition of 169 copies, of which the above is on Holland paper. Pepys' Diary presents a true and most interesting portraiture of the busy and important times of King Charles I., Oliver Cromwell, King Charles II., King James II. and King William. There are no books of their class in the language for which it is more desirable that the widest possible circulation should be obtained.

"It is the book of books to dip into at random, to rummage for things curious and entertaining, to ransack for the light it throws on contemporary men, manners, morals, and society, and to consult for the valuable historical facts it discloses, and the interesting public and private events and occurrences it describes. A wonderful mosaic of things great and small, in church and state, in politics and affairs, in business and society, in the world of scandal and intrigue, in art, science and literature, and in the daily and household life and customs of artisans, merchants, gentry, nobility, and even of royalty itself; nowhere else can be found so complete a bird's-eye view of the England, or rather the London, of the last days of the Rump and the first nine years of the Restoration as in the unique diurnal jottings of this prince of gossips and the most indefatigable of reporters."—Harper's Magazine.

1805 PETIT ALMANACH de la Cour de France. Views. Minimo, boards, gilt edges in case. Paris, 1813

Thick 4to, half turkey morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. London, privately printed, 1877

VERY RARE and high priced. Limited edition of 250 copies. "Improper books, however useful to the student or dear to the collector, are not 'virginibus puerisque'; they should be used with caution even by the mature; they should be looked upon as poisons and treated as such; should be (so to say) distinctly labeled, and only confided to those who understand their potency and are capable of rightly using them."—PISANUS-FRAXI.

1808 PISANUS-FRAXI.—CENTURIA LIBRORUM ABSCONDITORUM, BEING NOTES BIO—BIBLIO—ICONO—GRAPHICAL AND CRITICAL on Curious and Uncommon Books by PISANUS-FRAXI. Front., plates and fac-similes. Thick 4to, half turkey morocco, top edge gilt, others uncut. London, privately printed, 1879

VERY RARE and high priced. Limited edition of 250 copies.

"The present volume is a sequel to the 'Index Librorum Prohibitorum,' which I had privately printed in 1877, and might with propriety have formed a second volume of that work, had I not for several reasons preferred rather to alter the first part of the title, and to let each volume stand by itself, the more so as each volume is complete in itself."—PISANUS-FRAXI, Preliminary Remarks in above.

"This book for men alone is meant,
Book-worms or bibliophiles anent,
Of solid mind, of serious bent,
On curious, hidden books intent,
On odd research and learning."

- 1809 PLASSE (Louis De). Etude de l'Arsenic. 8vo, sewed, uncut. N. Y., 1883

LIMITED EDITION-DE-LUXE OF RICHARDSON'S WORKS.

- 1816 RICHARDSON (Samuel, author of "Clarissa Harlowe").
WORKS, with a Prefatory Chapter of Biographical Criticism by LESLIE STEPHEN, and edited by DR. MANGIN. Portrait. 12 vols. 8vo, cloth, uncut.

London and Manchester, Henry Sotheman & Co., 1883-84

LIMITED EDITION-DE-LUXE of 750 copies printed from type, which has been distributed.

"Messrs. Sotheman deserve thanks for these handsome volumes, which would have pleased the vanity of the old bookseller. Not the least merit of the edition is that it is introduced by a thoughtful and suggestive sketch by Mr. Leslie Stephen. Richardson deserves respect, apart from his intrinsic merits, as being the father of the English novel. That he is immensely long and at times deplorably dull, that his characters are, like himself, filled with inordinate vanity, cannot be denied. But if the reader can get through what Mr. Leslie Stephen calls 'the initial difficulty' there is a wealth of imagination below which will reward the effort."—London Times.

"As regards print and paper this edition is eminently satisfactory, and so far will be the handsomest that has appeared since Dr. Mangin's edition in 19 vols., published about 70 years ago."—London Daily News.

LARGE PAPER COPY OF "CLARISSA HARLOWE" IN FRENCH, WITH CHODOWIECKI'S BEAUTIFUL ETCHINGS.

- 1817 RICHARDSON. Clarisse Harlowe. Traduction Nouvelle et seule complète; par M. LE TOURNEUR faite sur l'Edition Originale, revue par RICHARDSON. Dédicée et présentée a Monsieur, Frère du Roi. Illustrated with the etchings of CHODOWIECKI. 10 vols. 8vo, calf, gilt edges.
Geneva, 1785-86

LARGE PAPER, VELLUM PAPER and with PROOFS BEFORE LETTERS of the celebrated etchings of Chodowiecki.

Richardson "was a printer and bookseller, a joiner's son, who at the age of fifty, and in his leisure moments, wrote in his shop parlor; a laborious man who, by work and good conduct, had raised himself to a competency and sound information. . . . No one in this age has equalled him in detail and comprehensive conceptions."—TAINÉ.

"His personages have all the reality possible, his incidents are realized in the manners of all polished nations. What fertility in the invention of personages! What variety in the delineation of character!"—DIDEROT.

"The power of Richardson's painting, in his deeper scenes of tragedy, never has been, and probably never will be, excelled."—SIR WALTER SCOTT.

It was not only as a financial reformer that the Duc de Sully served King Henry the Fourth of France and his country. He was the King's counsellor in all the great measures of the reign with regard to foreign affairs, and also in those by which belief of conscience and full rights of citizenship were guaranteed to the Huguenots; and by which the effective administration of the law and the maintenance of order and tranquility were secured.

"The Memoirs of Sully finish the portrait of these times, in finishing for us not only the portrait of Henry IV., but in giving us many curious particulars respecting the practical government of France, its finances, factions and the whole state of its constitution and interests. His work is authentic and practically valuable, and must be read."—PROF. SMYTH.

- 1854 THACKERAY (William Makepeace). Vanity Fair, a Novel Without a Hero. With illustrations on steel and wood by the author. Thick 8vo, cloth, uncut.

London, 1848

ORIGINAL EDITION. Thackeray traced the frivolities of society with an iron pen. He leans almost as heavily upon them as he does upon vices that are the growth of luxury and that false position into which people labor to thrust themselves, under the idea that because they are with a set they are of a set.

- 1855 [TONNA ("Charlotte Elizabeth").] Chapters on Flowers. Colored plates. Small 8vo, fresh cloth. London, 1886

COUNT DE VALCOUR-VERMONT'S VALUABLE WORK ON AMERICAN FAMILIES—LIMITED EDITION, PRIVATELY PRINTED.

- 1866 VERMONT (E. de Valcour, Count). AMERICA HERALDICA. A Compilation of Coats-of-Arms, Crests and Mottoes of Prominent American Families Settled in this Country before 1800. 17 fine plates containing 272 separate coats-of-arms in metals and colors and numerous woodcuts in text from the designs of HENRY RYKERS. One volume (complete and in 8 parts, with 3 duplicate parts containing imperfect proofs of some of the plates). Large 4to, sewed, uncut, as issued. N. Y., Brentano Brothers, n. d.

No. 1 of LIMITED EDITION issued at some $25.00 to subscribers only.

The Count de Vermont, who is an old French army officer and a member of the "Noblesse de France," has been settled for some time in this country. He treats the coats-of-arms of American families from altogether different stand-points from either that of the late Albert Welles, of the American College of Heraldry, or from that of the New York World's Special Heraldic Commissioner who wrote up the "Blue Blood of Europe" and the "American Shoddyocracy." The Count has admitted no coat-of-arms in his book but what has been endorsed by European authorities and American works of repute.

IX. Prints and Aquarelles.

"Engraving is one of the fine arts; and in this beautiful family has been the especial handmaiden of painting. . . . An engraving is not a copy or imitation, as is sometimes insisted, but a translation. . . . Nor is it a mere imitation, but as Bryant's Homer and Longfellow's Dante are presentations of the great originals in another language, so is the engraving a presentation of painting in another material which is like another language. . . . Nobody can examine a choice print without feeling that it has a merit of its own different from any painting. A work of Raphael, or any of the great masters, is better in an engraving of Longhi or Morghen than in any ordinary copy, and would probably cost more in the market. A good engraving is an undoubted work of art, but this cannot be said of many paintings which, like Peter Pindar's razors, seem 'made only to sell.'"—CHARLES SUMNER.

ABBEMA (Louise).

1883 "PARISIENNE (1886)."

ANDERLONI (Pietro, Born 1784 and Died 1849).

1884 "THE HOLY FAMILY," after RAPHAEL.

BRILLIANT OLD ORIGINAL IMPRESSION OF THIS BEAUTIFUL PRINT, after the famous picture in the Stafford Gallery. In black oak frame. Pietro Anderloni was one of the most celebrated of the pupils of Longhi, whom he succeeded as President of the Academy of Engravers at Milan.

APPIAN (A.).

1885 "FISHING BOATS."

THIS AND THE FOLLOWING NUMBERS ARE ALL ORIGINAL ETCHINGS BY THIS MASTER OF THE NEEDLE. Gold frame. P. G. HAMERTON says:—"My admiration for Appian's work as an etcher (he is a charming painter also) was already great several years ago, but the more I see how rare his qualities are in contemporary art, or in any art, the more I feel disposed to value them. His work is always quite easy and graceful in manner, never strained, never betraying an effort, and it hardly ever fails to charm by a most delicate feeling for the poetry of natural landscape."

APPIAN.

1886 "SAN REMO, ITALY."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER. ONE OF THE ARTIST'S LARGE PLATES, AND CONSIDERED ONE OF HIS BEST.

APPIAN.

1887 "UN SOIR BORD DU RHONE A RIX."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER. "Fine in feeling and quite masterly in execution. One of those scenes which ought to make anybody a poet, at least until the light has died out of the west, and the shining river is finally darkened for the night."—HAMERTON.

APPIAN.

1888 "ROCKS BY THE RIVER."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

APPIAN.

1889 "DRAWING THE NET."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

APPIAN.

1890 "A PATH BY THE RIVER."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

APPIAN.

1891 "THE WATER MILL."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

APPIAN.

1892 "THE ANGLERS."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

APPIAN.

1893 "AU VALROMEY."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

APPIAN.

1894 "GORGE DE LOUPE."

APPIAN.

1895 "A ROCKY ROAD—ENVIRONS OF CREYS."

AUDOUIN (Pierre, Born 1768 and Died 1822).

1896 "LA MUSICIENNE HOLLANDOISE," after METZU.

AUDRAN (Benoît, "the elder," Born 1661 and Died 1721).

1897 "JÉAN BAPTISTE COLBERT," after LEFEBVRE.

Benoît Audran was the pupil of his father and also of his uncle, the celebrated Gérard Audran. He engraved several fine portraits which have justly established his reputation. His style is bold and clear, his drawing is correct; and there is a fine expression of character in his heads. This portrait of Colbert is considered to be one of his best plates.

BAKER (W. C.).

1898 "Landscape."

ORIGINAL ETCHING.

BALLIN (A.).

1899 "A STREET SCENE AT ROUEN."

ORIGINAL ETCHING. FINE PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

BAQUOY (Jean Charles, Born 1721 and Died 1777).

1900 "THE DEATH OF ADONIS," after POUSSIN.

BARRY (Auguste, Born 1836 and Died 1886).

1900* "DOMINIE SAMPSON."

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER, SLIGHTLY UNFINISHED. Auguste Barry was of French extraction and inherited the artistic tastes of his race. Bred a marble-cutter, he followed that occupation for many years, when the almost general use of granite for monumental inscriptions compelled him to seek some other means of livelihood. He turned his attention to etching, which he practised for some fourteen years before his death. Possessed of but little originality, he developed a marvelous aptitude for reproducing the work of others. Some of his copies of Seymour-Haden, Cruikshank, Worlidge, etc., are marvels of painstaking care and accuracy. He was a most industrious worker, producing from first to last some eight to nine hundred plates.

BARRY.

1901 "ONLY FOR FRIENDS," after LOSSOW.

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

BARRY.

1901* "CUPID AND VENUS," after LOSSOW.

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

BARRY.

1902 "ROGER PAYNE, THE FAMOUS LONDON BOOKBINDER."

WORKING PROOF ON INDIA PAPER, SLIGHTLY UNFINISHED.

BARTOLONII.

1903 "THE LOVE LETTER," after BUNBURY.

FINE OLD IMPRESSION, ENGRAVED IN STIPPLE AFTER THE MANNER OF BARTOLOZZI.

BARTOLOZZI (Francesco, Born 1727 and Died 1815).

1904 "CUPID CROWNING A YOUNG GIRL WITH FLOWERS," after GUERCINO.

THIS AND THE LOTS FOLLOWING BY BARTOLOZZI, ARE ALL FINE OLD IMPRESSIONS. Ebony frame.

"Bartolozzi's engravings have literally had their ups and downs: first ascending to the drawing-room, later climbing to the bed-room, and eventually to the attic or lumber-room, where they remained half or perhaps wholly forgotten, until a revival of the taste for his fine work brought them down by the same stages to the drawing-room and boudoir. That they never again will be 'skyped' is tolerably certain."—TUER.

BARTOLOZZI.

1905 "MOTHER AND CHILD," after PEREGRINI.

BARTOLOZZI.

1906 "CHILDREN AT PLAY," after GUERCINO.

BARTOLOZZI.

1907 "THE HOLY FAMILY," after GUERCINO.

BARTOLOZZI.

1908 "BANDITS," after GUERCINO. (2)

BARTOLOZZI.

1909 "A SACRIFICE," after GUERCINO.

BARTOLOZZI.

1910 "A WARRIOR," after GUERCINO.

BASTIEN-LEPAGE (Jules).

1911 "REAPERS AT DAMVILLERS, DEPARTMENT OF THE MEUSE."

ORIGINAL ETCHING BY THE FAMOUS PUPIL OF CABANEL. PROOF ON INDIA PAPER.

BASTIEN-LEPAGE.

1912 "THE RETURN FROM THE FIELDS."

ORIGINAL PAINTER'S ETCHING. PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON JAPANESE PAPER. Gold frame.

BAUDET (Etienne, Born 1636 and Died 1711).

1913 "THE TRIBUTE MONEY," after VALENTINE.

BAUDOUIN (Pierre Antoine, Born 1723 and Died 1769).

1914 "THE TOILET."

CURIOUS AND RARE EIGHTEENTH CENTURY STIPPLE ENGRAVING. PRINTED-IN COLORS. White and gold frame.

BAUDRAN.

1915 "THE GATE OF HEAVEN"; "THE ANGEL OF HOPE"; "THE STAR OF THE MORNING"; and "THE ANGEL OF CONSOLATION," after CLAUDE JACQUAND. (4)

PROOFS ON INDIA PAPER.

BEAUVARLET (Jacques Firmin, Born 1731 and Died 1797).

1916 "EDME BOUCHARDON, SCULPTOR TO THE KING," after DROUAIS.

FINE. ENGRAVED BY THE ARTIST FOR HIS RECEPTION PIECE AT THE ACADEMY, IN 1776.

BEAUVARLET.

- 1917 "THE FOX DISTURBED," after OUDRAY; "A DAY'S SPORT," after HUET. (2)

A pair of fine sporting subjects by this excellent engraver. Brilliant old impressions, neatly framed.

BEGA (Cornelis Pietersz, Born 1620 and Died 1664).

- 1918 "PEASANT WOMAN GOING TO MARKET."

ORIGINAL ETCHING BY THIS MASTER. BARTSCH 18.

BEHAM (Hans Sebald, Born 1500 and Died 1549).

- 1919 "PACIENTIA."

This is a brilliant impression, and a fine original specimen, neatly framed, of the famous "Little Master." It is dated 1540, and inscribed "Sebaldus Beham Pictor Norcus Faciebat." Dr. Adolf Rosenberg, in his able Essay on the German Little Masters, says:—"As a draughtsman he (Beham) stands at the head of all the imitators of his model and teacher, the great Durer, whilst as a copper-plate engraver he even surpasses him in the tenderness and delicacy of his technical treatment, as well as in his artistic feeling. In the execution of form and outline he also displays a better and more delicate taste."

A fac-simile of this print will be found at the commencement of this division.

BEHAM.

- 1920 "A MARCH OF SOLDIERS."

RARE. A VERY LARGE WOODCUT, 57 x 12½, IN FINE PRESERVATION. THIS AND THE TWO FOLLOWING NUMBERS ARE VERY RARE. See BARTSCH.

BEHAM.

- 1921 "THE BATH, MANY WOMEN AND CHILDREN BATHING."

LARGE WOODCUT (ROUND). BARTSCH 83.

BEHAM.

- 1921* "SIX WOMEN BATHING, A MAN OBSERVING THEM THROUGH AN OPEN WINDOW."

LARGE WOODCUT. BARTSCH 80.

BEISSON (Francis Joseph Etienne, Died 1820).

- 1922 "VENUS" after TITIAN.

PROOF BEFORE LETTERS. Of this famous picture it is related that when Phillip II. heard that the Palace of the Prado was burned, he earnestly demanded if the Titian Venus had escaped destruction, and on being informed that it was one of the few that had been saved, he exclaimed, "Then every other loss may be supported." This print was commenced by Beisson and finished by Le Bas.

BELLOWS (Albert F.).

- 1923 "GOING TO CHURCH—SUNDAY MORNING."

A pencil sketch, neatly framed, by this celebrated aquarellist. "Bellows" soft river-banks, his trees trembling with light, and the quiet skies of Summer have long made his paintings loved, and they have also served to develop the taste for water-colors among us."—London Art Journal.

BERGHEM (Nicholas, Born 1620, Died 1683).

1924 "SHEEP AND LAMBS."

ORIGINAL ETCHING. BARTSCH NO. 42.

"The great industry of Berghem, and his accurate knowledge of cattle, give him a certain firmness and precision with the point, which are amongst the chief reasons for his reputation as an etcher."—P. G. HAMERTON.

BERNE-BELLECOUR (E.).

1925 "WILL SHE COME?"

ORIGINAL ETCHING. PROOF BEFORE LETTERS, ON INDIA PAPER.

BERVIC (Charles Clement, Born 1756 and Died 1822).

1926 "THE EDUCATION OF ACHILLES," after REGNAULT.

A fine old impression of this beautiful and celebrated print in oak frame, gilt in the grain. Bervic, the most eminent of modern French engravers, was a pupil of the famous J. G. Wille, but he early emancipated himself from that master's peculiar style. A portrait which he executed in 1783 first revealed the power which Bervic possessed of freeing himself from the influences of his early education and of rendering most fully and characteristically the varied details of his subject. This talent soon met with its due reward. In 1784 he was elected a member of the Academy. Sovereigns and nations hastened to do homage to his talents. Louis XVI. gave him the apartments in the Louvre which had been vacant since the death of the painter Lépicié. The Order of the Reunion was conferred upon him in 1813, and the Legion of Honor in 1819. Most of the academies of Europe enrolled him among their members, and he became a member of the Institute of France. He established a school of engraving, in which his constant aim was to warn his pupils against the baneful influence of servile imitation, and guide each one according to the bent of his own individual genius. Toschi and Dupont, both famous engravers, were his scholars."

BERVIC.

1927 "LOUIS XVI.," after CALLET.

A brilliant impression of this celebrated plate before the plate was broken, finely framed in oak, gilt. Robert E. Graves, of the British Museum, writes:—"The full-length portrait of Louis XVI. in his coronation robes, after the portrait by Callet at Versailles, established the reputation which Bervic had obtained by the wonderful brilliancy and softness with which he reproduced in black and white the diverse tones and textures indicated in painting by the aid of color."

Bervic was a revolutionist of an advanced type, and at one of the meetings of the "Société Populaire des Arts" he broke this plate, and tore in halves all the proofs of it which he possessed. The plate has since been repaired by Challet, and later impressions taken from it. These, however, are of no great value compared with the impression described above.

BETTELINI (Pietro, Born 1763 and Died 1828).

1928 "DAVID," after ZAMPIERI.

"Bettellini was an eminent Italian engraver. He early received instruction from Gandolphi and Bartolozzi, but in his later works he inclined more to the style of Raphael Morghen. He is particularly happy in his transcripts of light and elegant forms, and enters with much taste and spirit into the subject he copies. He does not aim at producing brilliant effects, but exercises his graver with care and delicacy, corresponding with the style of the original picture. He was held in high estimation by Thorwaldsen, who employed him to engrave some of his finest works."—BRYAN.

BOCOURT (E.).

1933 "MIRABEAU REPLYING TO THE MARQUIS DE BREZE."

ORIGINAL ETCHING. AN ADMIRABLE SPECIMEN OF MODERN "DRY POINT." ARTIST'S PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER, SIGNED; in fine carved oak frame, with deep French mat.

This spirited etching represents the well-known incident which occurred just before the founding of the National Assembly. The occasion was the famous sitting of the "Tiers-Etat," June 23d, 1789, when the Deputies were ordered by the King to disperse. The noblesse and the majority of the clergy departed, but the commons still lingered in uncertainty, and Mirabeau began to address them on the mission with which they were intrusted by the nation. At this moment he was interrupted by the entrance of the Marquis de Breze, hat on head, representing the "divine right" of his royal master.

The King's Master of Ceremonies immediately begged permission to remind the meeting of the monarch's command. The orator turned upon him with the gaze of a lion—"Go tell your master," said he, "that we are here by the will of the people, and no power but the force of bayonets shall drive us hence." This is the moment chosen by the artist for his very graphic illustration.

BOCOURT.

1934 "JEAN-FRANÇOIS MILLET."

ORIGINAL ETCHING. PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON INDIA PAPER. A LIFE-LIKE PORTRAIT OF THE GREAT PAINTER.

BOILIRN (E.).

1935 "THE MORNING SALUTATION."

A PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER OF AN ORIGINAL ETCHING by this artist, neatly framed. It represents a young and beautiful woman just risen from her couch, a wrapper thrown loosely around her—discovering the charms which it is intended to conceal. She is about to fondle her pet, a magnificent specimen of the parrot tribe, who appears to reciprocate the affection of his mistress.

BONNET (Louis Marin, Born 1743 and Died 1793).

1936 "HEAD OF A YOUNG GIRL," after BOUCHER.

Neatly framed—one of the rare old fac-similes of Boucher's chalk drawing, executed by Bonnet on copper with such fidelity that, take away the margin, it would be extremely difficult for even experts to tell the difference between the original and the copy.

BOSTWICK (John H.).

BRILLIANT OPEN LETTER PROOF.

BOUILLIARD.

1941 "LOVE MENDING HIS BOW," after MAZZOLA.

BRACQUEMOND (Felix, Born 1833).

1942 "WILD DUCKS"

ORIGINAL ETCHING. PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER. RARE. HAMERTON writes:—"If M. Bracquemond had pursued etching regularly there can be little doubt that he would have taken a decided rank amongst the best etchers of the age. Unfortunately, however, for this particular branch of art, he accepted an engagement at Sèvres, which has since occupied all his time"

ÉMILE BERGERAT is still more enthusiastic in his praise. He says:—"He (Bracquemond) stands, by good right, as an etcher hors ligne, having no worthy rival except Jules Jacquemart. A proof of a plate by Bracquemond is a precious object, and sells for the highest price. The English consider them as choice titbits, and rarely allow one to escape them when sold."

BRACQUEMOND.

BROWN (John Lewis).

1948 "A MILITARY RECONNAISSANCE."

ORIGINAL ETCHING. PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON INDIA PAPER.

BRUNET-DEBAINES (A.).

1949 "THE FUNERAL OF WILKIE," after J. M. W. TURNER.

A fine impression, neatly framed, of this spirited etching. It represents the well-known incident of the burial of the painter Wilkie, during the night, at sea. It has been said that Turner will live through the admirable rendering of his pictures by the clever line engravers employed by the publishers to translate them, but he has certainly, in later days, been as fortunate in the excellent etchers who have chosen his works to demonstrate their powers with the needle. Not the least of them is Brunet-Debaines, of whom Hamerton says:—"Few etchers of the modern French school have produced such uniformly good work."

BURGMKMAIR (Hans, Born 1473 and Died 1559).

1952 "MARRIAGE OF THE EMPEROR MAXIMILIAN."

Hans Burgkmair was the friend and fellow-laborer of Albert Durer in the service of the Emperor Maximilian I. His prints are principally, if not entirely on wood, and are designed with extraordinary spirit and fire. Indeed the endless imagination and richness of suggestion, as well as truth to the life of his time, and dramatic value to be found in his works, place him in the highest rank of the illustrative artists of the world. CAFFI (Cavaliere Ippolito, Born 1814 and Died 1866).

1956 "THE SOLDIER'S PROMENADE" and "THE DEVOTEES."

A pair (neatly framed) of original water-color drawings by this clever artist, who, although he painted principally architectural subjects and sea pieces, was very happy in delineations of social life. His style is much that of Gavarni at an early period in his career—a vein of quiet humor combined with artistic excellence. These two drawings are evidently from the life. The old soldier with his two comrades—a lately joined recruit, and another who has seen some service, are proceeding arm in-arm barrackward, after an evening's enjoyment, the cost of which has apparently emptied all their pockets. The three old women at church, an exquisite bit of humorous satire, insinuating that none of them feels very happy at their devotions.

PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON HOLLAND PAPER.

CARS (Laurent, Born 1699 and Died 1771).

1960 "Mlle. CLAIRON AS MEDEA," after VANLOO.

This masterpiece of Vanloo's was engraved by Cars in conjunction with his pupil Beauvarlet, and the result is a magnificent specimen of old-time line engraving. The scene chosen by Vanloo is the grand one in the fifth act. Medea has just slain her children, and with dagger and torch is borne above in the dragon drawn chariot, while Jason, sword in hand, in vain attempts to stay her progress. The original plate was presented to Mlle. Clairon by the King.

The whole printed on India paper, with title etched on the cover, which is of Holland paper.

CHAUVEL (T.).

1978 "THE HAY-CART," after JULES DUPRÉ.

A fine etching after this famous painter, neatly framed. René Ménard writes:—"Jules Dupré became almost from his début, one of the favorites in public opinion. . . . The precocity of his success only developed his activity. . . . One may have more or less sympathy with the works of Rousseau or with those of Dupré, but these two masters will remain incontestably as the two grandest colorists in landscape which the contemporaneous school has produced."

Chevillet was a pupil of Schmidt and afterwards of J. G. Wille. He engraved this beautiful portrait of Franklin while the latter was acting as Ambassador to France on the part of his countrymen.

CHODOWIECKI (Daniel Nicholas, Born 1726 and Died 1801).

1981 "A PEDAGOGUE," and "A YOUNG GIRL WITH HER BROTHER." (2)

A pair of water-color drawings by this remarkable and distinguished artist. In the original German frames. Daniel N. Chodowiecki was early in life a grocer's assistant at Berlin, but, inheriting artistic tastes, he practised drawing and painting in his leisure moments. His progress at last enabled him to follow these studies alone. He became a miniature painter, and his portraits, which were remarkable for their characteristic resemblance and lifelike qualities, met with a favorable reception in all quarters. In 1758 he turned his attention to etching, and his efforts were drawn with such spirit that they soon attracted the attention of connoisseurs, and when he had painted "Jean Calas and his Family," and, in accordance with the wishes of his friends, made an etching of that picture, his fame was fairly established. Orders from amateurs and dealers became so numerous that he was obliged to abandon his miniature painting. He received commissions from Lavater, for whom he executed many designs and some copper-plate engravings for his "Essays on Physiognomy." His fame spread so wide that it was with the greatest difficulty, that he could meet the demands of the booksellers for drawings and engravings for illustrating books and almanacs. Bryan says, "Chodowiecki was a highly gifted artist, who owed all his knowledge of art to his own study. The genuine originality displayed in them, and a certain easy spiritual rendering, stamp most of his works with a peculiar character. He represents the feelings and affections, virtues and vices, just as he had observed them around him, with singular acuteness. His productions are not disfigured by anything in the way of excess or defect. His drawings are marked by delicate, but, at the same time, firm and clear outlines, the shadows being worked in with a light hand, but well defined. As an engraver of small subjects, he stands almost unsurpassed. He was the founder of a new style, representing modern figures with such truth and animation, and at the same time with such correctness of outline, as had till then never been thought possible on so small a scale."

CLAUDE LORRAINE (Born 1600 and Died 1682).

1982 "CAMPO VICINO, ROME."

DUMESNIL, No. 23.

"The position of Claude as a landscape-painter may be briefly defined. He was the first artist who made landscapes thoroughly charming by means of artistic and harmonious composition, and beautiful effects of light. By these means he captivated the connoisseurs of his time, and became the father of modern landscape. . . . His superiority as an etcher is chiefly a technical superiority; he could lay a shade more delicately, and more perfect gradation, than any other etcher of landscape; he could reach rare effects of transparency, and there is an ineffable tenderness in his handling. These are his chief claims to our consideration, and he is so strong on these points that such accomplished moderns as Haden and Samuel Palmer have a great reverence for his name."—HAMERTON.

1990 "A SOUVENIR OF ITALY."

PROOF IMPRESSION ON JAPAN PAPER OF THIS CELEBRATED "PAINTER'S ETCHING" in gold frame.

HAMERTON says:—"The few etchings of Corot have one merit and charm—they do certainly recall to mind, by association of ideas, his charming work in oil, so full of the sweetest poetical sentiment. All sins are forgiven to the true poet. Corot may not be a great poet, as Turner was, but he is a true one. He feels the mystery of nature; he feels the delightfulness of cool, gray mornings and dewy evenings; he feels the palpitating life of gleaming river-shores and the trembling of the light branches wherein the fitful breezes play. He has an intense sense of the glimmering indecision and mystery of natural appearances, and he does not, as it seems to us, draw and paint with precision simply because his attention does not fix itself on that which is precise. It is a remarkable proof of the value of direct expression, however defective in its manner, that Corot's etchings, with all their faults, should convey a better notion of his genius than the far cleverer plates which Bracquemond executed after Corot's pictures."

 GOLD FRAME. ARTIST'S PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER, SIGNED, OF THIS EXTRAORDINARY AND EMINENTLY CLEVER PRODUCTION, which will recall to mind the bright lines of the Bentley Ballad:—

"Last came an imp,—how unlike the rest!
 A beautiful female form:
 And her voice was like music, that sleep-oppress'd
 Sinks on some cradling zephyr's breast;
 And whilst with a whisper his cheek she press'd,
 Her cheek felt soft and warm.

"When over his shoulder she bent the light
 Of her soft eyes on to his page,
 It came like a moonbeam silver bright,
 And relieved him then with a mild delight,
 For the yellow lamp-lustre scorched his sight,
 That was weak with the mists of age.

"Hey! the good St. Anthony boggled his eyes
 Over the holy book:
 Ho, ho! at the corners they 'gan to rise.
 For he knew that the thing had a lovely guise,
 And he could not choose but look."

DARLEY (Felix O. C., National Academician, Born 1822).

2005 "WASHINGTON IRVING AND HIS FRIENDS AT SUNNY-SIDE."

This is the ORIGINAL PAINTING in black and white of this most popular subject and the original design for the engraving of which thousands upon thousands of impressions have been sold. The drawing measures two feet ten inches by two feet, is in a deep passe-partout mount and is framed in oak and gold.

It is painted in India ink and light sepia, and the minor details are finished with the pencil. It is signed in the corner "F. O. C. Darley, fecit."

This original design was made by Darley, as stated in the following letter recently received from him in regard to some differences in the painting and the engraved impressions:—

"CLAYMONT, April 19th, 1887.

"DEAR SIR: In reply to yours of the 17th I would say that the change in the position of Paulding in the engraving of 'Washington Irving and his Friends at Sunnyside' was made on the plate by the engraver, at the request of the publisher, without my knowledge. I never made a second drawing.

"The design was made for Mr. Derby, a brother of the Derby you speak of, and not for the American Art Union. The price received by me for it was $700.

"It was sent to London and engraved by Barlow.

"Hoping I have given you all the information you require.

"I remain yours truly,

(Signed) "F. O. C. DARLEY."

This picture is so well known that a description hardly seems needed. It includes portraits, every one of them taken from life by Darley, of H. T. Tuckerman, Oliver Wendell Holmes, W. G. Simms, Fitz-Greene Halleck, W. H. Prescott, W. C. Bryant, Nathaniel Hawthorne, Washington Irving, John P. Kennedy, H. W. Longfellow, James K. Paulding, J. F. Cooper, N. P. Willis, R. W. Emerson and George Bancroft.

The portraits are life-like and conscientiously executed in Darley's most careful manner. The subjects were all his personal friends, and into this labor of love the artist threw his whole soul to record faithfully the lineaments of those with whom he had had many a social hour of intellectual converse.

The principal difference, referred to in Mr. Darley's letter, between the engraving and this original design is that in the painting James K. Paulding is depicted seated and with his head between Longfellow and Prescott. In the famous line engraving he is represented standing between Prescott and Irving. The change made, and as Mr. Darley states without his knowledge, was not to the benefit of the conception, as the engraver presents Irving's collaborateur in the "Salmagundi" to us as a lay figure full of stiffness and crudities. Barlow, the English engraver, not being acquainted with the physique of Paulding, makes him a tall man, even taller than Longfellow, whereas the opposite was the case.

Among the authors represented is Henry T. Tuckerman, who wrote as follows respecting the artist of this splendid painting:—

"The peculiar skill and readiness of Darley's pencil has unavoidably enlisted it in numerous casual enterprises, from a vignette on bank notes to a political caricature for a comic paper. There was no draughtsman among us so prompt and inventive. . . . Darley has made a study of American subjects, and finds therein a remarkable range, from the beautiful to the grotesque, as is manifest when his drawings are compared. It is rare for the same hand to deal so aptly with the graceful and the pensive, so vigorously with the characteristic, and so broadly with the humorous, and exhibit an equal facility and felicity in true literal transcript and in fanciful conception."

A verdict amply corroborated in his illustration of the works of Irving, Cooper, Dickens, Hawthorne, etc., as well as in his "Washington's Entry into New York," "The First Blow for Liberty," and numerous equally prized American subjects conceived and executed by the genius of Darley.

ORIGINAL ETCHING.

"Denon was one of the train of artists and literary and scientific men who accompanied Napoleon Bonaparte to Egypt. His great work on the Egyptian expedition, the numerous drawings for which were made by himself, is alone sufficient to immortalize his name. Napoleon was warmly attached to him, made him Director-General of the Museums, and consulted him on all matters relating to the fine arts. Denon died in Paris universally beloved and admired. He resembled Voltaire as well in his wit as in his features."—BRYAN.

2032 "THE CUIRASSIER."

REMARQUE PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER. OF EXCESSIVE RARITY; PROBABLY UNIQUE, WITH THE AUTOGRAPH OF THE PAINTER, "Recevez mes Salutations emprêssées Edouard Detaille." In neat gilt frame. Hamerton, in "Etching and Etchers," says:—"Detaille, who has become celebrated as a painter very early in life, etches with consummate ease and skill, which may be attributed to his habit of making clever croquis of what he sees for subsequent use in his pictures. His two plates, 'Un Uhlan' and 'Trompette de Chasseurs,' are as good as anything well can be in that light-handed, sketchy manner, being full of the closest observation expressed with admirable ease. Any critic can say that these are 'mere sketches,' because all the paper is not blackened; but he who knows what good drawing is, and where to look for it, will find more of it in a horse's leg by Detaille, sketched from memory in a five minutes, than in many a labored engraving."

DHOULT (L. E.).

2036 "FEMALE SATYR SLEEPING DISCOVERED BY YOUNG GIRLS."

A suggestive sepia drawing, neatly framed, of the French school, dated 1821, representing a female satyr almost nude reclining under the shade of a large tree, evidently sleeping off the effects of an orgie in honor of Bacchus. A drinking vessel of antique shape is still clutched in her hand, and a broken wine vase is on the ground at her side. She is just discovered by three young maidens, whose occupation is evidently that of Chloe. Their varied expressions of surprise, diffidence, astonishment, wonder and fear are admirably rendered.

DHOULT.

2037 "THE AWAKENING OF BACCHUS."

A sepia drawing, neatly framed, by the same master as the above, and equally suggestive. It represents the rosy god reclining on the ground at the foot of a tree, an empty wine jar by his side; three of his votaries are gently arousing him. He observes them with an expression of quaint humor difficult to describe, but we might imagine him to be about to chant a verse of one of old Anacreon's odes:—

"Teach me this, and let me swim
My soul upon the goblet's brim.
Teach me this, and let me twine
My arms around the nymph divine."

DREVET (Pierre, the elder, Born 1663 and Died 1738).

2042 "LOUIS XIV.," after RIGAUD.

Fine old impression of this celebrated portrait, framed in polished oak. "The elder Drevet produced some fine works, notably the large full-length portrait of 'Le Grand Monarque,' Louis XIV. That much flattered potentate is represented standing in all the glory of ermine, lace and wig, his face indicating the unbounded conceit and selfishness which were so characteristic of him. It is with this portrait that Thackeray made so felicitous a hit in his 'Paris Sketch Book,' where he represents, side by side, first Louis Le Grand in all his glory; then a miserable little decrepit old man; and thirdly, the same gorgeous habiliments, wig and high-heeled shoes, but with the man left out of them."—The Golden Age of Engraving.

DUJARDIN (Karel, Born 1625, Died 1678).

2046 "HORSES."

FINE IMPRESSION. BARTSCH No. 25. "Karel Dujardin evidently loved the life of the fields. He strictly followed Paul Potter as long as he remained in his native land. He engraved numbers of animals, illustrating their habits and explaining their natures. Some sleep in sheer idleness, stretched on their sides or wallowing in the mud; others, accustomed to work, ruminate peacefully, or browse carelessly on the grass. Dujardin's engraving is clear, the outlines bold and distinct; he never betrays weariness."—DUPLESSIS.

DURER (Albert, Born 1471 and Died 1528).

2052 "THE VIRGIN AND CHILD WITH THE MONKEY."

ORIGINAL. Cherry wood frame. One of the most curious and desirable of the many Madonnas engraved by this great master. W. Schmidt, in his delightful essay on Durer, says of this print:—"But amongst the very finest engravings of this period (1497-1504) are the charming idyl of 'The Holy Family with the Ape' in a landscape, and the delightful 'Holy Family' of 1504. With what love the surroundings are here carried out, and how exquisite are the miniature little figures!"

"In these days of universal scepticism, people are unwilling to consider Albert Durer a wood-engraver; but we hardly like to exclude these masterly engravings from the list of Durer's works. If he did not himself engrave the plates he must have watched over the artists to whom he intrusted them with untiring solicitude."—DUPLESSIS.

DURER.

2060 "ADAM AND EVE."

REDUCED FAC-SIMILE ON WOOD. PROOF ON INDIA PAPER.

"It is chiefly in Durer's engravings that we are able to get an insight into the depths of his character. Perfect in detail and marvelous in execution, each one conveys a lesson often too deep for minds unaccustomed to introspection, unmoved by the questionings and doubts, the hopes and the despair, which afflict a nature dissatisfied with the conditions in which it exists, and striving ever to fathom the surrounding mysteries."—MRS. HEATON.

DURER.

2061 "LIFE OF THE VIRGIN," "THE LARGE PASSION," etc. (15)

FINE ORIGINAL IMPRESSIONS.

EDELINCK (Gerard, Born 1627 and Died 1707).

2063 "PHILIP DE CHAMPAGNE," after a painting by himself.

Neatly framed in massive oak. A fine impression of this famous engraver's masterpiece. Charles Sumner in his article on "The Best Portraits in Engraving," says:—"Gerard Edelinck excelled Nanteuil in genuine mastery. It requires no remarkable knowledge to recognize his great merits. Evidently he is a master, exercising sway with absolute art, and without attempts to bribe the eye by special effects of light." LONGHI in his valuable work, "La Calcografia," is very enthusiastic in his praise. He remarks, "He [Edelinck] is an engraver whose works deserve the first place among exemplars," and he attributes to him all perfections in his art; designs, chiaro-oscuro, ariel perspective, local tints, softness, lightness, variety, in short, everything which can enter into the representation of the true and beautiful without the aid of color. Of this particular portrait he writes:—"The work which goes the most to my blood, and with regard to which Edelinck with good reason can congratulate himself, is the portrait of Champagne. I shall die before I cease to contemplate it with wonder always new. Here is seen how he was equally great as designer and as engraver." This print sold for $35 at the Morgan sale.

EDELINCK.

2064 "CHARLES, DUC DE BERRY," after DE TROYE.

Folio. Fine impressions in gilt frame. A beautiful specimen of the master's manner, particularly in his exquisite treatment of the lace-work at the neck and wrists, and the gold-embroidered coat. Charles, Duke de Berry was the third son of the Dauphin, and grandson of Louis XIV. He was born in 1686 and named by Charles II. of Spain successor to the throne of that country. He died in 1714. This plate, which is undated, was probably engraved for Louis XIV. while the artist was in the service of that monarch.

2076 "JEAN DE LA FONTAINE," after RIGAULT.

Ficquet was an eminent French engraver, a pupil of G. F. Schmidt. He acquired great reputation by the small portraits which he engraved of the distinguished literati of France. They are executed with extraordinary neatness and delicacy, and are very correctly drawn. Two of his best plates are the portraits of La Fontaine and Eisen, the celebrated artist.

FLAMENG (Leopold, Born 1831).

2080 "HERODIAS," after BENJAMIN CONSTANT.

PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON JAPAN PAPER, NEATLY FRAMED. "The influence of one man is sometimes of the very greatest importance even in those movements which appear to be the result of a tendency generally prevalent. Thus, in the revival of etching, Leopold Flameng has given a strong impulse to one branch of the art, that which concerns itself with the interpretation of painting. . . . Charles Blanc, a critic not at all given to excesses in the use of epithets, and far too accomplished a writer to forget, even for an instant, the necessity for distinguishing between shades of expression, calls Flameng 'l'illustre graveur'—an adjective always reserved, in French criticism, for the one or two men in a generation whom posterity is likely to remember. The epithet is not misplaced in this instance. Flameng is really one of those illustrious men whose labors make epochs in the history of the fine arts. He is a thoroughly great engraver—an artist-engraver of the highest rank."—HAMERTON.

FLAMENG.

2081 "ADIEU FOR THE PRESENT," after VALENTINE C. PRINSEP, R.A.

2088 "LA VIERGE A LA LEGENDE," after RAPHAEL.

UNIQUE. FROM THE ORIGINAL IN THE POSSESSION OF THE HON. A. J. WARD. A BRILLIANT TRIAL PROOF, AND THE TENTH IMPRESSION FROM THE PLATE OF THIS CELEBRATED ENGRAVING. Oak frame.

"Forster was a pupil of Langlois. At the age of twenty-four he obtained the first prize at Paris, by which he was sent to Rome; and after his return he soon gained a reputation, his plates being remarkable for the skill with which he represented the originals. He handled the graver with great ability, and his faculty of imparting both vigor and tenderness in the execution gives to the whole a beautiful and harmonious effect."—BRYAN.

FORTUNY (Mariano, Born 1838 and Died 1874).

2090 "A SPANISH LADY."

AN ORIGINAL ETCHING BY THIS PRE-EMINENT SPANISH PAINTER, in cherry-wood frame. "What Chopin is to music, it appears to us that Fortuny is to art, and both of them have more of the gypsy wildness and strangeness of Spain in their works than of the classical composers of Italy, or of the graceful esprit of France."—London Art Journal.

FRAGONARD (Jean Honoré, Born 1733 and Died 1806).

2092 "HAMAN CONVICTED, BEFORE KING AHASUERUS AND QUEEN ESTHER."

An original water-color study, neatly framed, by this remarkable French artist, who early in life was a lawyer's clerk, but finding he had little disposition for that business, entered the studio of Chardin, where he received his first instruction in drawing. He then attended the atelier of Boucher, where he made such rapid progress that he obtained, when only twenty years old, the "grand prix de Rome." After spending some years in Italy, Fragonard returned to Paris, and in 1765 painted for Louis XV. his "Coresus and Callirrhoe." Finding that the style of painting, which he acquired in Italy, did not meet with sufficient success, he applied himself to delineating love-scenes of a libidinous character. These productions, adapted to the corrupt taste at that time in France, he sold for great sums. His portraits, scenes of family life, landscapes, miniatures, crayon and water-color drawings, are of a most graceful and light touch. They are still greatly esteemed in Europe, and whenever they occur for sale bring large prices.

The present specimen, which was painted to order in 1790, for the Duc de Choiseuil, is a very desirable example of his early style. The varied expressions of the actors in the scene depicted are all admirably rendered. The anger of the King, who has just returned from the garden and finds Haman "fallen upon the bed where Esther was"; the triumph and exultation of the Queen and her hand-maid; the terror, horror, and abject cowardice of Haman; and lastly the soldiers with the gallows in the distance, are all delineated with such power and fidelity, that as we gaze on the wonderful whole, we can almost fancy we hear Ahasuerus utter with concentrated fury, "HANG HIM THEREON!"

2099* "THE SUN OF VENICE GOING TO SEA," after J. M. W. TURNER,

Neatly framed. Hamerton says of this etching:—"It is a matter of extreme difficulty to translate Turner into etching, and it can only be done at all by the boldest interpretation. This plate by M. Gaucherel conveys, I think, a very good idea of Turner's poetical conception, and recalls the picture very strongly to the memory."

"GAVARNI," i. e., GUILLAUME SULPICE CHEVALIER
(Born 1804 and Died 1866).

2104 "LES BELLES EQUESTRIENNES."

ORIGINAL and SIGNED WATER-COLOR drawing, in frame, by the celebrated "Gavarni," Chevalier of the Legion of Honor, etc. It represents two ladies of the belle monde conversing in the Bois-de-Boulogne. One is seated—the other standing. Both are habited in equestrian costumes of the period, 1830–1840. The dainty little foot and bottom of pants peeping from the dark green riding habit of the grande-dame to the right are very suggestive. The attempt at masculinity on the part of both is admirably depicted by Gavarni. The arms lolling over the seat, the tied scarf and pin, the tall beaver hats and the general tout ensemble of the loquacious couple make up a charming study.

Gavarni, after a visit to the Pyrenees, wrote Clement and Hutton in the "Artists of the Nineteenth Century"—"returned to Paris in May, 1828. During the year after his return he studied every phase of Parisian life; his curiosity was insatiable, and he sketched continually, but he earned little money, and was beginning to be very anxious about his future, when a friend suggested that he should show some of his water-colors to Susse, the picture dealer. This he did and Susse declared himself ready to purchase them if they were signed; after a moment's thought the artist took a pen and wrote 'Gavarni,' and from that moment the name inscribed on the register of his baptism was lost. Immediately his sketches were the fashion. . . . The name of Gavarni will live beside that of Balzac; both studied life seriously—the one commenced in writing what the other completed by illustrating."

ORIGINAL WATER-COLOR DRAWING by this artist, in neat bronzed frame.

HOBBEEMA (Meindert, Born 1638 and Died 1709).

2138 "A WATERMILL."

An original painting on copper (neatly framed), by this celebrated artist. On the reverse of the copper is painted a picture of the Virgin and Child, evidently executed about the fourteenth century, probably by some monkish artist of the middle ages. The Virgin is habited in a dark blue mantle bordered with red and gold. Her undergarment is of the same color. The face of the Virgin, while rudely executed, has considerable expression. Her features are Semitic and Italian. The infant Christ, whom she holds in her arms, grasps with one hand the chin of his mother. The background is gold, and there are various initials such as "R. M." (Maria Regina), "I. H. S.," and "X. R. S." The most striking feature of this ancient painting is, however, the aureoles which surround the heads of the mother and child, and which are partly engraved on the copper. The nimbus attached to each plainly betray a Byzantine origin and are very similar to the pictures emanating from the Greek, or Russian Church. As a specimen of one of the earliest phases of Christian art this painting is worthy of a place in either the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York; or in the Corcoran Gallery at Washington.

HOLLAR (Wenceslaus, Born 1607 and Died 1677).

2139 "A MEMBER OF THE COURT OF HENRY VIII."

OLD IMPRESSION, INSCRIBED "W. HOLLAR, FECIT AQUA FORTI 1647."

Hollar was a pupil of Merian. Meeting the Earl of Arundel at Cologne in 1637, he so impressed the Earl with his genius that his lordship took Hollar at once into his service, and upon his return to England he brought Hollar with him, and employed the artist in engraving several of the pictures in the Arundelian collection. The present example is one of the plates so executed for the Earl. Hollar in his frequent and long journeys was able to compare rival schools, and all his engravings are so entirely original that not one betrays the influence of his master Merian. Hollar's execution is vivid and harmonious, Merian's cold and dark. The pupil excelled in copying the human face. He rendered admirably the transparency of glass, the brilliancy of metals, the hair or feathers of animals, and the gloss of textile fabrics.

JACQUE (Charles Emilie, Born 1813).

- 2146 "SOURICIÈRE—MICE IN A TRAP."

BEAUTIFUL PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER, WITH THE RED STAMP. Gold frame. Jules Claretie writes:—"The time is long past when Charles Jacque gave for a few francs engravings that now sell at fabulous rates. . . . Naturalist I have called him, and in fact he does work from nature. His admirable 'Souricière,' of rare vigor and powerful in color, that was engraved for the Gazette des Beaux Arts, was made one day when, as he was about to set the trap, he found that the compartments were filled. He immediately went to work, and so this picture was made."

2155 "MOSES," after MICHAEL ANGELO.

PROOF ON PARCHMENT. RARE.

"Jules Jacquemart compelled etching to say what it had never been able to say before. With the point of his needle he expresses the density of porphyry; the coldness of porcelain; the insinuating surface of Chinese lacquer; the transparent and imponderable finesse of Venetian glassware; the reliefs and the chased lines of the most delicate works of the goldsmith, almost imperceptible in their slighthness; the polish of iron and steel; the glitter, the reflections and even the sonority of bronze; the color of silver and of gold, as well as the lustre of the diamond, and the appreciable shades of the emerald, the turquoise and the ruby."

2159 "THE VIRGIN OF THE CHAIR," after RAPHAEL.

JOUVENET (Jean, Born 1644 and Died 1717).

2160 "THE MARTYRDOM OF ST. OVIDE."

AN INDIA INK DRAWING of this subject neatly framed, and probably the first design made by the painter for his famous masterpiece executed for the Church of the Capuchins at Paris, in the Place Vendôme, and celebrated in later times as the square in which stood the column destroyed by the Commune under the auspices of Gustave Courbet, the founder of the realistic school in France.

"This eminent French painter [Jouvenet] was born at Rouen in 1644. At the age of seventeen he went to Paris and studied under Nicholas Poussin, under whose instruction he made such rapid progress that at the age of twenty-seven he produced his celebrated picture of Christ Healing the Paralytic—a noble and grand composition—in the Church of Notre Dame. In 1655 Charles Le Brun presented him as a candidate for the honors of the Academy, and he was received with marks of distinction, on which occasion he painted his picture of Esther before Ahasuerus, one of the finest works in the halls of the Academy. The most capital work of Jouvenet is his Deposition from the Cross, painted for the Church of the Capuchins, but now in the Gallery of the Louvre. The French are justly proud of Jouvenet as one of the greatest painters. Watelet, speaking of the Deposition from the Cross says:—'In this picture Guercino is united to Caracci, or rather it is Jouvenet breathing defiance to all the great masters. Had it been painted at Rome, or had Poussin seen it there, he would have ranked it as the fourth of the chefs-d'œuvres of that emporium of art.' Jouvenet had a ready invention and a fruitful genius, and a taste for grandeur in composition. His design is correct, and his draperies are cast in an elegant and graceful manner."—BRYAN.

KAUFFMAN (Angelica, Born 1741 and Died 1807).

2162* "HOLY FAMILY."

AN ORIGINAL ETCHING by this well-known and favorite artist, neatly framed. Among her many admirers were the celebrated Abbé Winckelmann, who in a letter to his friend Franck, written in 1764, speaks of her accomplishments in the most flattering terms. "I have just been painted," says he, "by a stranger, a young person of rare merit. She is very eminent in portraits in oil, mine is an half length, and she has made an etching of it, as a present to me. She speaks Italian as well as German, and expresses herself with the same facility in French and English, on which account she paints all the English who visit Rome. She sings with a taste which ranks her amongst our greatest virtuose. Her name is Angelica Kauffman."

KELLER (Joseph, Born 1811 and Died 1873).

2163 "THE QUEEN OF HEAVEN," after DEGER.

Keller was a pupil of Desnoyers and Forster, and in this beautiful specimen of pure line he appears to have combined the qualities of both his masters.

2178 "WILLIAM COUSTON, SCULPTOR TO THE KING," after LIEN.

LAUGIER (Jean Nicholas, Born 1785).

2179 "SAPPHO," after A. J. GROS.

PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON INDIA PAPER. Polished oak frame. In this very effective composition the painter depicts the legend of the poetess throwing herself from the Leucadian Rock, because her love for Phaon was not returned. Alexander Pope might have had a picture similar to this in his mind's eye when he wrote:—

"To rocks and seas I fly from Phaon's hate,
And hope from seas and rocks a milder fate.
Ye gentle gales, beneath my body blow,
And softly lay me on the waves below!"

A BEAUTIFUL PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON INDIA PAPER of this exquisite specimen of line engraving. Neatly framed.

LE GRAND (L.).

2186 "TO PROMISE IS ONE THING; TO KEEP YOUR PROMISE ANOTHER," after EISEN.

RARE. Fine original impression, framed in polished oak. EISEN, the accomplished drawing-master to Madame de Pompadour, is well known by his exquisite designs for the "Fermiers Généraux" edition of La Fontaine's "Tales." The present subject is of a similar character. A good-looking young fellow, dressed in all the fashionable frippery of the period, is seated on the ground. By his side is a beautiful young country girl. He is evidently trying to persuade her to do something, she ought not to consent to. She, while inclined to listen to his addresses, is convinced that he is promising more than he intends to perform. The expressions of eagerness on his part, and doubt and fear on hers are admirably rendered.

LEGROS (Alphonse).

2187 "CHARITY."

ORIGINAL ETCHING BY THIS CELEBRATED PAINTER. PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON JAPAN PAPER. Oak frame.

"Bold and strong in his style, he [Legros] is a proof that the artist never ceases to be true. He has never flattered either the taste or tendencies of his time; it is thus that he has remained himself, and that in each one of his impressions he has subordinated the form to an original and powerful thought."—CHARLES GUELLETTE.

BARTSCH 71.

LUCAS VAN LEYDEN.

2205 "THE CRUCIFIXION."

BARTSCH 74. Lucas Van Leyden learnt engraving with an armorer and goldsmith, and gave early proof of talent. When he was fifteen years of age he engraved his first plate. Lucas knew Albert Durer, and when that great artist visited Antwerp, in 1520, exchanged some engravings with him, but he did not borrow so much from the illustrious German as other contemporary artists. He retained his original style of interpreting nature, and his mode of engraving remained unchanged. He took his models from those around him, and did not hesitate to dress the Queen of Sheba, Esther, or Dalilah in the costumes of the richer classes of Holland. His "Ecce Homo" may be considered one of his chief compositions from an artistic point of view, but it is also full of another kind of interest. The scene is laid in the public square of a Flemish town, surrounded by gabled houses; and here, indifferent to historical truth, the engraver has given the executioners and spectators the costumes of his own age. We are therefore indebted to him for a very important record of the manners and costumes of the people of the Netherlands in the first half of the sixteenth century.

MANDEL (Johann August Eduard, Born 1809).

2206 "LA MADONNA DELLA SEDIA," after RAPHAEL.

BRILLIANT OPEN LETTER PROOF ON INDIA PAPER; in gold engraved frame, with deep French mat. The finest rendering of the many line engravings of this famous masterpiece of Raphael's. The story of its origin is well known. Raphaël had long been seeking a model which could be used to assist him in painting a picture of the Blessed Virgin and her Son which floated before his vision—just real enough to haunt his thoughts continually, and just unreal enough to refuse to be rendered by his brush. Wandering one day in a vineyard in the environs of Rome, he saw in an arbor near some wine casks a young mother seated with her two boys. As she pressed her baby to her breast the older child ran towards her with a stick, to which he had fastened a cross. Now at last the wish of the great painter's heart was realized. But he had only a pencil! On what could he draw? Just then the smooth cover of the huge wine cask presented itself to him, and eagerly he drew upon it the outlines of the mother and her children. This he took away with him, and rested not till he had painted his wondrous "Madonna della Sedia," now reposing—the shrine of many pilgrims—at the Pitti Palace, in the City of "Florence the Fair."

"There is perhaps only one man surviving who deserves to rank with those who have passed away, and he—the German Mandel—has said, 'When I die there will be no more.'"—The Golden Age of Engraving.

MARSHALL (William E., Born 1836).

2207 "GENERAL GRANT."

PROOF ON CELLULOID, in ebony frame. This is a very interesting and valuable portrait. It was the last engraved before the hero's lamented death. Indeed, it may be said to have been executed under his superintendence. During the progress of the plate and the General's last illness, Mr. Marshall submitted the proofs in their various stages for his inspection. He approved them, and on the completion of the plate, signed several of the final proofs at the artist's request.

MARTIAL (A. P.).

2208 "A WOMAN CHURNING BUTTER," after J. F. MILLET.

ARTIST'S PROOF, SIGNED, OF THIS CHARMING PRODUCTION, DOUBLY INTERESTING FROM THE FACT THAT IT WAS THE LAST PICTURE CONTRIBUTED BY MILLET TO THE PARIS SALON. H. Wallis, of the London Times, a critic not much prone to eulogy, writes:—"The late M. Millet, besides being a landscape painter, was a great figure painter. In the opinion of many he was the first French painter of his time. Certainly, the French school has never produced an artist with more thorough devotion to nature, or who has so truthfully rendered scenes and emotions of natural life. He had the art of introducing into pictures of modern French pastoral life, while retaining the truthfulness of nature, all the elevated qualities of the best artistic culture to be found in the works of the great masters."

MEISSONIER (Jean Louis Ernest, Born 1813).

2223 "LE RAPPORT."

THIS AND THE TWO FOLLOWING NUMBERS ARE ORIGINAL ETCHINGS BY THIS PRE-EMINENT MASTER. PROOF ON INDIA PAPER, ONE OF VERY FEW ETCHED BY MEISSONIER. PHILIPPE BARTY says:—"The etchings of Meissonier are few, and the proofs of them are singularly rare. There is scarcely a cabinet which offers them to the curiosity of amateurs. They are engraved with an extremely fine point, one would almost say with the point of a needle. But the effect is large, because the niceness of the detail loses itself in the mass, and renders, with most astonishing skill, the appearance of everything, the epidermis of each object."

MÉRYON (Charles, Born 1821 and Died 1868).

2227 THE OLD LOUVRE."

PROOF ON BLUE PAPER. RARE. THIS AND THE FOUR FOLLOWING NUMBERS ARE ORIGINAL ETCHINGS BY THIS PRE-EMINENT ARTIST. Méryon, early in life was a naval officer—"he visited remote shores, sailing even round the world, and always employing his leisure hours in sketching everything of interest that came in his way." It was while on one of these voyages he made the drawing of San Francisco, from which he afterwards executed his wonderful etching of that city described below and number 2231. His health, however, did not allow him to follow the sea, and on his return to Paris he studied engraving under Bléry and became one of the best etchers of his day. His work, however, did not meet with the appreciation which it deserved and he fell into a melancholia, which finally ended in insanity and death. It is much to be regretted that during one of the paroxysms of his madness he destroyed some of his finest plates. HAMERTON says of him—"Méryon was one of the greatest and most original artists who have appeared in Europe; he is one of the immortals; his name will be inscribed on the noble roll where Durer and Rembrandt live for ever."

MORGHEN (Raphael Sanzio, Born 1758 and Died 1833).

2241 "MADONNA DEL GRAN DUCA," after RAPHAEL.

EXTREMELY RARE PROOF BEFORE LETTERS by this pre-eminent engraver. Neatly framed in cherry wood. Raphael Morghen, the best known and one of the most celebrated engravers of modern times, needs no eulogy here. He was at an early age instructed in the elements of his art by his father. In 1778 he entered the studio of Volpate at Rome. His first work of importance was a copy of Sadeler's print of Christ and Mary Magdalene in the Garden. This was looked upon as a remarkable performance, and, considering the artist's youth, it gave considerable promise of his future greatness. The well-known Aurora of Guido was his next large plate. His fame now rose to a great height, and he received many commissions from the Royal Family of Florence and others. In 1795 he commenced the celebrated "Transfiguration" of Raphael, but it was not completed until 1812, when it appeared with a dedication to Napoleon. This print was originally sold for twenty scudi, but its value has so much increased that certain impressions have sold of late years for several hundred dollars. All the prints of Morghen have been described in a very able manner by Mr. F. R. Halsey in his Catalogue Raisonné, to which exhaustive book we refer those of our readers who may want any information on this subject. Many years since the late Duke of Buckingham paid one thousand two hundred pounds for a collection of the works of Raphael Morghen. What would such a collection sell for now?

and J. D. WATSON.

PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON JAPAN PAPER; neatly framed.

NAEGLE (Victor).

- 2252 "THE SPIRIT OF THE CRUSADES."

AN ORIGINAL STUDY IN OIL by this artist neatly framed. In the centre of the picture stands a stalwart baron of the middle ages in armor, leaning on his two-handed sword. The spirits of Religion, Justice, and Faith are inciting him to leave his ancestral halls and go forth to take part in the deadly struggle between Infidel and Christian for the possession of the Holy Land.

NANTEUIL (Robert, Born 1630 and Died 1678).

2253 "LOUIS XIV."

A FINE OLD IMPRESSION, neatly framed, of this celebrated portrait executed by command of the King by this pre-eminent engraver, inscribed "Nanteuil ad virum faciebat cum privil. Regis 1677." Fred. Keppel, in his Essay on "The Golden Age of Engraving," says:—"Nanteuil's abilities were refined by a classical education, and his correct taste restrained him from running into the prevailing fashion of meretricious ornamentation. He usually represents his personages within a neat oval of about seven by nine inches. His works illustrate the reign of Louis XIV., and are all, without exception, fine."

NANTEUIL.

2254, "PIERRE DU CAMBOUT DE COISLIN, BISHOP OF ORLEANS."

2264 "THE MARRIAGE OF ST. CATHARINE," after CORREGGIO.

PICART (Bernard, Born 1663 and Died 1738).

2265 "DUTCH PEASANT."

A sketch in water-colors, neatly framed, representing a Dutch peasant in a gala dress. Bernard Picart was the son of "Picart the Roman" and early received instruction in design from his father. At the age of sixteen he gained the prize at the Academy of Paris. Bryan says—"He distinguished himself not less as a designer than an engraver, and he executed a multitude of plates, which evince the fertility of his genius, and the excellence of his taste. His drawing is correct and his prints have a very pleasing appearance. In 1710 he left Paris and settled at Amsterdam where he found abundant employment."

REMBRANDT (Paul Van Rhyn, Born 1606 and Died 1665).

2285 "A NAKED WOMAN SLEEPING."

BARTSCH 205. SOLD FOR $38, IN THE MORGAN SALE. "Every Art has its great representative master, and the representative etcher is Rembrandt. . . . Rembrandt is what the French call a god of art. The phrase sounds a little blasphemous to English ears; but whether blasphemous or not, it describes with perfect accuracy the relation of certain famous artists towards their admirers. Rembrandt and one or two others are, in a very strict sense, the gods of connoisseurs, and the kind of homage they receive is not critical, but has the nature of worship or adoration."—HAMERTON.

REMBRANDT.

2286 "THE SUPPER AT EMMAUS."

BARTSCH 87, SOLD AT THE MORGAN SALE FOR $23.

REMBRANDT.

2287 "CHRIST HEALING THE SICK."

KNOWN AS THE "HUNDRED GUILDER" PRINT. AN EXTREMELY FINE COPY BY LEOPOLD FLAMENG. PROOF IMPRESSION BEFORE THE ARTIST'S NAME ON JAPAN PAPER. Ash frame with deep French mat. Of this copy Hamerton says:—"He (Flameng) produced a copy of one of Rembrandt's most difficult and complicated etchings—a copy which certainly far exceeds the most perfect photograph in accuracy, whilst at the same time it possesses as a piece of execution in etching all those technical merits for which Rembrandt himself was famous. It is not an exaggeration of the truth to affirm, that there exists in Europe in our own day a man who may be said to possess the hand and eye of Rembrandt. . . . It may be difficult to convey to the reader that full apprehension of the wonder of such a work as this. In a certain sense it may be boldly affirmed that, as a technical performance merely, such a copy as this is even more wonderful than the original plate itself."

ORIGINAL ETCHINGS.

RICHETON (Leon).

2296 "RICHARD BRINSLEY SHERIDAN," after JOHN RUSSELL, R. A.

ARTIST'S PROOF SIGNED, ON JAPAN PAPER. Chestnut frame. The original of this interesting portrait of the celebrated wit, playwright, statesman and orator is now in the National Portrait Gallery, London. It was drawn in crayons in 1788, the year of the Warren Hastings Trial, at which Sheridan's speech was second only to Burke's in virulence. This is the first time that it has ever been acceptably engraved; a remarkable circumstance, considering the fact that it was believed by Sheridan's family to be much more characteristic and lifelike than the well-known one by Reynolds, painted a year later.

RICHOMME (Joseph Theodore, Born 1785).

2297 "TRIUMPH OF GALATEA," after RAPHAEL, and "THE TIS BEARING THE ARMOR OF ACHILLES," after GÉRARD. (2)

A fine pair of BRILLIANT OLD IMPRESSIONS of these well-known and charming prints, neatly framed.

ROWLANDSON (Thomas, Born 1756 and Died 1827).

2305 "GOING TO THE COLONIES."

ORIGINAL SKETCH, in water-colors, by the great English caricaturist Rowlandson, and in passe-partout.

This picture, by the inimitable artist, who illustrated the "Tour of Doctor Syntax," represents a convoy of prisoners on their way to a ship laying in the offing. A boat is just about to leave shore, in which are a party of male and female emigrants, who are leaving their country for their country's good. The midshipman is at his post. Six unhappy mortals are seated in the boat, some of whom have a most woe-begone and bedraggled appearance. Two red-coats, with pointed bayonets, are aiding the ceremonies—one by pushing a clerical-looking personage into association with the scourgings of society. The faces of the women are studies, particularly that of the lady who has evidently got up before breakfast and without completing her toilet. Two cart-loads of similar human cattle are on the way—the last of which is passing under a gallows, where ominously swing a pair of corpses—and which fate may betake their living brethren unless they amend their lives in the new country where they may have the chance of becoming worthy and respectable members of society, if not the founders of the best families in a new world.

Rowlandson was born in Old Jewry, London, in 1756. Early in life he was the recipient of a legacy of £7,000 from an aunt, which he soon wasted in gambling and debauchery, and only when his means were exhausted he sat down to work. His drawings, somewhat farcical, but very clever caricatures, were made with a reed pen, and then drawn in water-colors; many of them are of large size, and all indicate great skill of hand and keen observation. The above is an excellent example.

Every one at all acquainted with the arts know the caricature work of this very eccentric genius; the extent of Rowlandson's talent, however, as a draughtsman, is not so generally known. His studies from the human figure at the Royal Academy were made in so masterly a style, that he was set up as a rival to Mortimer, whom he would have excelled, had his subsequent mode of study kept pace with the fecundity of his invention. His powers, indeed, were so versatile, and his fancy so rich, that every species of composition flowed from his pen with equal facility. There are certain subjects of his composition carried through with a compatibility of style so truly original, and so replete with painter-like feeling, that Sir Joshua Reynolds and West pronounced them wonders of art.

RUDAX (E.).

2306 "THE LITTLE FISHERMAN."

ORIGINAL ETCHING, PROOF BEFORE LETTERS, ON INDIA PAPER.

RYLAND (William Wynne, Born 1732 and Died 1783).

2307 "JUPITER AND LEDA," after BOUCHER.

FINE ORIGINAL IMPRESSION, VERY SCARCE, and neatly framed. The unfortunate engraver of this beautiful piece had a curious story. Born in London in 1732, he first studied engraving with Ravenet, the collaborateur of Hogarth, who was at that time established in England. On leaving that master he went to Paris, and studied design under Boucher and engraving with J. P. Le Bas. On his return to his native city he acquired distinction in his profession, and was appointed engraver to the King. But he was one of those peculiarly constituted individuals who cannot make the best of prosperity. Becoming involved in pecuniary difficulties, he committed forgery, was tried, condemned and executed in 1783, as was that holy divine and sanctimonious hypocrite, Dr. Dodd, a few years before, for a similar offense, and in his full canonicals, surplice, doctor's hood and all.

RYLAND.

2308 "THE TRIUMPH OF VENUS," after ANGELICA KAUFFMANN.

ST. AUBIN (Augustin, Born 1720).

2309 "JACQUES ROETTIERS," after COCHIN.

ST. AUBIN.

2310 "FENELON," after VIVIEN.

EXTREMELY FINE ORIGINAL IMPRESSION.

SALVADOR-CARMONA (Emanuel, Born 1740).

2311 "FRANCOIS BOUCHER, PAINTER TO THE KING," after SUEDOIS.

FINE. HIS RECEPTION PRINT AT THE ACADEMY.

SCHLEIGH (Adrian).

2312 "THE SONG OF THE BELL," after CHRISTOPHER NILSON.

A large folio line engraving, in nine compartments, illustrating Schiller's famous poem.

SCHMIDT (George Frederick, Born 1712 and Died 1775).

2313 "PIERRE MIGNARD, PAINTER TO THE KING," after RIGAUD.

SCHMUTZER (Jacob Mathias, Born 1733 and Died 1811).

2314 "THE FAMILY OF RUBENS," after RUBENS.

SCHREYER (Adolphe, Born 1828).

2315 "AN AMBUSCADE."

SCHUPPEN (Peter van, the Elder, Born 1628 and Died 1710).

2316 "LOUIS THE DAUPHIN, SON OF LOUIS THE GREAT,"
after FRANCIS DE TROY.

Folio. Very fine, in oak frame; engraved 1684. Van Schuppen the Elder was a pupil of Nanteuil and acquired much of the magnificent style of that master.

SCHUPPEN.

2317 "FRANÇOIS VAN DER MEULEN, PAINTER TO THE KING," after LARGILLIERRE.

SCRIVEN (Edward, Born 1775 and Died 1841).

2318 "NELL GWYN," after SIR PETER LELY.

PROOF ON INDIA PAPER. Ebony and gold frame. Scriven was a pupil of Bartolozzi and in one respect he excelled his master, as, unlike him, he faithfully rendered the character and expression of the painter he had to translate. This print was engraved for the Rev. T. F. Dibdin, from the original at Althorp, and is a different and more pleasing portrait than the one by the same engraver which appears in "Grammont's Memoirs."

SERZ (J.).

2319 "THE TRIBUTE MONEY," after TITIAN.

PROOF ON INDIA PAPER BEFORE LETTERS.

SLOCOMB (Frederick).

2320 "A MIDDLESEX LANE."

2322 Set of Illustrations to the "ARABIAN NIGHTS," engraved by PETER MAVERICK, BRUEN, etc. (12)

FINE OLD IMPRESSIONS and RARE.

SOMM (M.).

2323 "A JAPANESE STUDY."

A characteristic water-color drawing, neatly framed, and which would delight the heart and inflame the fancy of Oscar Wilde, and brings up memories of the "Mikado." It represents the Japanese swell of the period, gorgeously arrayed—gloves, fan, and silk garment of many colors, which will be found in the works on Japanese ceramics and decoration of Gonse, Audsley and Bowes. The figure of the inhabitant of Yeddo holding a fan is admirably depicted, and the colors of the embroidery on the yellow gown are delightfully blended. The indigo background displays the touch of a master's brush. M. Somm is well known by his admirable etchings in dry point.

SOTOMAYER (Esquirel de).

2324 "KARL DU JARDIN," after HIMSELF.

STAAL (G.).

2325 "JULES JANIN."

[STOTHARD (Thomas, Born 1755 and Died 1834)?]

2331 "TASSO RECITING TO THE PRINCESS AT THE COURT OF FERRARA."

A spirited sepia drawing, neatly framed, and in the manner of, and probably by, Thomas Stothard. It represents the well-known incident in the early life of the poet Tasso when he recited his "Rinaldo" before the Princess Eleonora and her brother the Duke Alfonse, the first step which afterwards made his name famous throughout Italy.

STRANGE (Sir Robert, Born 1721 and Died 1792).

2332 "VENUS ATTIRED BY THE GRACES," after GUIDO.

BRILLIANT OLD IMPRESSION and neatly framed, of this fine print engraved by the eminent artist in 1759. "Sir Robert Strange, born in the distant Orkneys in 1721, abandoned the law for engraving. As a youthful Jacobite he joined the Pretender in 1745, sharing the disaster of Culloden, and owing his safety from pursuers to a young lady dressed in the ample costume of the period, whom he afterwards married in gratitude, and they were both happy. He has a style of his own, rich, soft, and especially charming in the tints of flesh, making him a natural translator of Titian."—CHARLES SUMNER.

STRANGE.

2333 "VENUS AND ADONIS," after TITIAN.

BEAUTIFUL OLD IMPRESSION OF THIS CELEBRATED NUDE SUBJECT.

TAIEE (A.).

2334 "MILLET'S HOUSE AT BARBISON," from an original drawing by J. F. MILLET.

PROOF ON JAPAN PAPER.

TAYLOR (T.).

2335 "THE DUTCH DENTIST" and "THE COTTAGE DOOR," after G. DOW. (2)

TENIERS (David, Born 1610 and Died 1694).

2336 "JOLLY COMPANIONS EVERY ONE."

Curious old Dutch mezzotint after the younger Teniers, rare unfinished proof before letters, neatly framed in polished oak.

THEROND (E.).

2337 "THEOPHILE GAUTIER."

PROOFS ON INDIA PAPER. Two portraits of the celebrated French writer, one in advanced life, the other a very clever caricature of the younger man.

THEVENIN (J. C.).

2338 "MADONNA," after RAPHAEL.

FINE PROOF BEFORE LETTER ON INDIA PAPER, neatly framed in polished oak.

THORNLEY (G. W.).

2339 "VENUS AFTER THE BATH," after BOUCHER.

RARE. A FAC-SIMILE ON COPPER, PRINTED IN TINTS AFTER A CHALK DRAWING BY THIS MASTER. White and gold frame.

THORNLEY.

2340 "A YOUNG GIRL READING," after BOUCHER.

A fac-simile on copper, printed in tints after a chalk drawing by this master. White and gold frame.

TRIERE (P., Died 1780).

2341 "HERCULES HESITATING BETWEEN VENUS AND MINERVA, after CRAYER.

ENGRAVER'S PROOF BEFORE LETTERS, neatly framed in polished oak.

TURNER (Charles, Born 1773 and Died 1857).

2342 "A FAMOUS NEWFOUNDLAND DOG," after H. B. CHALON.

VERY FINE. Polished oak frame. Charles Turner was a pupil of Boydell. He engraved many remarkable plates in mezzotinto; principally portraits after Reynolds, Shee, Lawrence, etc. He also engraved several of the plates of his great namesake's "Liber Studiorum."

ULM.

2343 "PETRUS BOREL."

PROOF ON INDIA PAPER.

UNGER (W.).

2344 "A WINTER SCENE IN HOLLAND," after REMBRANDT.

UNGER.

2345 "DUTCH PEASANTS," after OSTADE.

VALPERGA (L.).

2346 "CONJUGAL CORRECTION," after GERARDON.

A characteristic engraving of the French school of the period of Louis XV. Love is represented as beating the almost nude wife with roses, while the husband compels her to submit to a punishment less than she deserves.

VANDEVELDE (E., Born 1597 and Died 1648).

2347 "THE QUACK DOCTOR—'POPULUS VULT DECIPI,'" after WILLIAM BUYTENWEG.

A FINE OLD ORIGINAL IMPRESSION, neatly framed, of this very rare and curious print.

VANDERHOOF (Charles H.).

2348 "THE OLD PIER."

ORIGINAL ETCHING, ARTIST'S PROOF SIGNED.

VANDYCK (Anthony, Born 1599 and Died 1641).

2349 "LUCAS VOSTERMANS, ENGRAVER OF ANTWERP."

This and the three following numbers are original etchings by the celebrated portrait painter. Vandyck was not content merely to look over engravings after his works by Bolswert, Pontius or Vostermans; he used the etching needle himself, and has left brilliant proofs of his skill in this kind of work. Hamerton says:—"He (Vandyck), is one of the great princes of the art. Vandyck's etchings have greatly increased in value of late years. At M. Séguier's sale, in 1844, they averaged from three to eight pounds each, and were thought to be very dear. At recent sales they have produced sums varying from eight to thirty pounds. It may be considered certain that, as etching becomes better appreciated, the plates of Van Dyck will attain still higher prices."

VANDYCK.

2350 "ERASMUS."

VANDYCK.

2351 "JUSTUS SUSTERMANS, PAINTER TO THE GRAND DUKE, FLORENCE."

VANDYCK.

2352 "DANIEL MYTENS, PAINTER OF HOLLAND."

FINE OLD IMPRESSION. Engraved by Paul Pontius (1596), after Vandyck. This and the next number are of the same size, and uniform with the original heads by Vandyck described above. "In his fine portraits after Vandyck, Pontius seems to have adapted his style to the character of the persons represented. His plates are executed with the graver in a clear bold style; and they will be ranked among the ablest productions of the Flemish engraver."—SPOONER.

VANDYCK.

2353 "PHILLIP HERBERT, EARL OF PEMBROKE."

FINE OLD IMPRESSION, engraved by Robert Vander-Voerst (1596—1669).

VARIN (A.).

2354 "MADAME RACHEL."

PROOF ON INDIA PAPER. A CAPITAL PORTRAIT OF THE CELEBRATED ACTRESS.

VERNET (Horace, Born 1789 and Died 1863).

2355 "NAPOLEON THE THIRD AT THE BATTLE OF SOLFERINO."

This is a very spirited sketch in water-colors of the conflict in the cemetery of Solferino, attributed to the great "our own correspondent of the brush." Napoleon, mounted on a gallant gray, is vehemently urging on his soldiers, who are responding with a dash, and the white-coated Austrians are giving way to the impetuosity of their opponents. This sketch is supposed to be one of many made by Vernet in his old age as a preliminary study for one of his large canvases. Probably about the time this sketch was made, Vernet painted his great picture of the Battle of the Alma and his Portrait of Napoleon III.

VEYRASSAT (Jules Jacques).

2356 "SUNSET," after DAUBIGNY.

VIDAL (Gerald, Born 1742).

2357 "THE CONFIDENTIAL SOUBRETTE," and "THE TOILETTE MERCHANT," after LAURINS.

A pair of beautiful old French prints, bright original impressions, neatly framed. Very rare, in this fine state.

VILLERY (Antoine Claude Francois, Born 1768).

2358 "INNOCENCE AND LOVE," after PRUDHON.

BRILLIANT OPEN LETTER PROOF OF THIS EXQUISITE LINE ENGRAVING, neatly framed.

WALLACE (Henry W.).

2359 "FOOT OF BROAD STREET, OLD NEW YORK."

PROOF ON SATIN. ONE OF A LIMITED NUMBER TAKEN IN THIS STATE.

WALTNER (C.).

2360 "THE CHINA VASE," after FORTUNY.

Fine impression on Holland paper and in gold frame.

WALTNER.

2361 "DANS LA ROSÉE," after CAROLUS DURAN.

PROOF ON INDIA PAPER. A BEAUTIFUL SPECIMEN OF WALTNER'S METHOD OF TREATING THE NUDE FEMALE FIGURE.

WALTNER.

2362 "HEAD OF A YOUNG GIRL," after DU BOIS.

FINE PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON JAPAN PAPER.

WATERLOO (Anthony, Born 1618 and Died 1679).

2363 "HERMAPHRODITUS AND THE NYMPH"; AND "PAN PURSUING THE NYMPH SYRINX." (2)

Landscapes with trees; the classical legends introduced; neatly framed in polished oak. Spooner says:—"As an engraver, the works of Waterloo have long been the admiration of artists and connoisseurs. They are etched with great spirit and facility, in a very masterly style, and usually retouched with the graver to harmonize the lights and invigorate the shadows. They consist of landscapes from his own designs, frequently embellished with figures from sacred and profane history and mythology. He etched the whole design with equal strength, but slightly, and then finished in a bold manner those parts which he desired to be most effective."

WATERLOO.

2364 "THE LITTLE COTTAGE."

ORIGINAL ETCHING—BARTSCH 29.

WATERLOO.

2365 "SMALL LANDSCAPE WITH TREES."

WHISTLER (James Abbott M'Neill, Born 1834).

2366 "CHELSEA."

IMPRESSION ON HOLLAND PAPER, in gold frame. "Whistler is widely known by his etchings and his paintings; the former receive unqualified praise, the latter have been alternately abused and lauded, but even his severest critics seem inclined to allow him exceptional achievements."—TYTLER'S Modern Painters."

"The most finished and perfect specimens of Whistler's artistic powers are to be found in his etchings. For some time amateurs in this branch of art have been acquainted with the views of the Thames executed by him. We can think of no work of the kind in which genius is more decisively manifested. The views of shipping and river-bank reveal the closest study of the effects to be seen in and about London."—London Art Journal.

WHISTLER.

2367 "STREET SCENE IN PARIS."

ORIGINAL ETCHING.

"Whistler may be fairly estimated now. He has very rare and very peculiar endowments, and may, in a certain sense, be called great—that is, so far as greatness may be understood of faculties which are rather remarkable for keenness and originality than range. The faculties which he has are pre-eminently of the artistic order; he is essentially a painter and etcher; . . . he is never literary, but always pictorial. . . . It is unfortunate, I think, that etchings like those of Mr. Whistler and Mr. Haden should be published at such a very high price and in such a small edition."—HAMERTON.

WHISTLER.

2368 "BOATS AT MOORING."

FINE IMPRESSION on Holland paper in oak frame.

WILLE (John George, Born 1717 and Died 1807).

2369 "THE LITTLE PHYSICIAN," after GASPAR NETSCHER.

A fine original impression, neatly framed. "But Paris soon again became the centre of the art, which he quickened into new life by an engraver of original genius, who attracted to him pupils from all parts of Europe, so that he became the father of the great school of engravers that flourished in France, Germany and Italy about the end of the last century. This eminent master was JOHN GEORGE WILLE, who was born at Königsberg in 1717, but establishing himself in Paris, he devoted his long life of ninety-one years to the art in which he so greatly excelled. His neat and careful style was well adapted to pictures of the school of Gerard Dow, as well as to elaborate portraits, and there is no engraver whose works are more eagerly sought and more universally admired."—"THE GOLDEN AGE OF ENGRAVING."

ORIGINAL ETCHING. PROOF ON INDIA PAPER.

WOLGEMUTH (Michael, Born 1434 and Died 1519).

2390 "KNIGHT IN ARMOR."

Neatly framed. This curious old woodcut attributed to the father of wood-engraving represents a knight in full armor, covered with a mantle, with the collar of a noble order suspended from his neck; his hand rests on a two-handed sword, and his armorial bearings, tinged with the proper heraldic colors, appear in the left-hand corner.

YON (E.).

2391 "A SMALL BRANCH OF THE MARNE."

ORIGINAL ETCHING. PROOF BEFORE LETTERS ON INDIA PAPER.

2392 "NAPOLEON AT THE BATTLE OF BORODINO, SEPTEMBER 7th, 1812."

A CURIOUS LARGE CONTEMPORARY WATER-COLOR DRAWING IN INDIA INK AND SEPIA OF THIS FAMOUS BATTLE, evidently drawn for the purpose of engraving on copper, as the soldiers have their swords in their left hands, and their muskets on their left shoulders. Napoleon is represented in the distance surrounded by his staff. In the foreground a squadron of French cavalry—the dashing Murat at their head, are charging the Russian infantry.

2393 "THE HAPPY FIDDLER."

A clever and highly finished original water-color drawing of the German school, about 1765, neatly framed in polished oak.

2394 "THE BATHER AT THE SPRING."

A spirited original water-color drawing (neatly framed) representing a young girl, perfectly nude, just emerged from the water, and about to drink from a spring which trickles above her head.

2395 "A VOTARY OF BACCHUS."

Finely colored, in neat oak frame.

2395* "ON THE BANKS OF THE SEINE, PARIS," etching by JACQUE.

2397* "WHERE'S THE FIELD?"

FINE SPORTING SUBJECT, Fox Hunting, engraved by M. Hunter, and in antique oak and bronze frame.

2398 "THE KISSES," engraved by F. FLIPART. (2 pieces.)

A pair of exquisite eighteenth century engravings, neatly framed.

2399 "ST. JOHN THE EVANGELIST."

A VERY CURIOUS GRECO-RUSSIAN ENGRAVING printed on linen, representing incidents in the life of St. John and other saints of the Greek Church. The centre of the picture represents the saint as a gray-bearded old man, according to the manner in which he is depicted in Oriental art. He is standing on the Isle of Patmos, and holds a scroll in his hand. The Virgin in glory is in the clouds at the right. The lower portion of the engraving represents a tutored city, and a number of religious buildings, Russian horsemen, camels, etc. The sides of the picture are in eight compartments, which depict incidents in the lives of the saints.

Ancient Woodcuts.

2400 "THE BAPTISM OF JESUS CHRIST."

Master L. F. Bartsch, 96. A curious production, 38 x 10½, containing portraits of Luther, Melancthon and other celebrated contemporaries of the artist.

2401 "THE PARABLE OF THE LABORERS IN THE VINEYARD."

By an unknown Master. Very curious, as illustrating art in Germany at the Durer period. The architecture is Grecian, representing the court-yard of the mansion of the noble master of the vineyard, who is paying off his laborers, and replying to the remonstrance of the discontented one, "Friend, did not I agree with thee for a penny?"

2402 "CITY OF FRANKFORT-ON-THE-MAIN, 1570."

By an unknown artist of the date, with a Key to the principal buildings of the city, in old German text.

2403 "THE TOWN OF PRESSBUBG ASSAULTED BY THE TURKS."

A very rude woodcut, interesting as a specimen of one of the earliest known engravings on wood.

2404 "LOT FLEEING FROM SODOM."

Lot, an old bald-headed man, is in the foreground under the protecting wing of an angel, his two daughters are following, laden with household goods, accompanied by another angel. In the far distance is Lot's wife turned into a pillar of salt, and at the back is the doomed city, in flames, with the fire from heaven still descending. In the right-hand corner of the engraving Lot is represented seated, a daughter on each side, rapidly consuming the wine they had brought along.

2405 "DANCE AT THE FÊTE OF THE VILLAGE OF MEGELDORF." (16)

A frieze in six divisions representing the villagers enjoying themselves. Some are on their way to the feast. Others are drinking. One is drunk. Some are soliciting their partners for the dance. Two are playing the bagpipe and horn, and many are dancing.

2406 "THE MEN CAGED BY THE WOMEN."

Many men in fool's-caps are imprisoned in a large cage. An old woman is teaching them music at the front, while a younger woman has charge of the door at the back. In the distance an old woman with a wheelbarrow is bringing another man, also in a zany's cap, to add to those already in the cage. At the right of the print is a group of men engaged in lamenting that this is eventually to be their fate also.

2407 "THE THREE AGES."

A father is introducing his young son, who is riding a hobby-horse, to his grandsire, a very old man, who is seated at a table, with his money, desk, and writing materials before him.

- 2424 SCARRON. SET OF ILLUSTRATIONS TO SCARRON'S "COMIC ROMANCE" engraved by B. AUDRAN, L. SUR-UGUE and B. LEPICIE, after J. B. PATER. Folio. (11 pieces.)

FINE OLD ORIGINAL IMPRESSIONS. VERY SCARCE.

Scarron's "Comic Romance" is the most important and best of all the humorous and familiar romances of the seventeenth century, and the author's chef-d'œuvre. In this history the adventures of a wandering troop of comedians are recited. Strange types and characters abound in the book. The witty little bourgeois Ragotin, the misanthropical Larencune full of vanity and envy, the wicked laughter Rappinirie, the poet Roquebine, full of pretention—not to say anything of the female characters of the romance—present a lively picture of the times and manners of the period, not to be found in the works of any other author.

Jean Baptiste Pater, the designer of the above rare series of prints, was a French painter, born at Valenciennes in 1695. He went to Paris early in life and became the pupil of Anthony Watteau, whose subjects and manner he imitated with considerable success. In these pictures, however, he excelled his master in one respect—that of humor—a spirit which Watteau never attempted.

- 2425 MARILLIER. Set of Four Illustrations to "GUZMAN DE ALFARACHE, THE SPANISH ROGUE," after MARILLIER, etc. (4 pieces.)

Fine old impression, neatly inlaid to large octavo.

"Les Arts, s'appellent les beaux arts parce que leur objet est de produire l'émotion du Beau sans égard aucun pour l'utilité ni du spectateur ni de l'artiste. Ils s'appellent encore les arts libéraux parce que ce sont des arts d'hommes libres et non d'esclaves, qui affranchissent l'âme, charment et ennoblissent l'existence; de la sens et l'origine de ces expressions de l'antiquité; 'artes liberales, artes ingenue.'"—COUSIN.

2458 ROYAL DRESDEN PAINTED PORCELAIN PLAQUE, AFTER PHILIP WOUVERMANN.

This handsome porcelain plaque measures fourteen and a half inches in diameter. It is of royal Dresden production and has on the reverse the monogram "A. R." in blue below the line "nach Wouvermann" in gold.

The monogram "A. R." signifying "Augustus Rex," shows that it came from and was painted at the Royal Manufactory of Meissen in Saxony for Augustus the First, King of Poland, 1709-12.

The centre of the plaque is after a painting of Wouvermann, the most popular of all the Dutch landscape painters. It represents a hunting party setting out and corroborating the statement that the celebrated artist never painted a picture without introducing a white or a gray horse. There is a two-inch border of flowers and vases in colors, heightened with gold.

2459 SEVRES CHINA SALAD DISH FORMERLY BELONGING TO NAPOLEON THE THIRD.

This salad bowl, which measures eleven and a quarter inches in diameter and four inches in height, came from the Palace of St. Cloud. It is of white porcelain, with ivy leaf decoration and gold lines, also the letter "N" and imperial crown of the late Emperor Napoleon on two sides. The following are the marks—1, "S. 46" in green label; 2, "Series 1846," royal crown and initials "L. P." all within double circle and in blue; 3, an imperial crown, below which are the words "Château de St. Cloud" within a dentelle circle and in orange.

2460 SEVRES PORCELAIN PLATE FROM THE TUILERIES AND THE PROPERTY OF NAPOLEON THE THIRD.

This example measures nine inches and a half in diameter. It is of purple, white and gold. In the centre are the imperial arms of Napoleon, with crown, sceptres, ermine mantling and Legion of Honor cross and collar. The border an inch and a half in width is of imperial purple with broad gold fillets and the monogram "P. P." denoting that it belonged to the "Palais Privé" and to the personal dinner service of Napoleon the Third at the Tuileries. There are also eighteen gold imperial bees in the border. On the reverse is one of the impressed Sévres marks of a late date.

2461 "NAPOLEON THE FIRST." BRONZE STATUETTE ON MARBLE BASE.

A three-inch replica of the statue of Napoleon, with the cocked hat and overcoat of "the man in gray"—as it stood on the apex of the Vendôme Column in Paris during the reign of King Louis Philippe and commemorative of the inauguration. This was superseded during the last empire by a different figure of Napoleon, with laurel wreath and toga.

2462 "NAPOLEON THE FIRST." WHITE MARBLE CAMEO PORTRAIT WITH LAUREL CROWN.

Beautiful executed medallion made out of the stone of the monolith of Napoleon the First's tomb in the Invalides at Paris, and given by the sculptor of the sarcophagus to the grandfather of a friend of Mr. Pene du Bois. It measures, with heavy bronze border, two and seventh-eighths inches by two and five-eighths inches.

2463 "FREDERICK THE GREAT."

Metal statuette of the great Frederick, measuring with pedestal, two and three-quarter inches.

2464 "JOHN GUTTENBERG, PATER TYPOGRAPHIÆ."

An iron replica, measuring with pedestal eight and three eighths inches, of the celebrated Thorwaldsen statue of the Inventor of Printing, erected at his native city of Mentz, on the occasion of the four-hundredth anniversary of the discovery of typography.

There were only four hundred of these replicas made, and they were subscribed for in advance by members of the "Commemorative Society." They were manufactured out of the iron of an old printing press, which was traditionally asserted to have been that on which Guttenberg printed his first book.

2465 "BOAR." JAPANESE BRONZE.

2466 CLOCK AND PENDANTS, METAL BRONZE.

(3 pieces.)

Théophile Gautier describes this identical clock and pendants in "Le Capitaine Fracasse" as ornaments of the mantel in the reception room of his hero's dilapidated castle, Sigognac, in whose coat-of-arms were two "cigognes" as supporters. He saw them at a reception in the Chateau of the Kerlosquet family, Mr. Pene du Bois' relatives, near Douarnenet in Brittany. Théophile Gautier, who was born at Tarbes, was an intimate friend of the Pene family who owned a mountain in the Pyrenees near l'Allemesan and derived their name from the fact that they lived on the Summit—the Peña in Spanish—of it.

2467 "SIR WALTER SCOTT."

A bronze relievo portrait plaque of French manufacture, sixteen inches by twelve and five-eighths, in walnut frame. Uniform in size and design with the following number.

2468 "FREDERICK THE GREAT."

Another bronze relievo portrait plaque in walnut frame.

2469 "AIGUIÈRE" OR EWER OF COPPER WITH BRASS HANDLE.

An early example of Italian repoussé work of the Renaissance. It is decorated with conventional floriation, nude and grotesque figures, etc. A serpent and lion's head form the handle. It is twelve and three-quarter inches high.

2470 "THE RACQUET PLAYERS." (A pair.)

A pair of original bronze figures, on brass pedestals, each eight and three-quarter inches high, representing two "Incroyables" of the First French Revolution, with racquets in their hands.

2471 "ANTIQUE GREEK VASE."

An Elkington oxydized copy of an antique in alto-relievo, with three nude female figures and Cupid on each side. It has floriated decoration, ancient heads, etc. Nine and three-eighths inches high.

2472 "SATYRS WITH NYMPH."

Erotic alto-relievo bronze of two satyrs, with naked nymph, who is riding on the back of one, while the other kisses her. It is oval, measuring eight and three-quarter inches by six and three-quarters, and is in a bronzed and plush frame on easel stand.

2473 "THE BLIND BEGGARS."

A seventeenth century bronze alto-relievo, representing two old-time tramps of the character that Callot chose as his favorite studies. This piece cost its owner $55, and is an extremely rare example.

This heavy bronze measures five and a quarter inches by four and seven-eighths.

2474 "JEAN QUI PLEURE" AND "JEAN QUI RIT." (A pair.)

Two bronze children's heads of the above well-known subjects, sometimes called—"Sunshine" and "Rain." Height, with pedestal, three and five-eighths inches.

2475 "IRON PROCESSIONAL KEY."

This curious object, which is over two feet high, some four hundred years ago, was one of the signs of the guild of Locksmiths at Nuremberg. It was carried in processions at the head of the members of the guild as an object representative of their avocation.

The head of the key is floriated Gothic scroll-work wrought in hammered iron and gilded.

2476 "PHALLIC IVORY."

A Hindoo carved narwahl's tusk covered with fourteen male and female figures, mostly Priapic. The upper one of all is environed by a cobra-dacapello, showing that the object was associated with serpent or Vishnavan worship.

2477 "VENETIAN WEDDING CASKET."

This casket made of pierced and engraved ivory lined with wood, has the date "1661" and the initials "A. G." on one of the sides. On the front is a shield of arms.

2478 "GOBLET OF BROWN GLAZED POTTERY."

This curious sixteenth century goblet depicts a tonsured monk holding a naked woman under his robe. One arm lasciviously encircles her waist. This piece, which is seven and a quarter inches high, was made by hand and before moulds were used. It is an erotic satire upon the monks of the Middle Ages.

2479 DÜRER (Albert). "ADAM AND EVE." PAINTED GLASS.

This circular transparent vitrail, ten inches in diameter, and of "Adam and Eve before the Fall," was painted either by or after Alfred Durer, and it was so catalogued and sold at the San Donato Palace sale. This interesting example of glass transparency is painted on both sides, and cost its owner about one hundred dollars at the dispersion of the treasures of Prince Demidoff.

2480 "MEDIEVAL GLASS TRANSPARENCY."

This mosaic glass painting is of English origin, and measures fourteen inches square. The design is a tree with flowers, on one of the branches of which is seated a purple bird. This is a very early specimen on pot-metal glass, which has never yet been successfully imitated, and it doubtless was before the Reformation in the window of some English ecclesiastical edifice.
